Administration

MS. SCOBIE
PRINCIPAL

The 2016-2017 school year has come and gone in a flash. I feel so very fortunate to be a part of a special place of learning, where students and staff really care about their community. Since starting in September, I have shared words and deeds of encouragement with many of you and I see the awesome talent and potential of the student body. You have shared and supported each other on the journey to be your best self, and represented your community with pride. I wish all the best to the graduating class as they reach beyond the borders of Westview and look forward to working with our remaining students to reach the goals they are striving for. With the help of our wonderful staff and engaged community partners, the future looks even brighter than the successes Westview has achieved already. See you in 2017-2018!

Three years, how time flies! As Principal of Westview Centennial, I am proud to say that Westview is home and how much we have GROWN inspires me. This year we face challenges, triumphs, loss, and heartache together. We said hello to new staff and students, and goodbye to our beloved Tisolee, Clayshawn, and Mr. Hayes. With strong composure and troubled HEARTS, we pressed on to celebrate all that they taught us. We reflected on the value of life and did not back down when others did not believe that we could not MAKE IT through. Because we are RESILIENT, we rose above each storm. WE ARE WESTVIEW AND ARE STRONG. I would like to take a moment to thank the WESTVIEW STAFF AND SUPPORT STAFF for working tirelessly to create a school that truly feels like home. Each day I see the endless efforts that you take to create an environment that is innovative, creative, unique, and compassionate. You are the reason that our students continue to soar; I THANK YOU FOR ALL THAT YOU DO. On a final note, I would like to thank THE STUDENTS for being YOU. As you view this yearbook, know that the sky is the limit. All things are possible when people believe in you and push you to reach your full potential. As this year has come to an end, I wish you a brilliant, fabulous, productive, and adventurous summer. Enjoy each second and make sure that you do not take one single day for granted. THANK YOU WESTVIEW FOR EVERYTHING!!!WE ARE WESTVIEW!

MR. CATON
VICE-PRINCIPAL

Congratulations to Westview students and staff on your hard work, passion, dedication and resilience that built the foundation for all that you have accomplished this year. Your achievements were truly inspiring! We are Westview! A special congratulations to Westview's 2017 graduating class. I wish all of our graduates a future filled with success, peace and happiness.

MS. GAYLE- BONER
VICE-PRINCIPAL

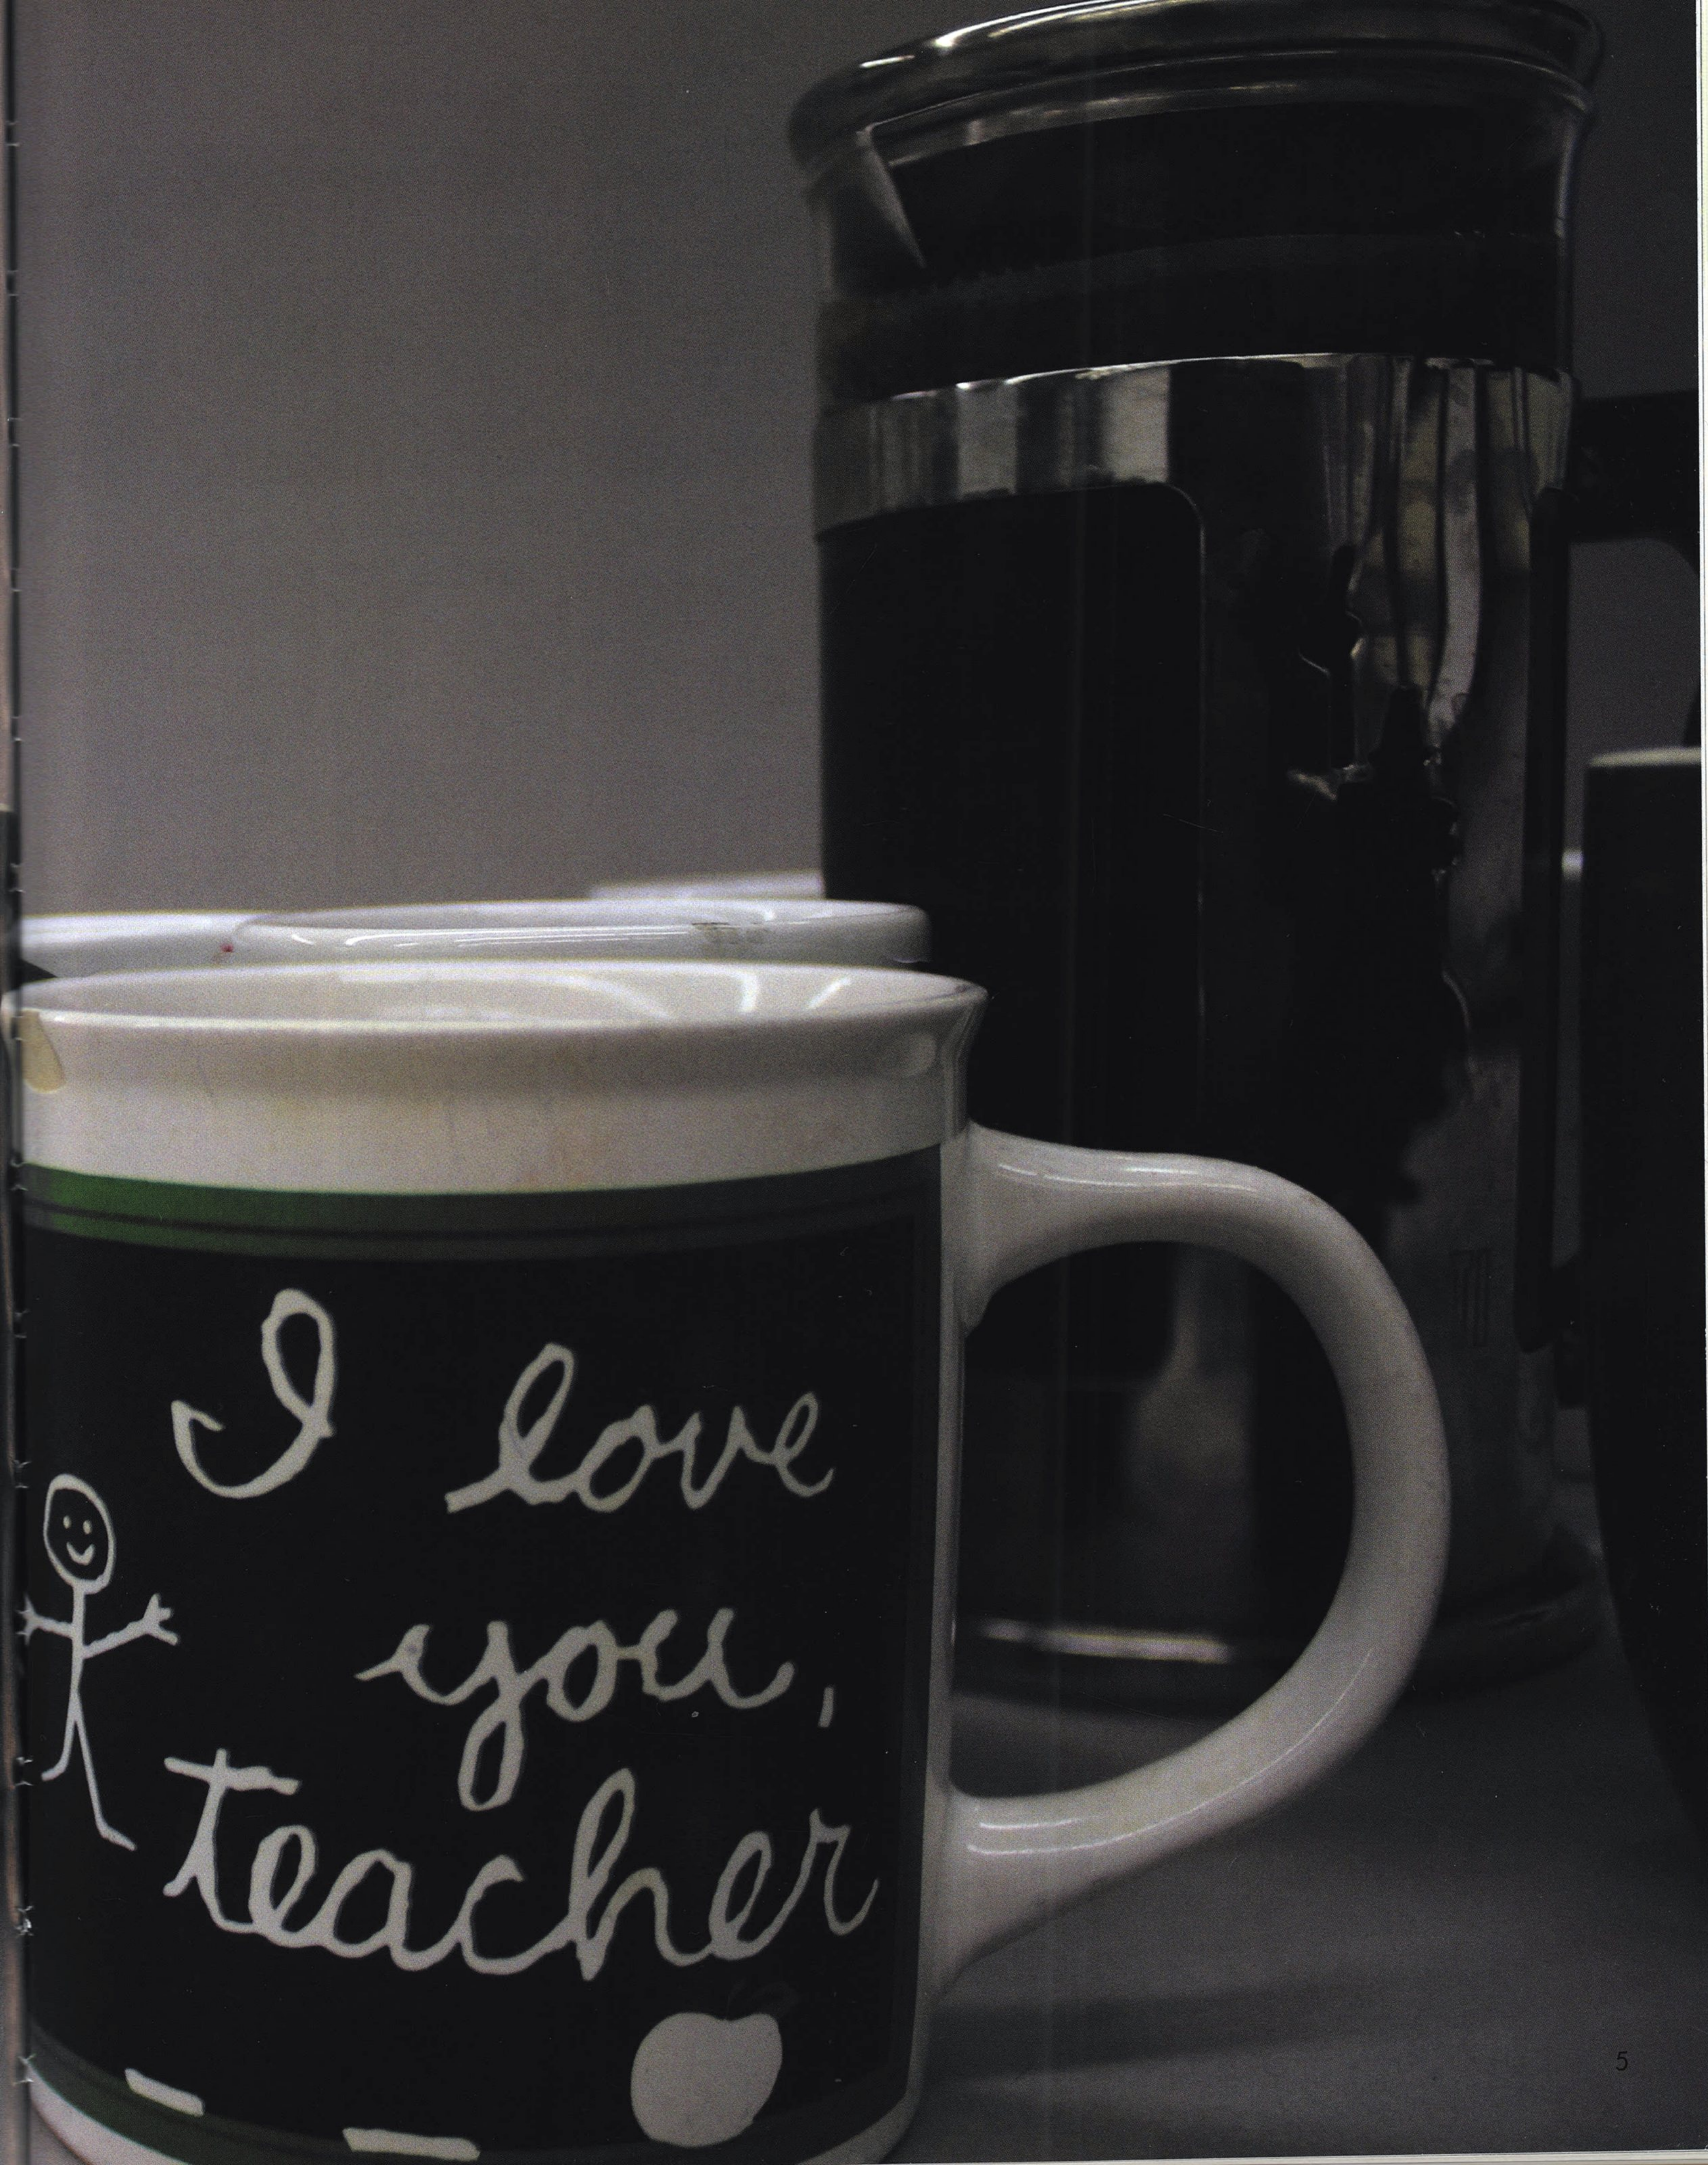

MR. HOBBS
VICE-PRINCIPAL

Dear Westview graduates,
I am very proud that you made it! Congratulations and welcome to first day of the rest of your life. Yes my fellow graduates your Adult life now begins. I want to thank you for all the joys and sorrows that we shared. I come to this place every day knowing that I can make a difference. Please take this mantra with you and make a difference wherever you may go and remember you are always a Westview Student. Come back and share your stories and give back! May the good vibes and spirit of Westview be with you forever.

Events

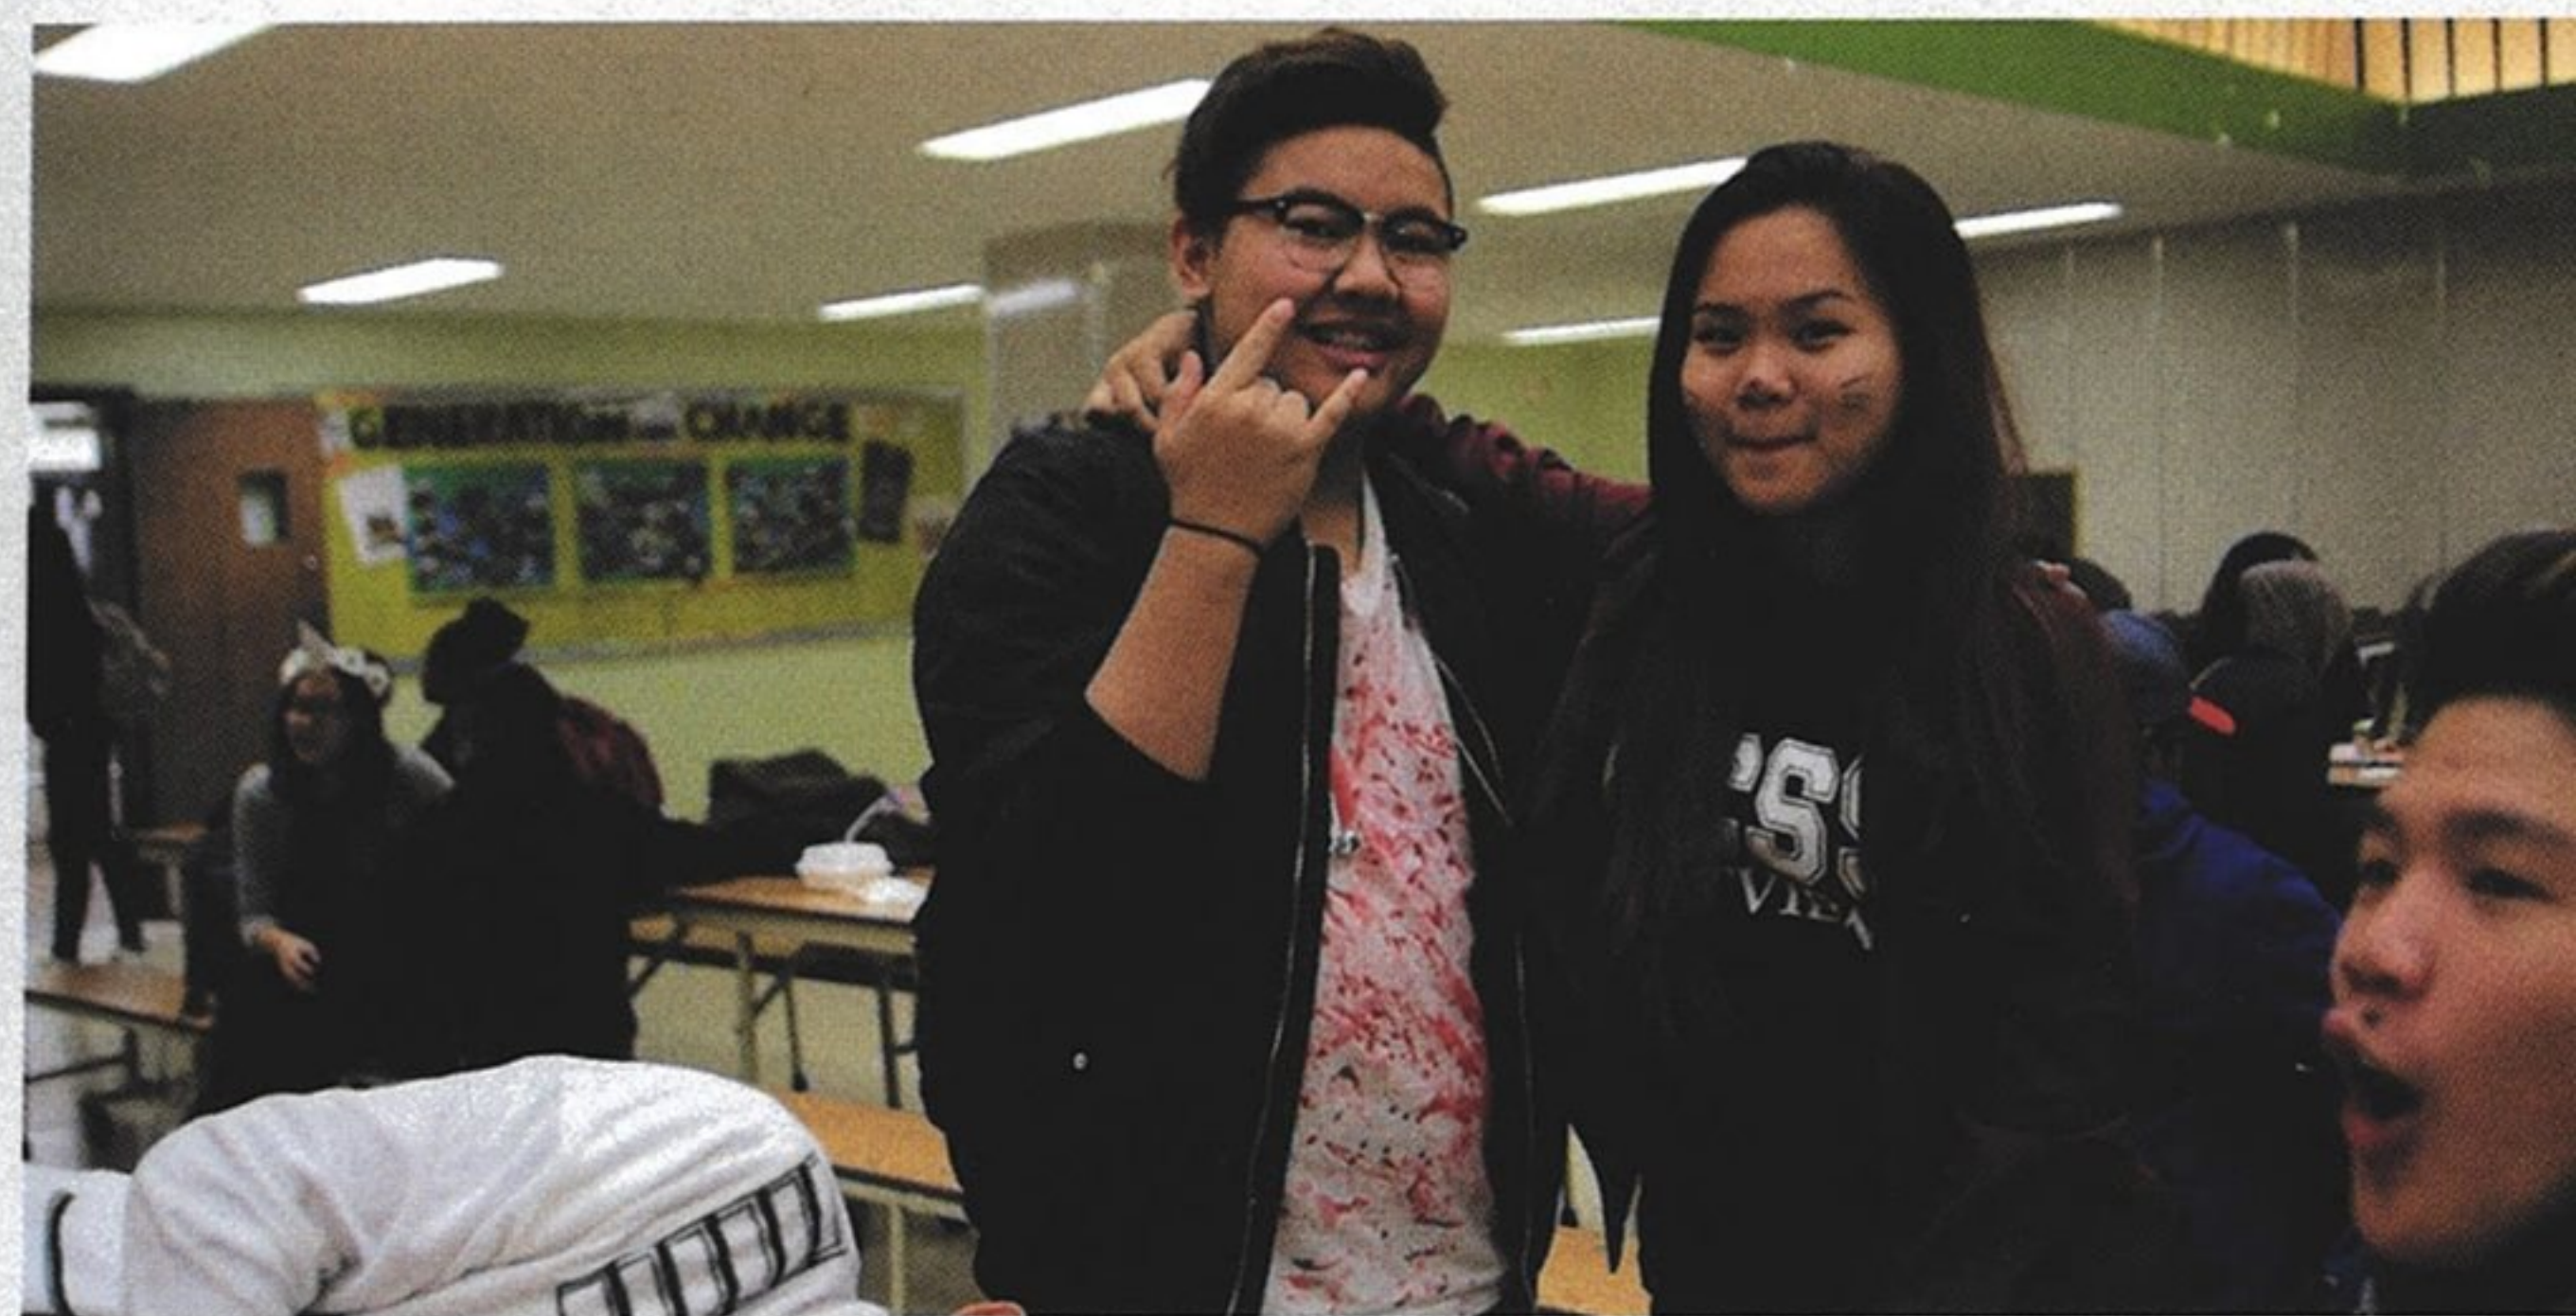

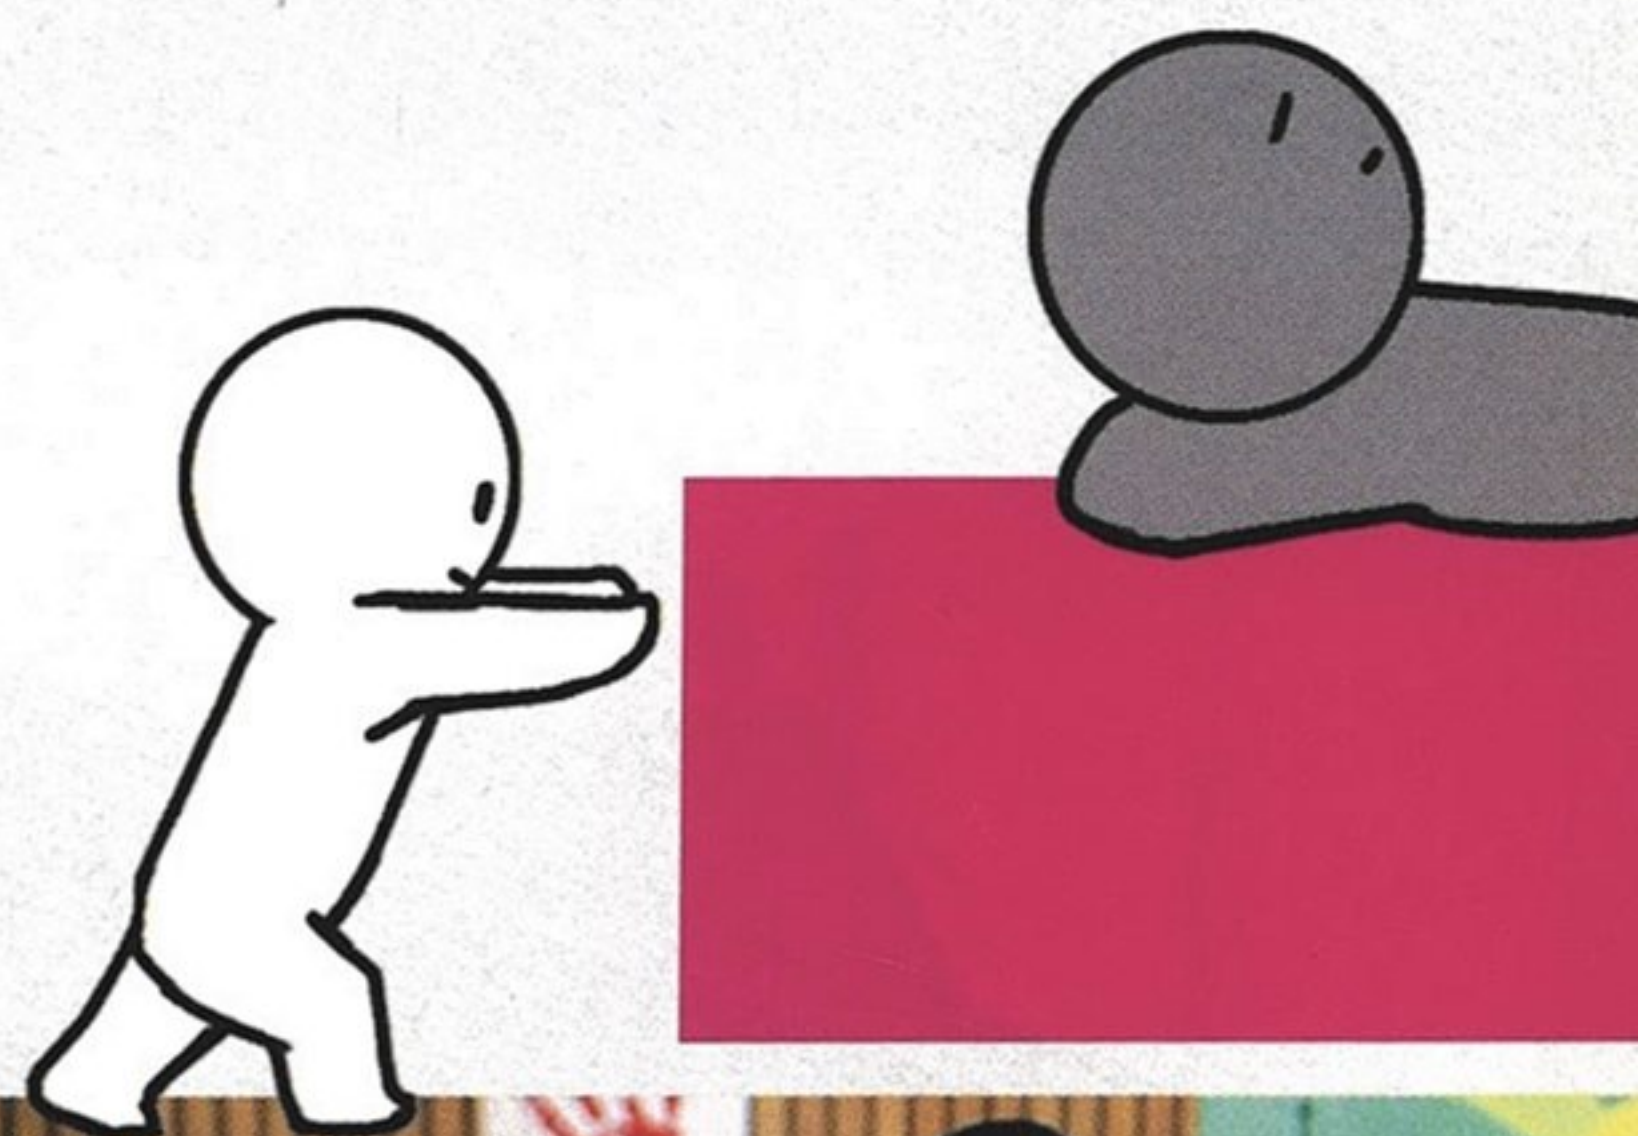

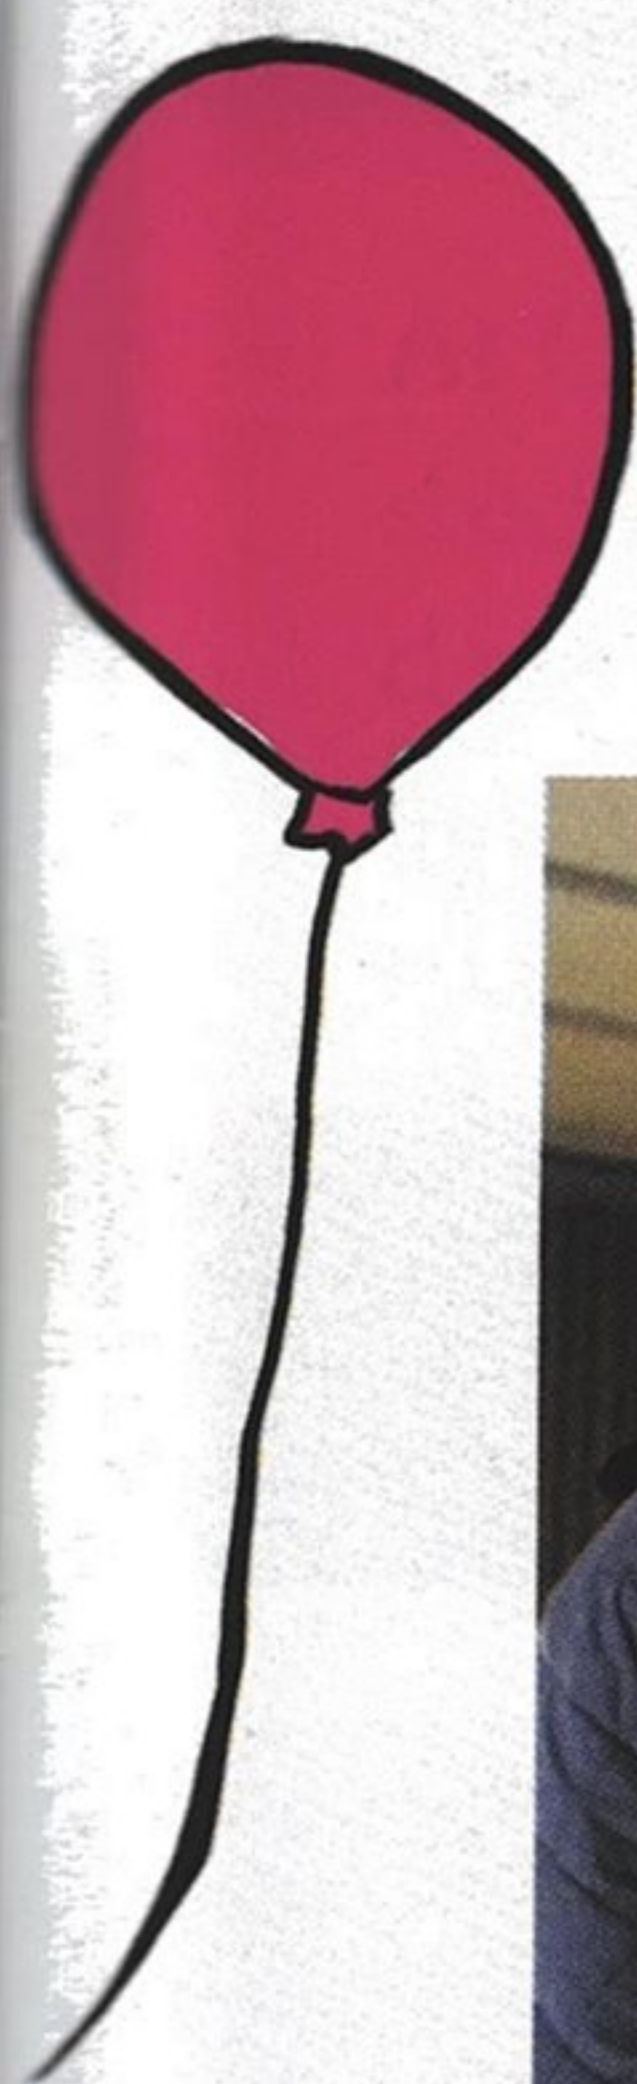

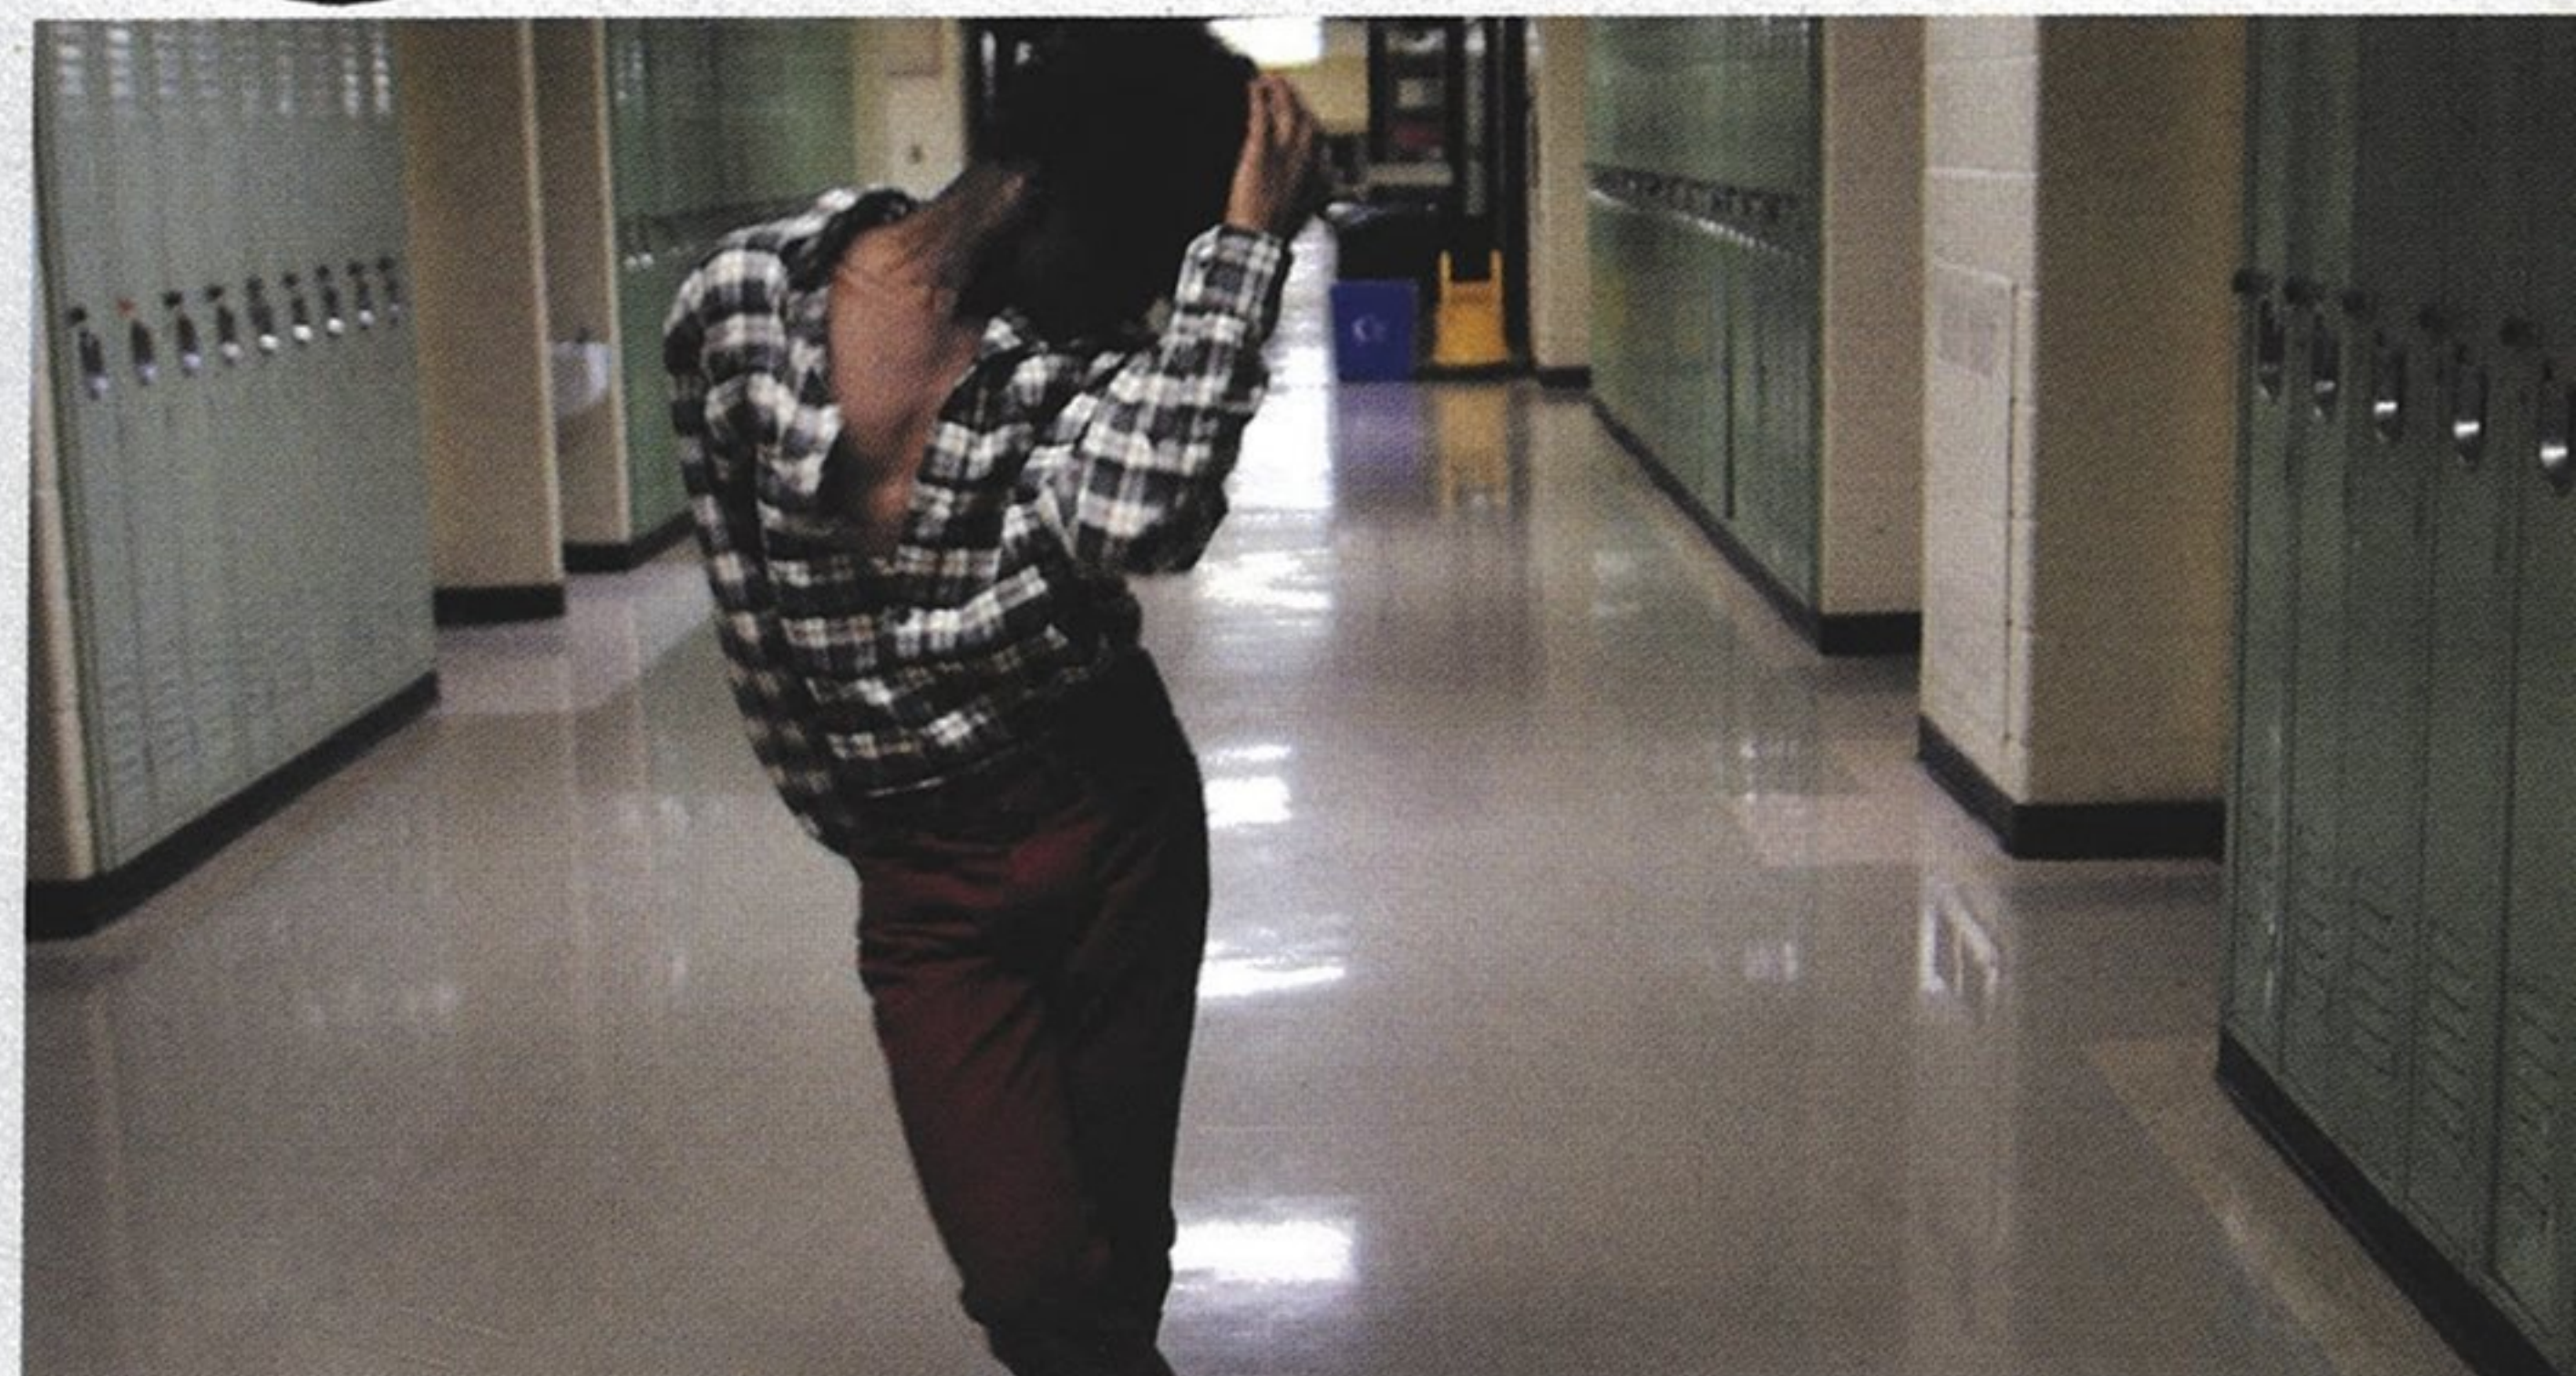

After the long summer break, Westview started off the year with a Welcome Assembly we won't soon forget. Mr. Soares' steel pan class warmed up the crowd with well known musical numbers. This was followed by thoughtful words from the administration team that reassured those new to Westview and welcomed back returning students. It was then onto great speeches by those running for positions on student council. After the upcoming election, the following students were elected to Westview's 2016-2017 student council: Victoria Lor, Edna Cofles, Milan Pham, Alyssa Budhoo, Prescilla Mason, Rachel Yim and Shivanee Singh.

A Spook-tacular Halloween

Cabin Fever at Cedar Glen

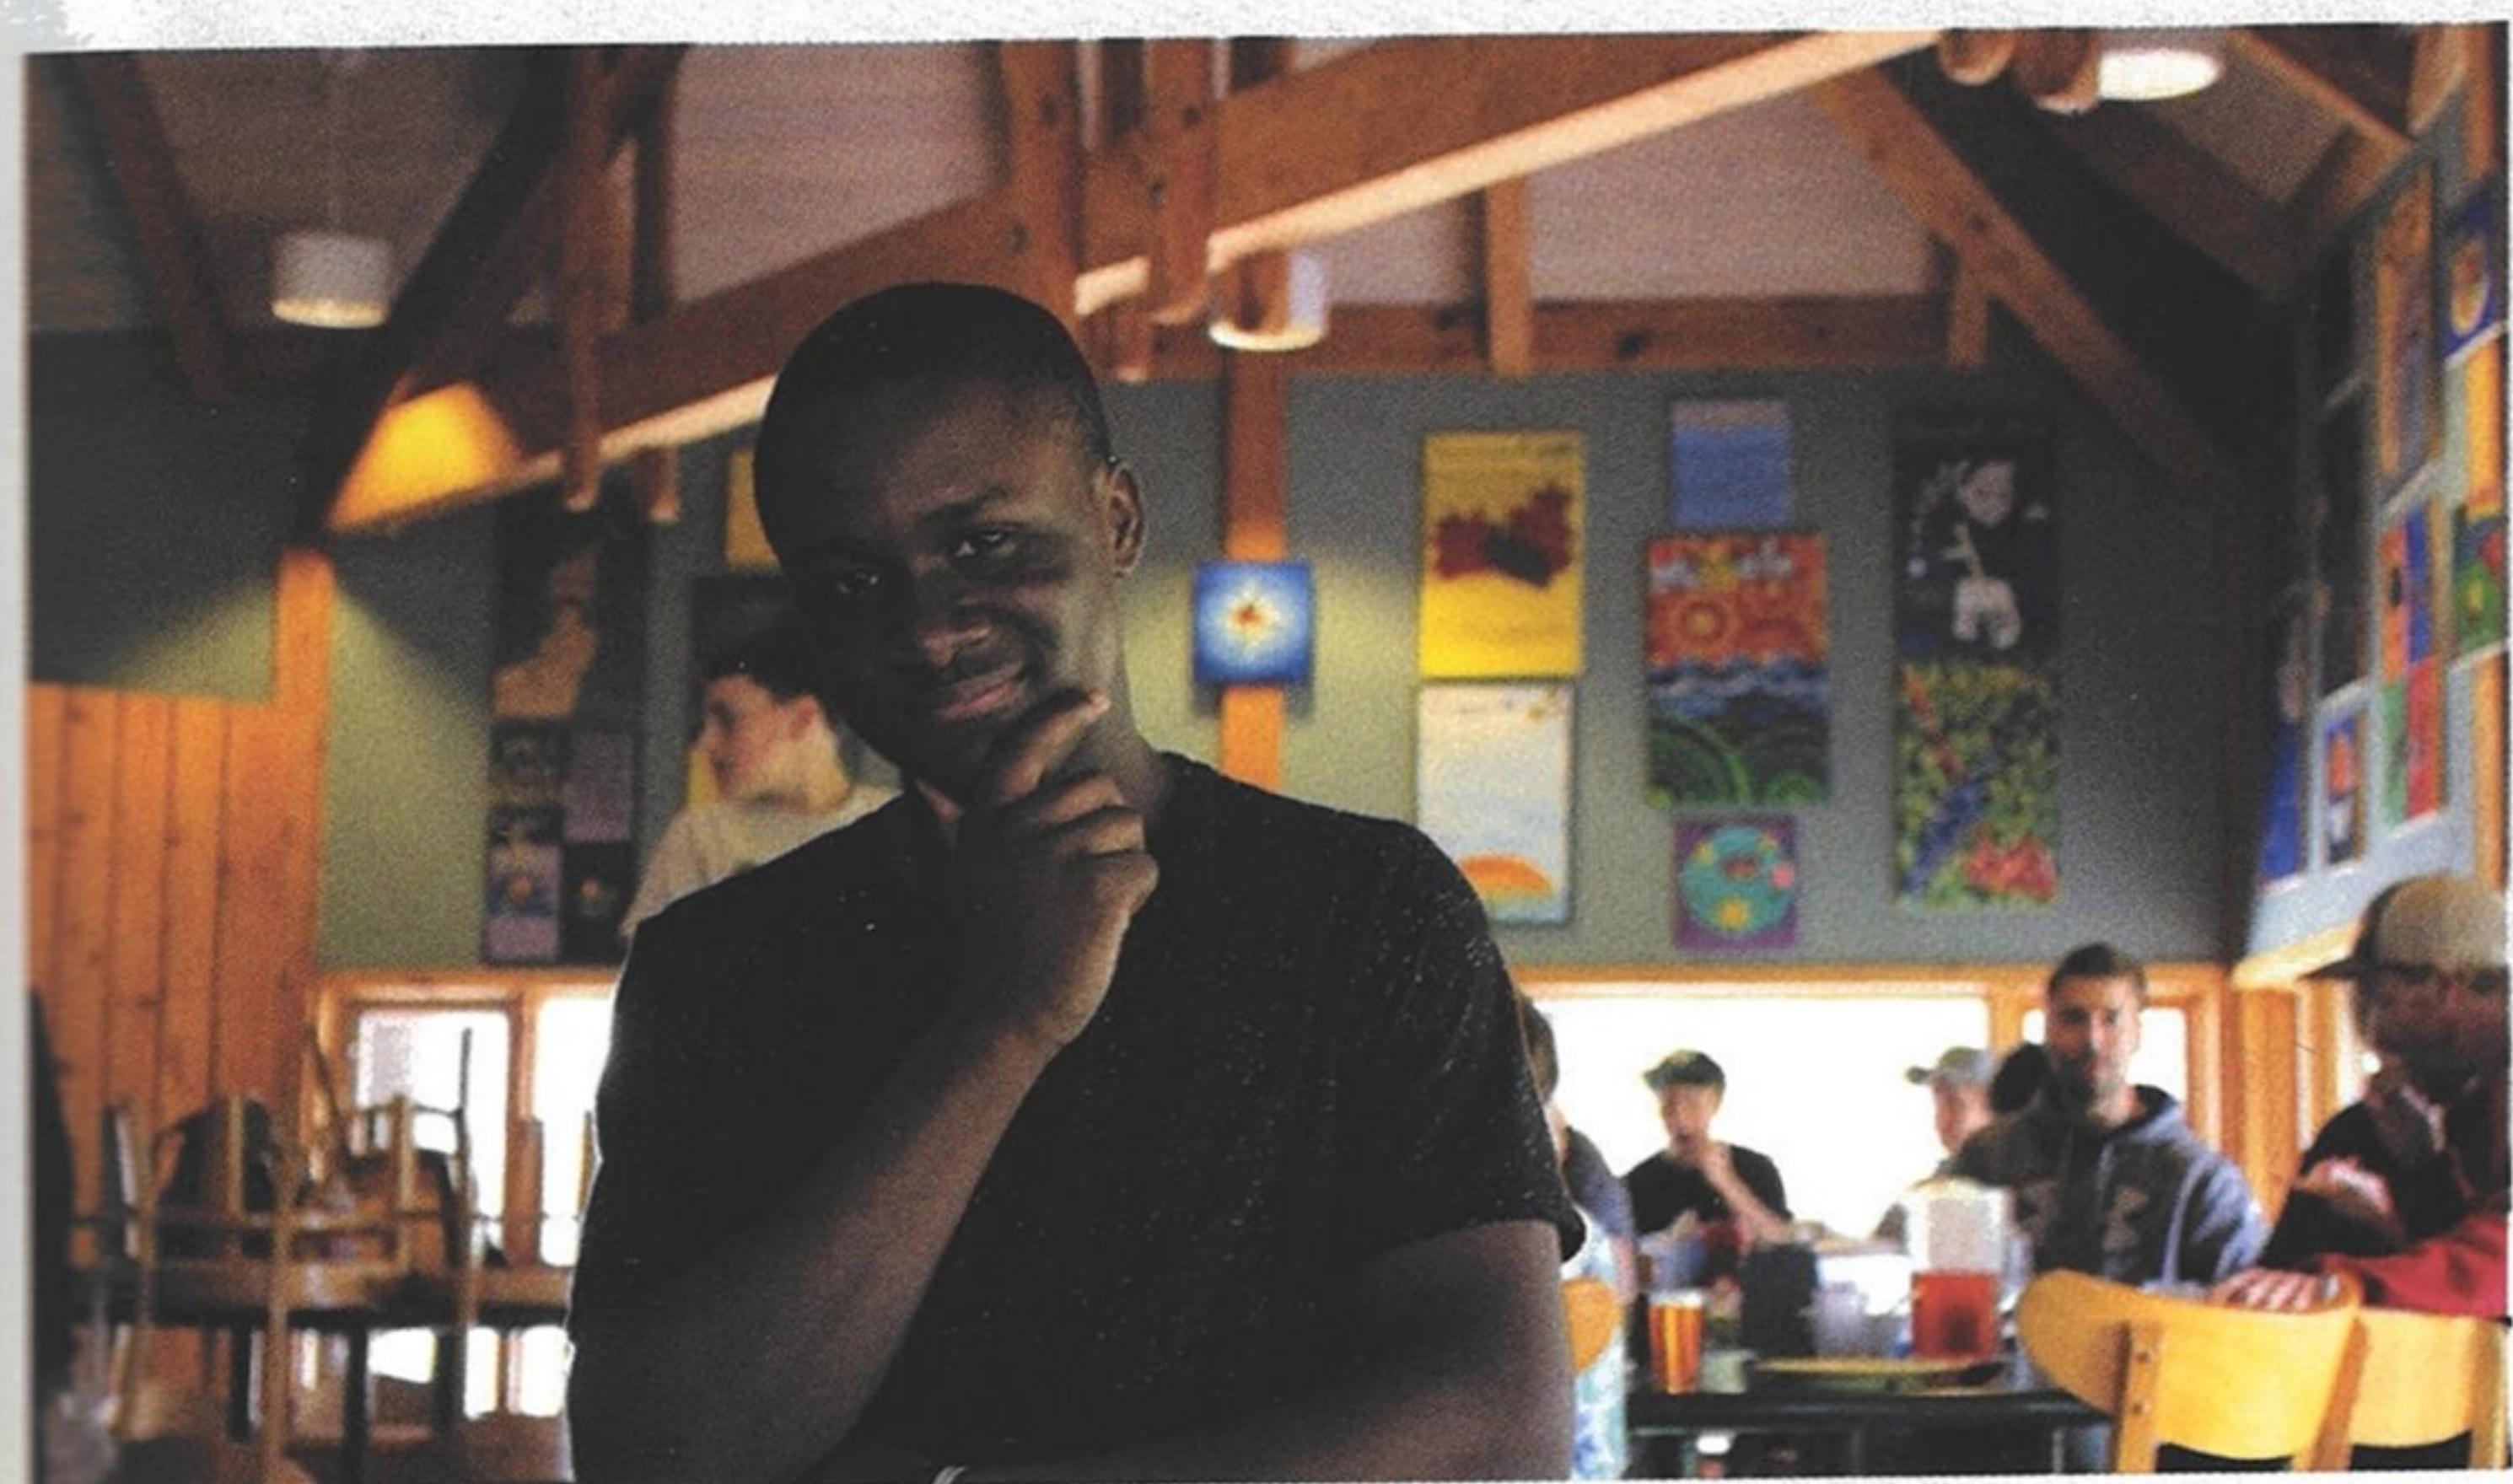

At Cedar Glen, Generation Change and SHSM students were given the wonderful opportunity to develop their team building skills. Students not only learned new skills, but developed new bonds and friendships. At Camp Pine Crest, the majority of Westview's grade 10 students stayed for an over night camping trip. Generation Change students took on mentorship roles and showed the juniors how to develop their own leadership skills.

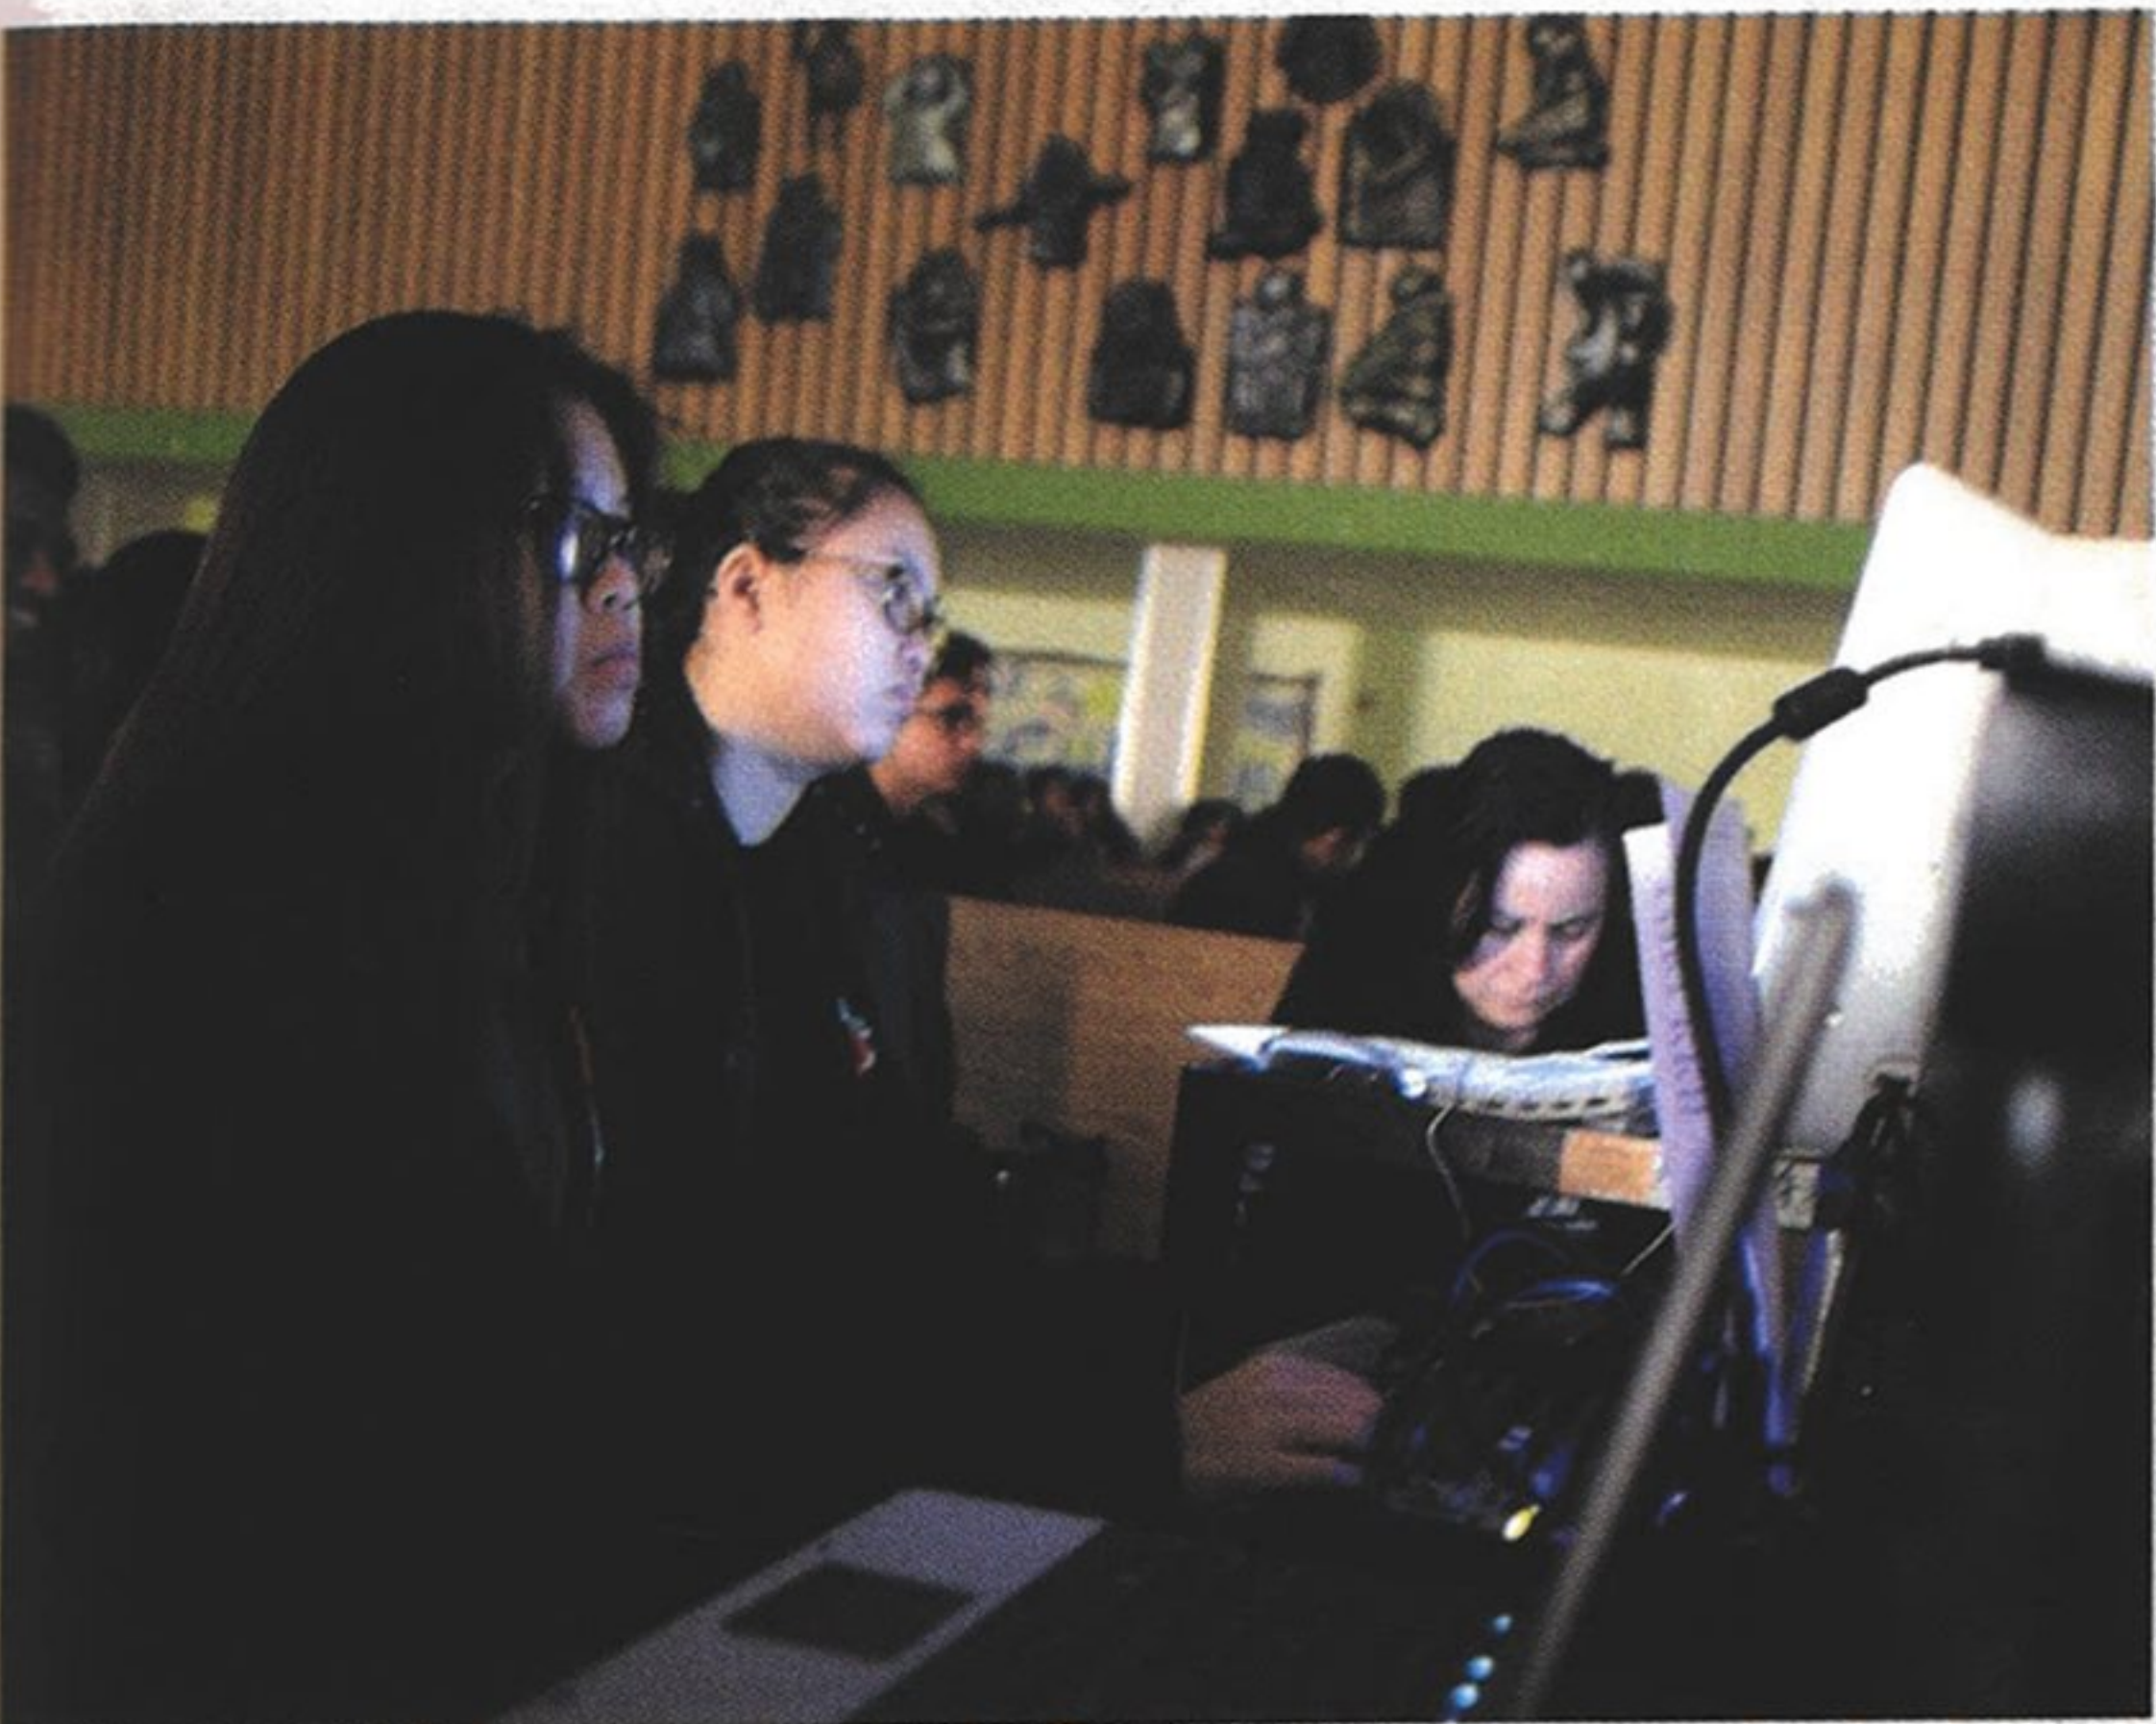

Camp Fever at Pine Crest

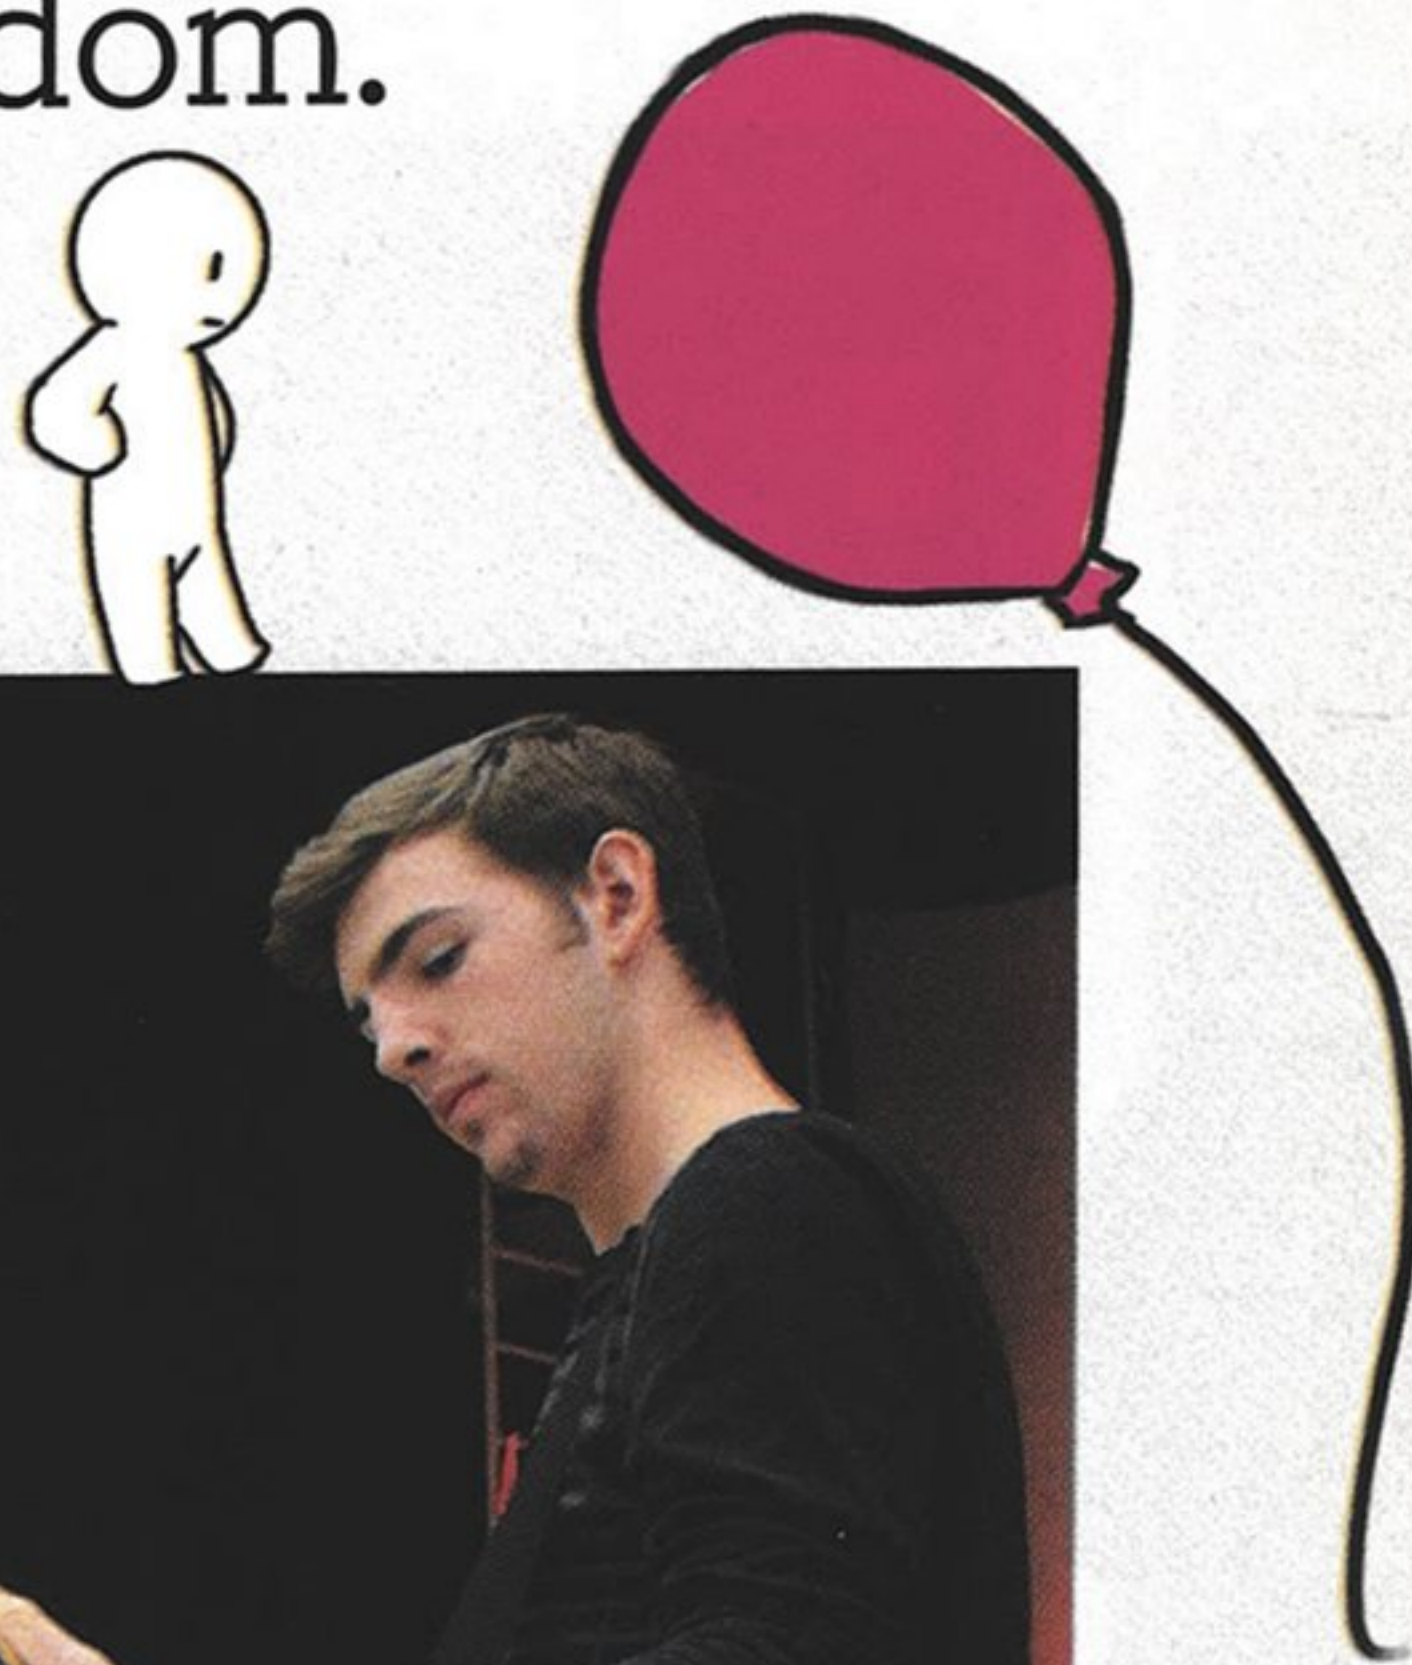

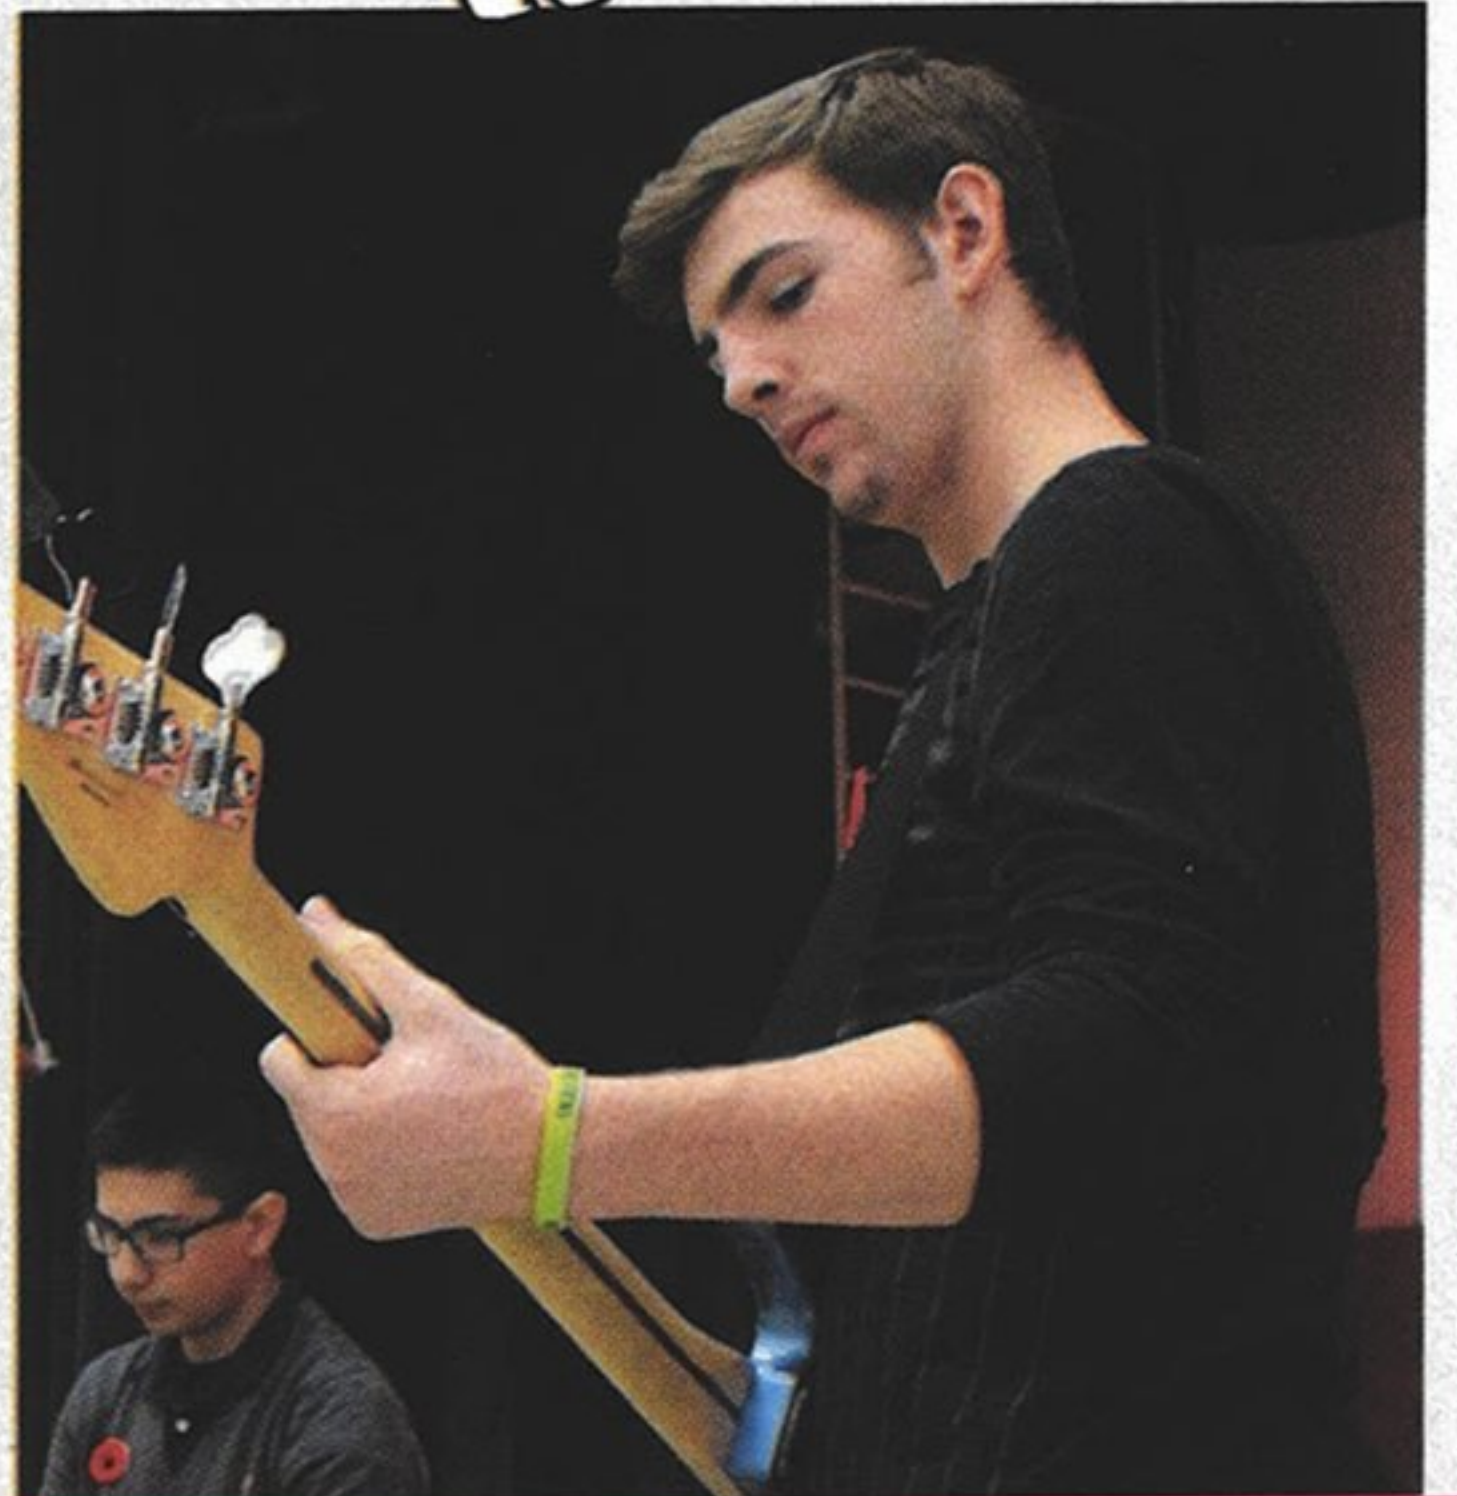

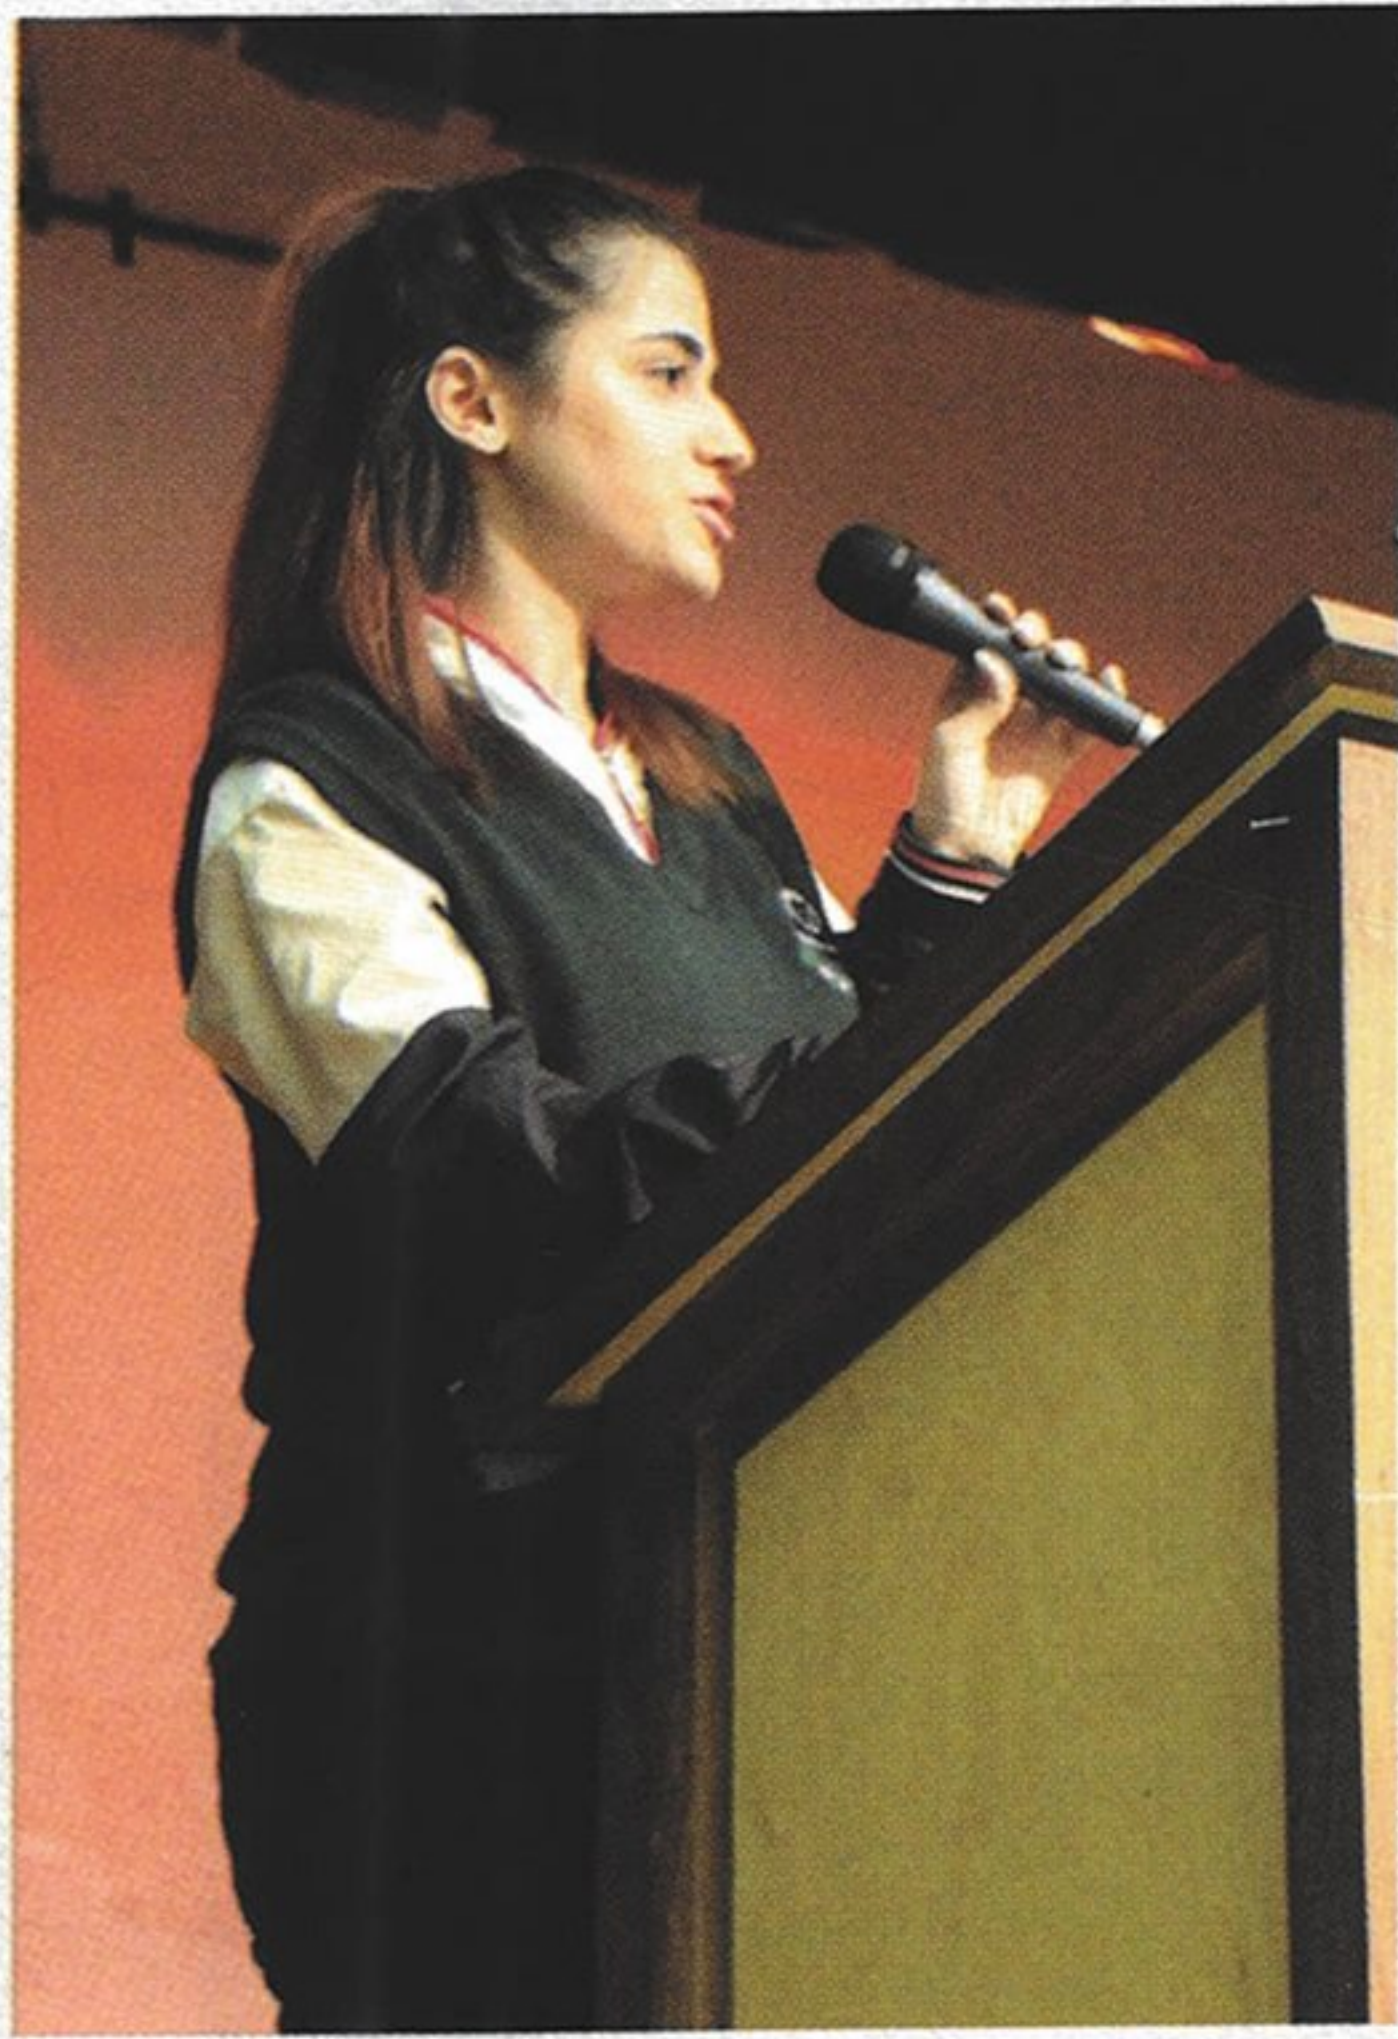

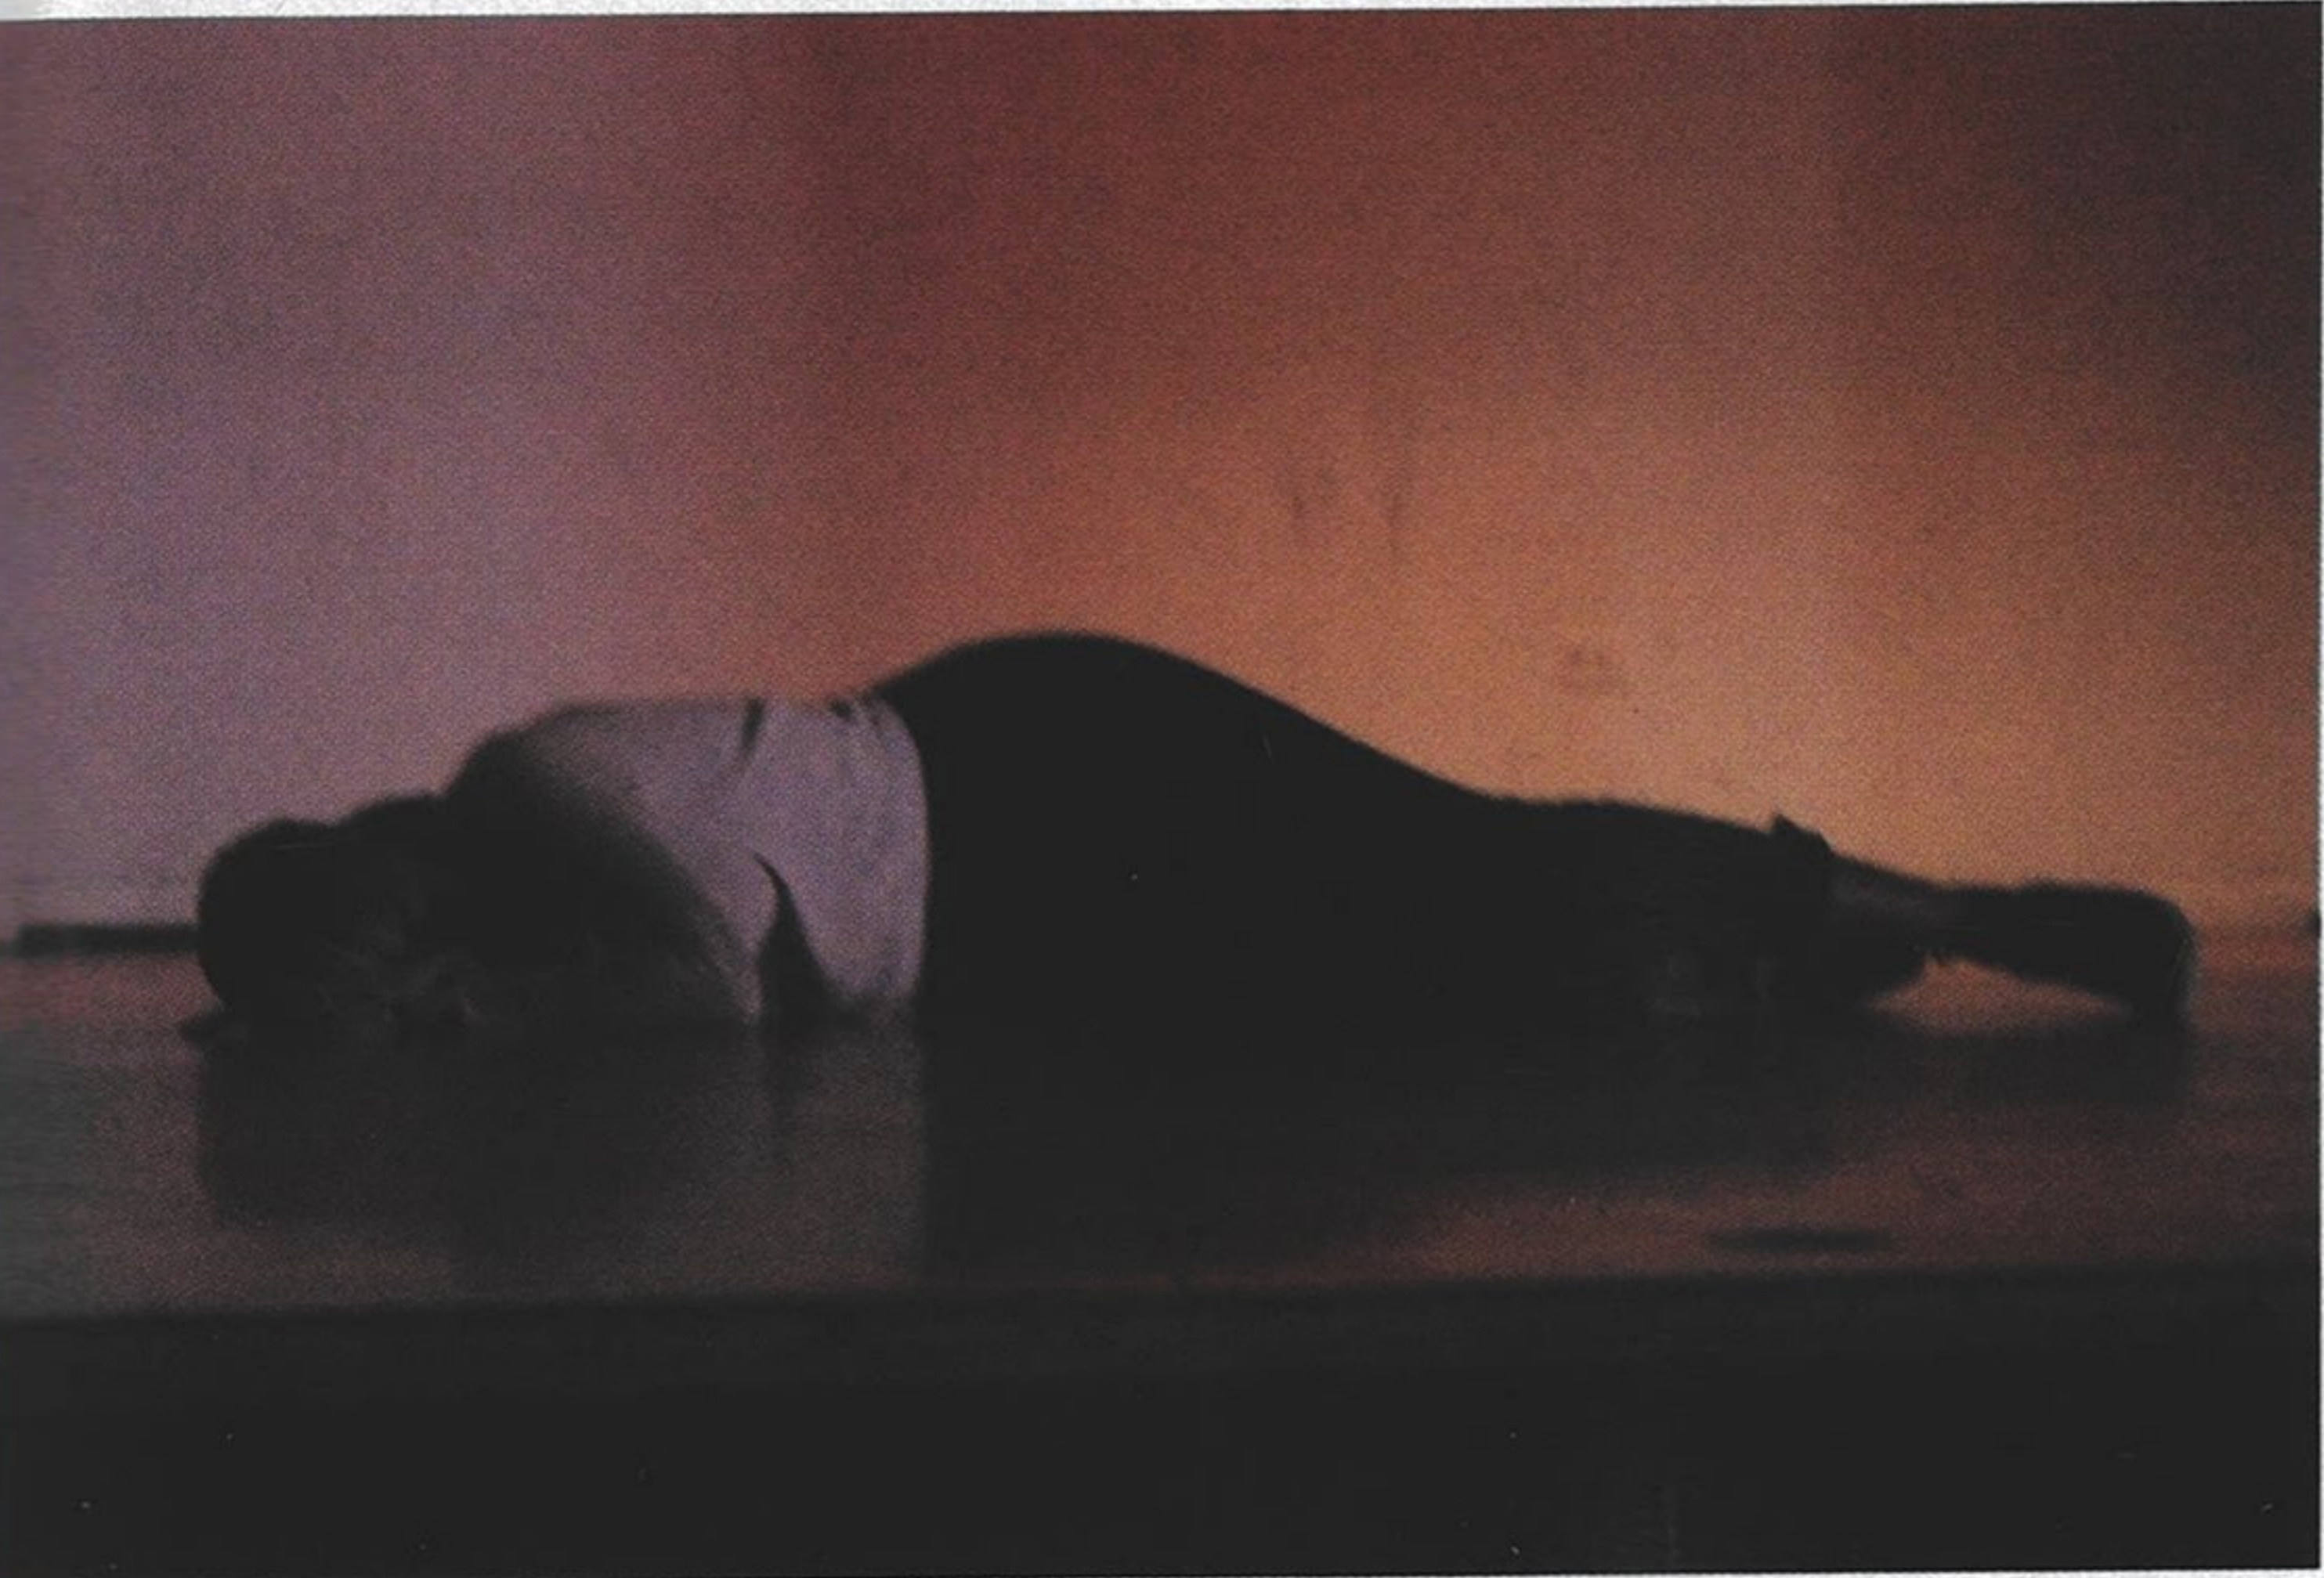

Remembrance Day

On 11th day of the 11th month, Westview remembered and stood in solidarity for those who have died in conflict and have made the ultimate sacrifice to ensure that we will never lose our freedom.

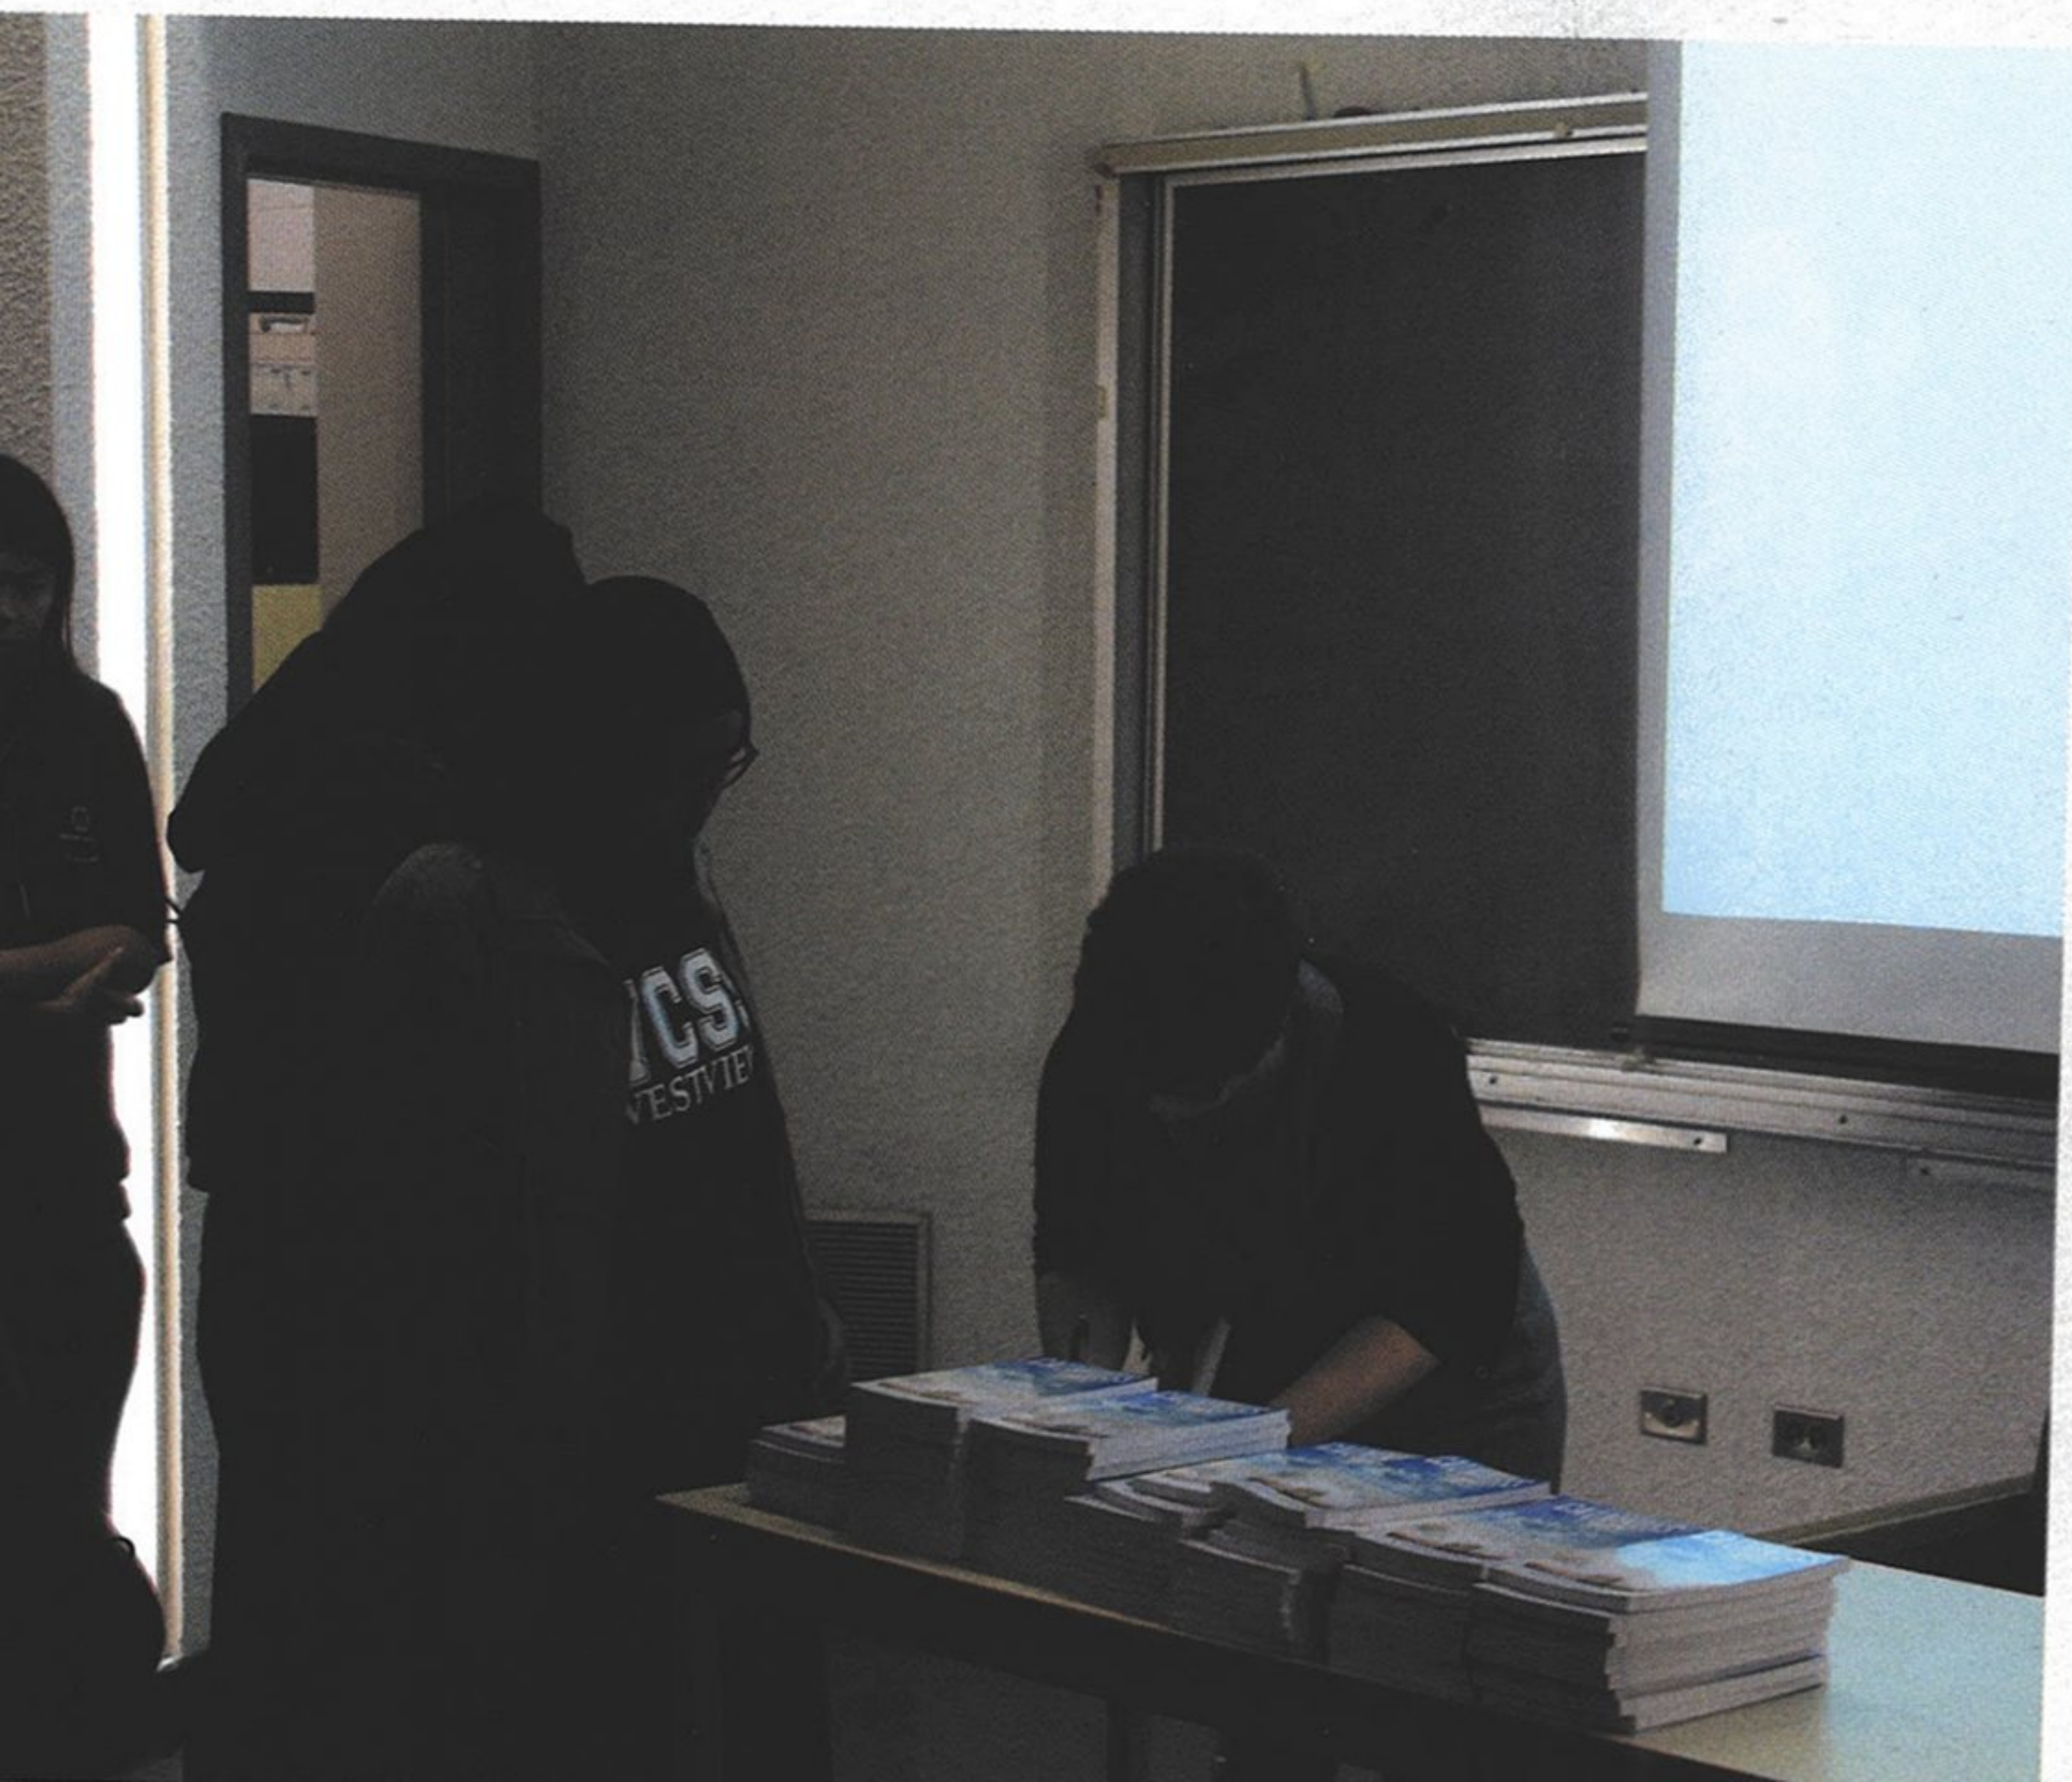

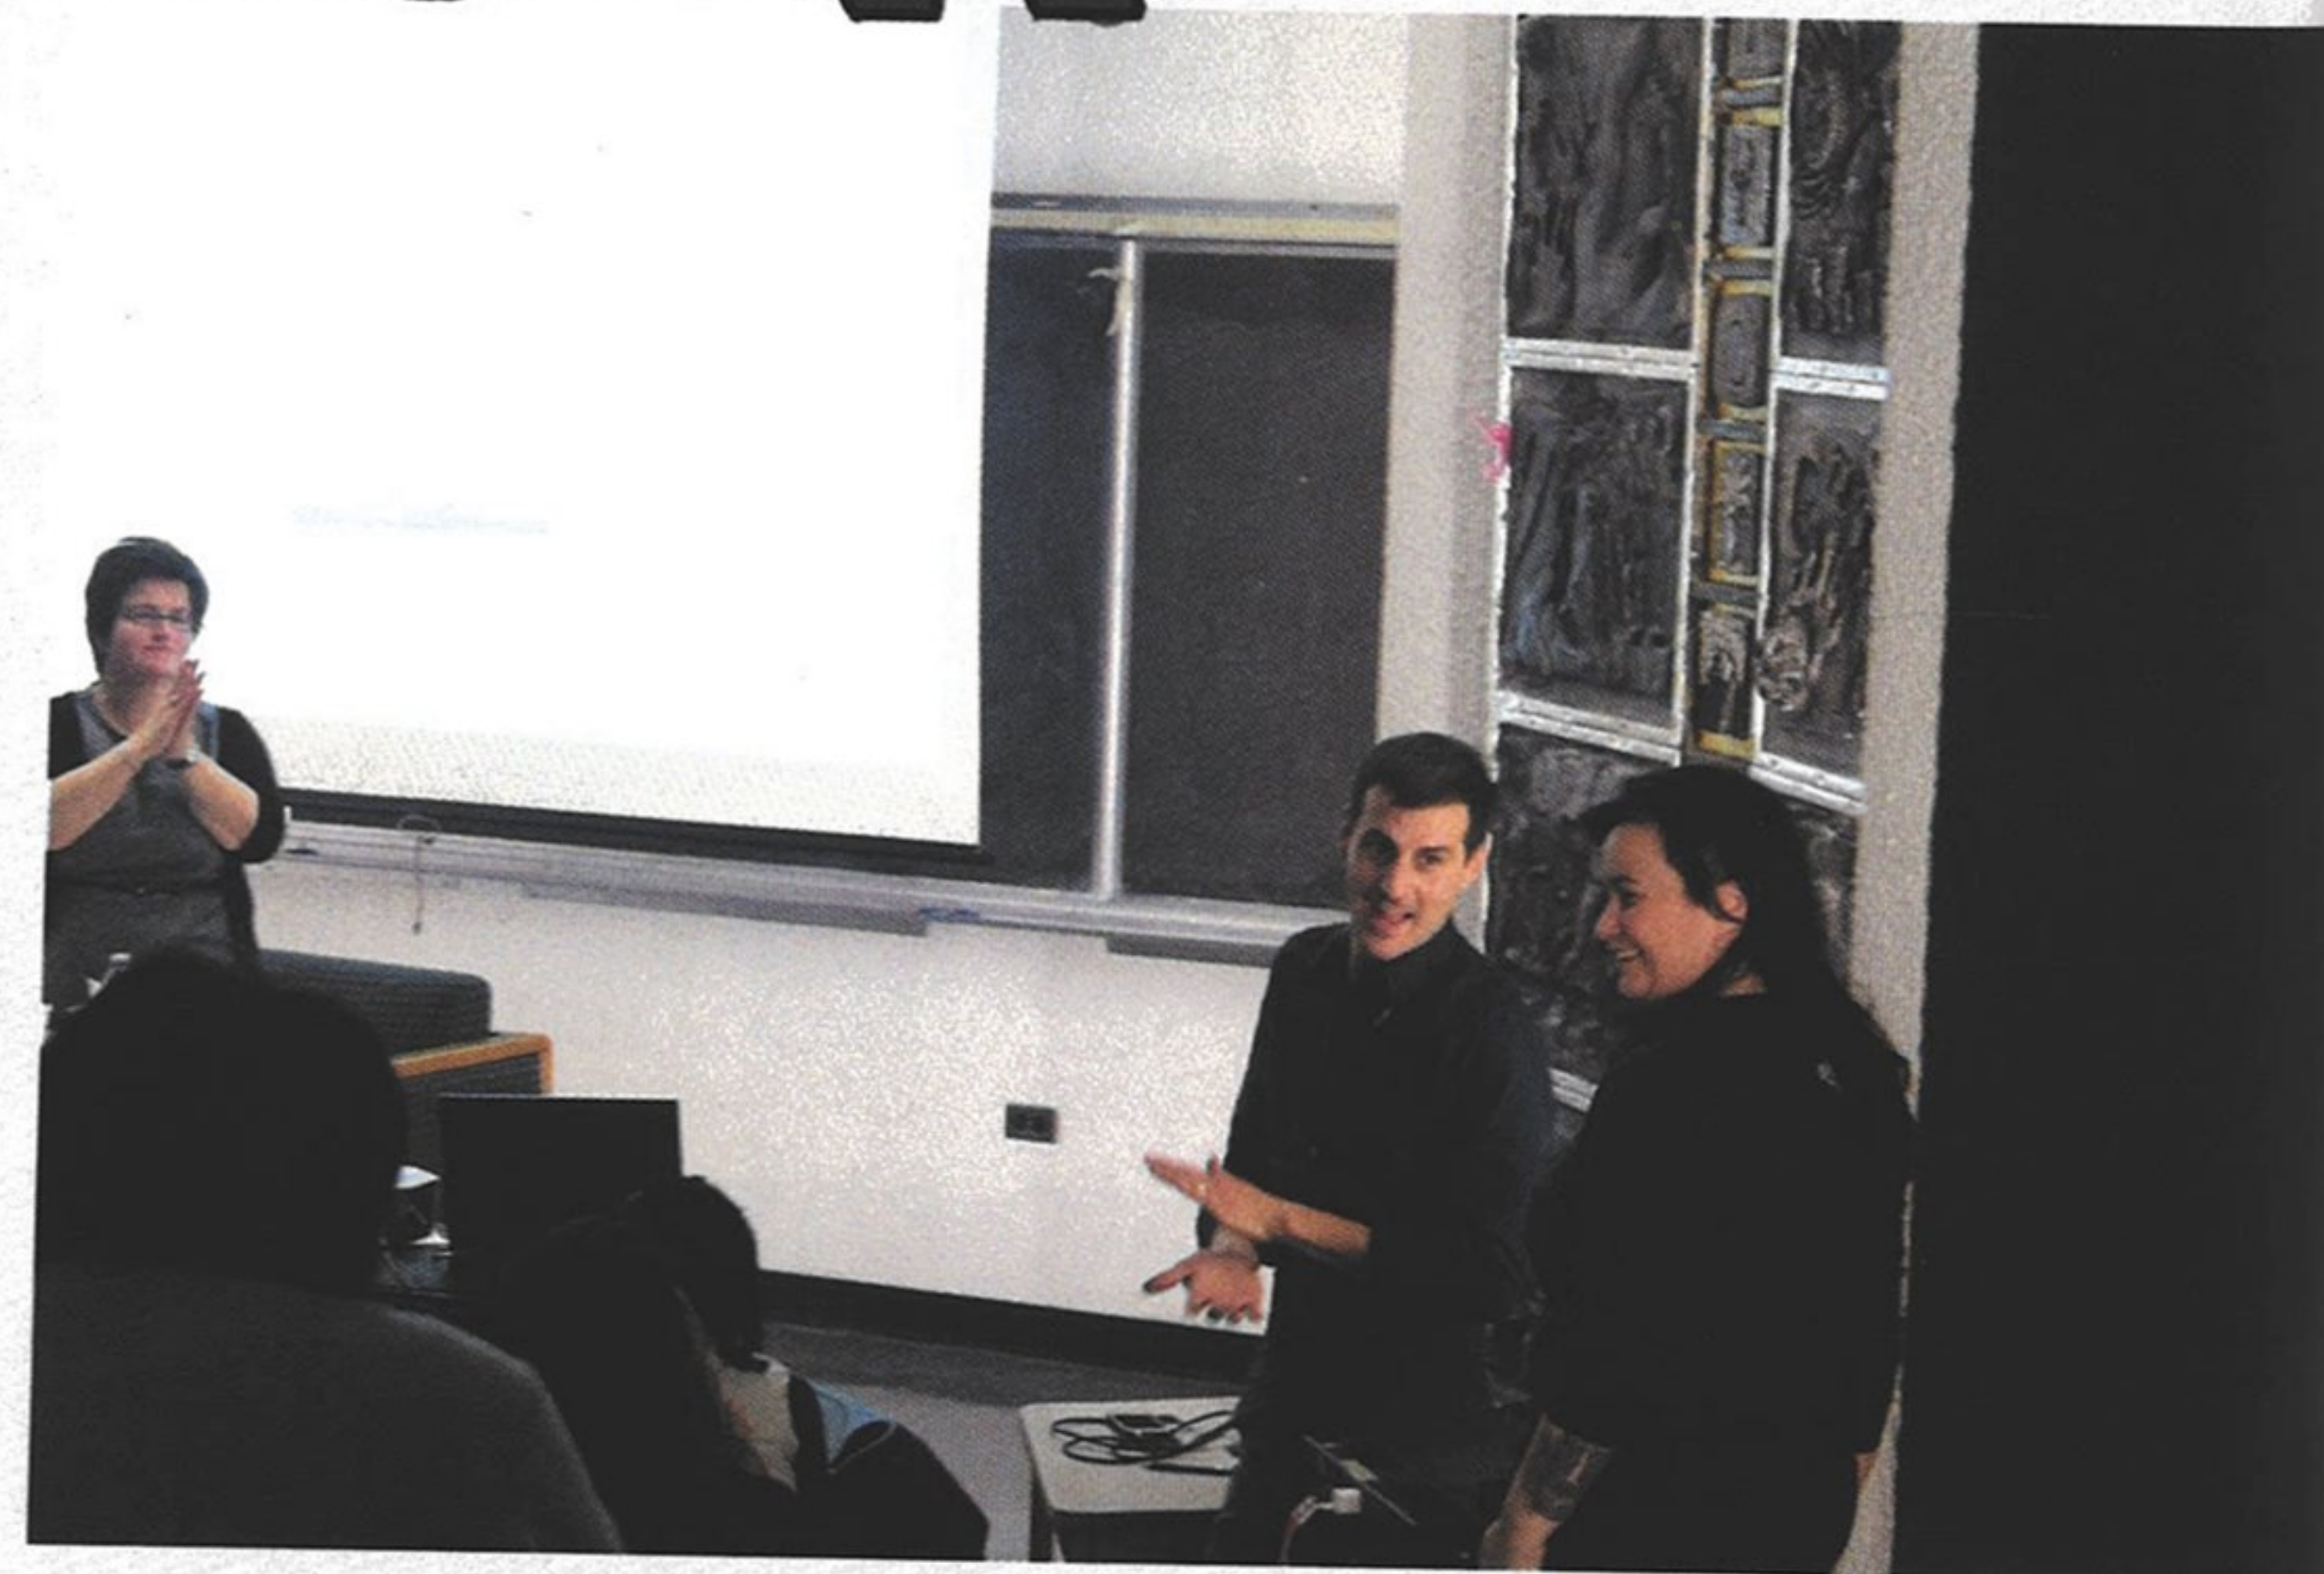

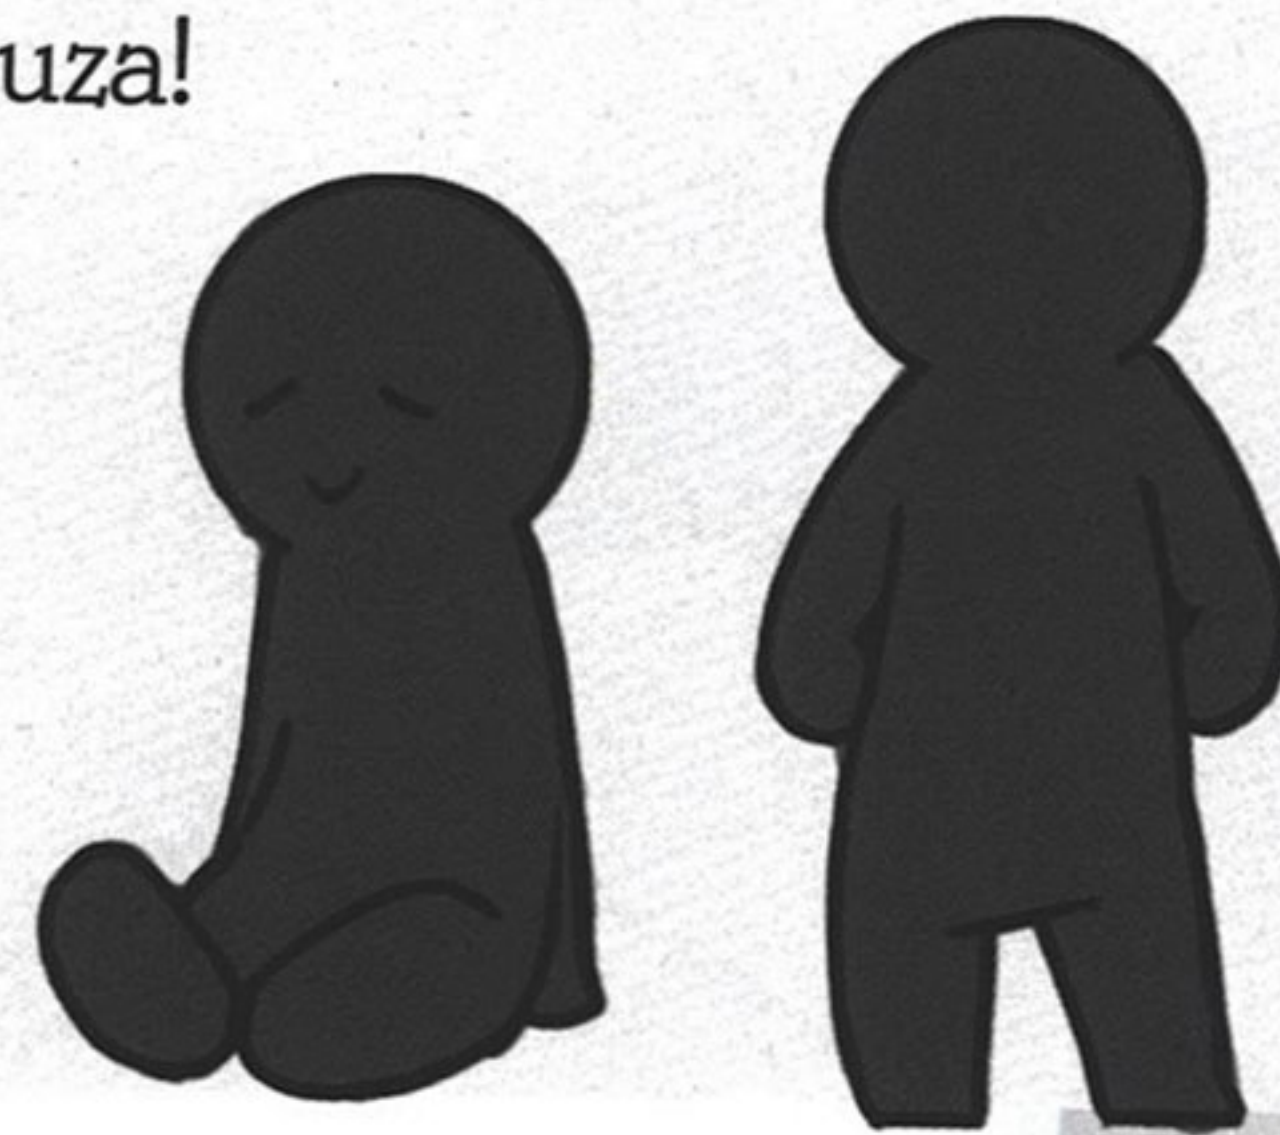

Author In The House

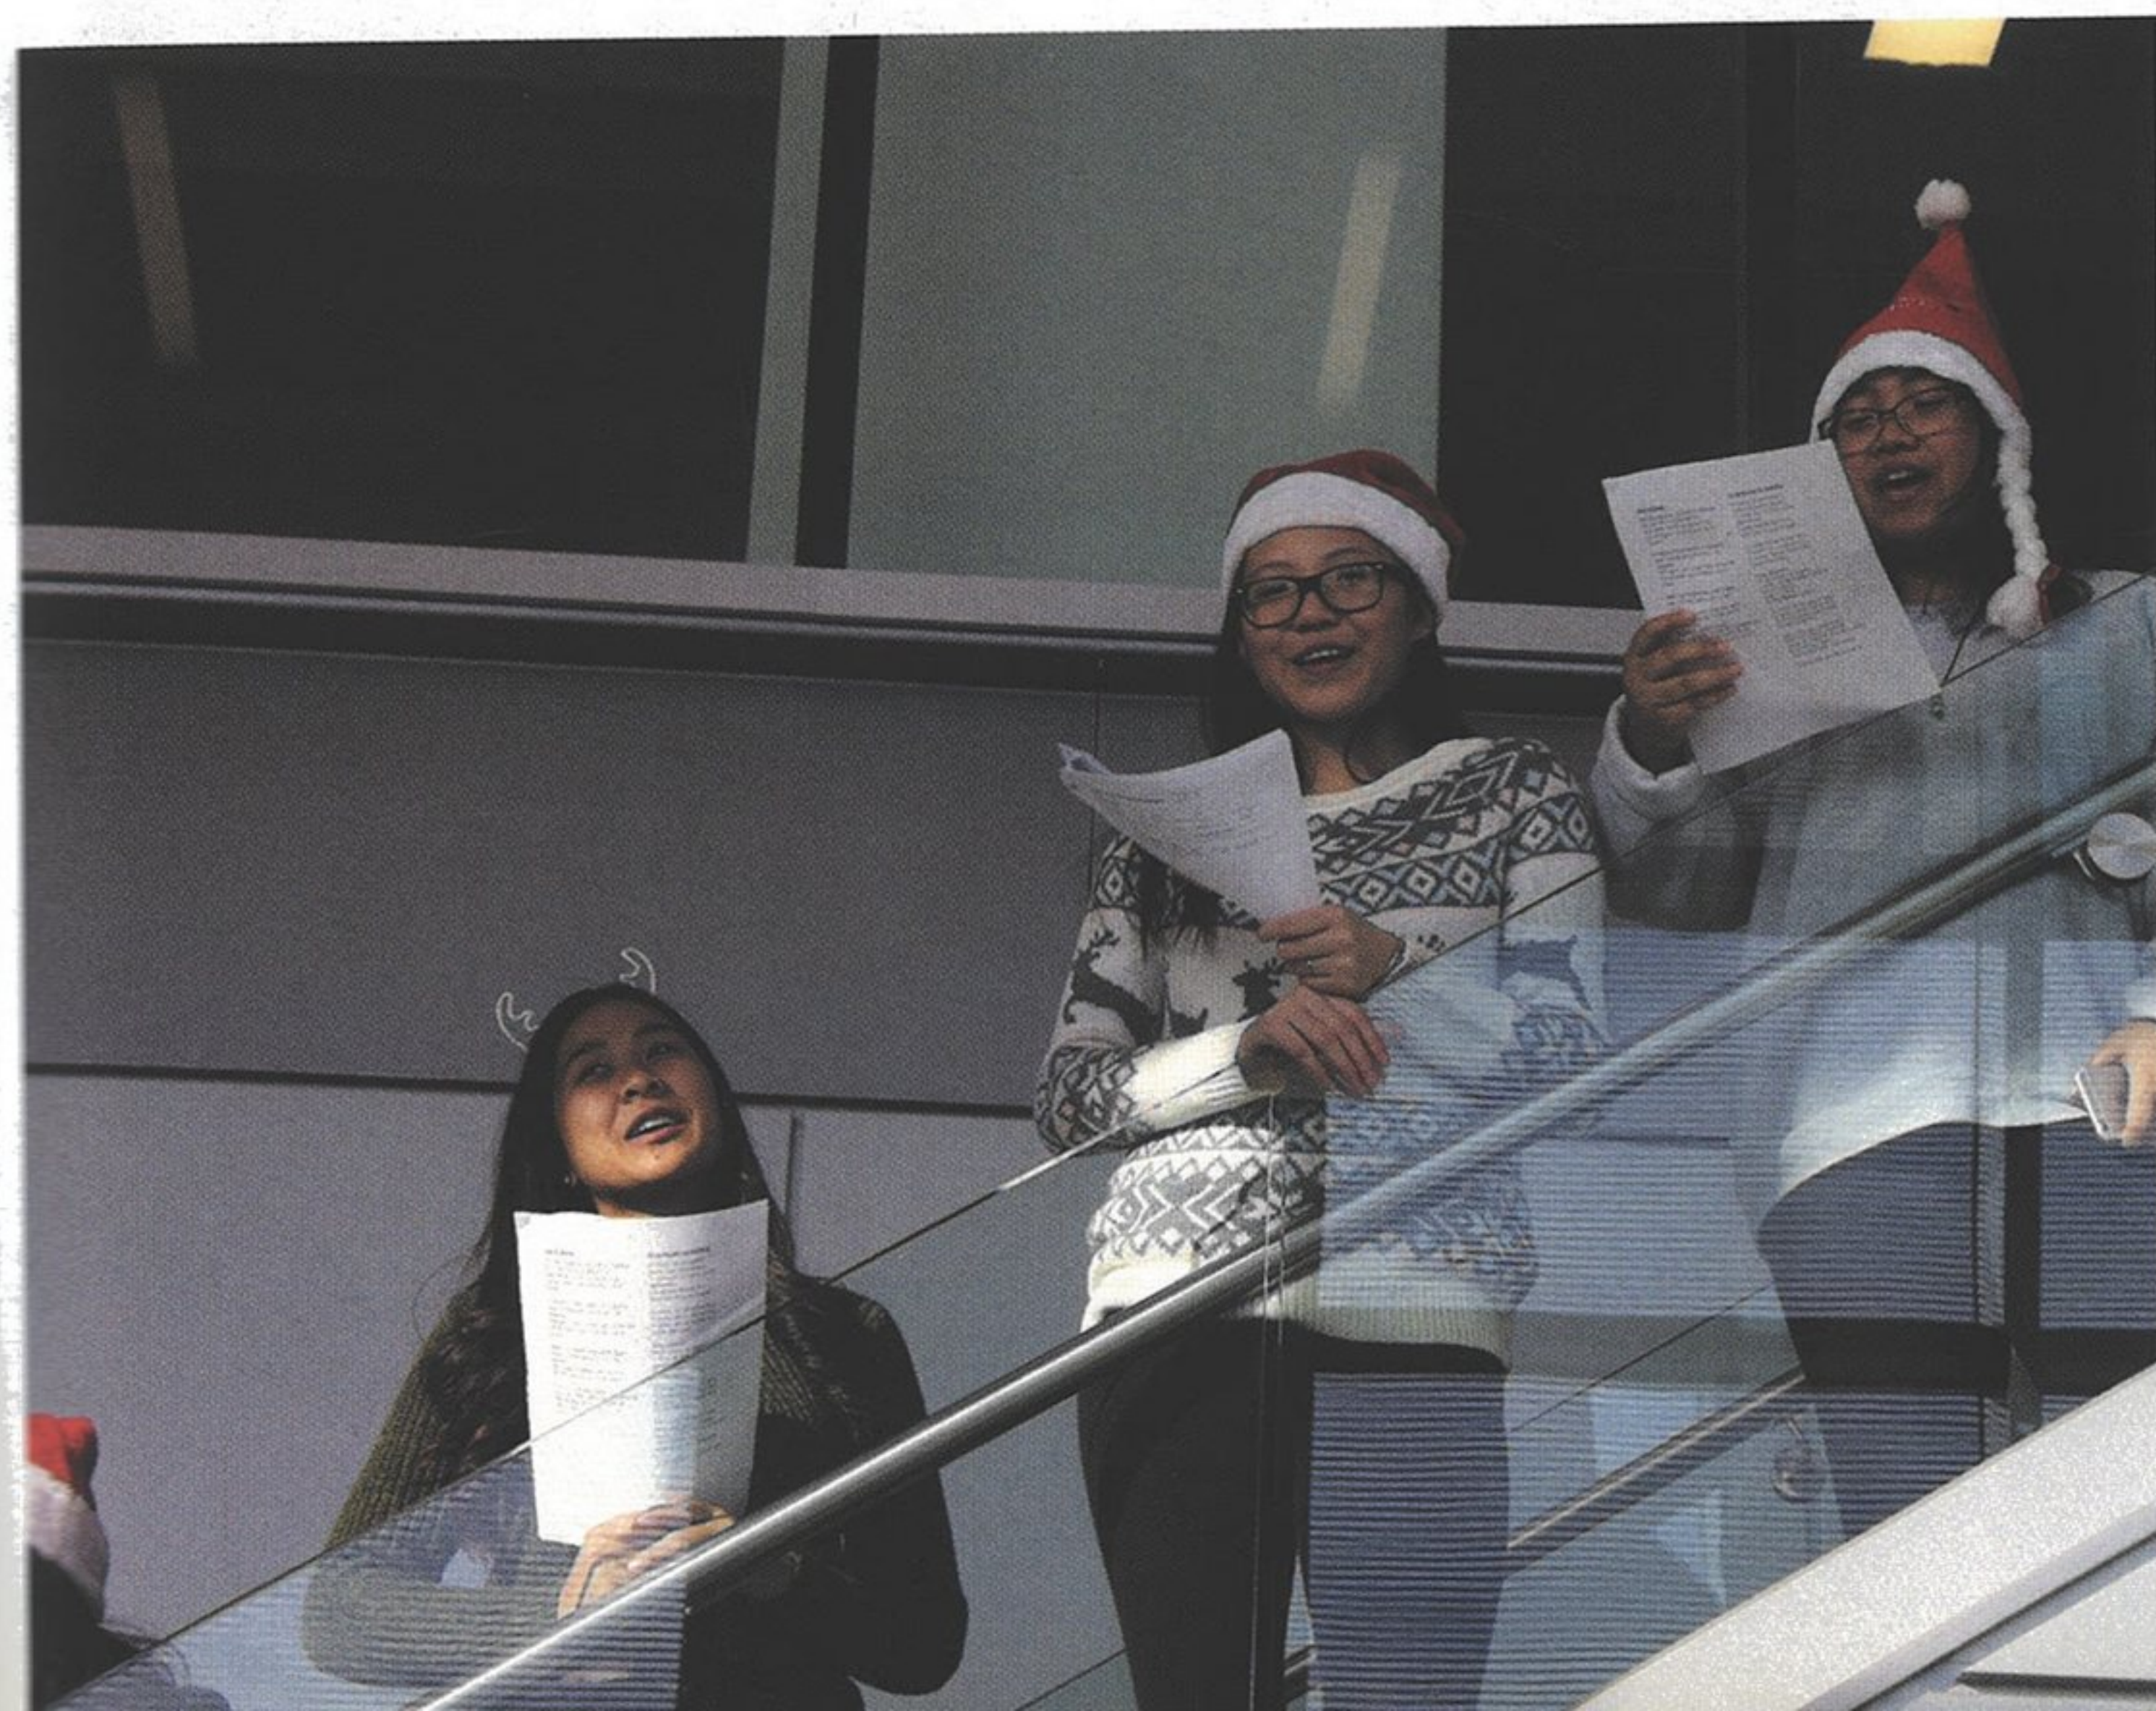

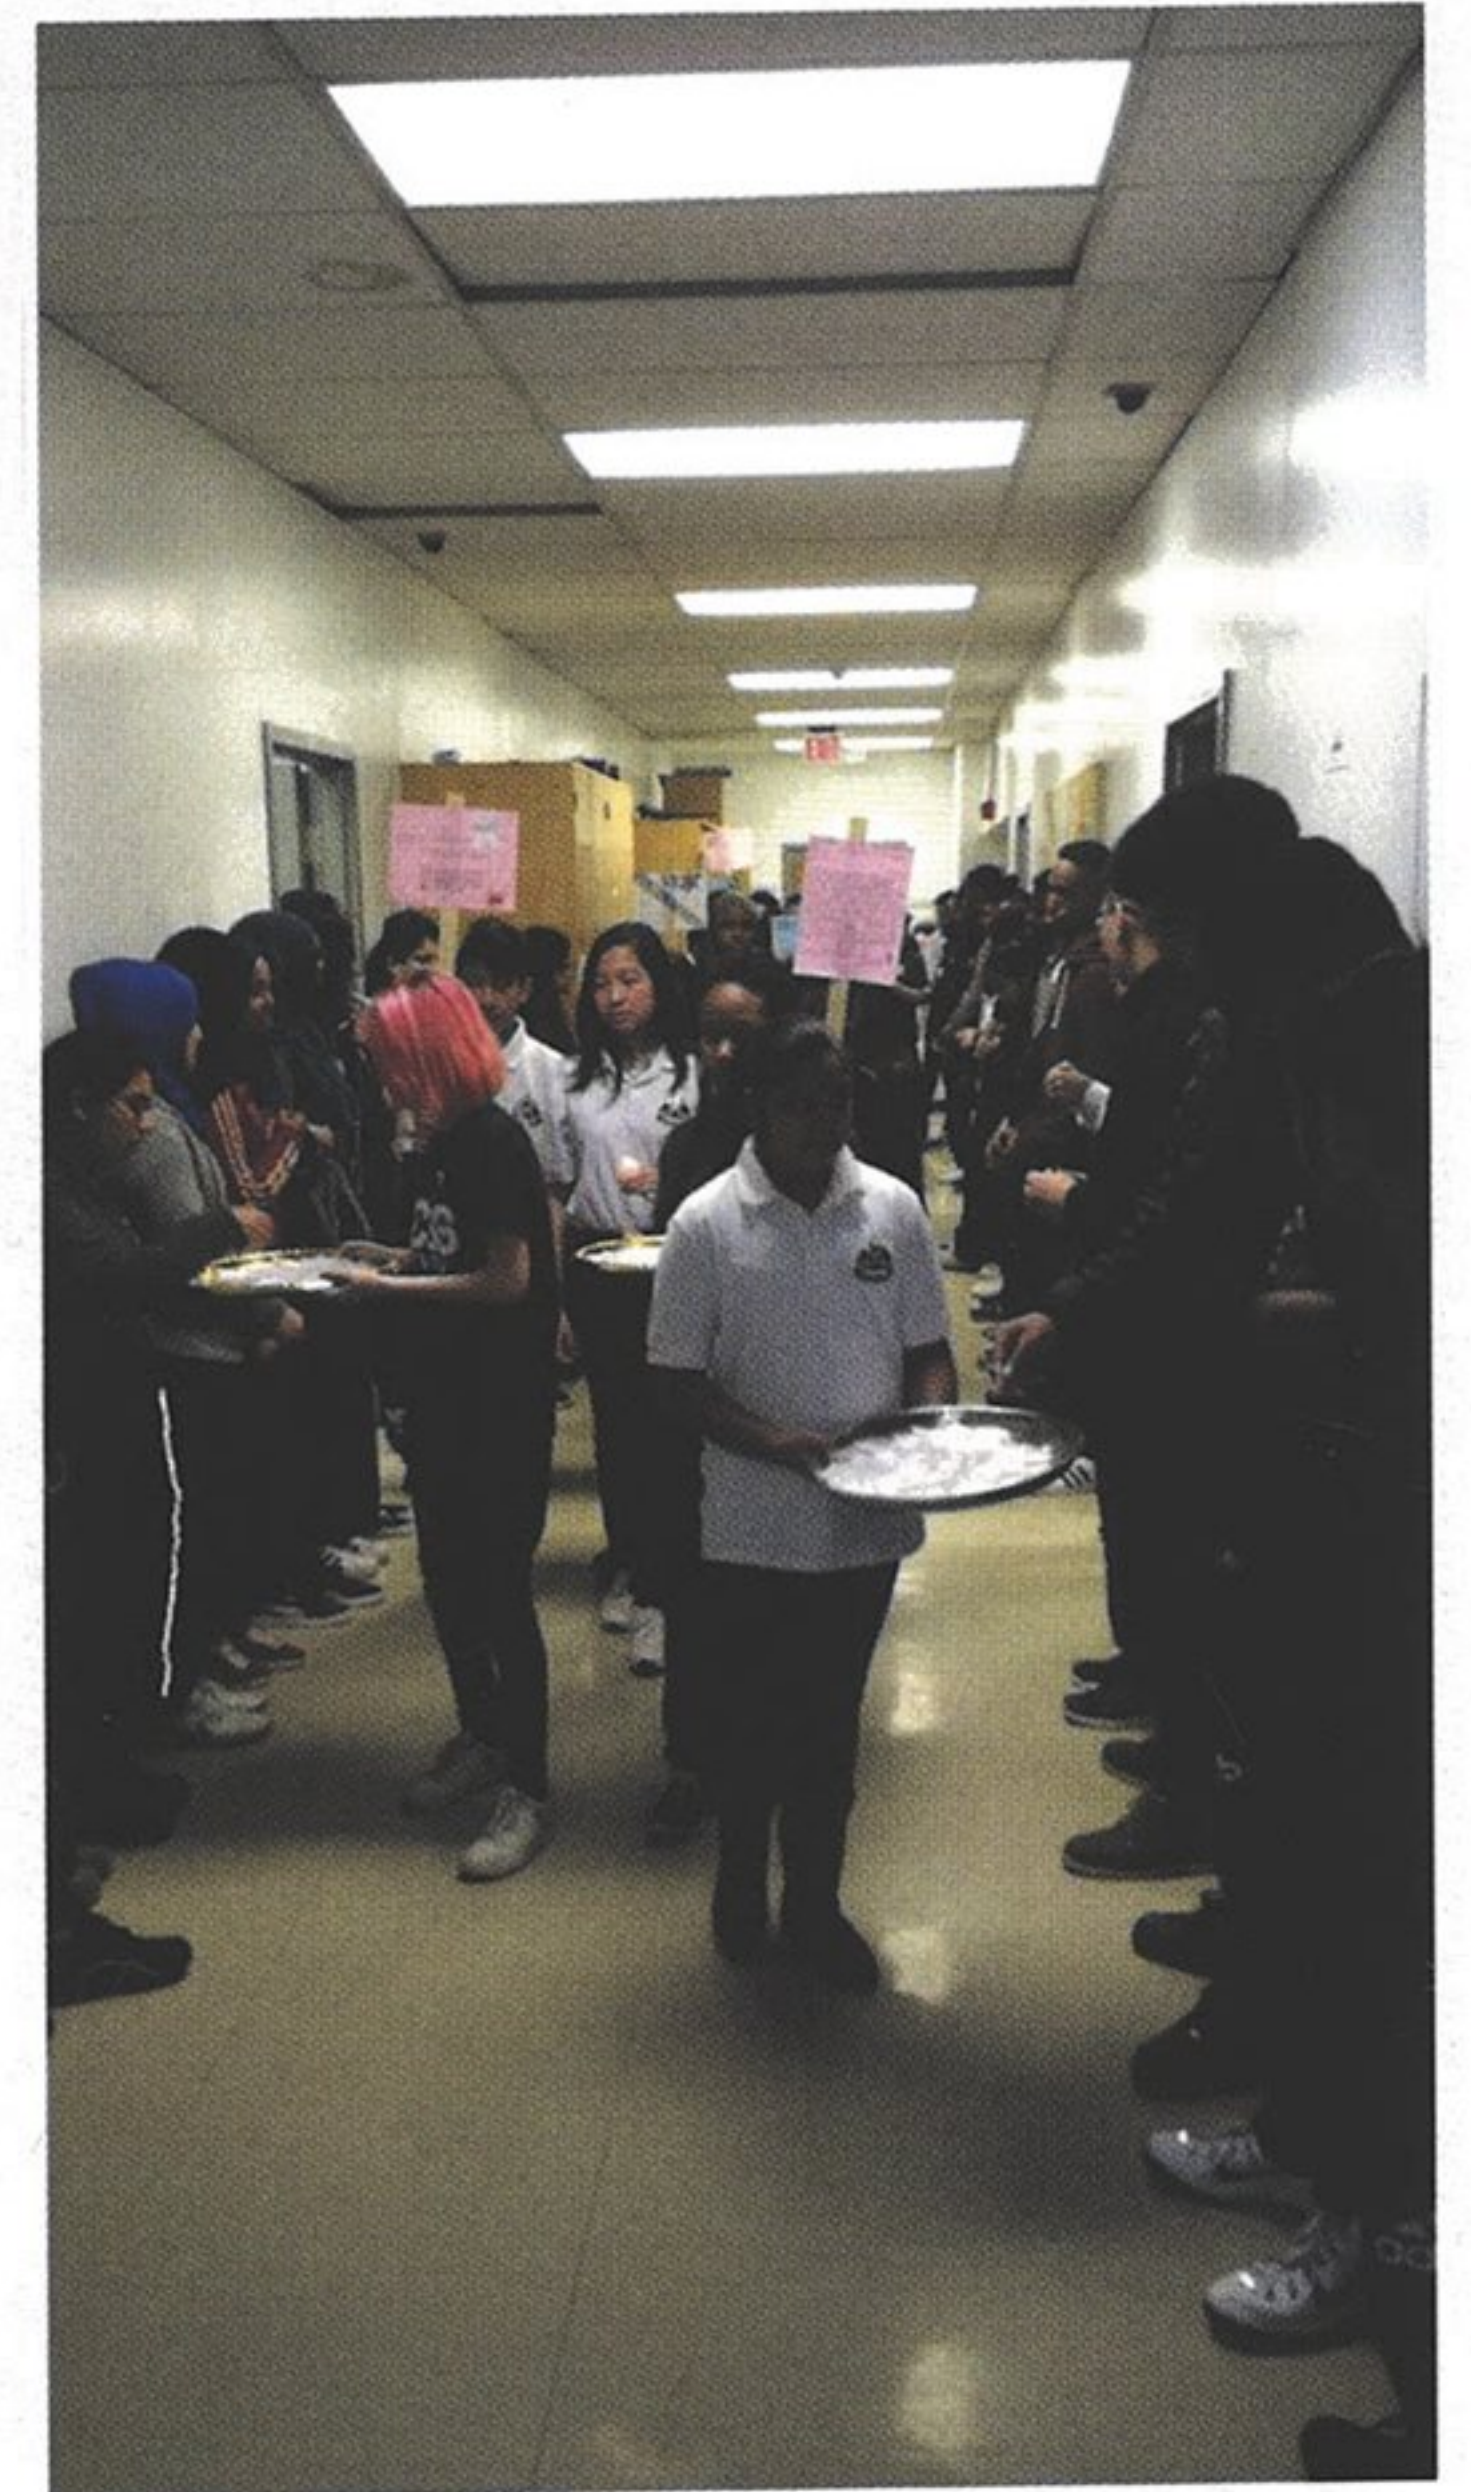

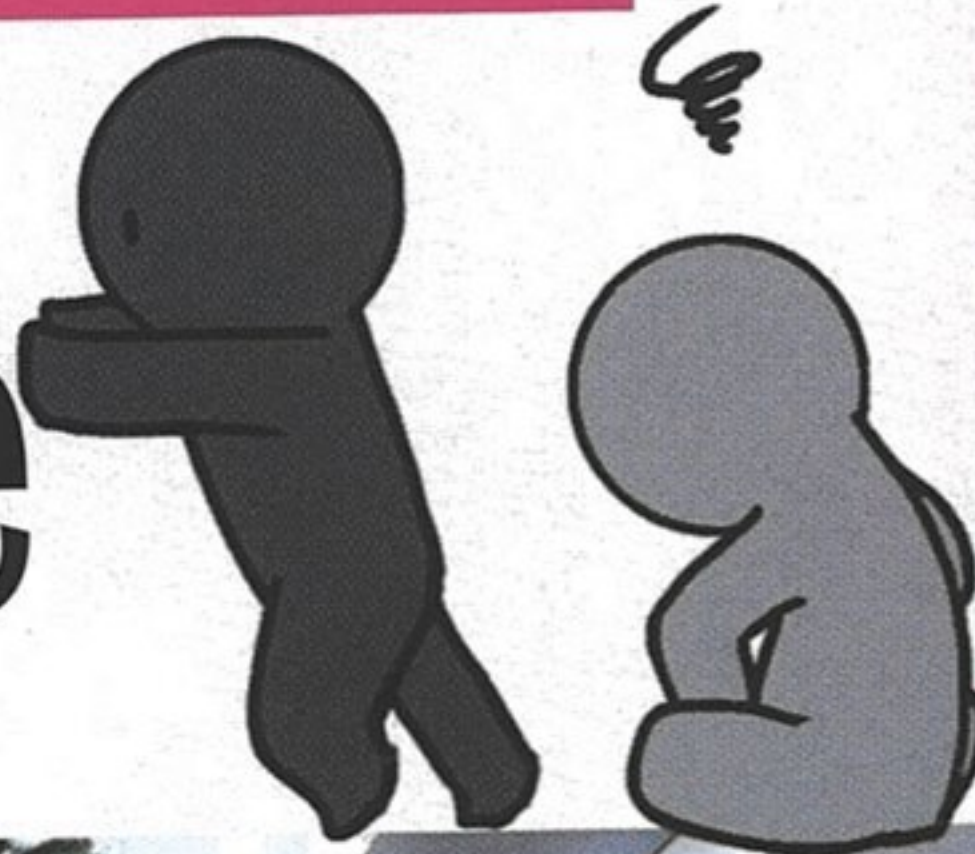

Author Helga DeSousa visited Westview on November 17th to discuss her recent publication "Calmness", a book that promotes strategies to help balance your life. The entire crowd was engaged and once the presentation was done each student received a signed copy of her book. Thanks so much Ms. DeSousa!

National Day Of Action

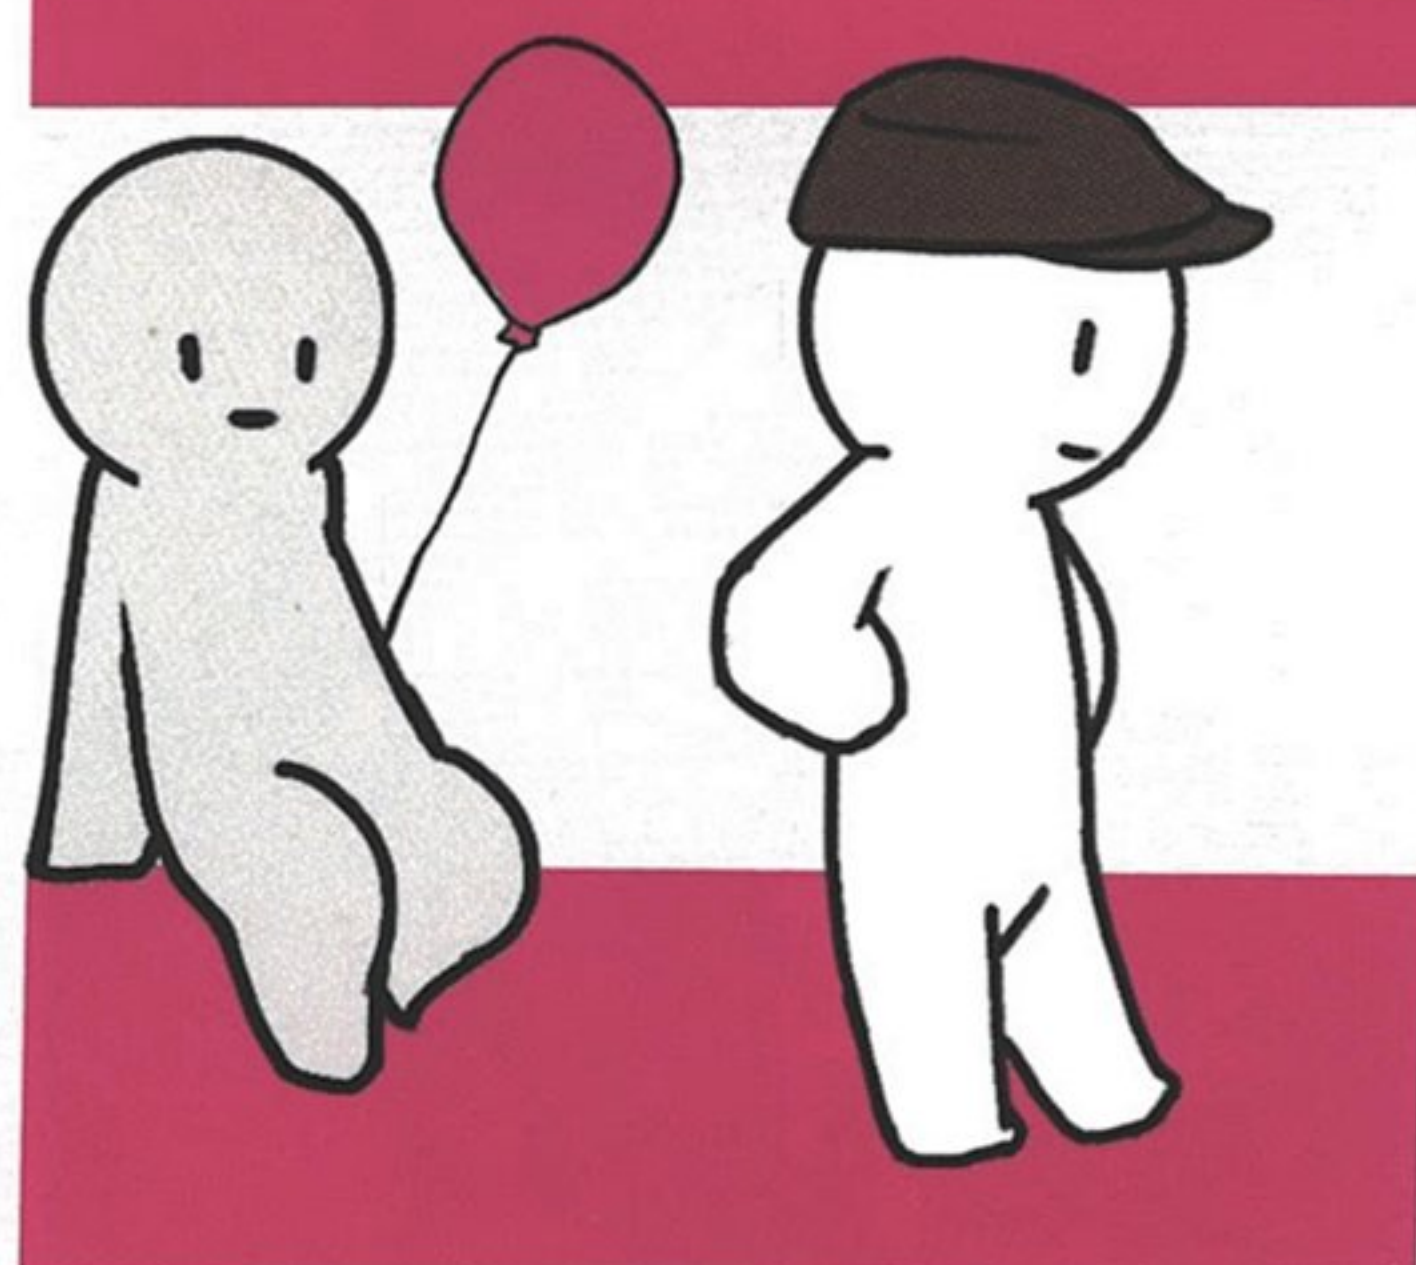

Westview's grade 9 students march through the hallways and distribute white ribbons on December 6th, the annual National Day of Action to End Violence Against Women and show solidarity with this Canada wide event.

Toy Drive

In the month of December, Westview showed a full display of heart. The school's annual toy drive was successful this year with many students donating toys and participating in fundraisers. Generation Change went to Humber River Hospital to deliver toys to patients and children. The Humber River staff showed great gratitude for the many contributions.

Arts Assembly

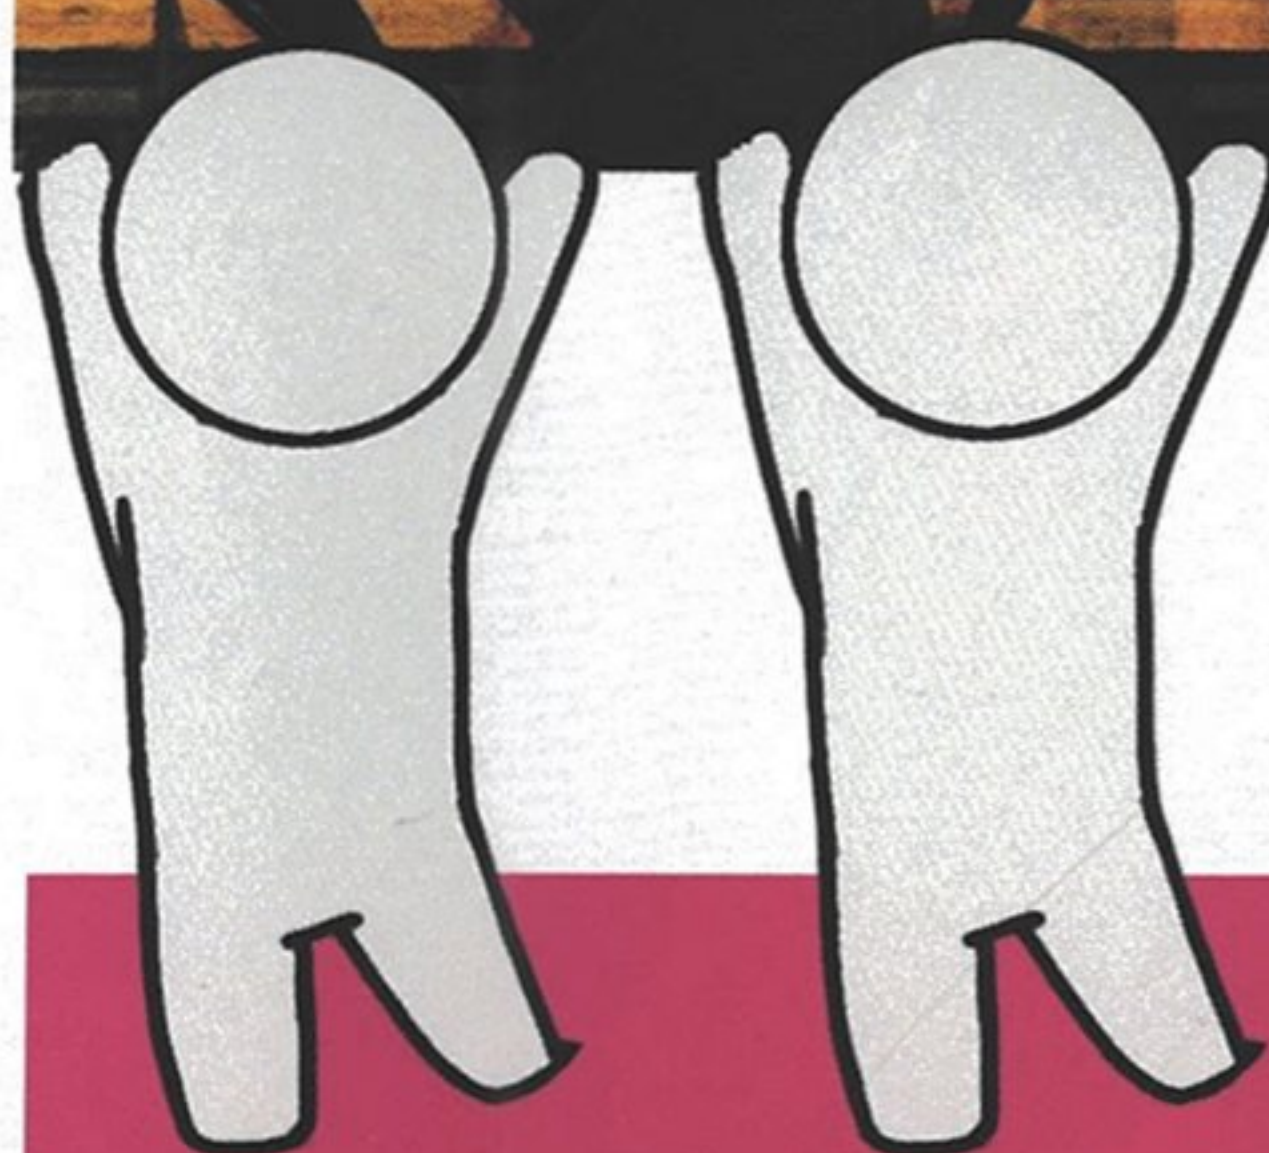

LET'S SHOW THEM WHAT WE GOT....

On Wednesday December 21st, 2016 Westview held their yearly Arts Assembly. This assembly is dedicated to the artistic side of our school. Students were able to showcase their prepared dance performances and their own musical renditions of their favorite songs.

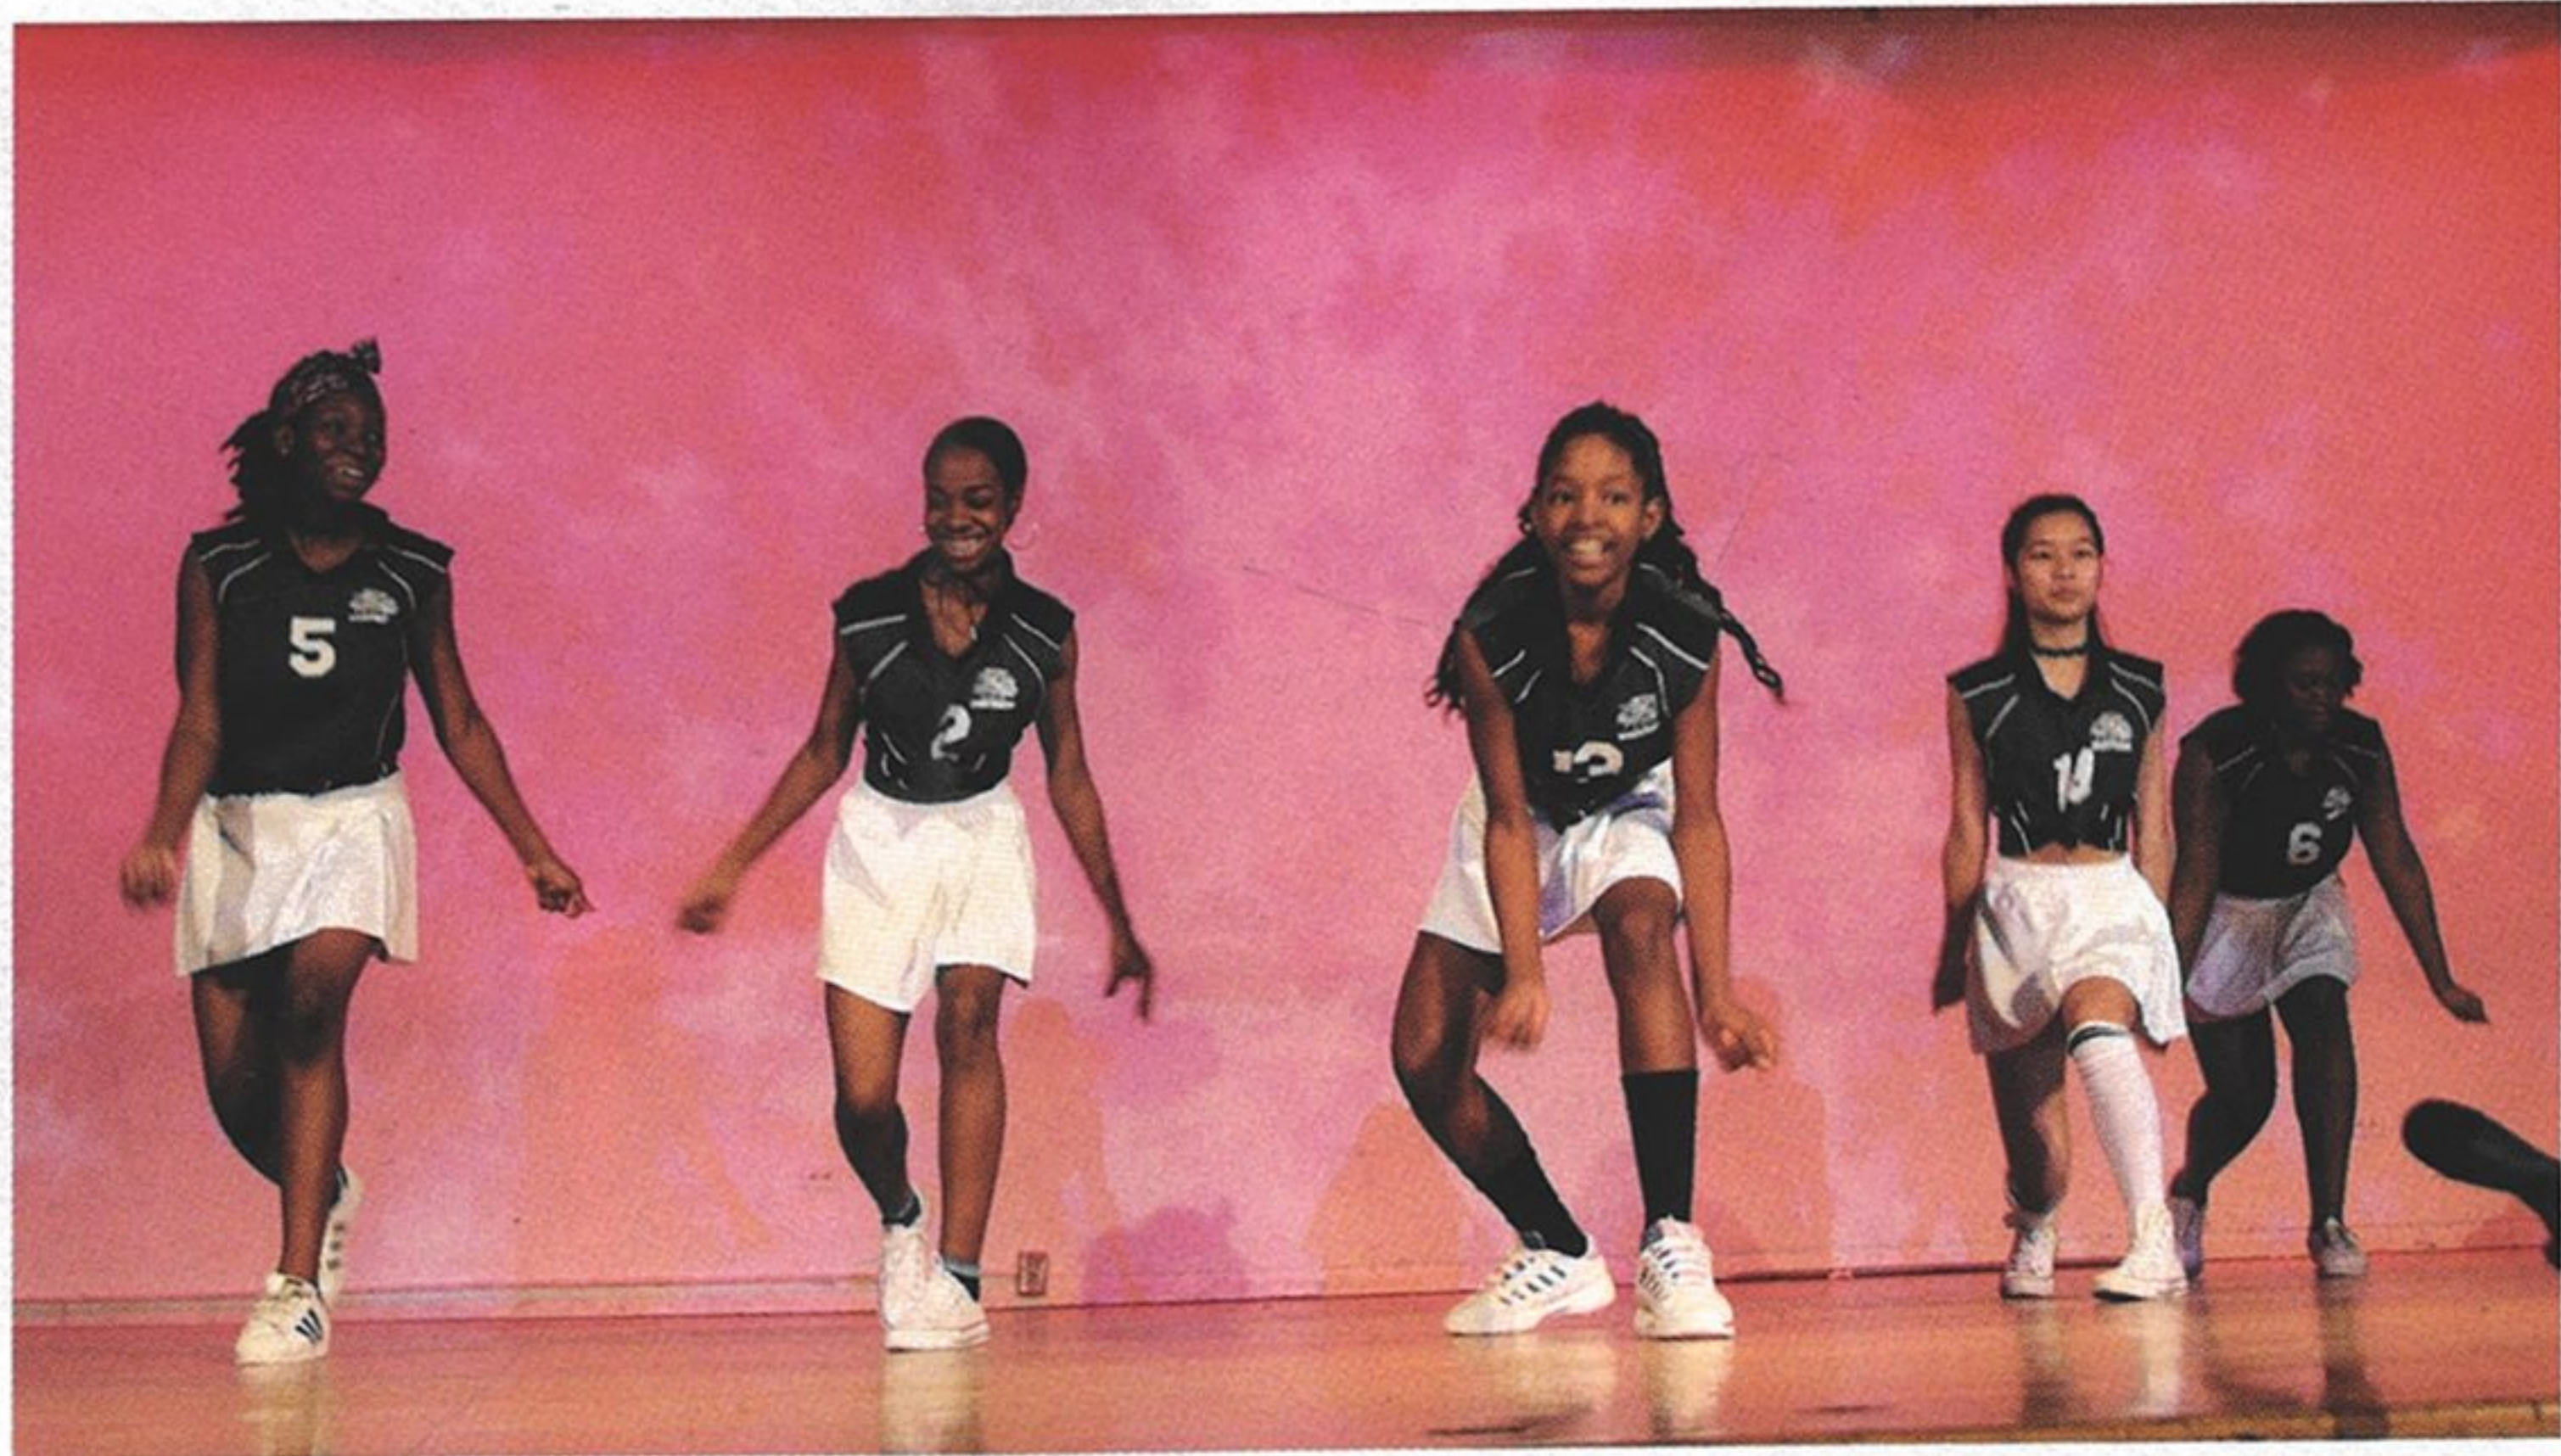

Gravity performers: Novin Dookie, Nana Boateng, Justice Hufnagel and John Fallas.

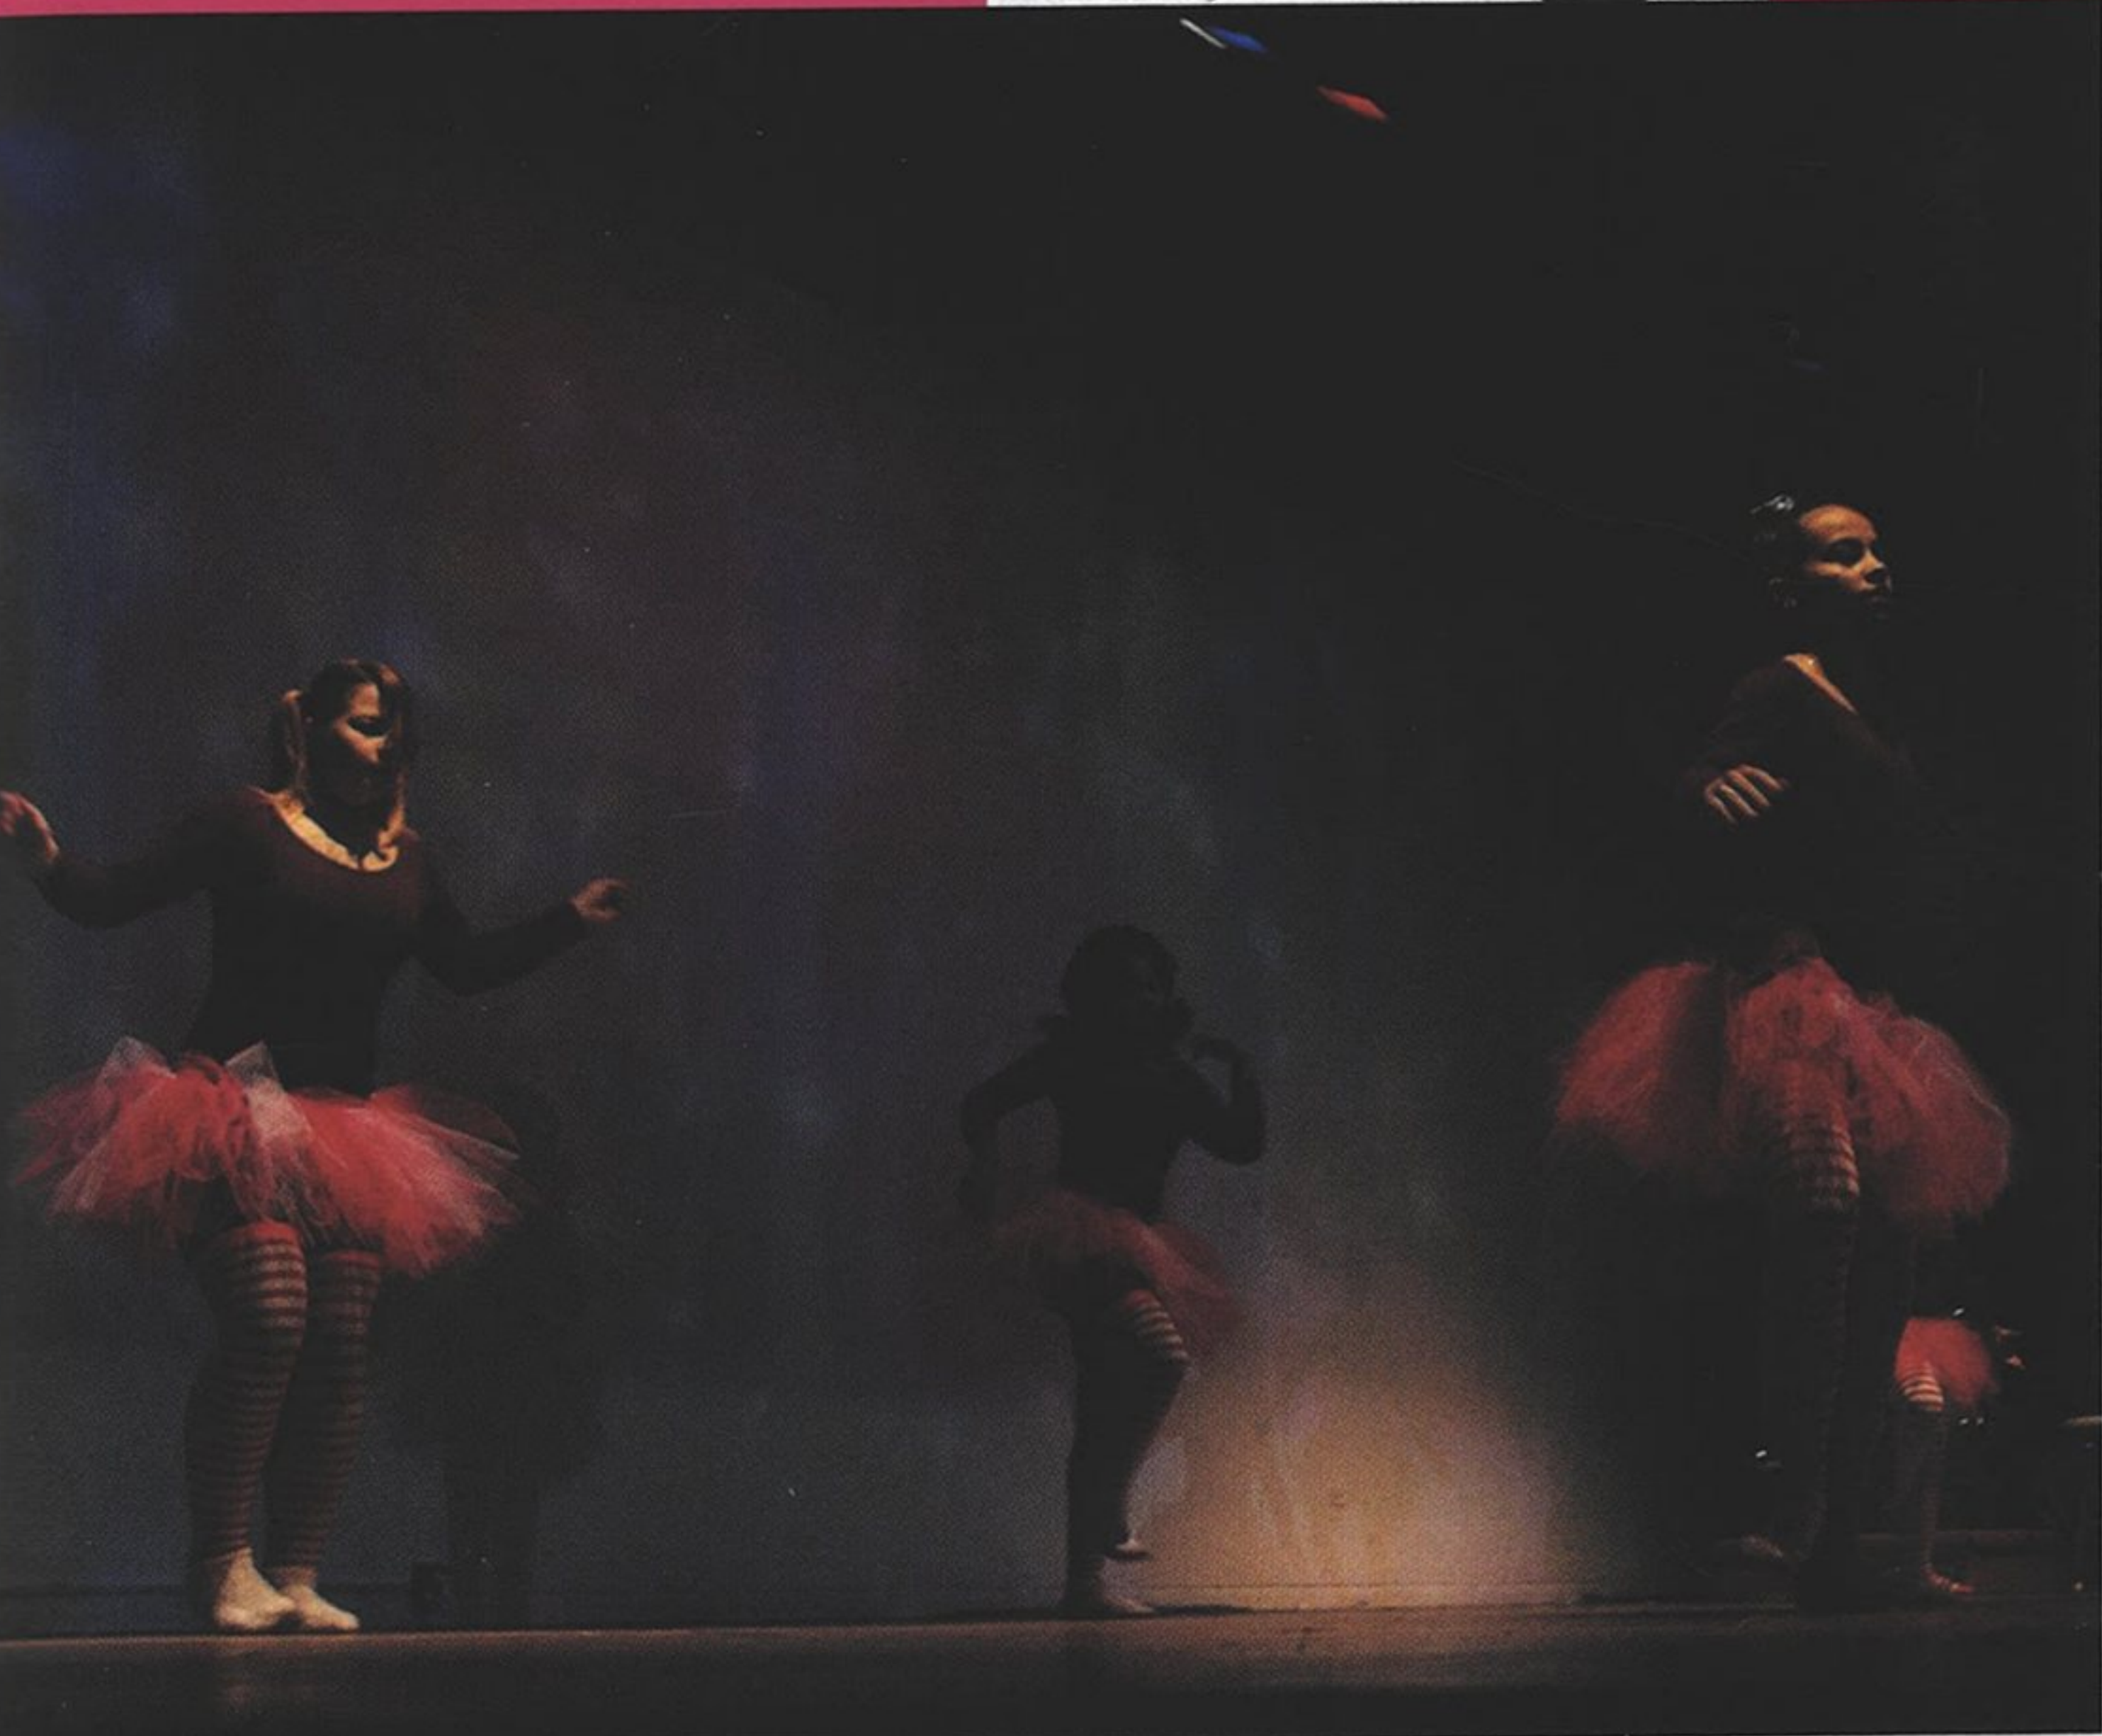

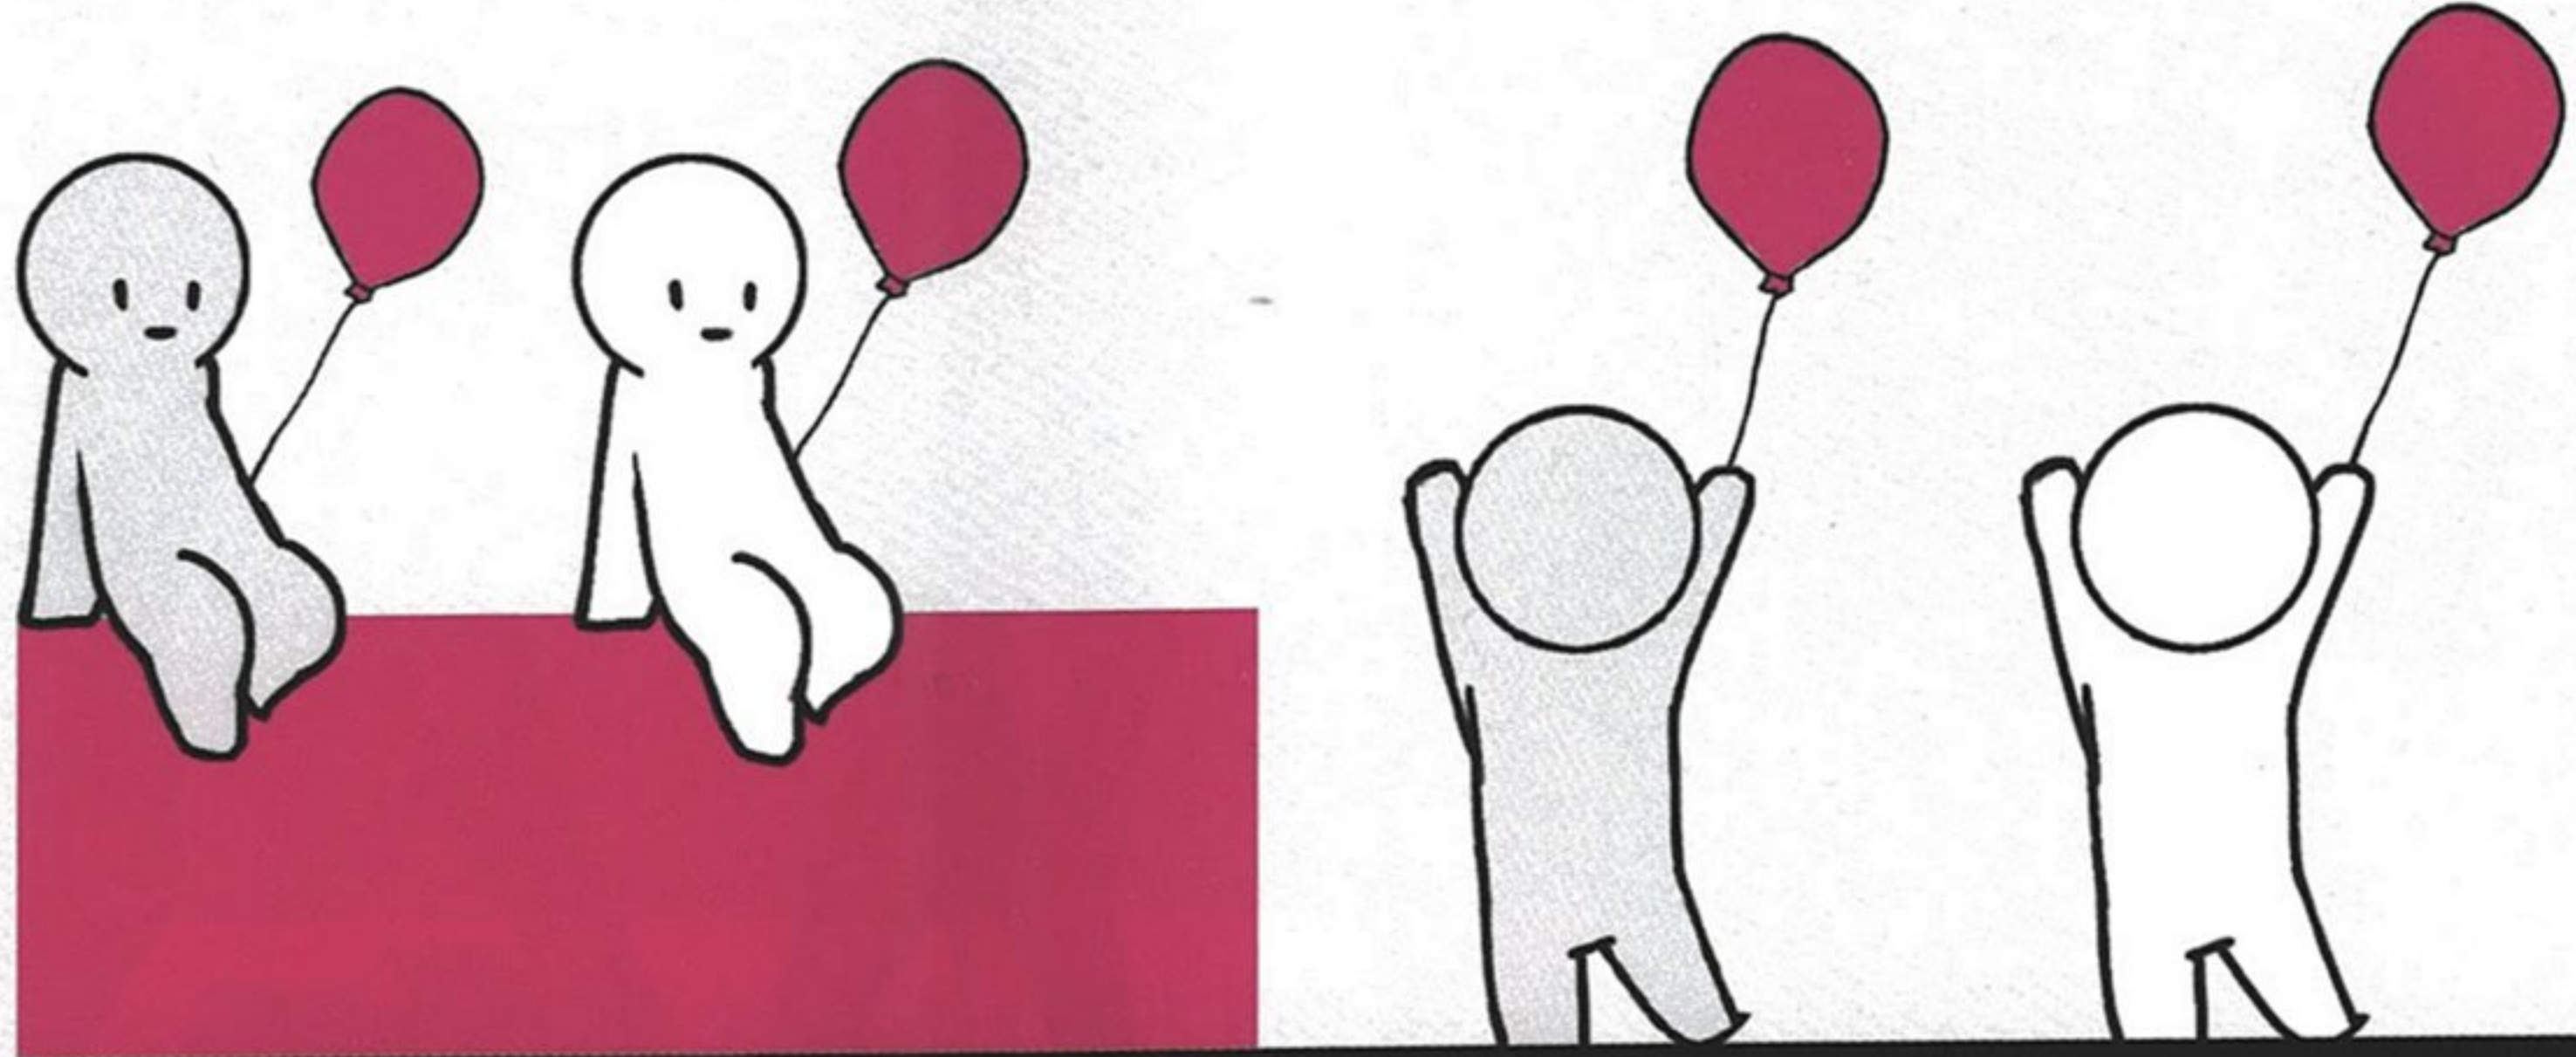

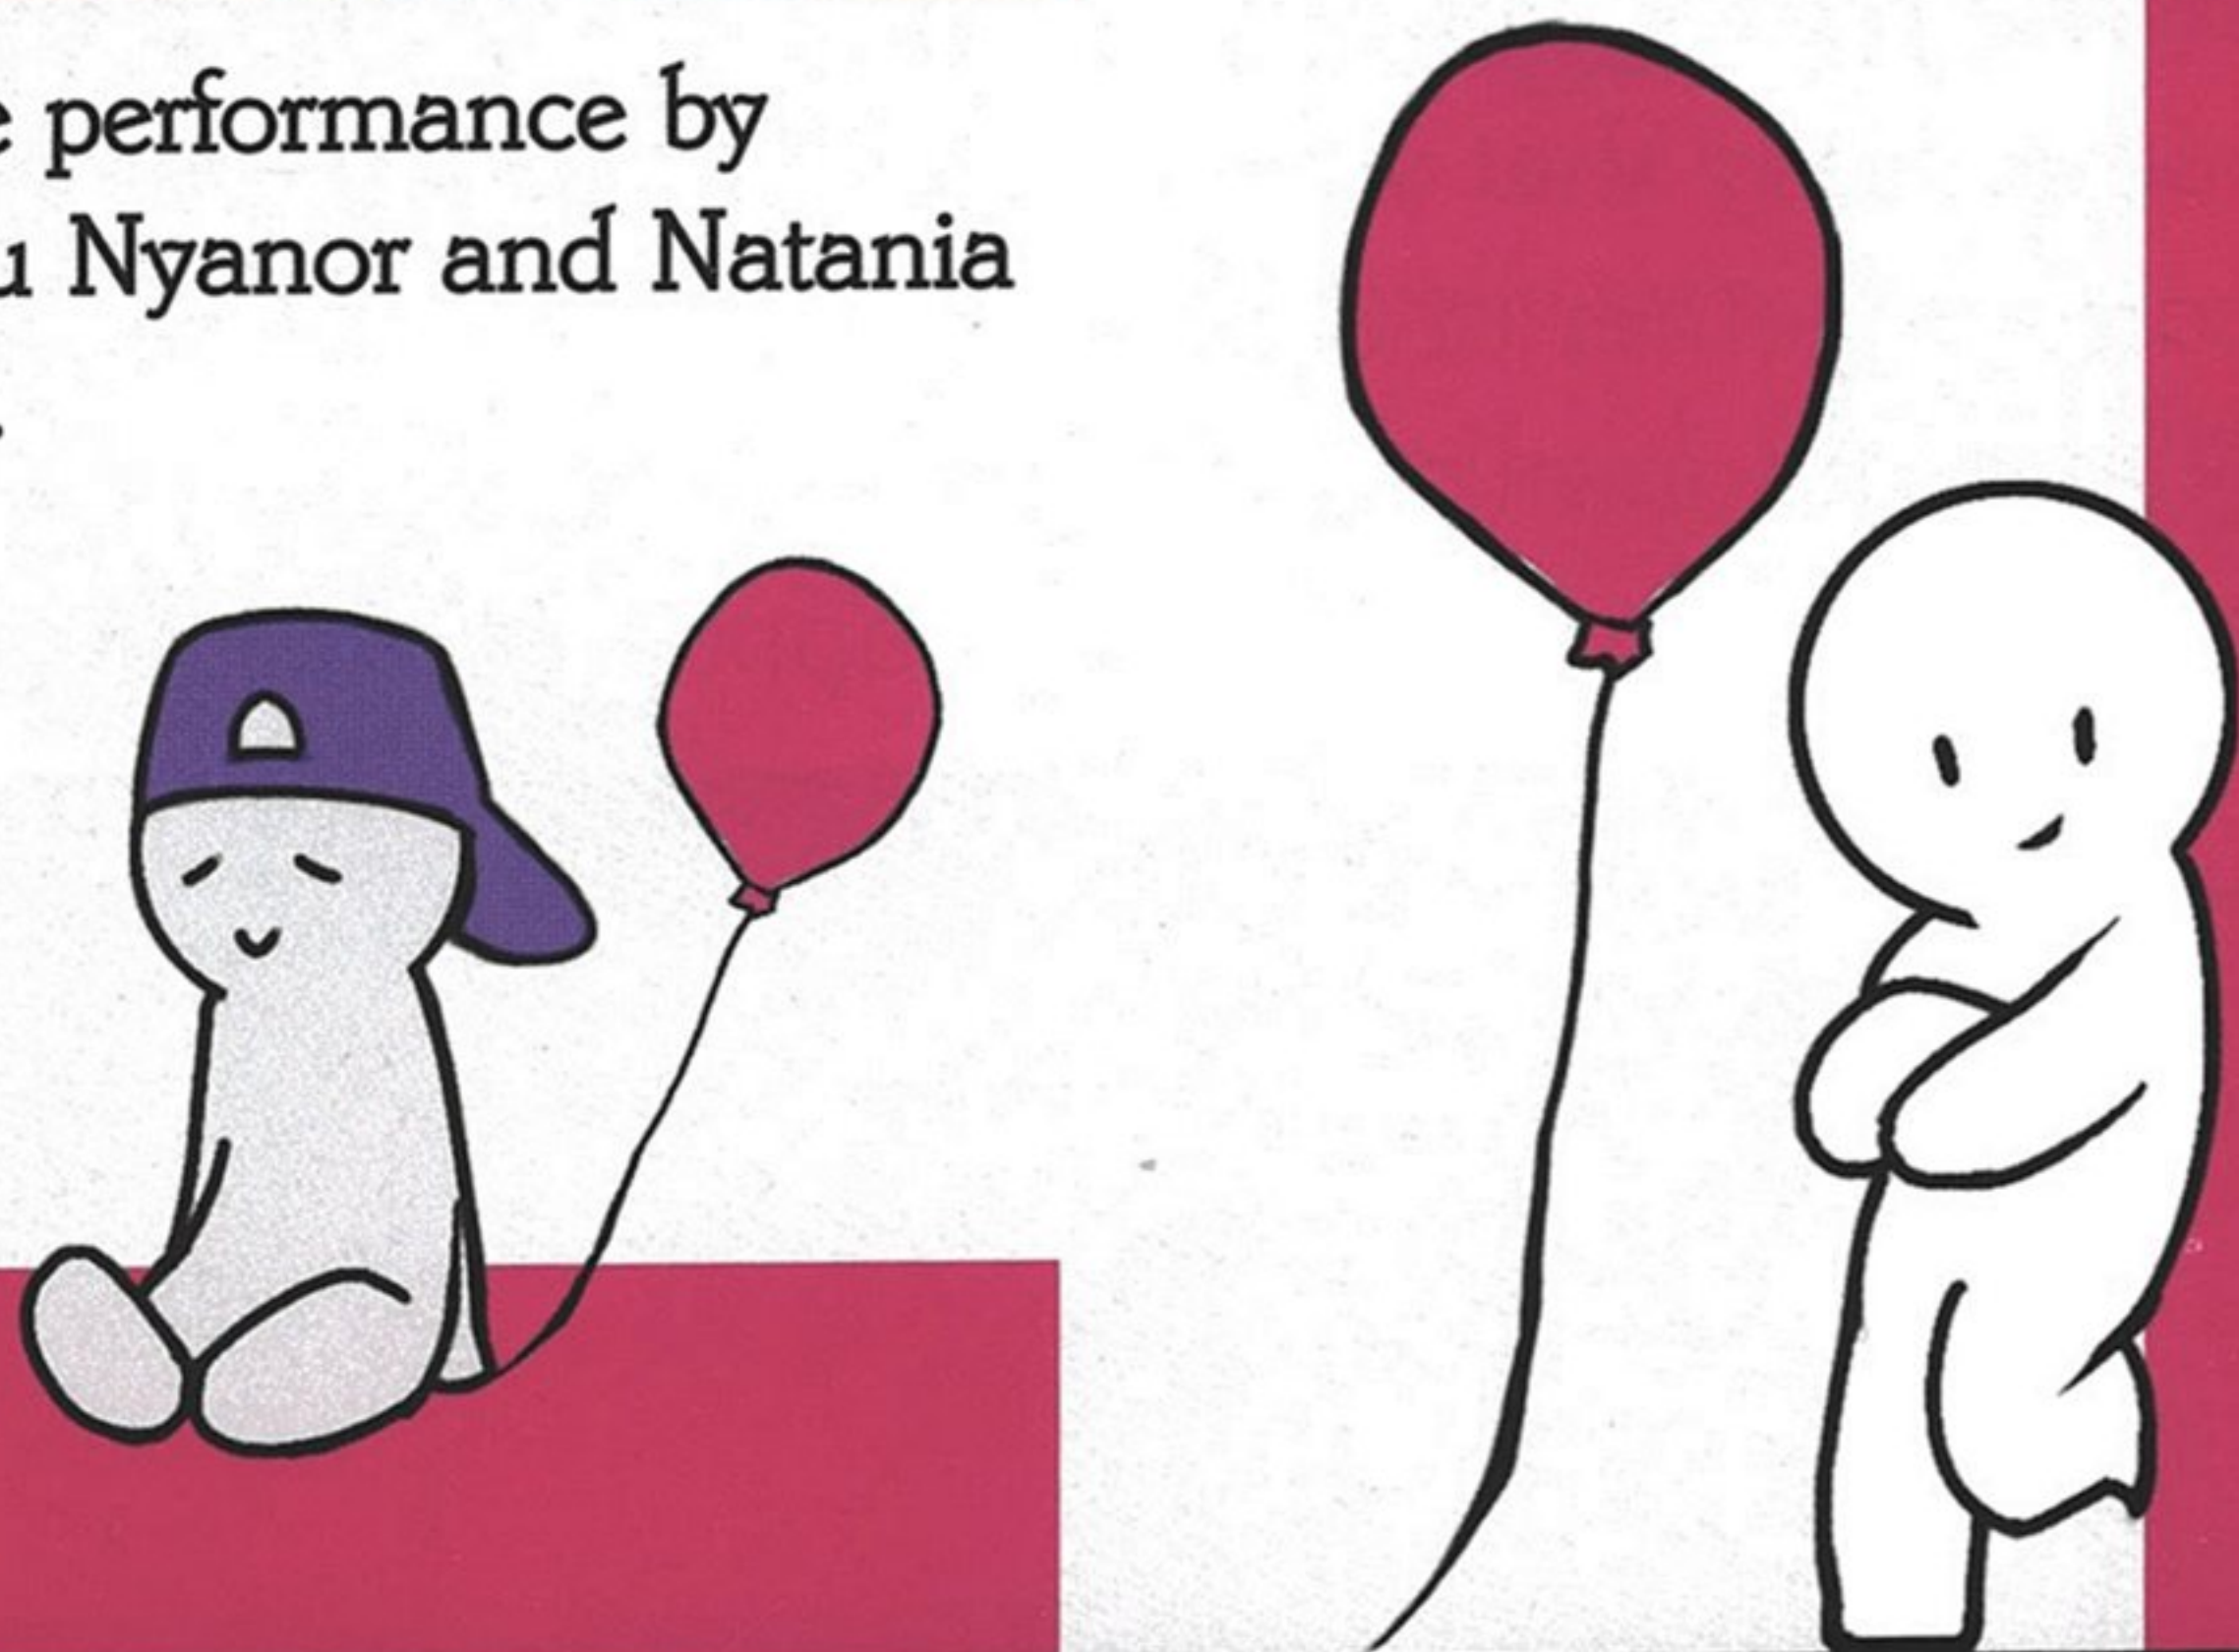

The Steel Pan class gave us a twist on a couple of pop hits.

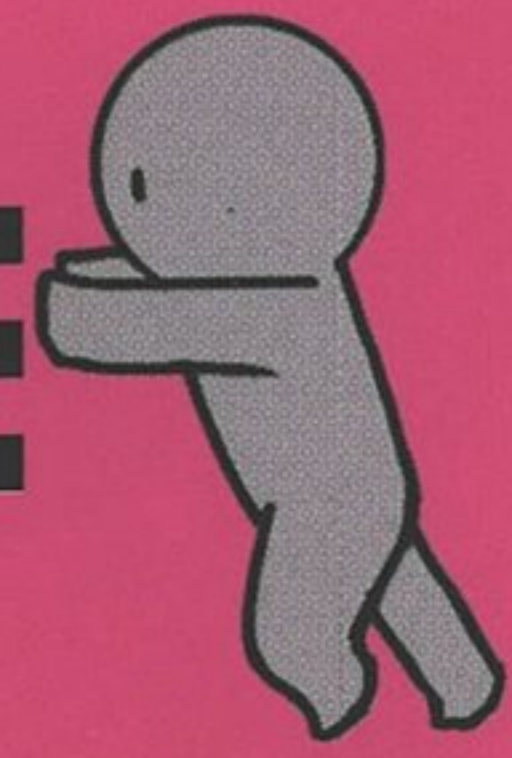

Dance performance by Kwaku Nyanor and Natania Grant.

Performance by Ms. Engesser-Chung's class: Mariam Lawal, Tishy Newell, Leean Joseph, Ha Thu Nguyen, and Toneysha Sudlow.

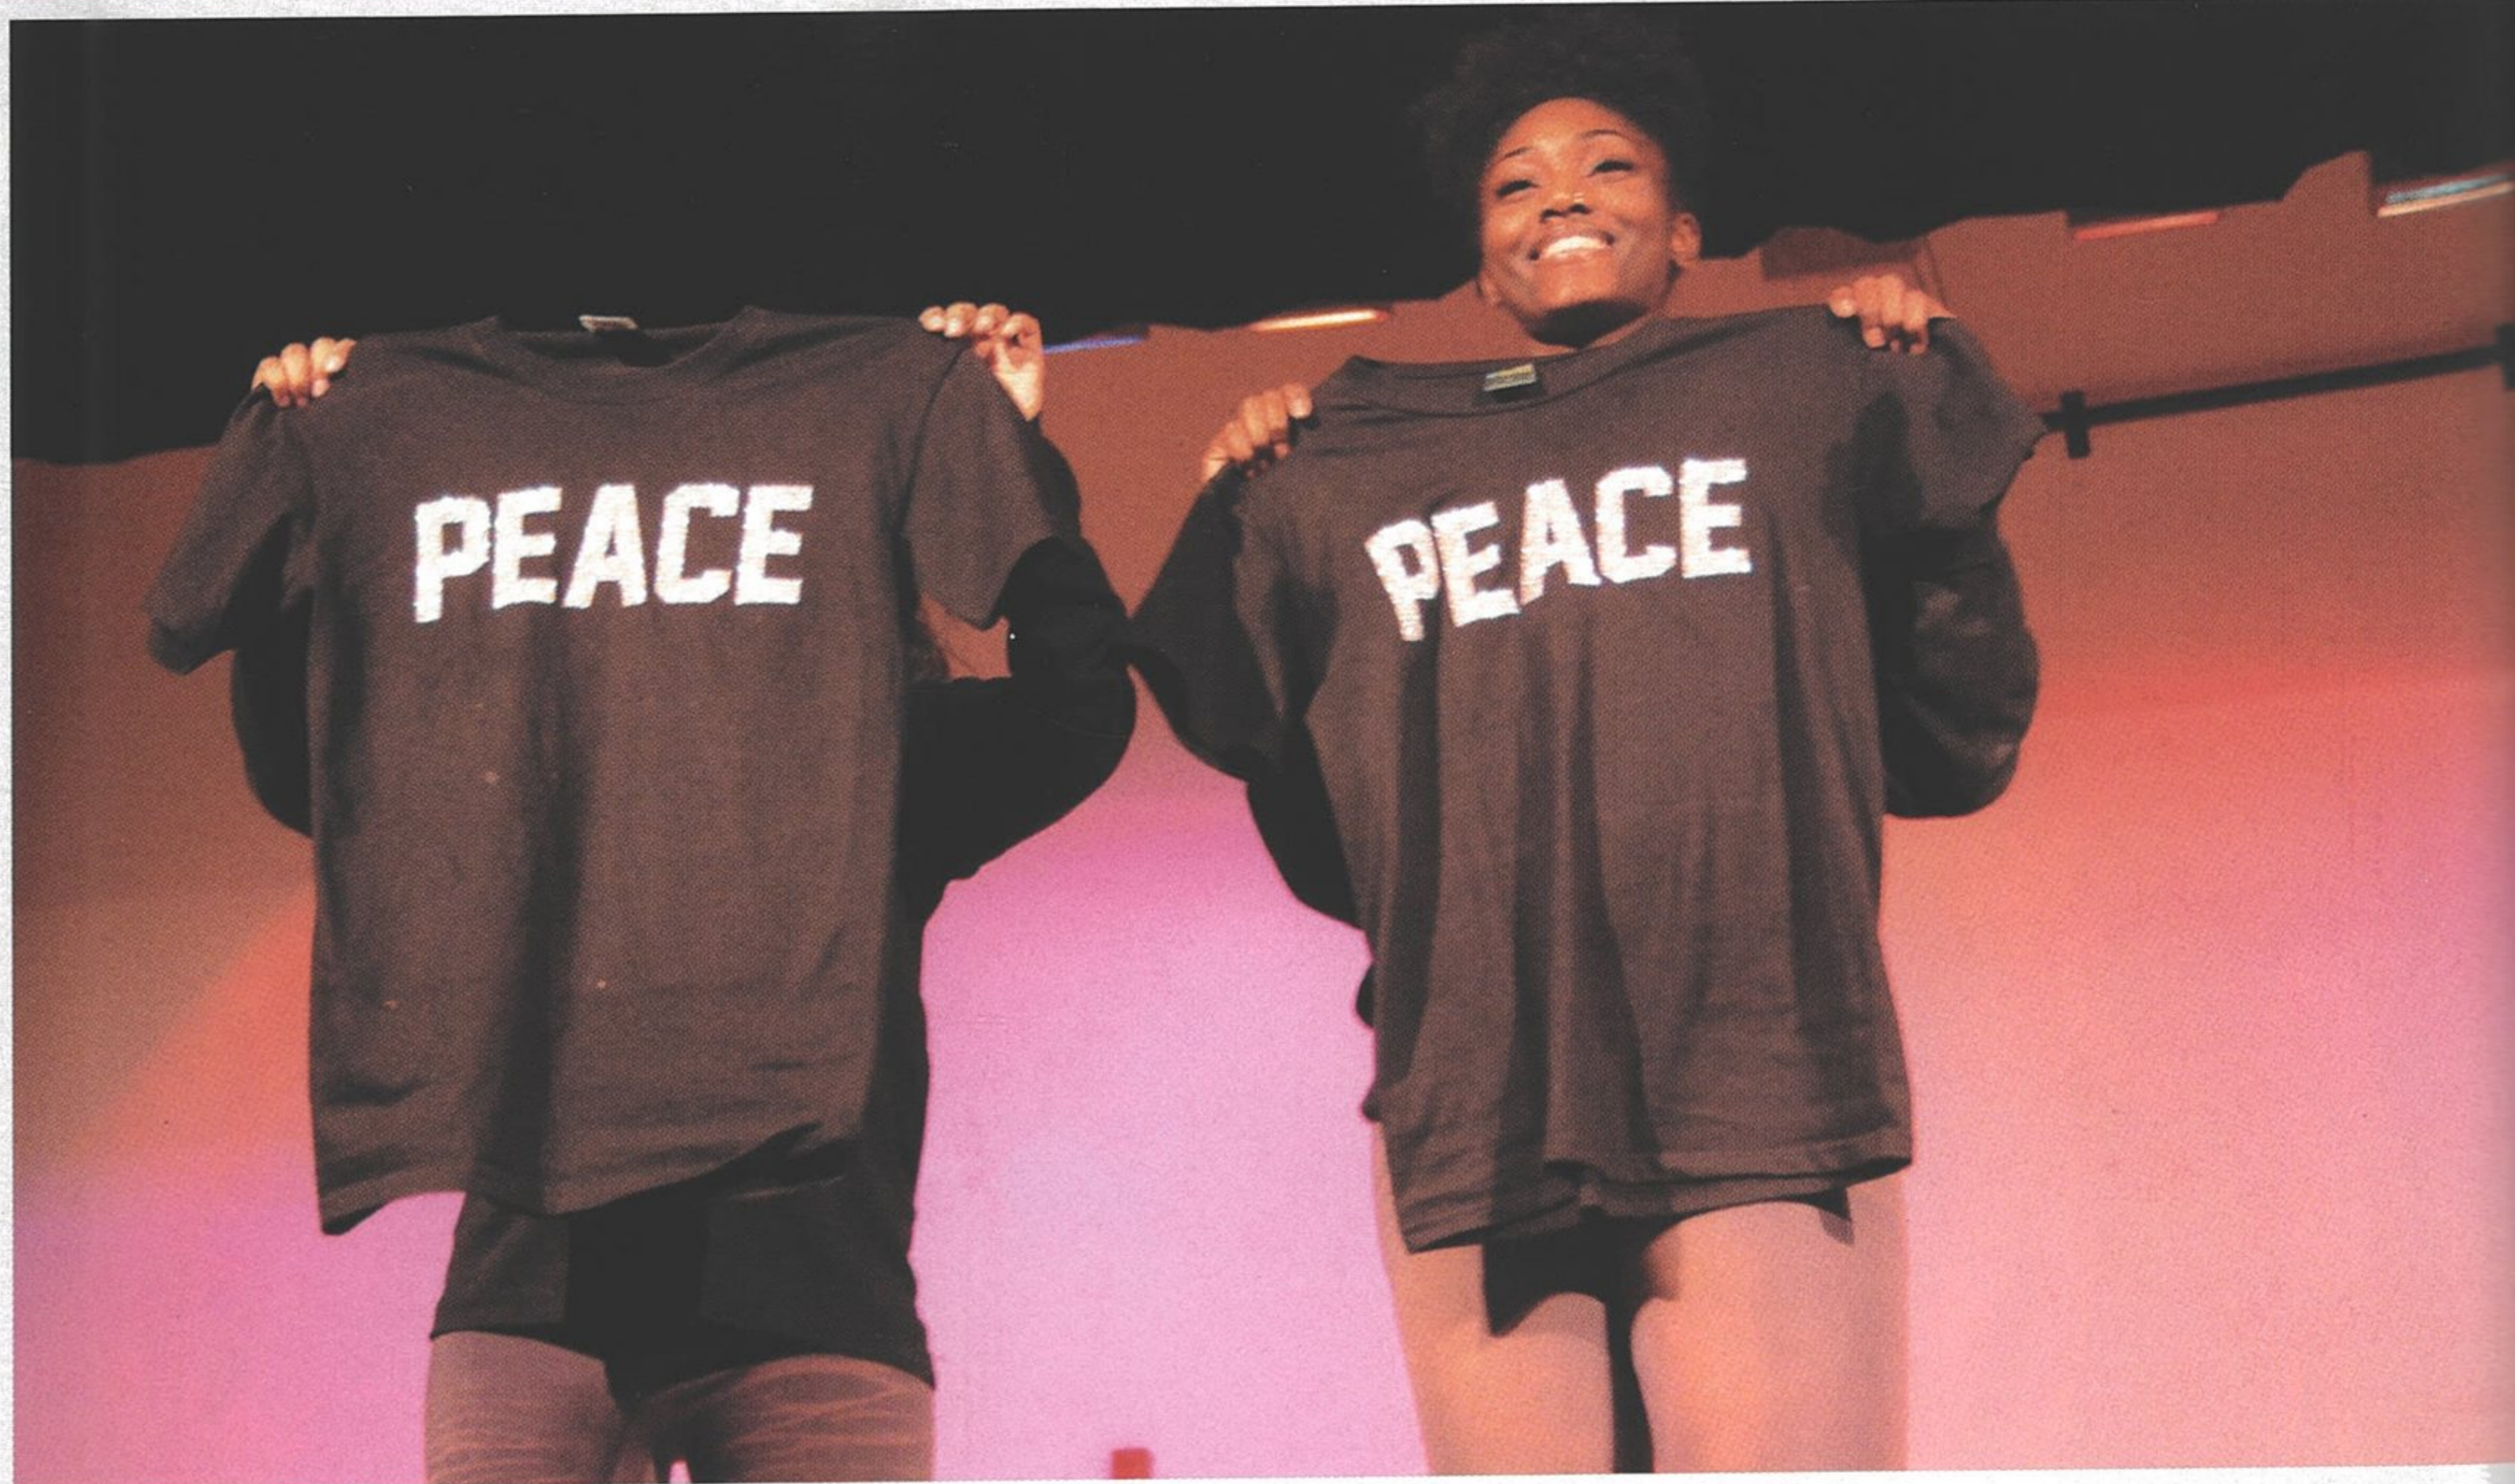

DAY OF PEACE

On December 22, 2016 Westview held a "Day of Peace". It was a day to remember and honour Caheem Montieth, as well as others we have lost. Caheem Montieth, also known to many others as "Clayshawn", was a former Westview Centennial student who was killed outside a home in the Jane Street and Shoreham Court area. The "Day of Peace" was a moment to bring the community together and prove that those we have lost will never be forgotten.

Ms. Cherilyn Scobie, Principal of Westview had some very moving words about the day. "I think it was a very strong tribute to somebody that we have lost. I think it was a great opportunity for students and staff to come together and heal; and I think the most impactful part of the day was having Caheem's family in attendance. It was a powerful day and I'm very glad that we took the initiative to make that happen at Westview."

A wonderful performance by Mr. Saltzberg's drama class

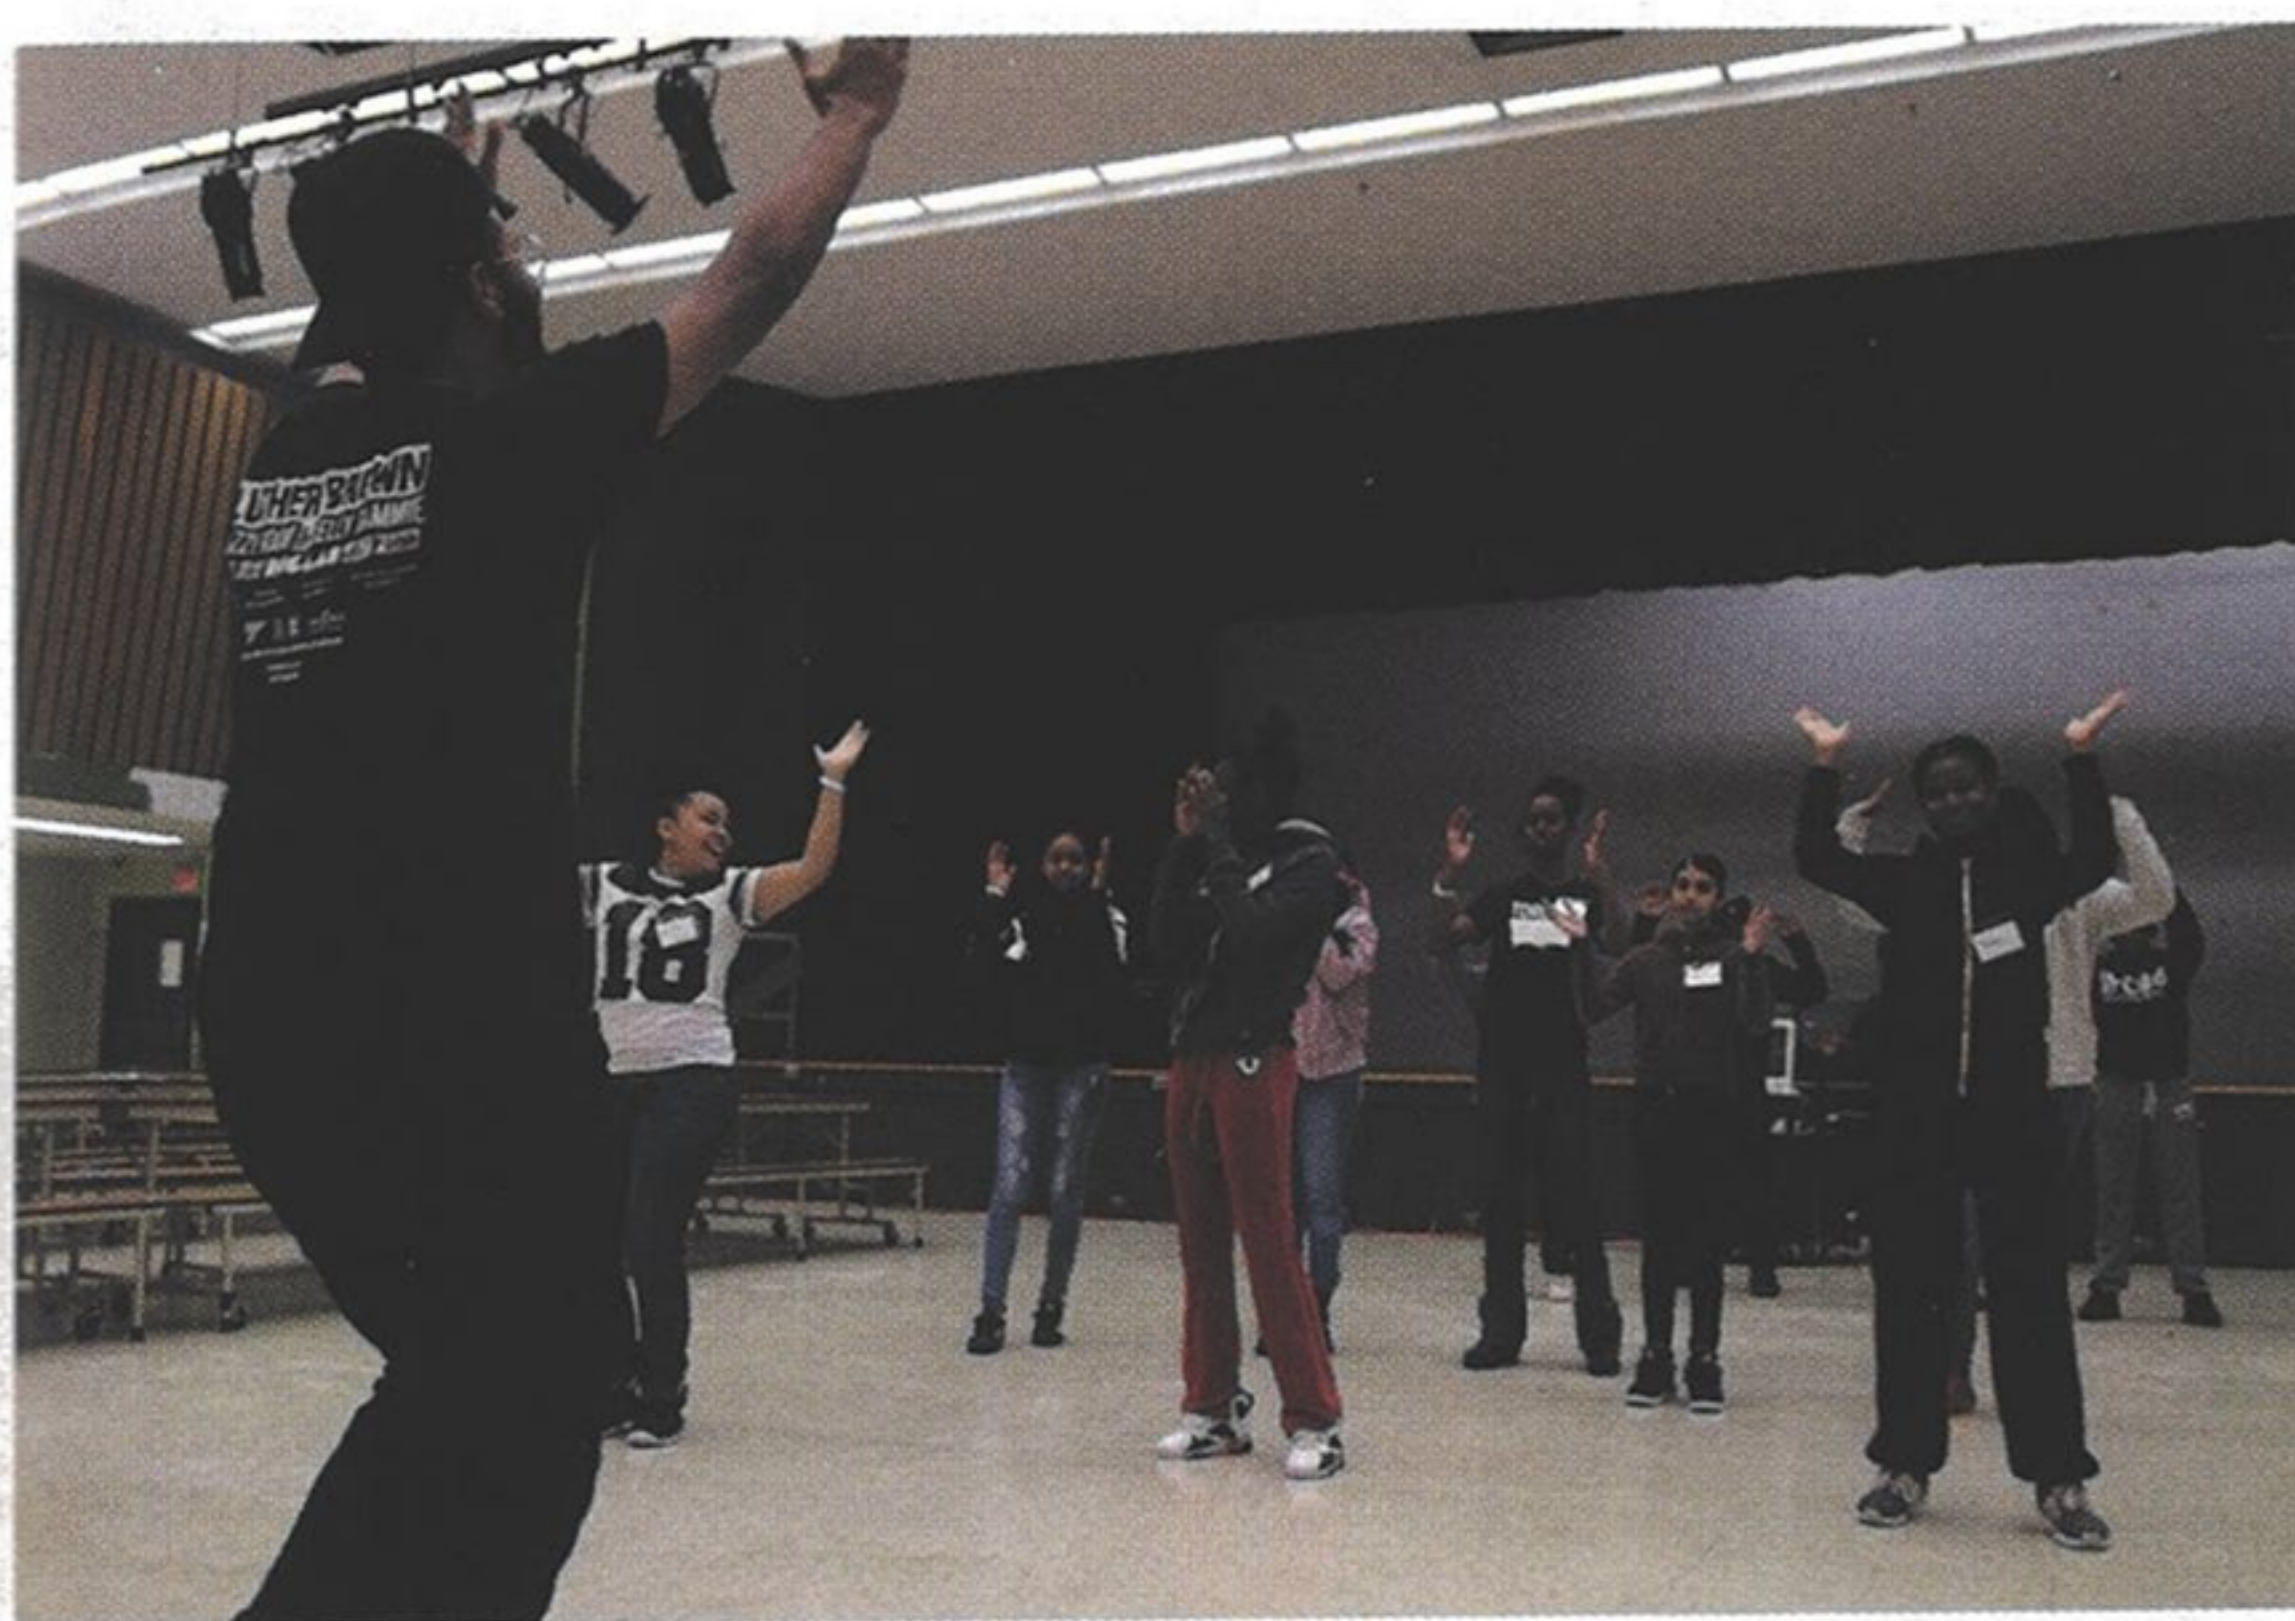

Terence Penny: Rap Performer

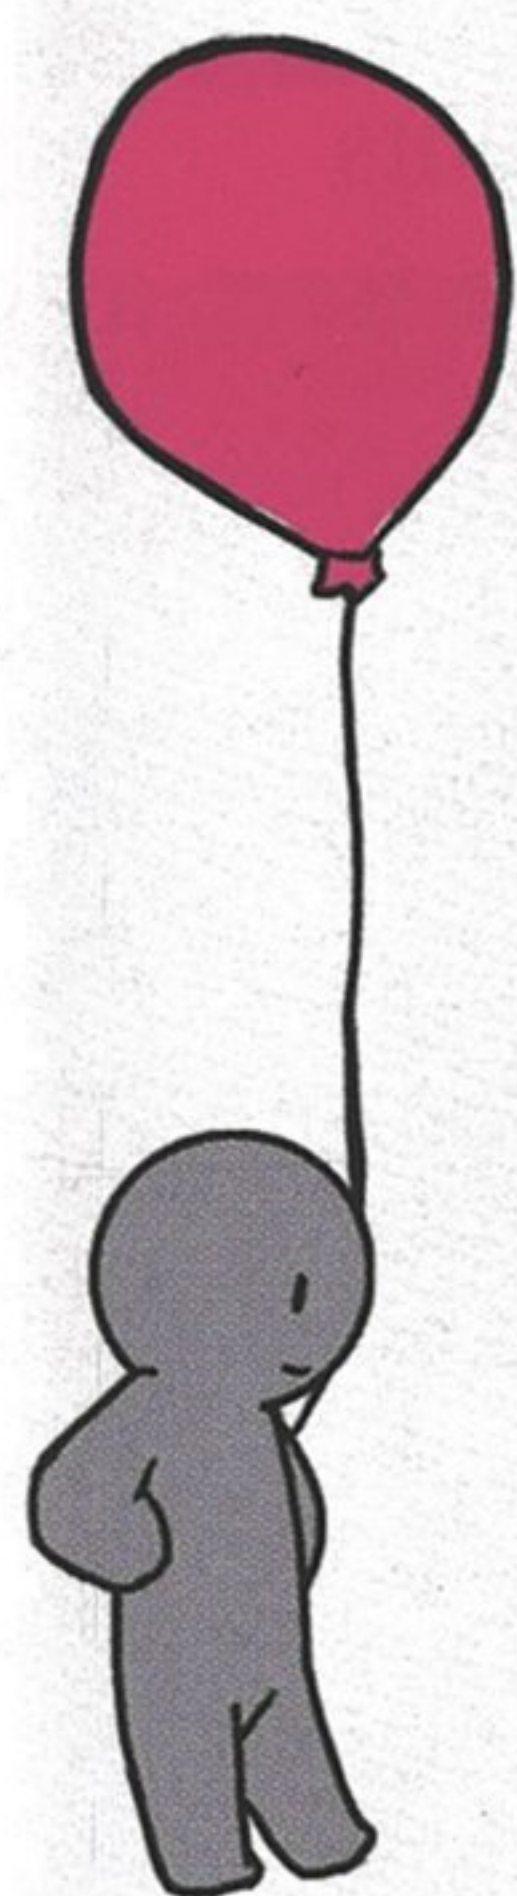

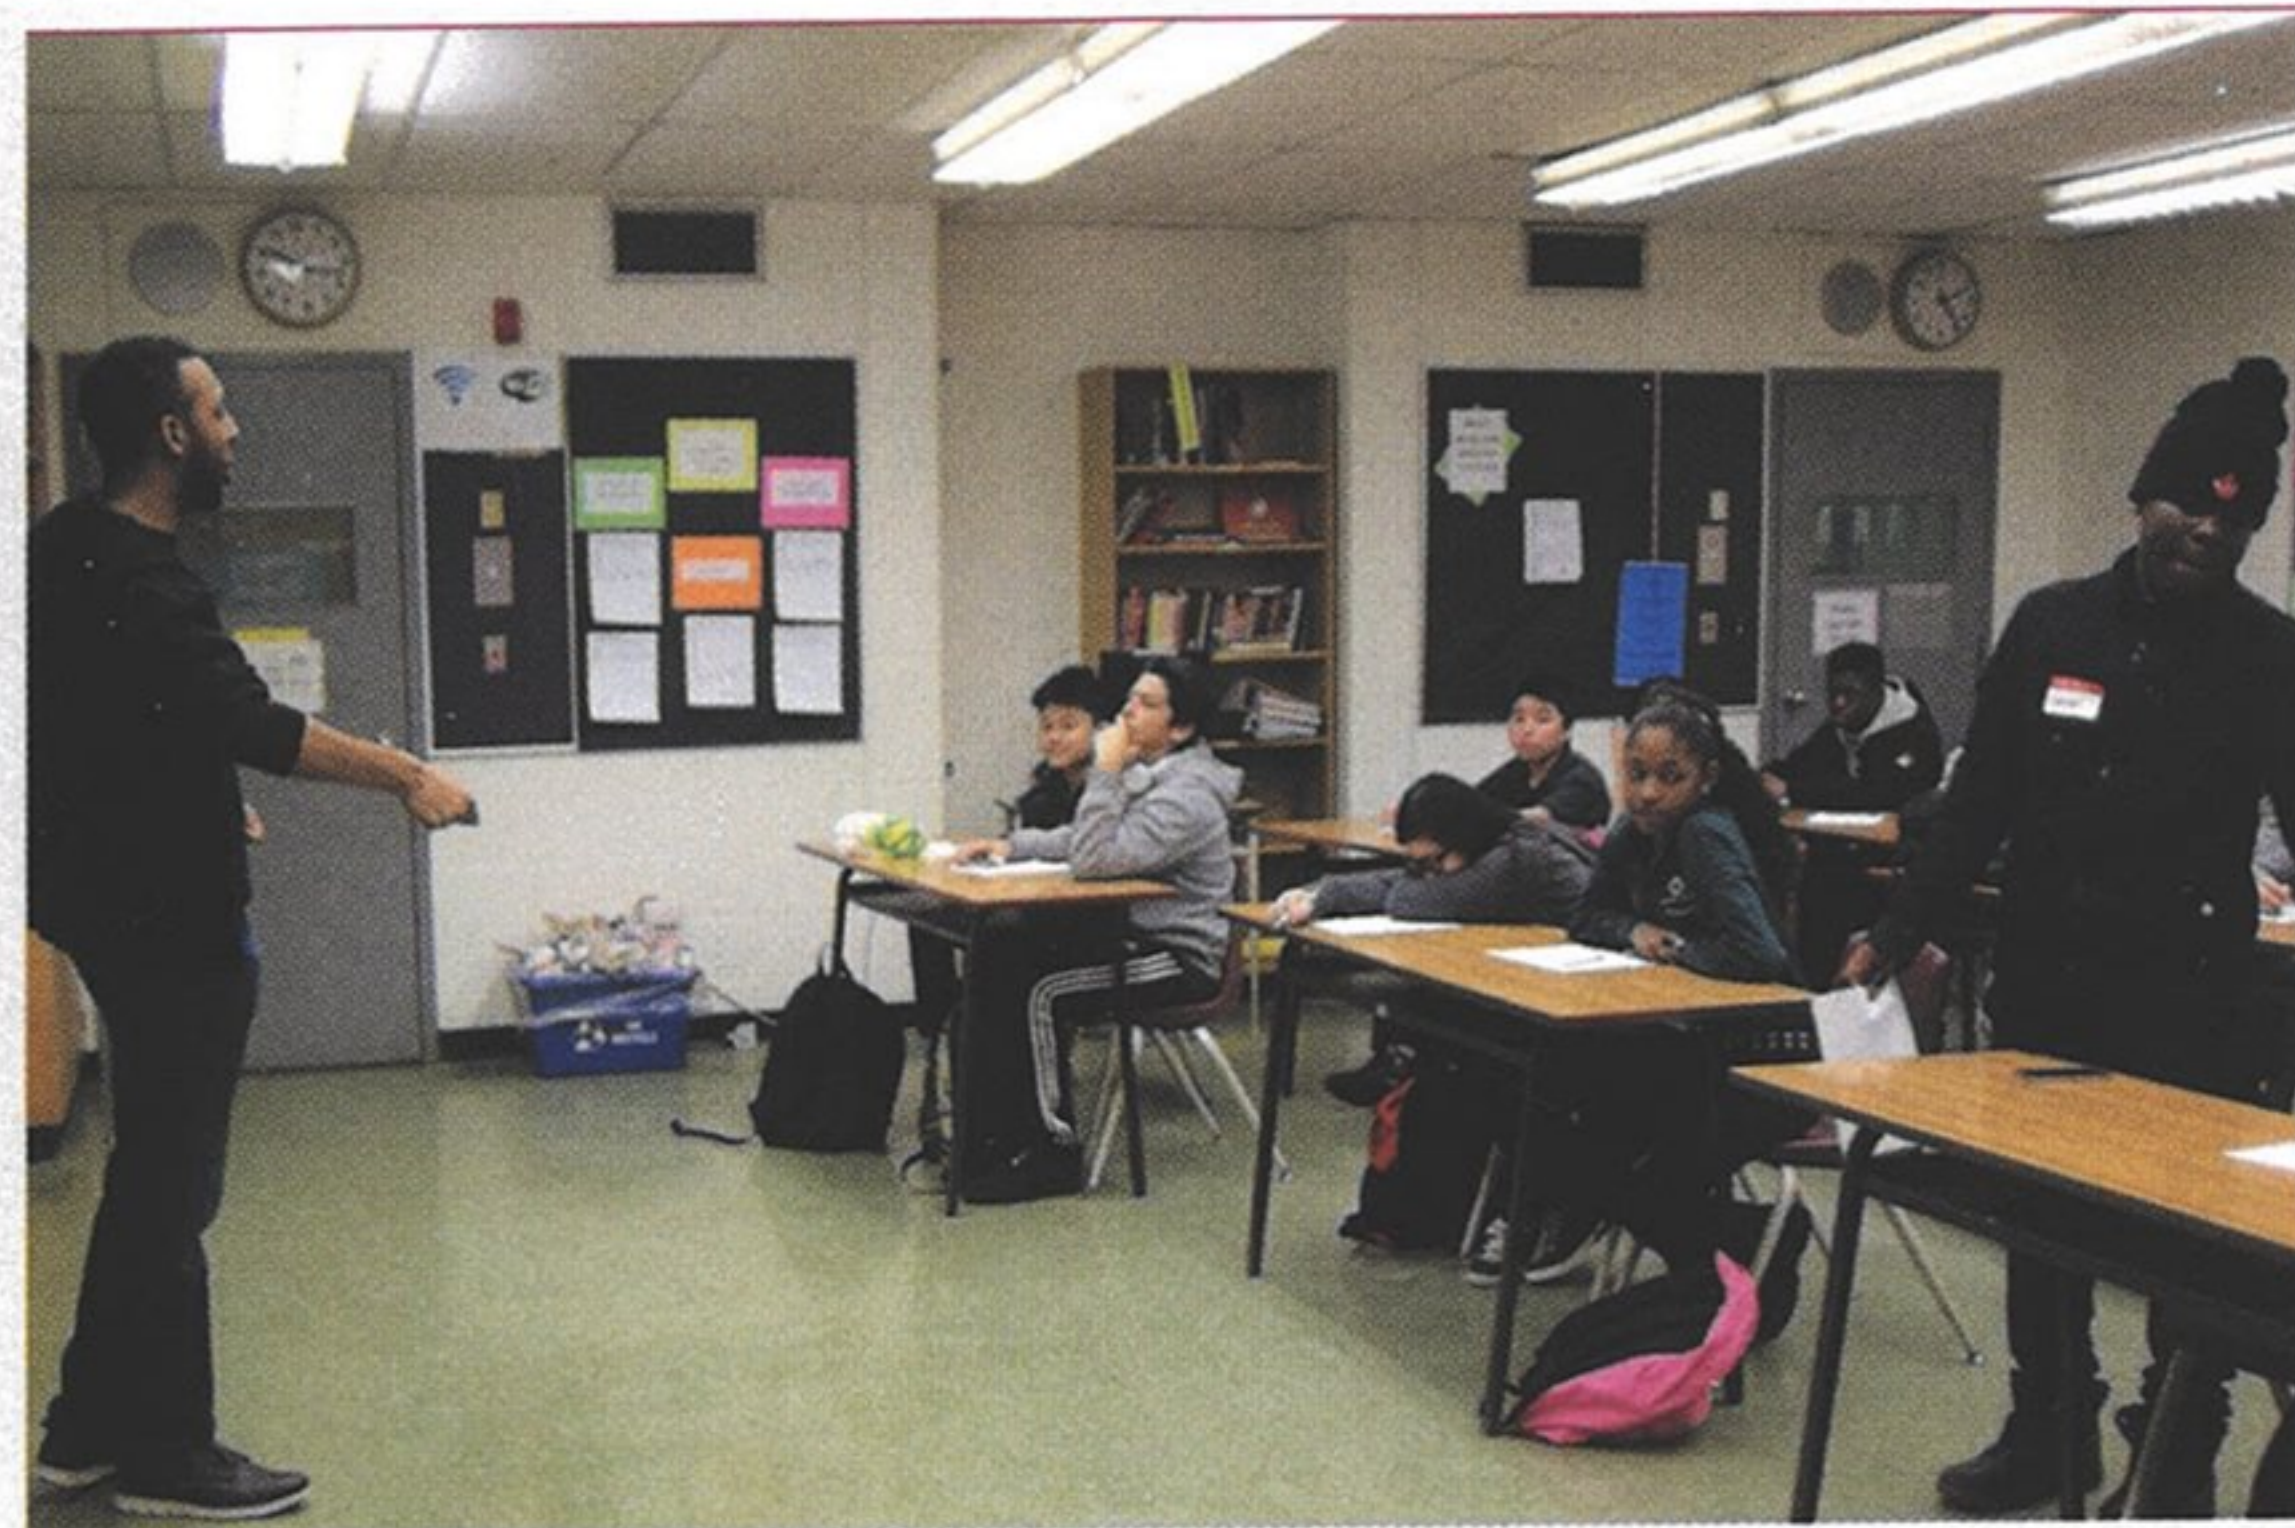

Denise Dekon: Rap/Dance Performer

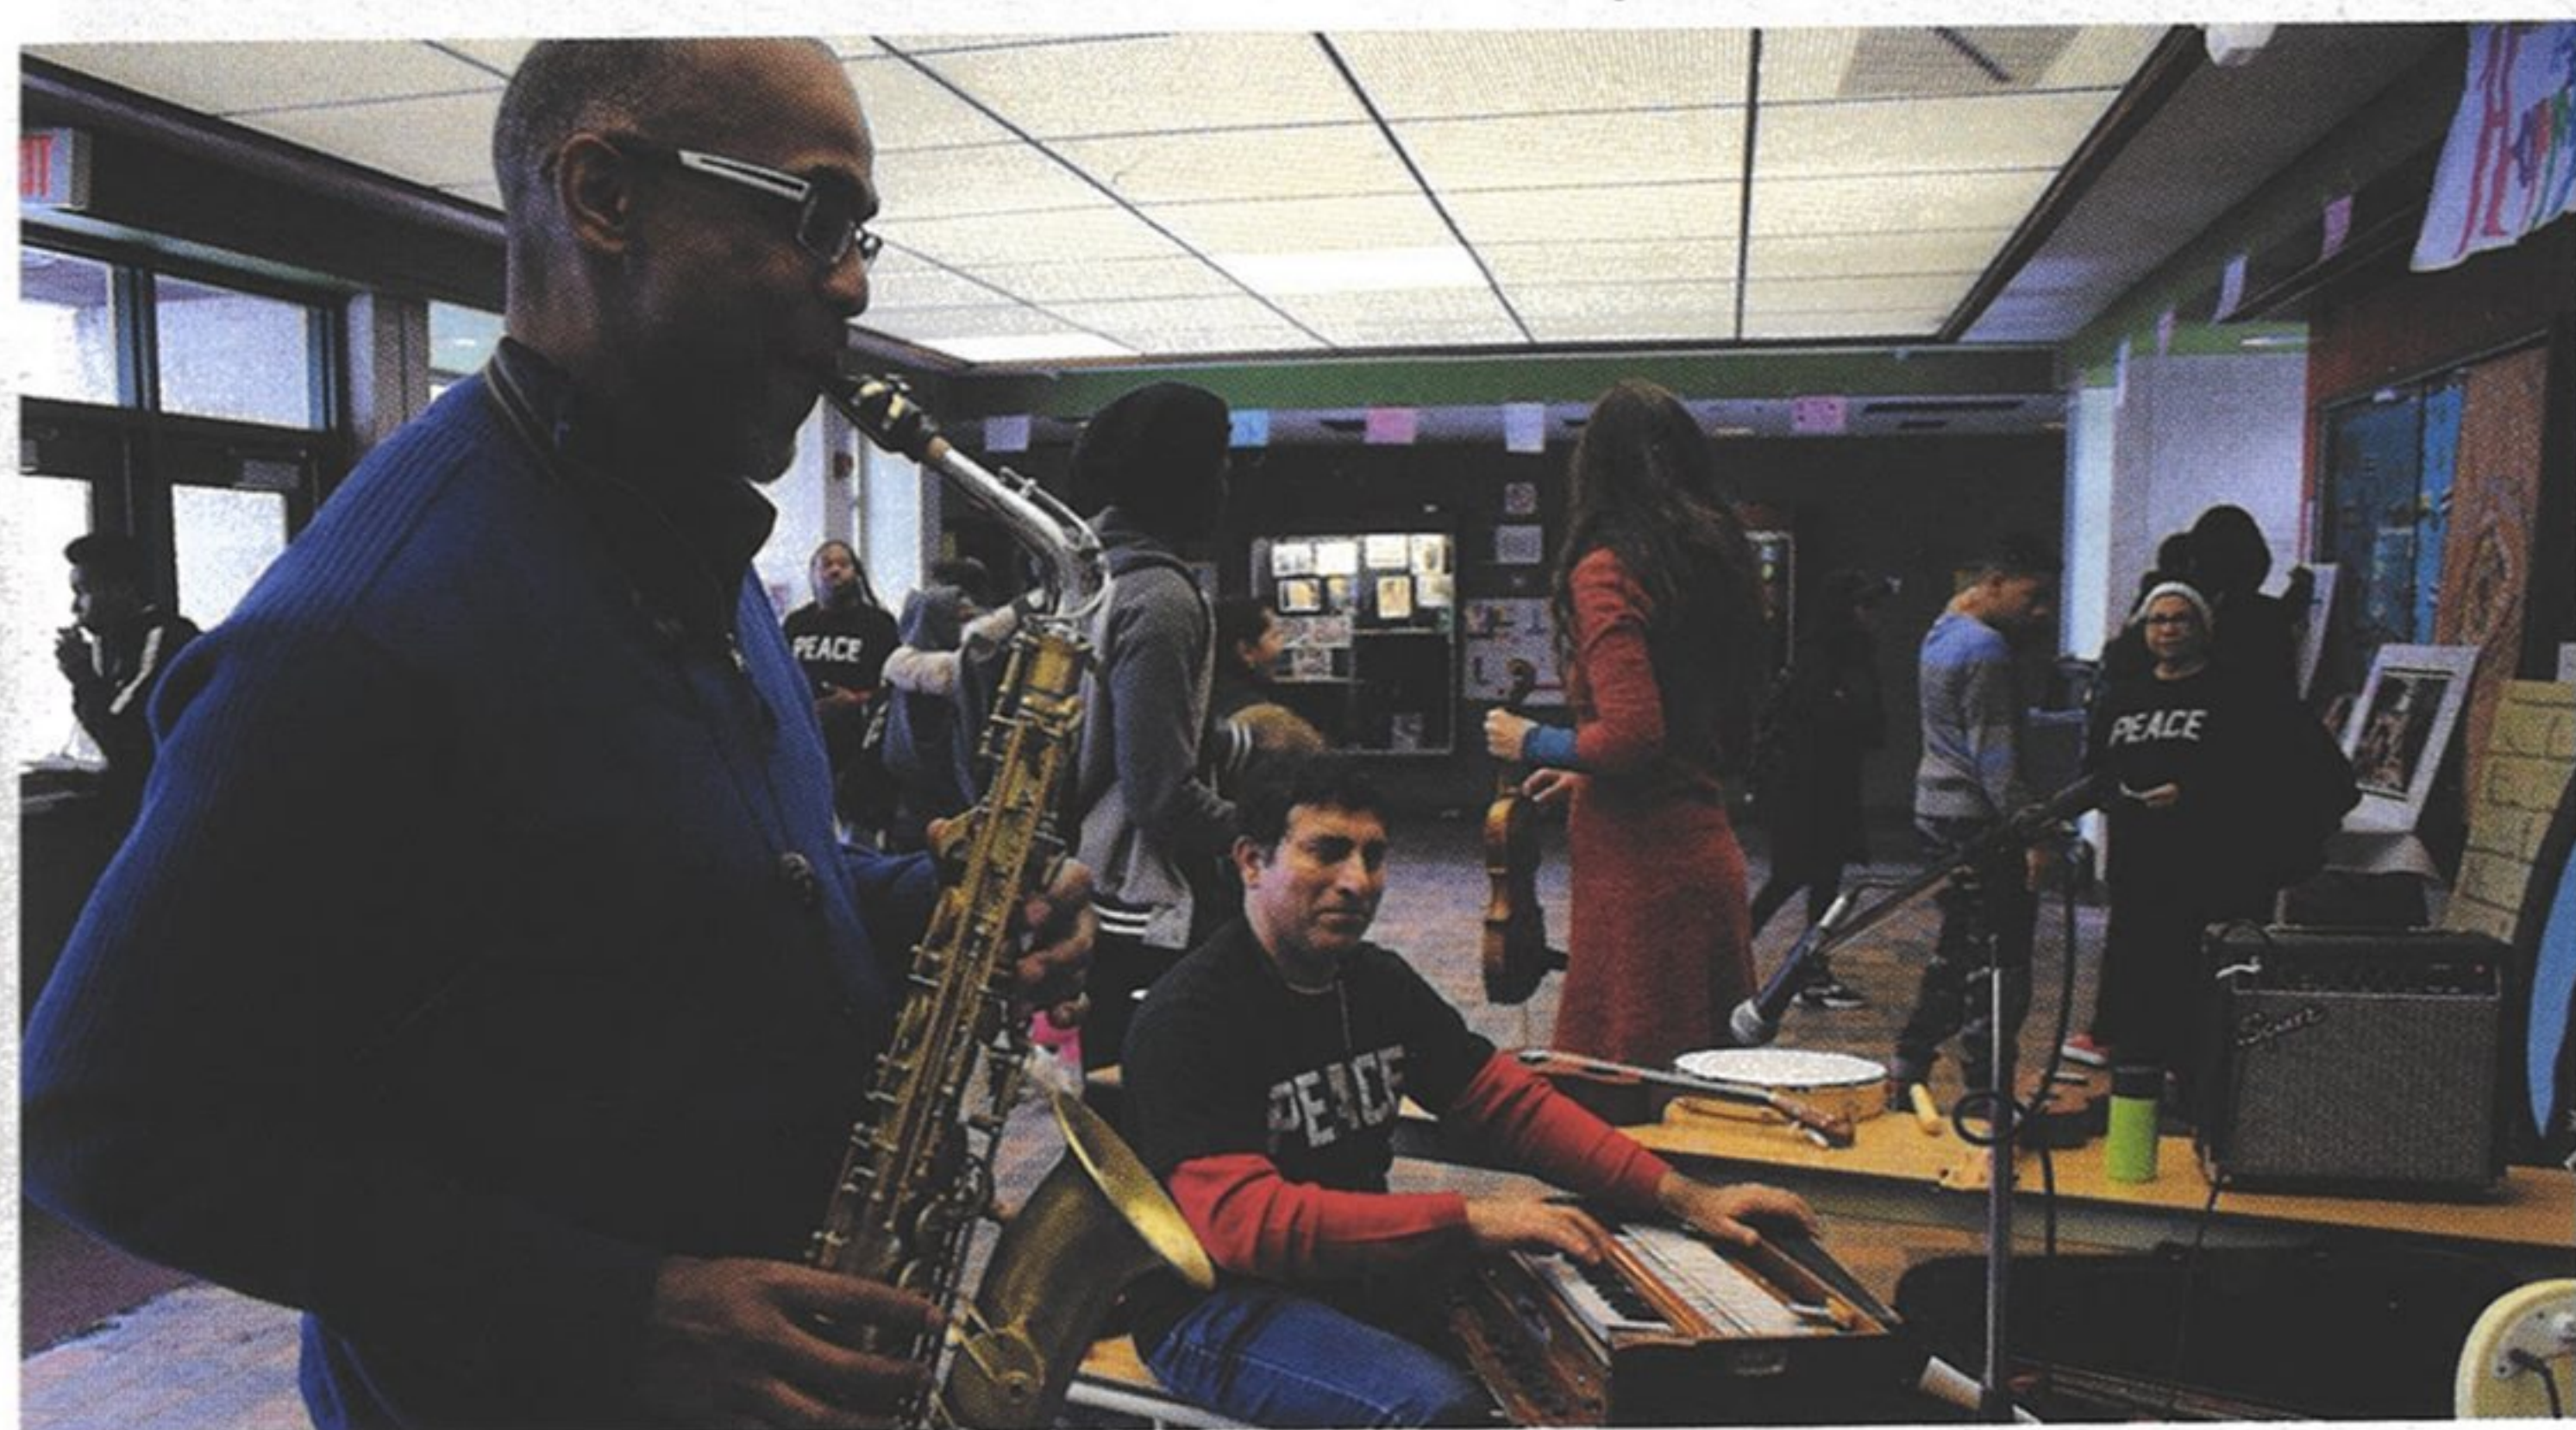

Caheem's mother, Carlotta Monteith performs a tribute dance for her son

Although the Day of Peace was a day of remembering, it was also a day of recreation and joy. For the first half of the day, students were introduced to 33 different workshops. Topics included calmness & meditation, art therapy, and even a dance workshop.

After an extensive morning of fun and exciting workshops, Westview came together to serve a fantastic turkey lunch. The lines may have been long, but going back for seconds was definitely worth it.

The Day of Peace was an event that will always be remembered through the coming years. CBC News interviews the family of Caheem Montieth

African Heritage Assembly

CHANGE THROUGH RESISTANCE

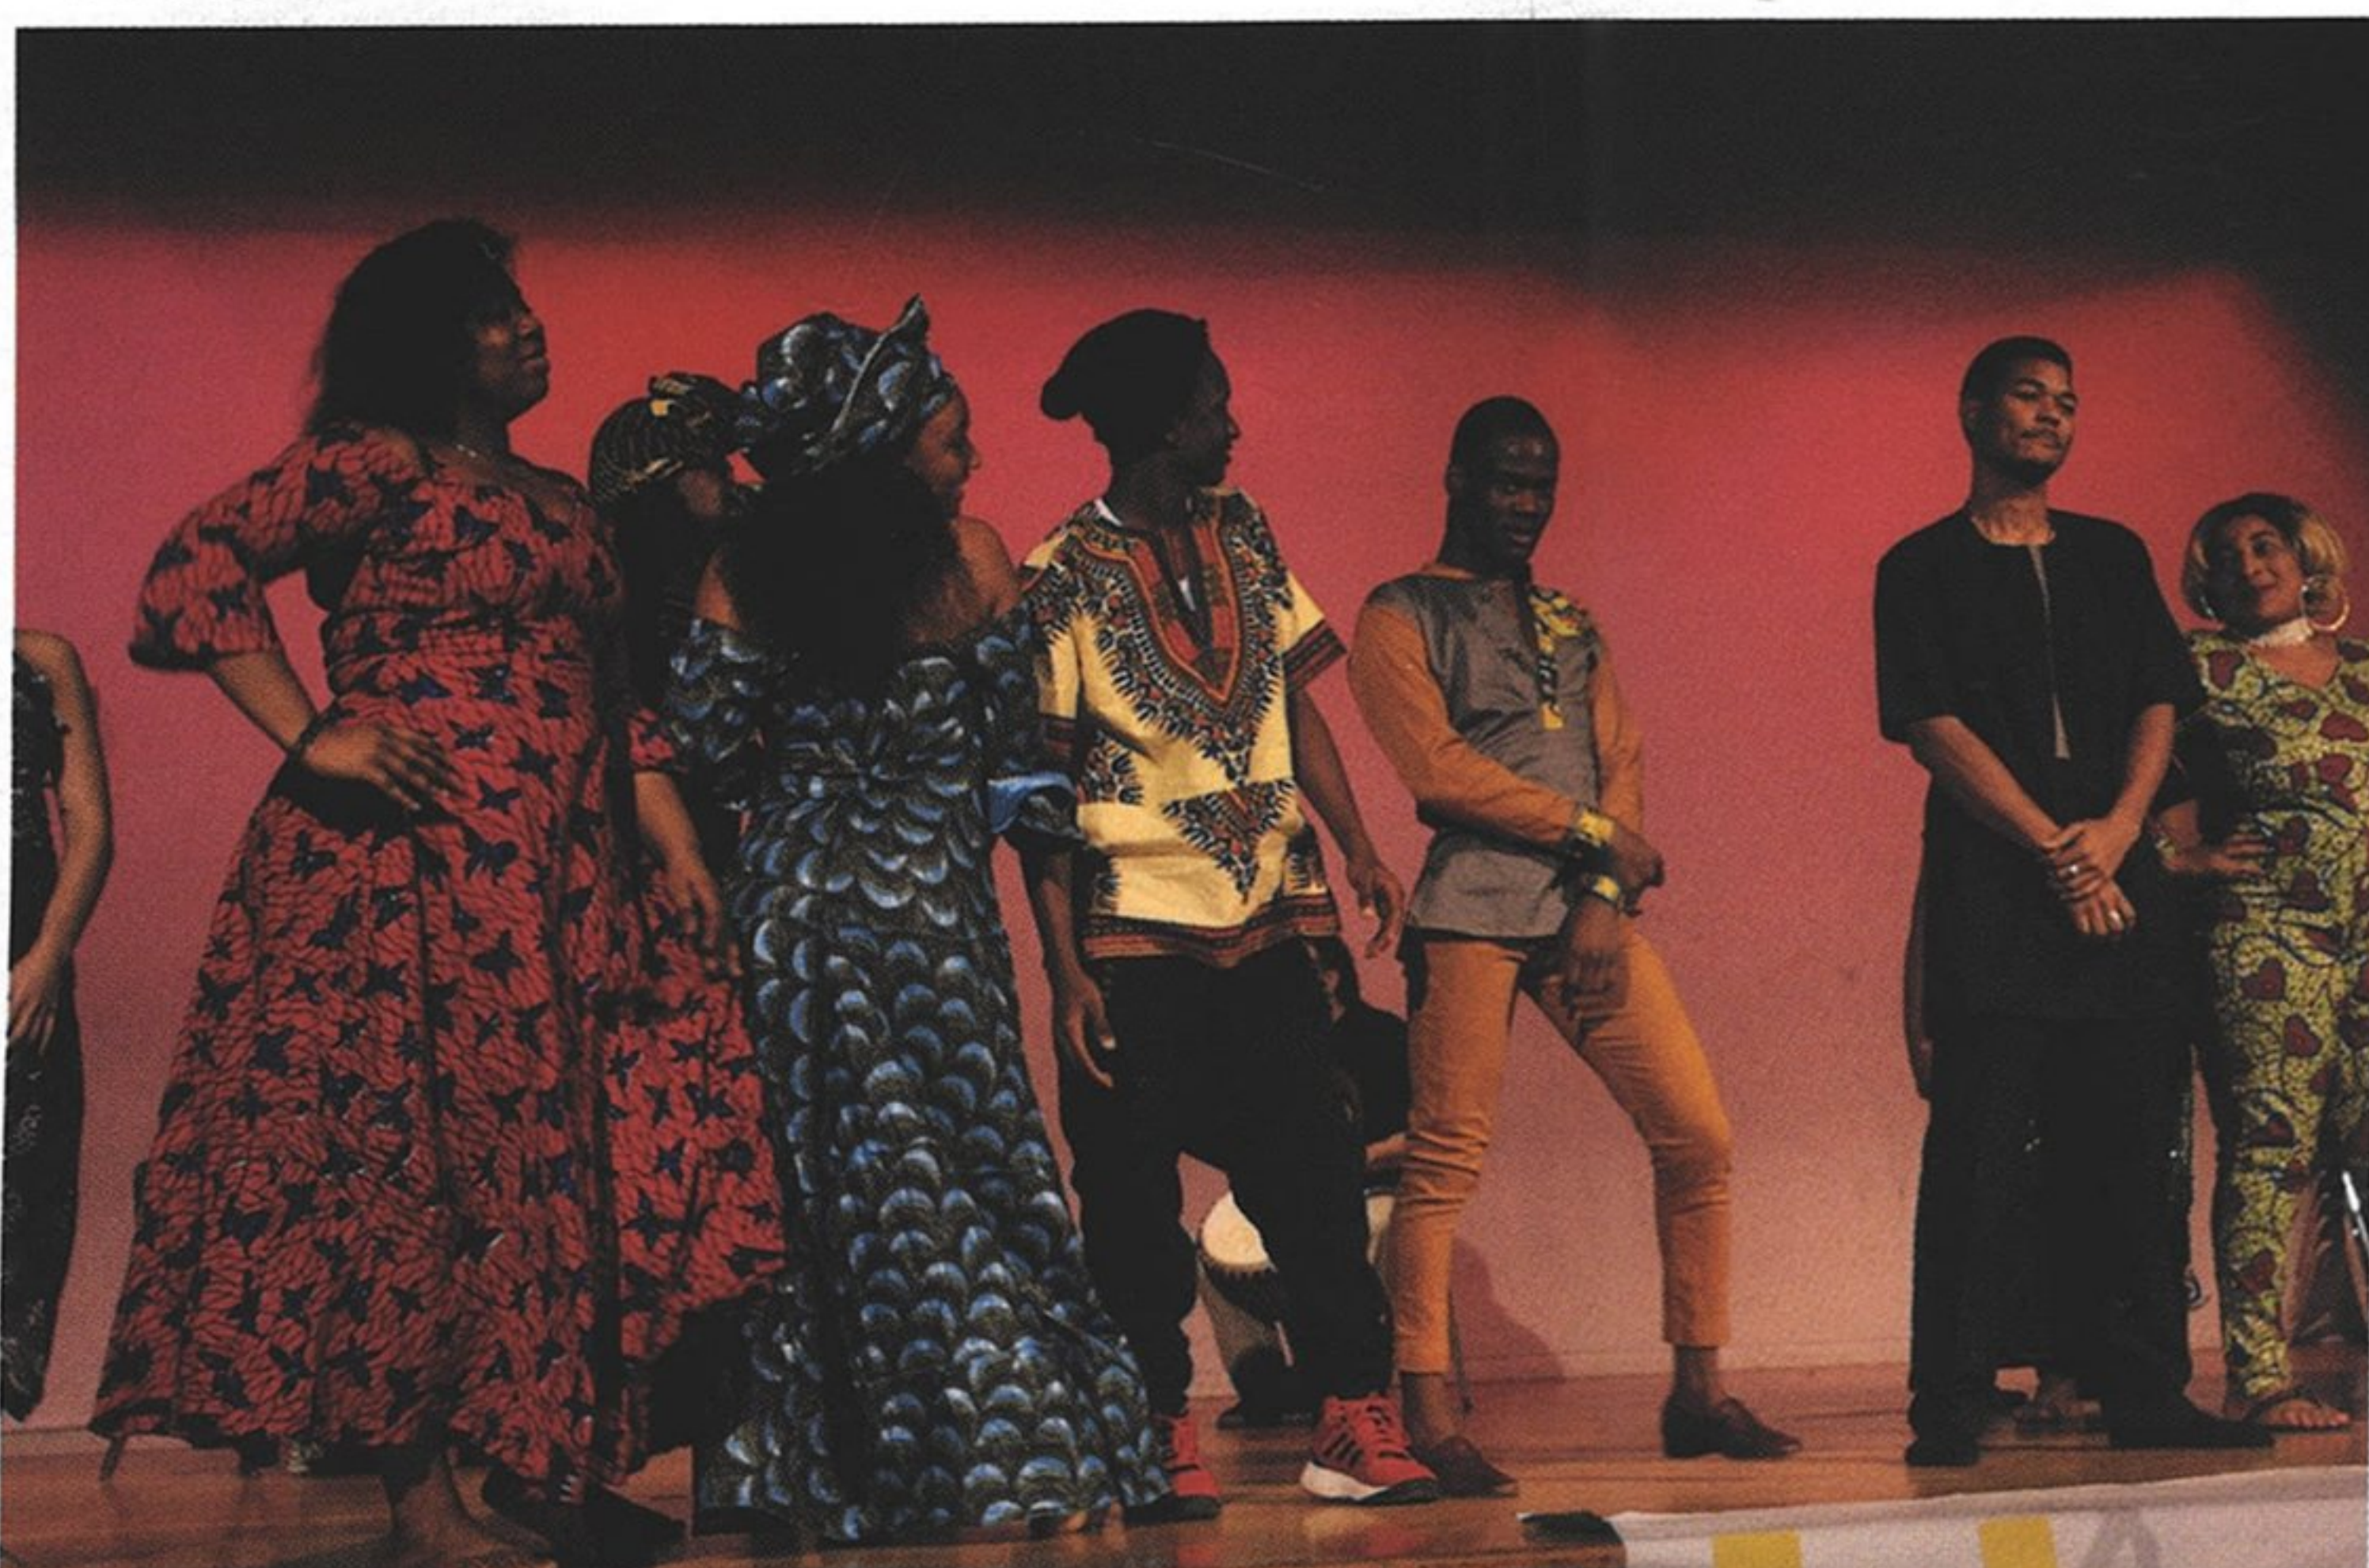

Change Through Resistance was the theme of this year's African Heritage Assembly. During this assembly the students witnessed spectacular dance performances and rhythmic musical selections. Students also got a surprise performance from a few unexpected faces.

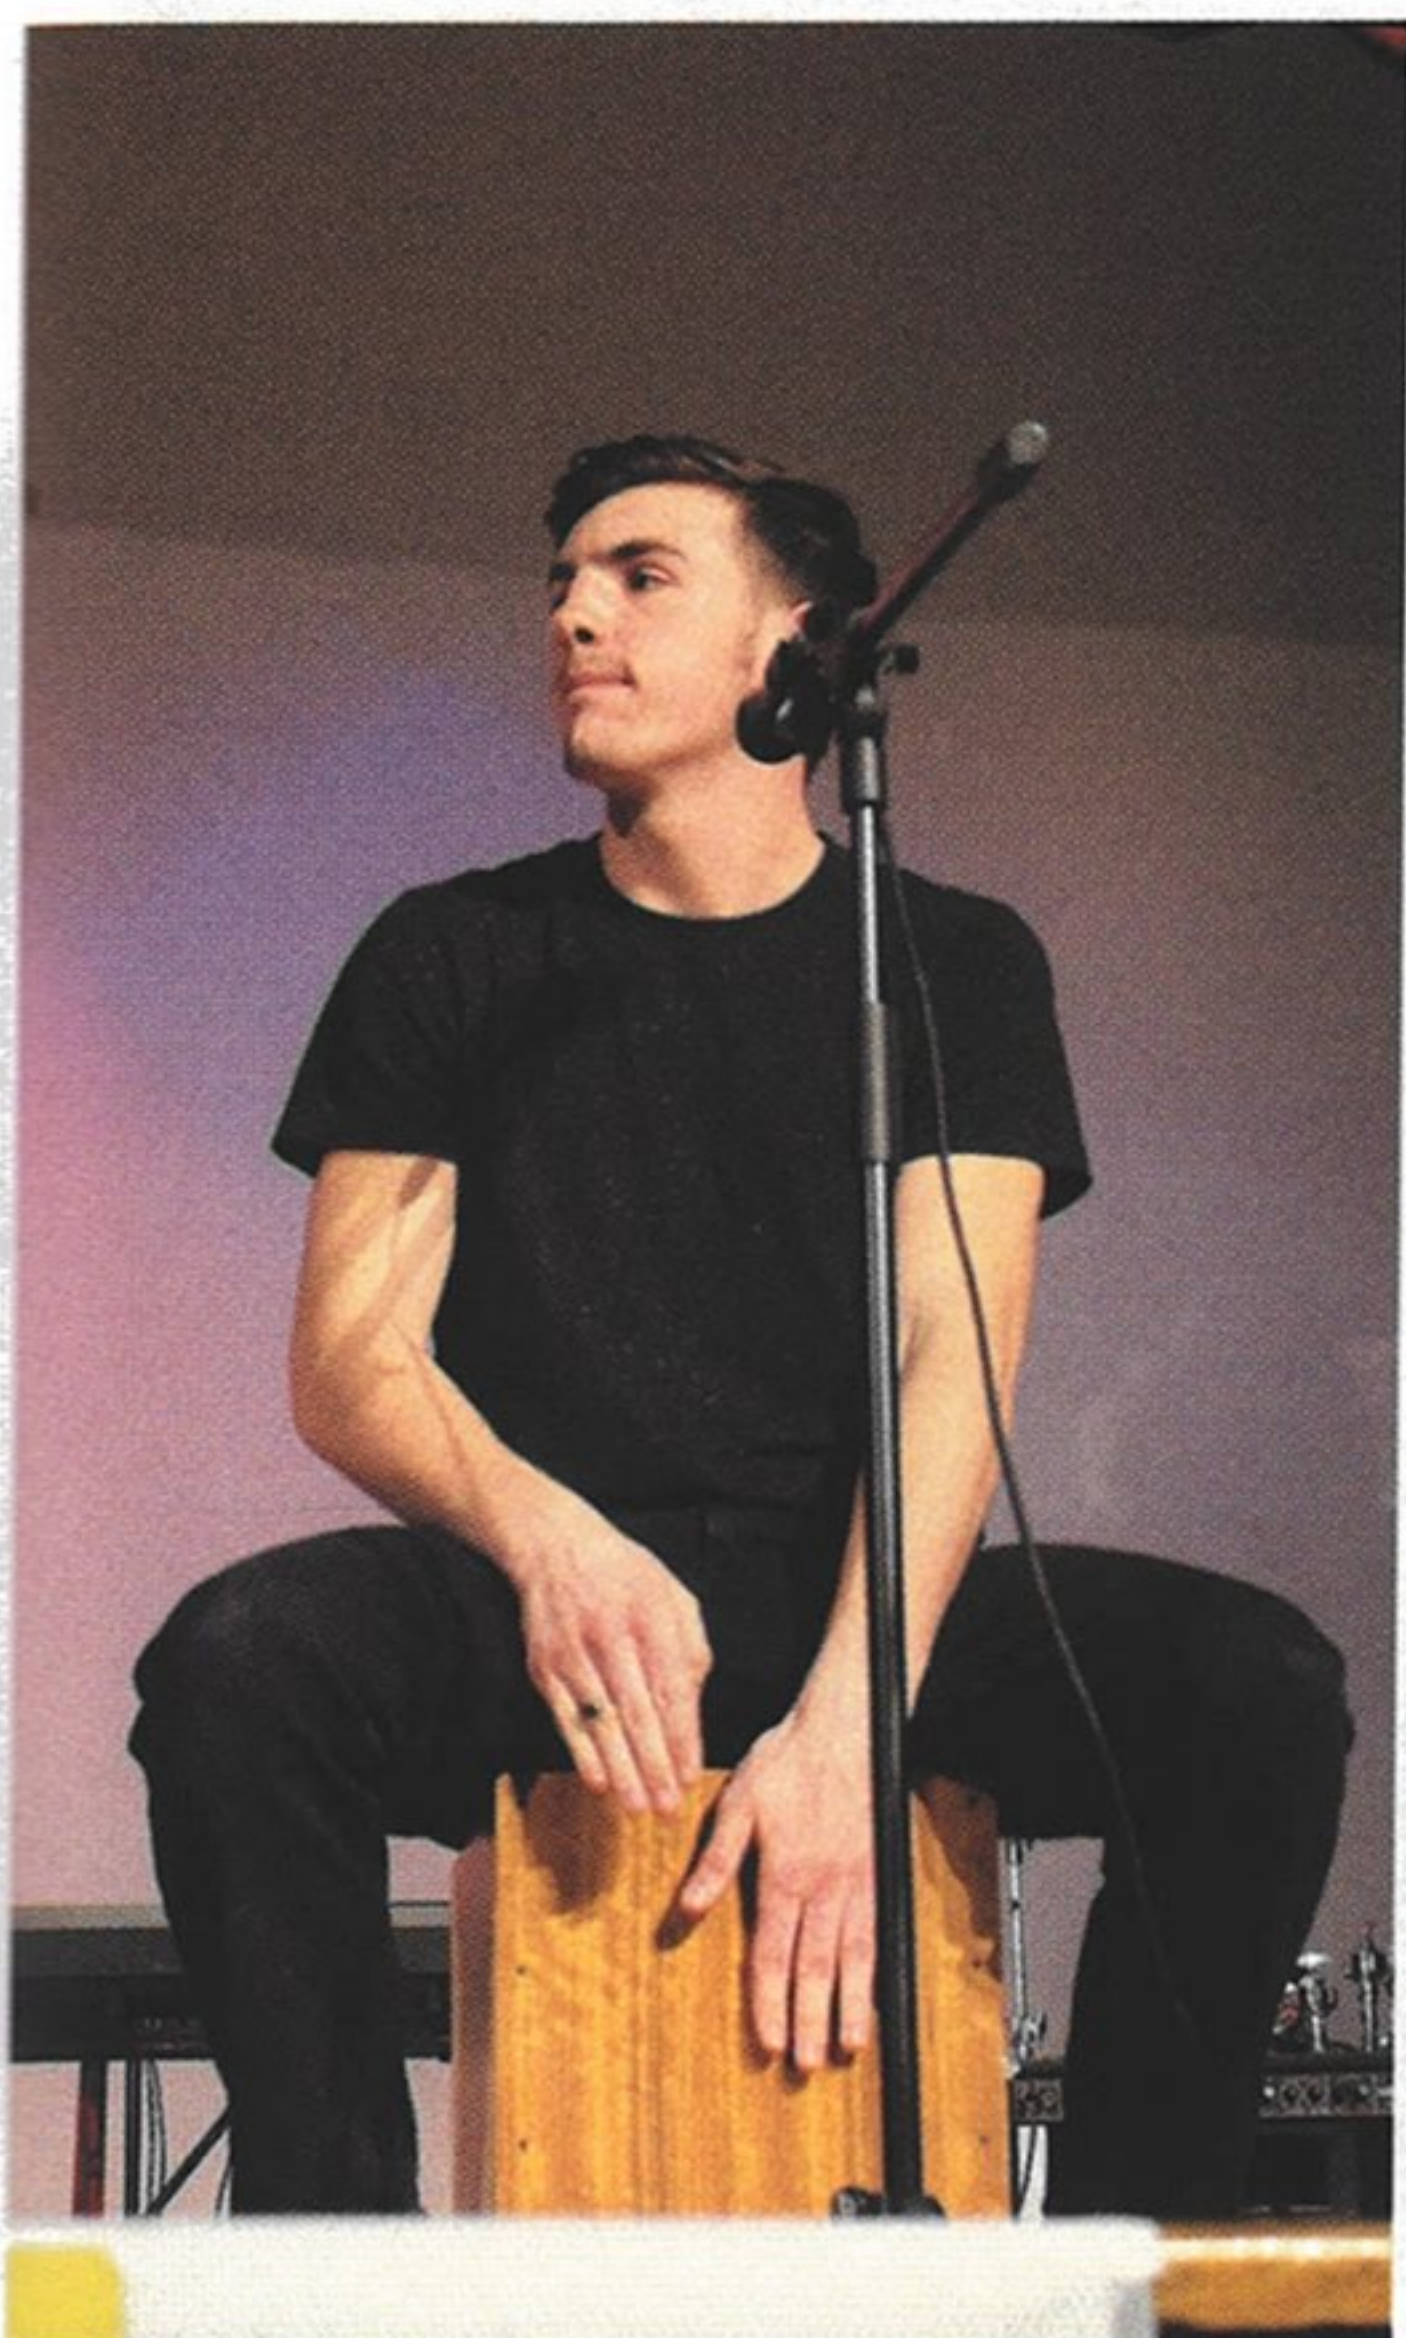

Above: Jumoke Jimoh, Davika Barry, Kwaku Nyanor, Brittney Brizan, and Daisphia Francis

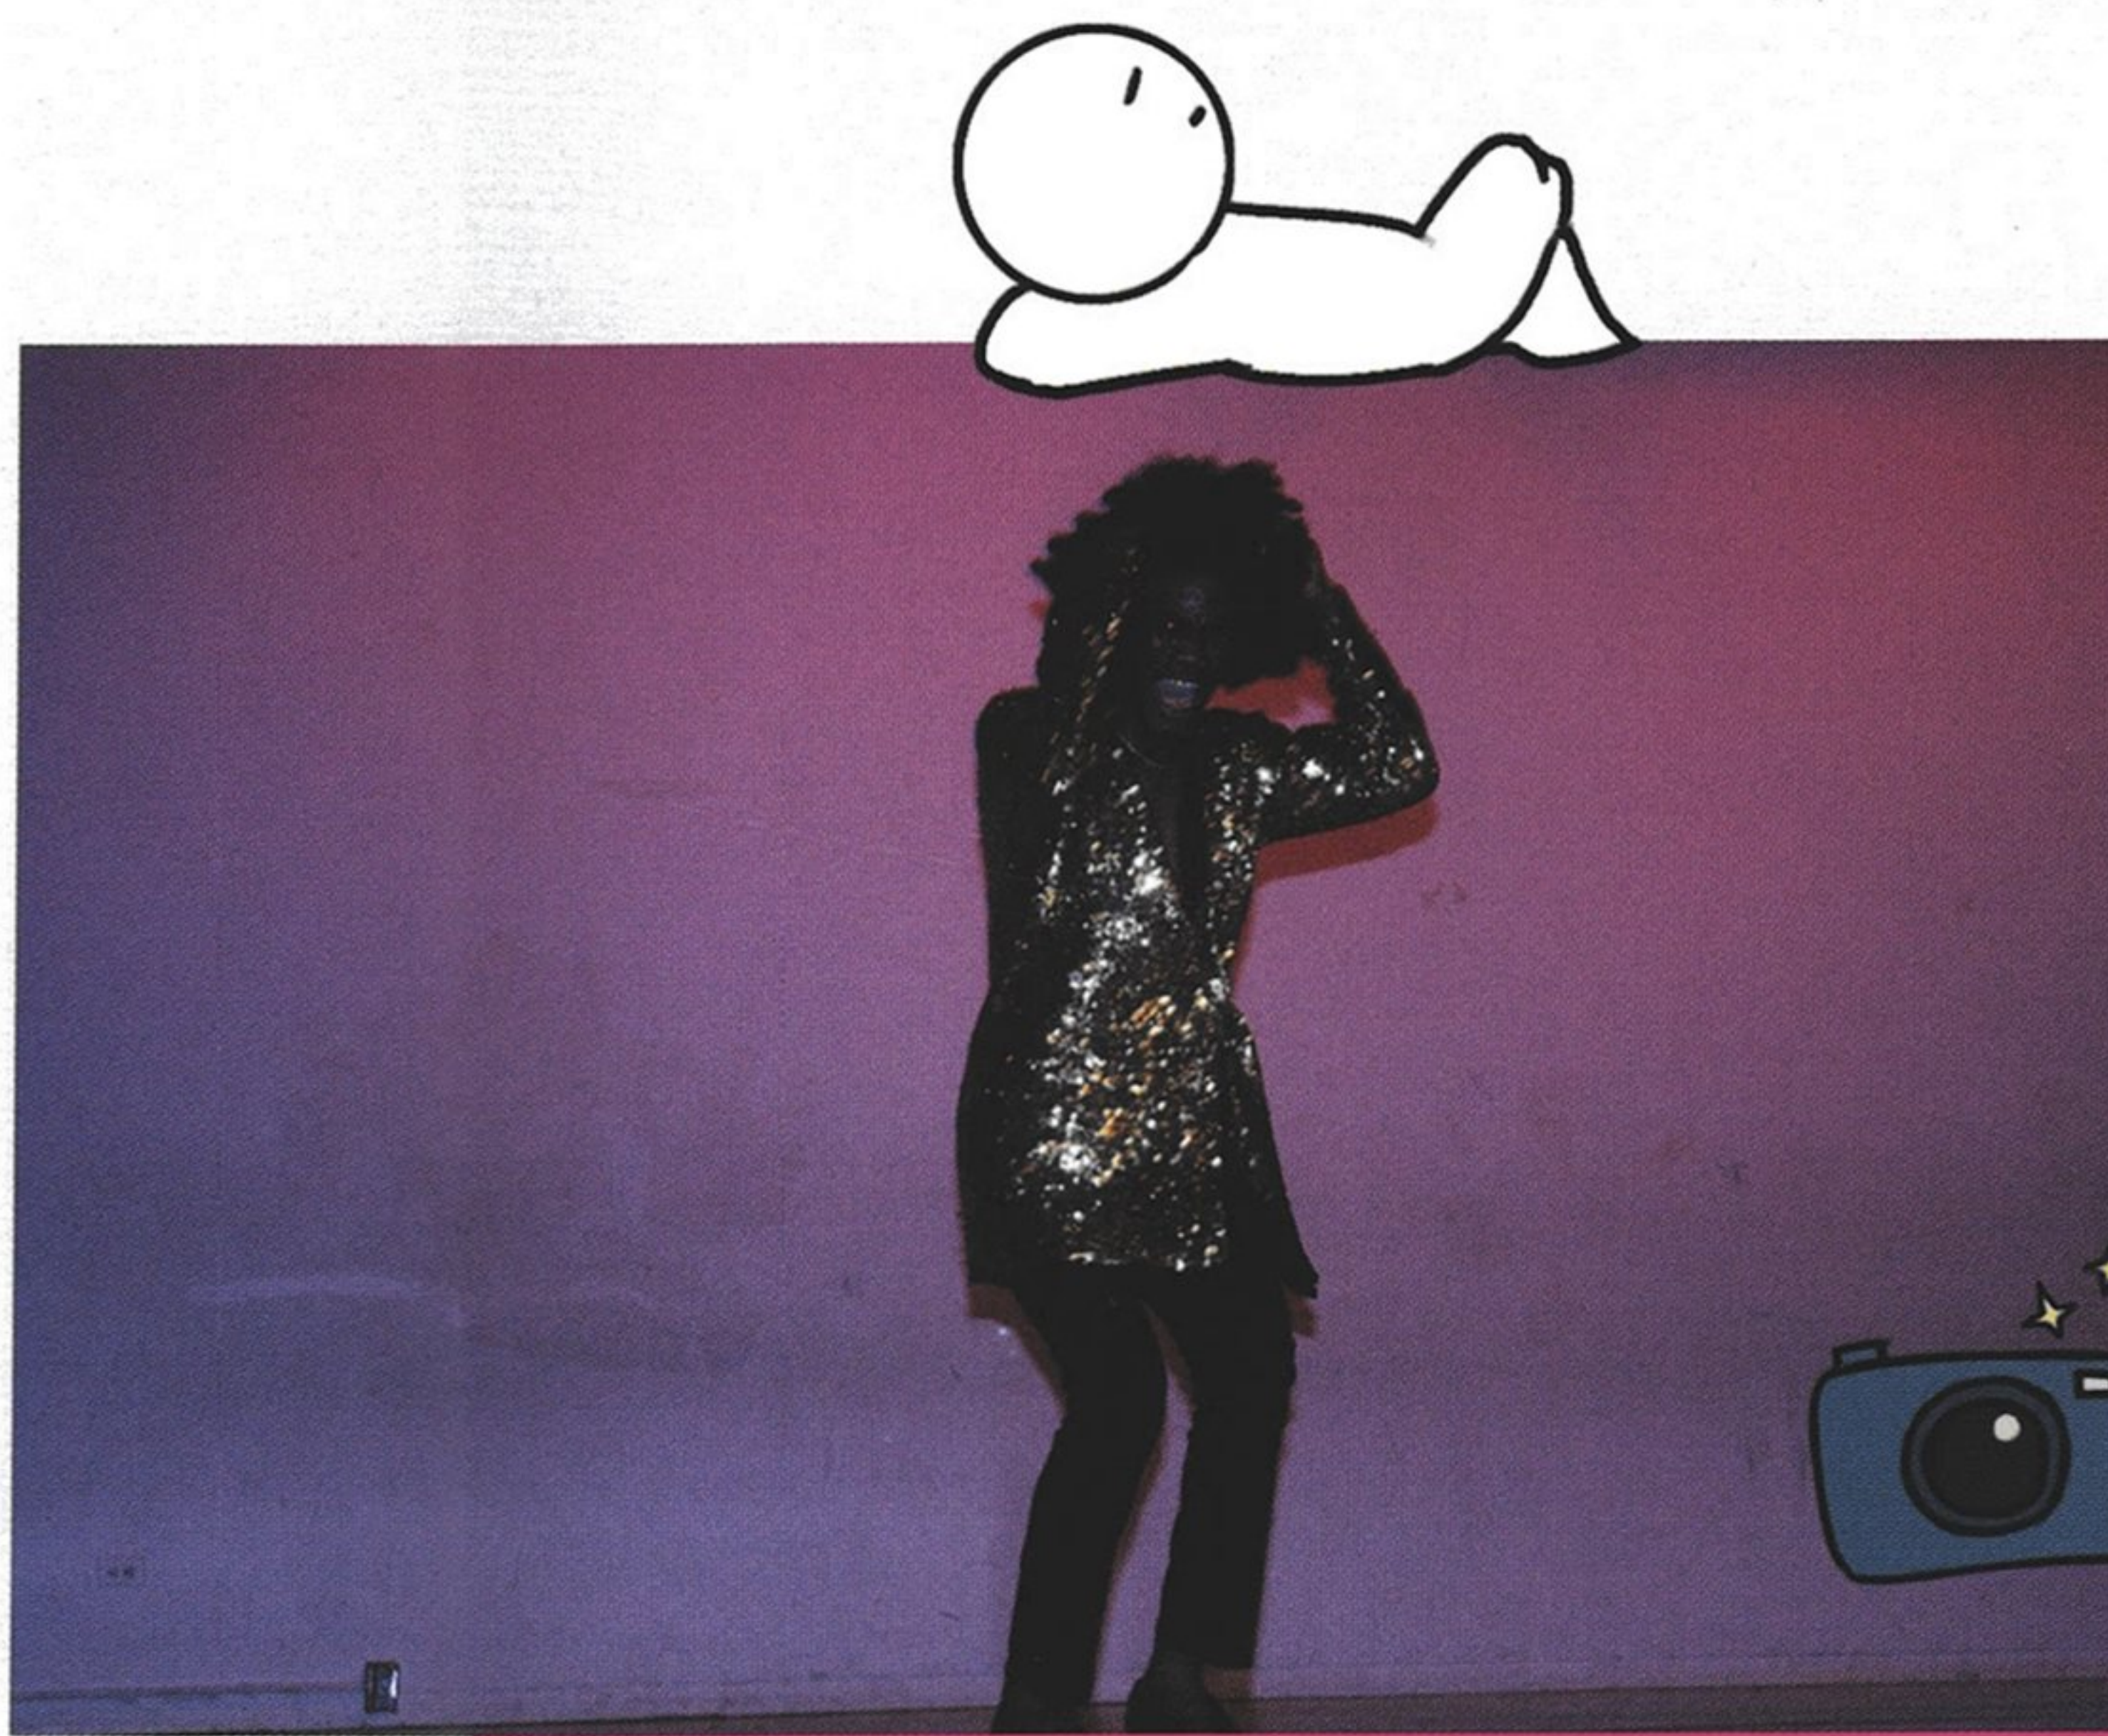

Mr. Gaskin reminds us of his great musical talent.

One thing that made this African Heritage Assembly special was the guest speaker; Ezrom Mkgakala (bottom right). Mr. Mkgakala talked to us about his childhood in South Africa during Apartheid. Incredibly he spoke to us about his inspirational meeting with Nelson Mandela during the time they were both incarcerated.

Fitz leads the group in a unforgettable dance number with our own hall monitors and vice-principal. Wait... is that Ms. Scobie in the back?

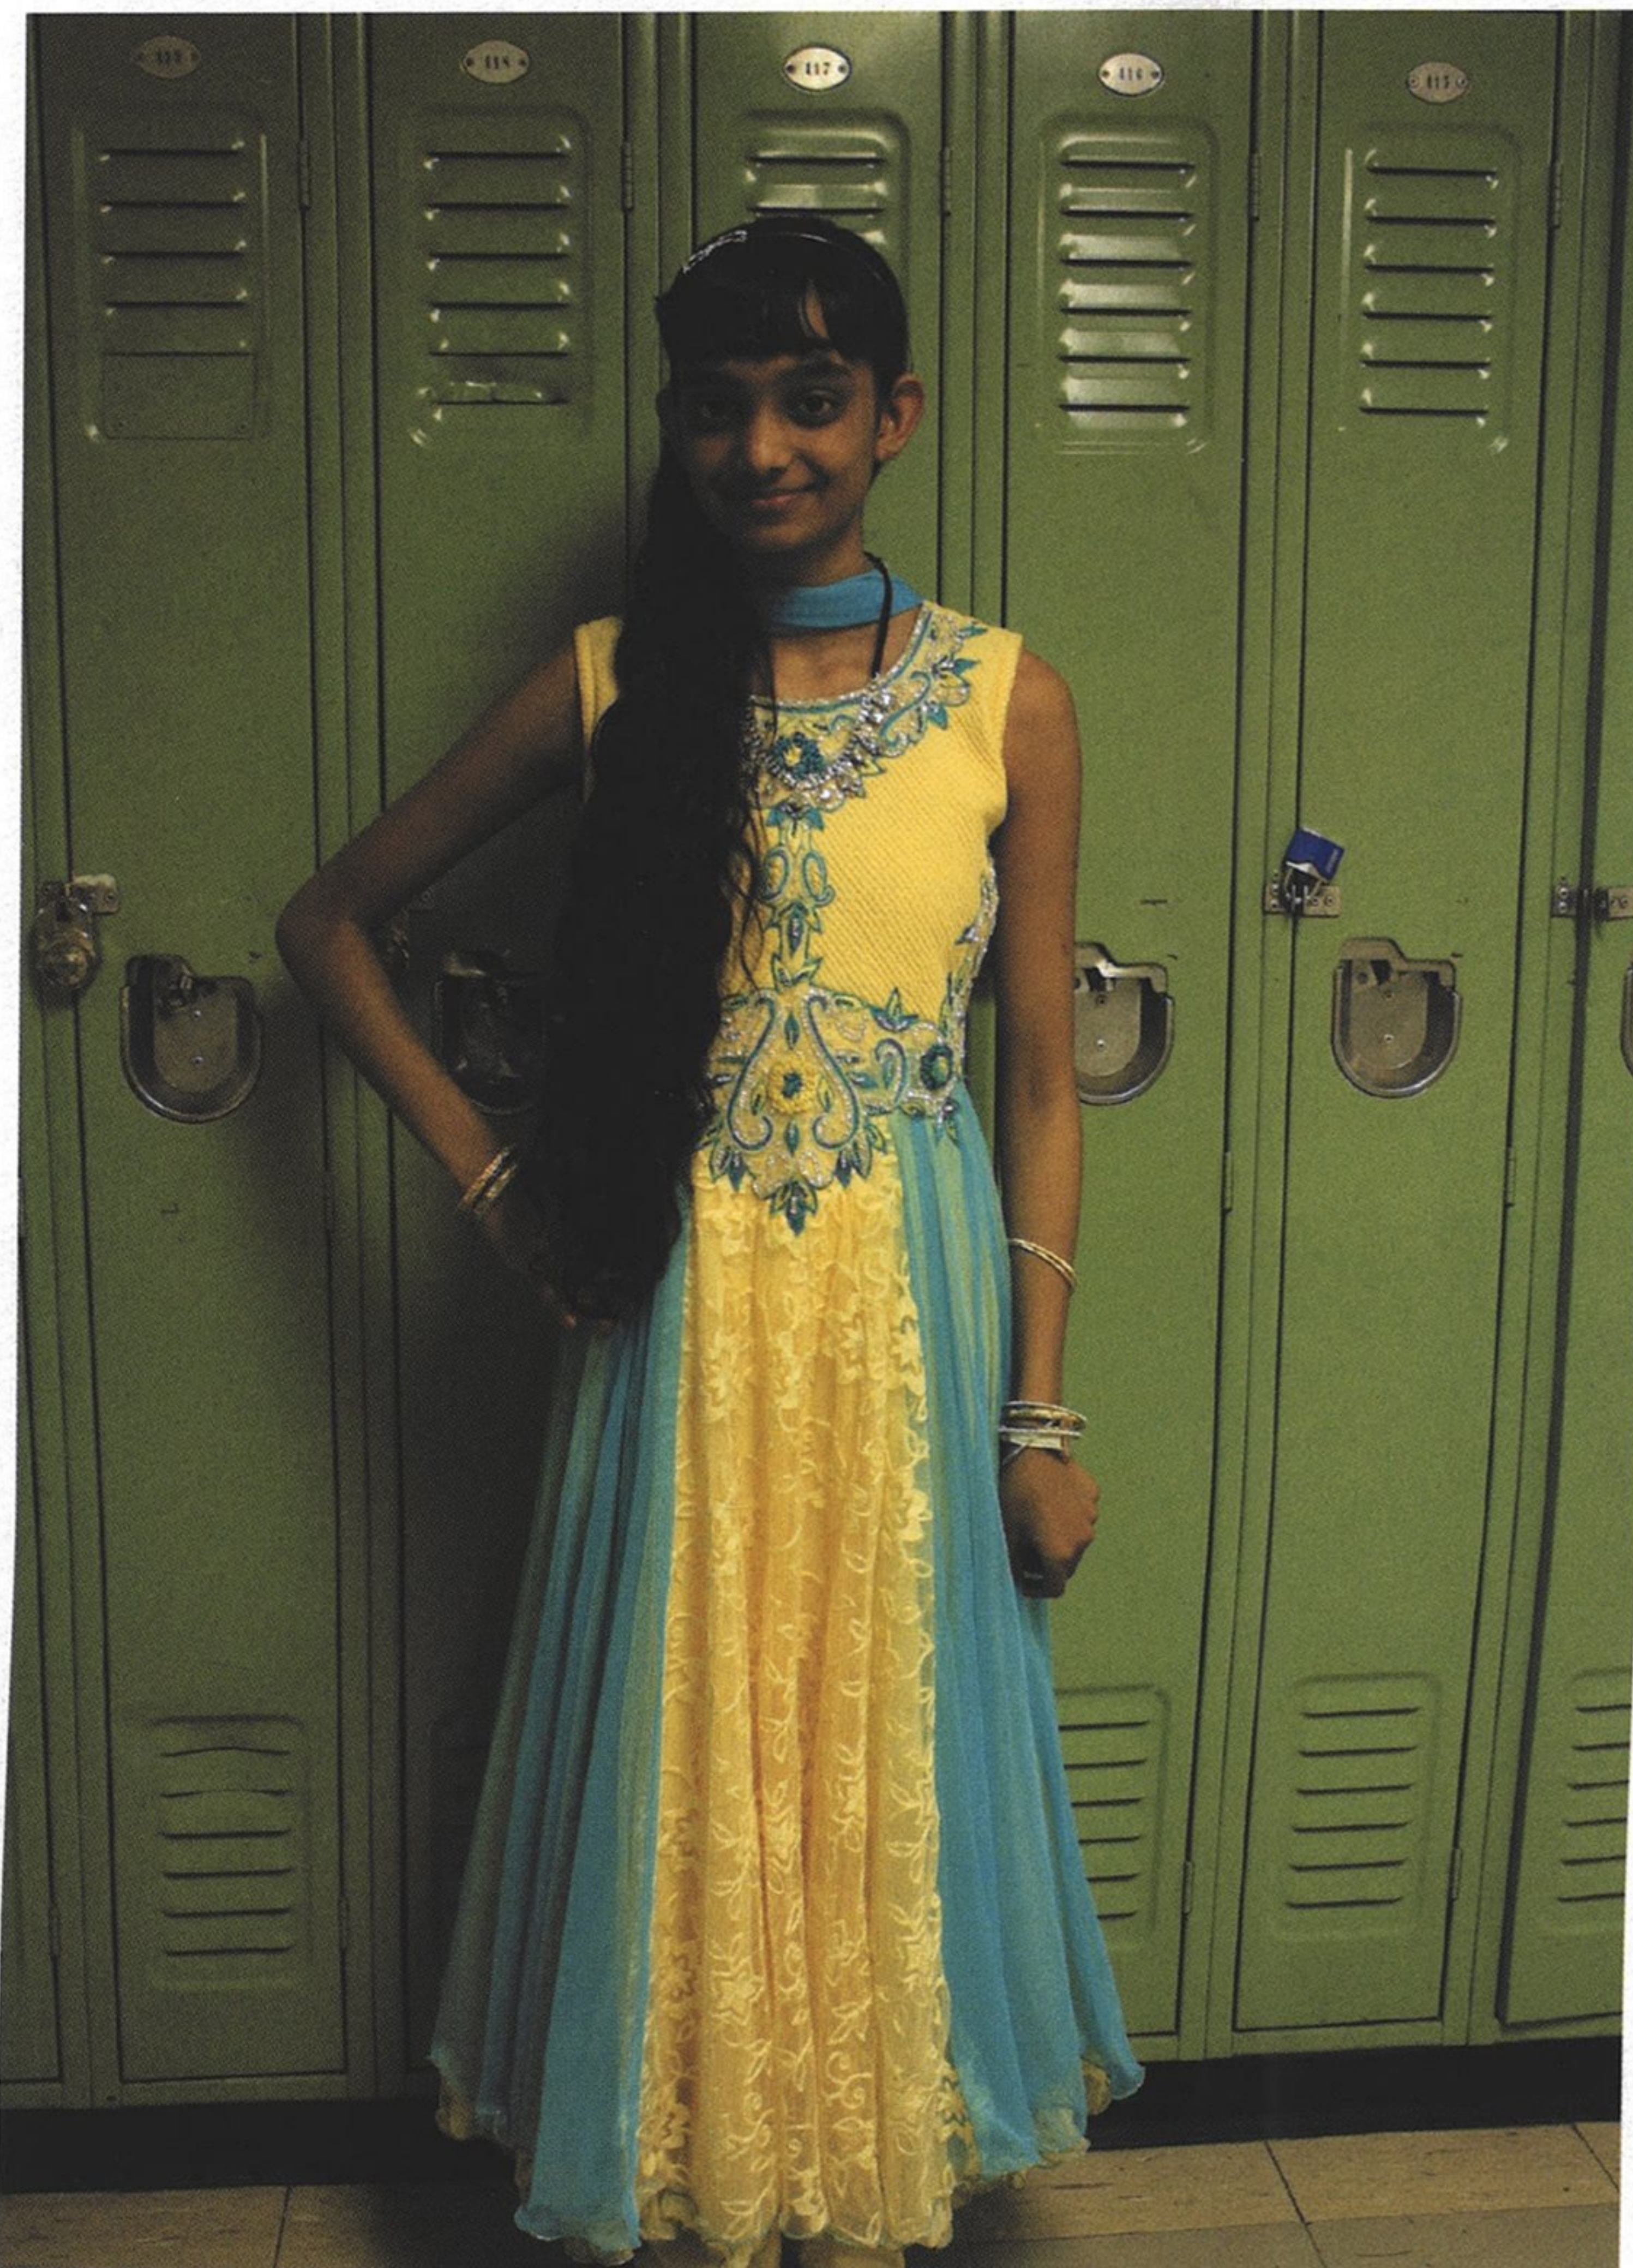

Westview's Week Of Action

On the morning of Tuesday April 18th, students were greeted with positive notes posted throughout the school.

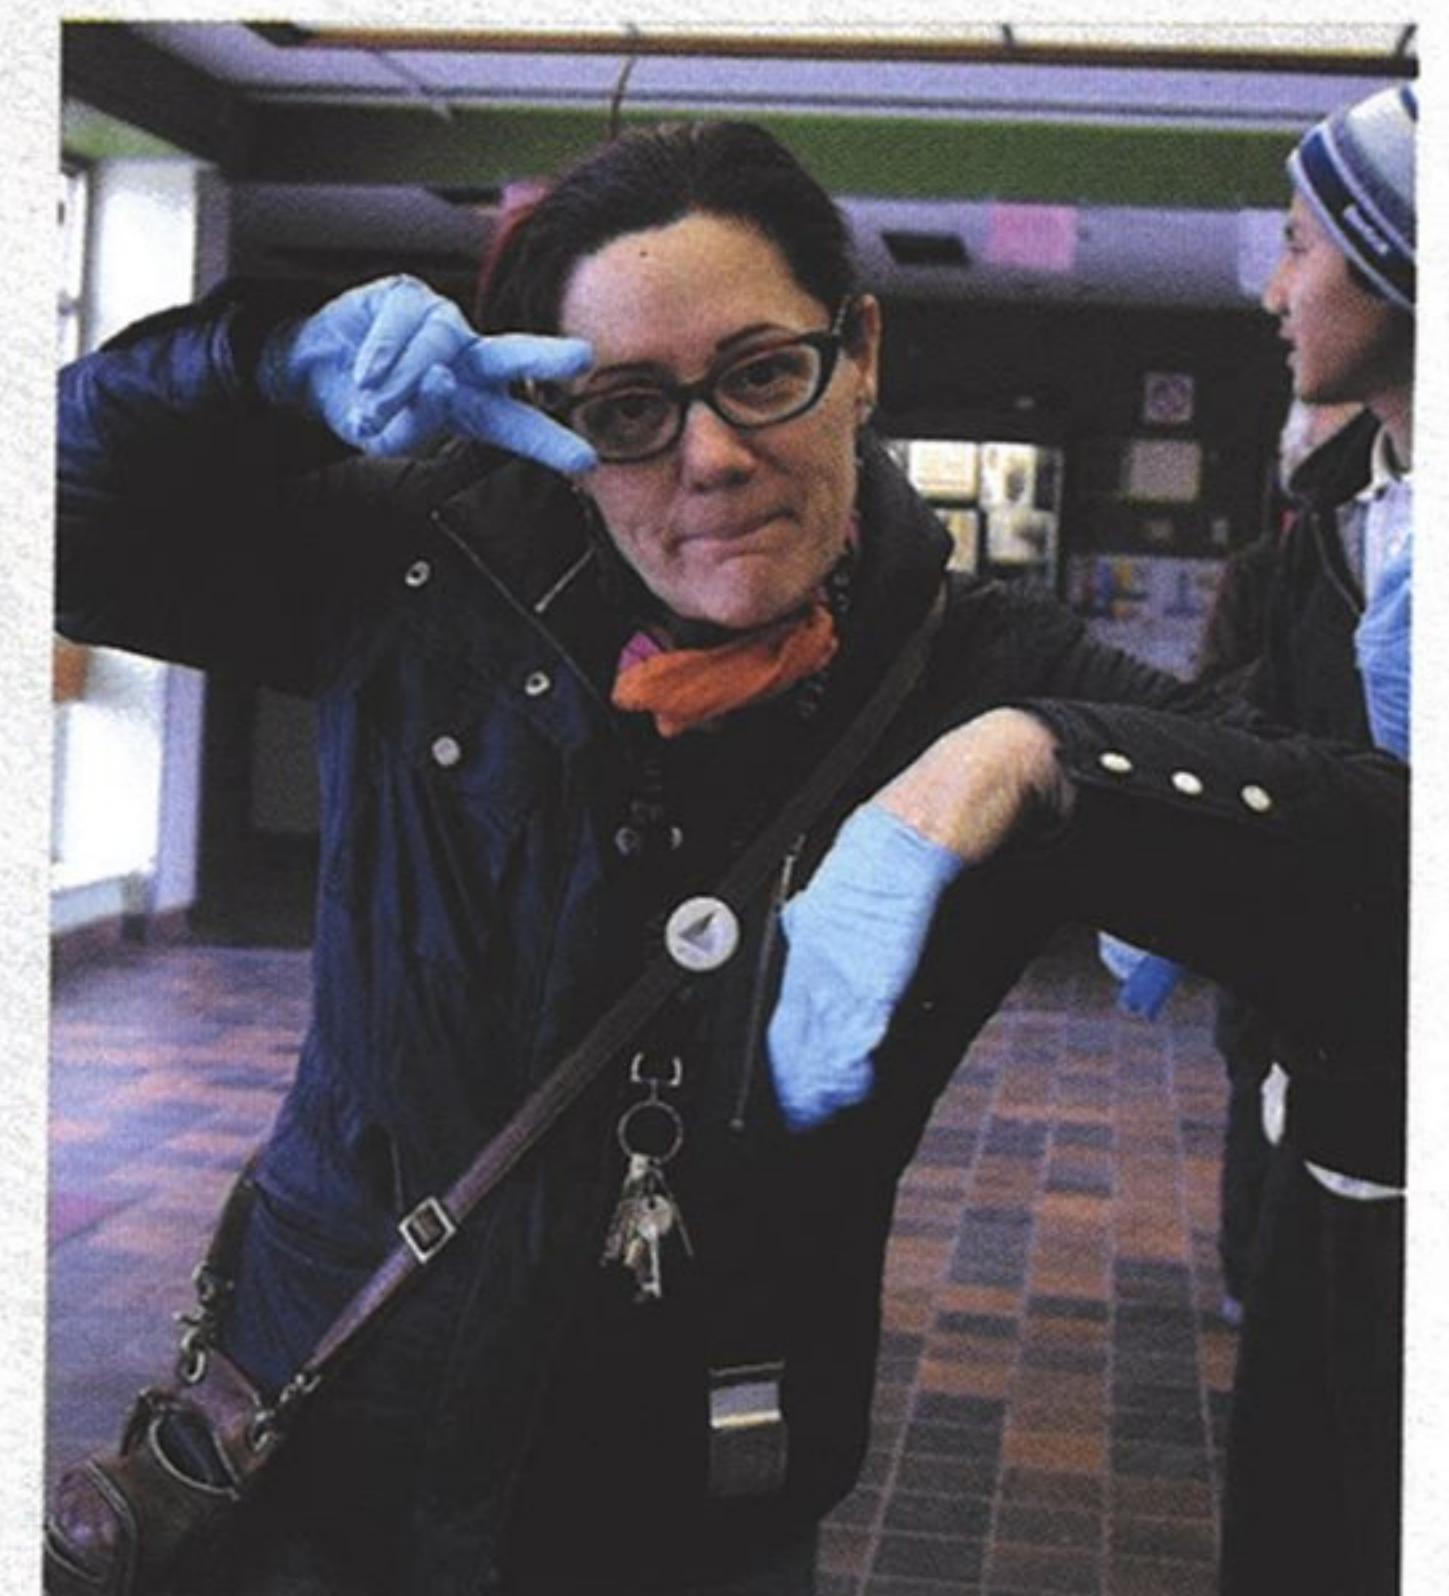

Wednesday was Diversity Day where students were able to wear their cultural clothing to highlight their background.

FOUR DAYS OF ACTIVITIES THAT INSPIRE WESTVIEW STUDENTS TO TAKE ACTION

Thursday's theme was Ignite Change. Students finish the empowering statement I AM.... on the wall of the Cafetorium.

Friday was Earth Day! Students came together to clean up our school yard and make the Earth a little more green.

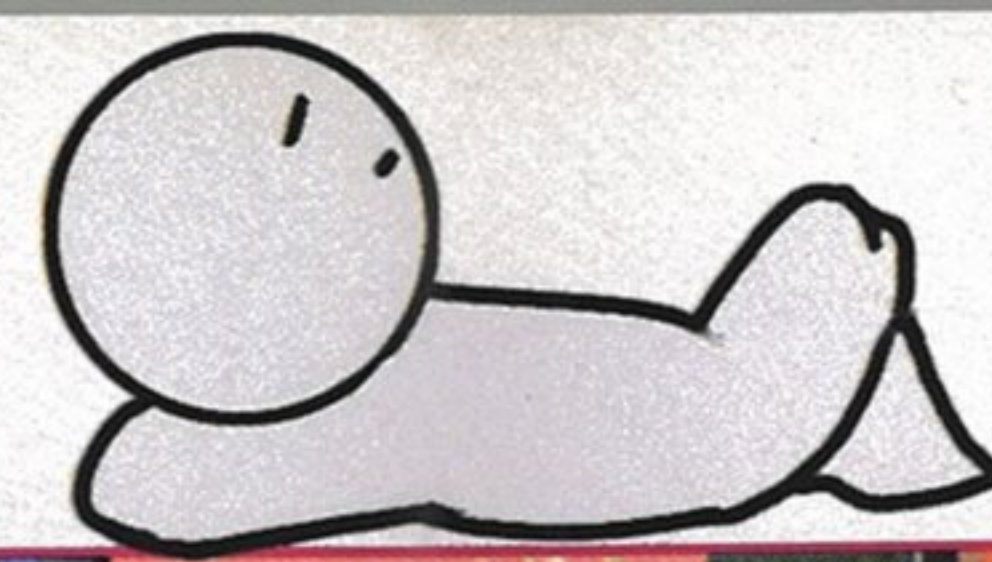

Mr. Glenn takes the helm of the bar-be-que in the courtyard! Students worked up an appetite after collecting garbage on the school grounds.

Hispanic Heritage

The Hispanic food fair held on April 28th offered a variety of Latino foods such as tacos, Churros and empanadas.

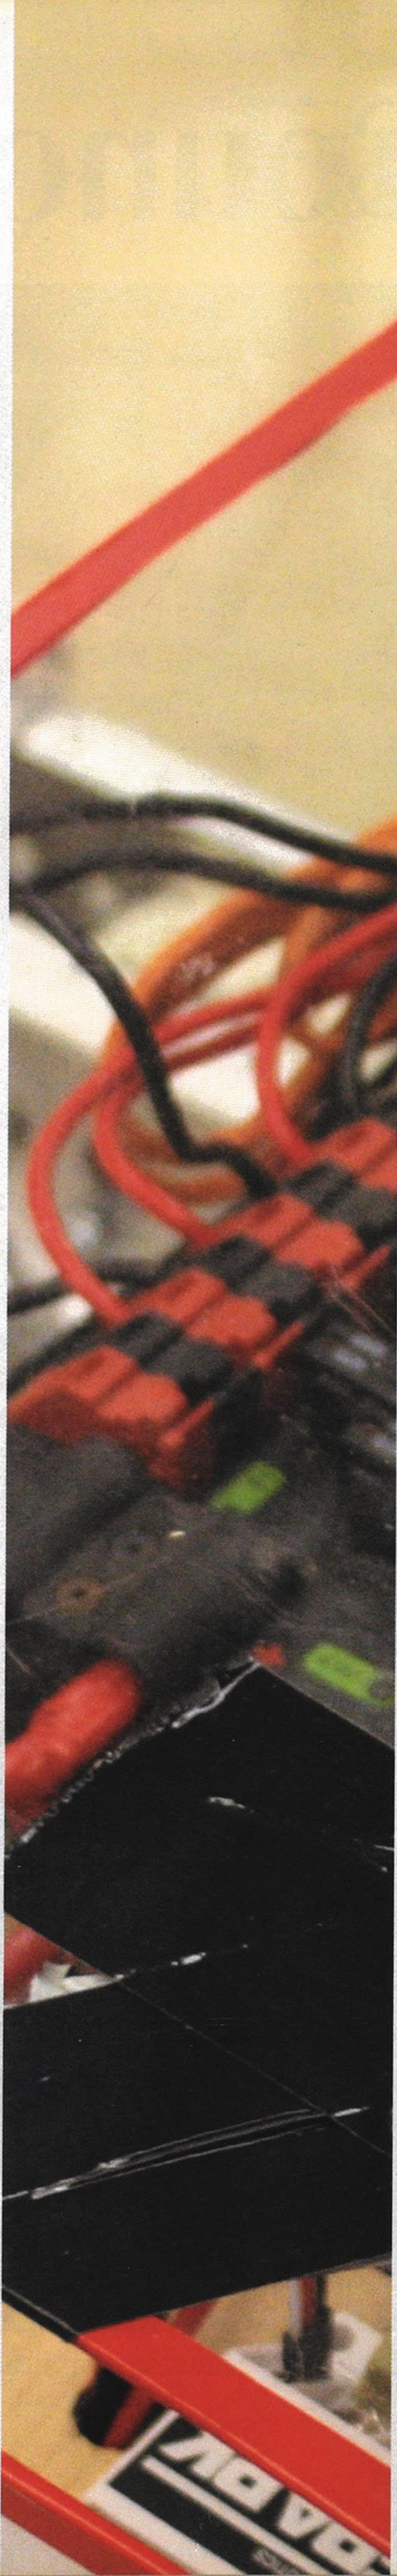

This year's assembly featured diverse performances by staff and students alike. This assembly recognizes our own Hispanic community at Westview.

Spirit Week

THE WILDCAT WAY

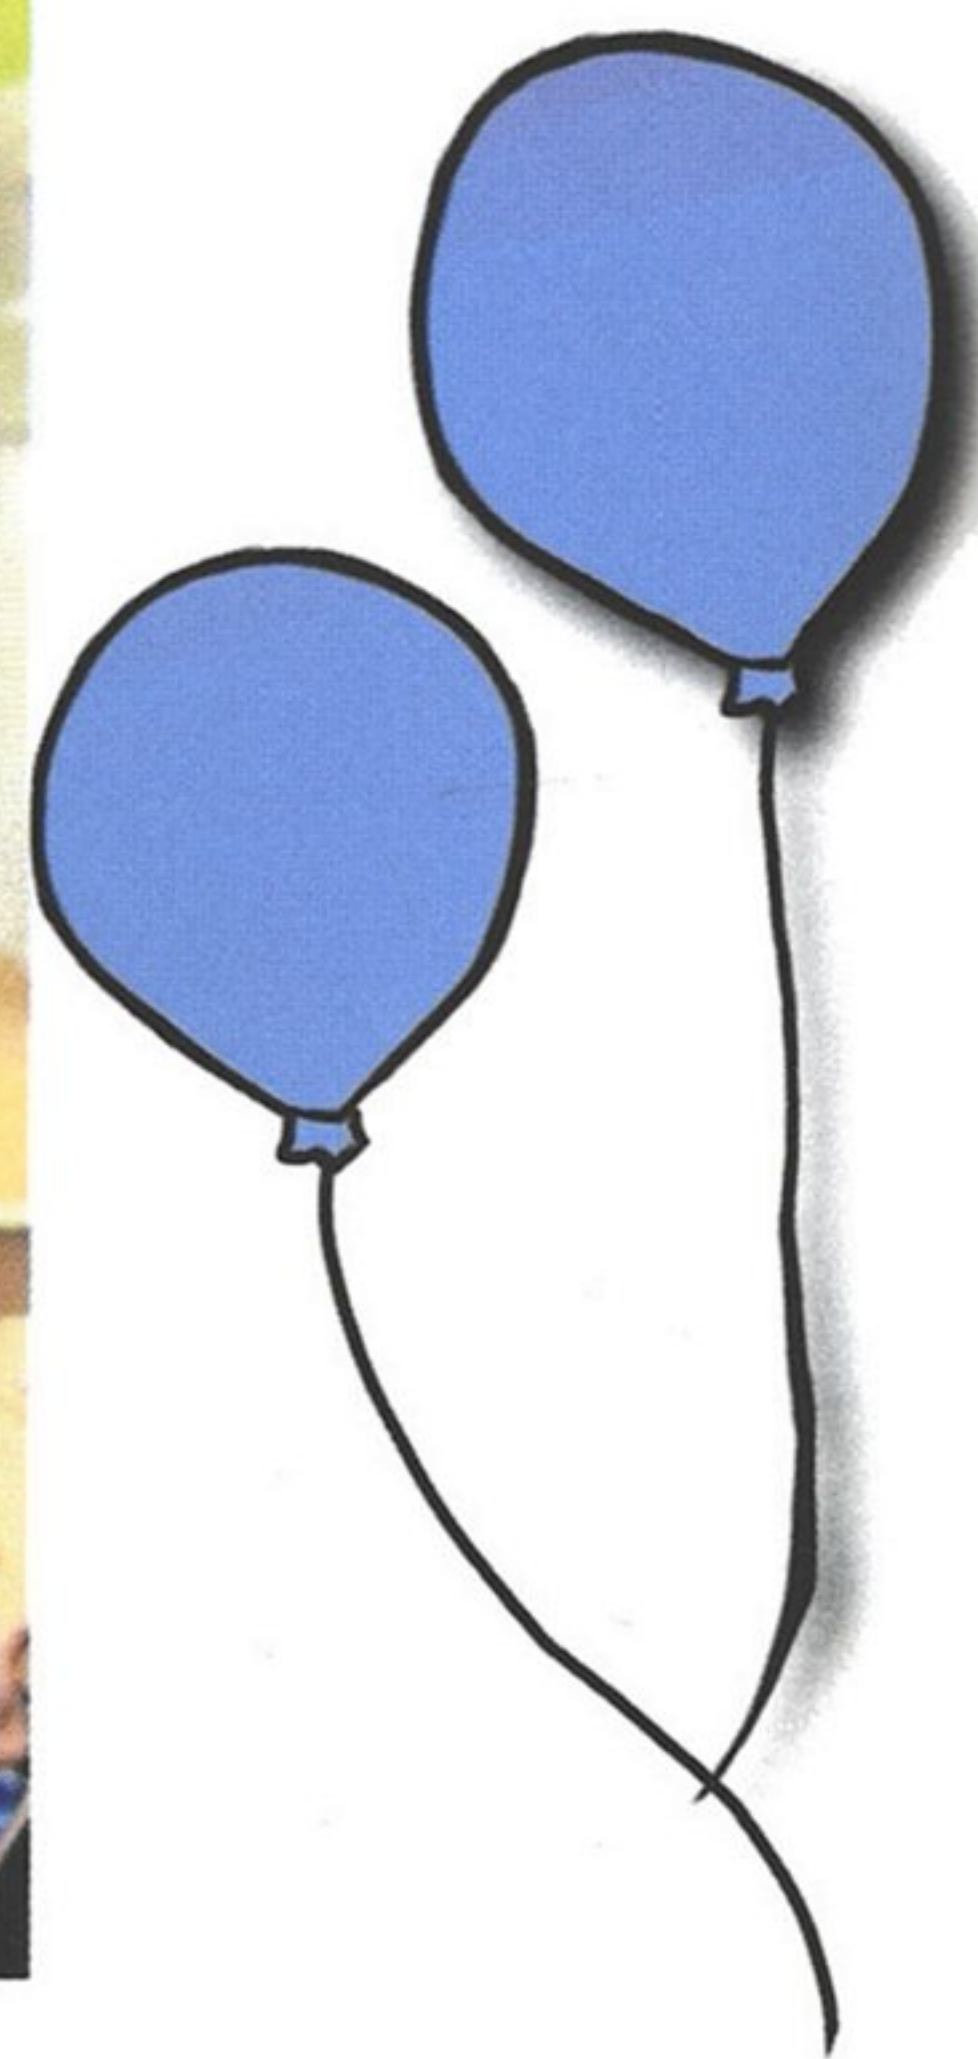

Westview held their annual spirit week in February. Finally it was our dress down day, out of our uniforms. Westview students dressed up in different types of styles...LOL... pajama day. OHH! wait.... we shouldn't forget the donut eating contest... hmmm... wonder if it was tasty without using your hands?? Some students may say what's the pink day for? Well, all around the world students get bullied. The Day of Pink represents an anti-bullying initiative to increase awareness of the problem among students.

FYI "Pink Day began in Nova Scotia in 2007. David Shepherd and Travis Price distributed 50 pink shirts for students to wear after a male ninth grade student, Jadrien Cota was bullied for wearing a pink shirt during the first day of school"

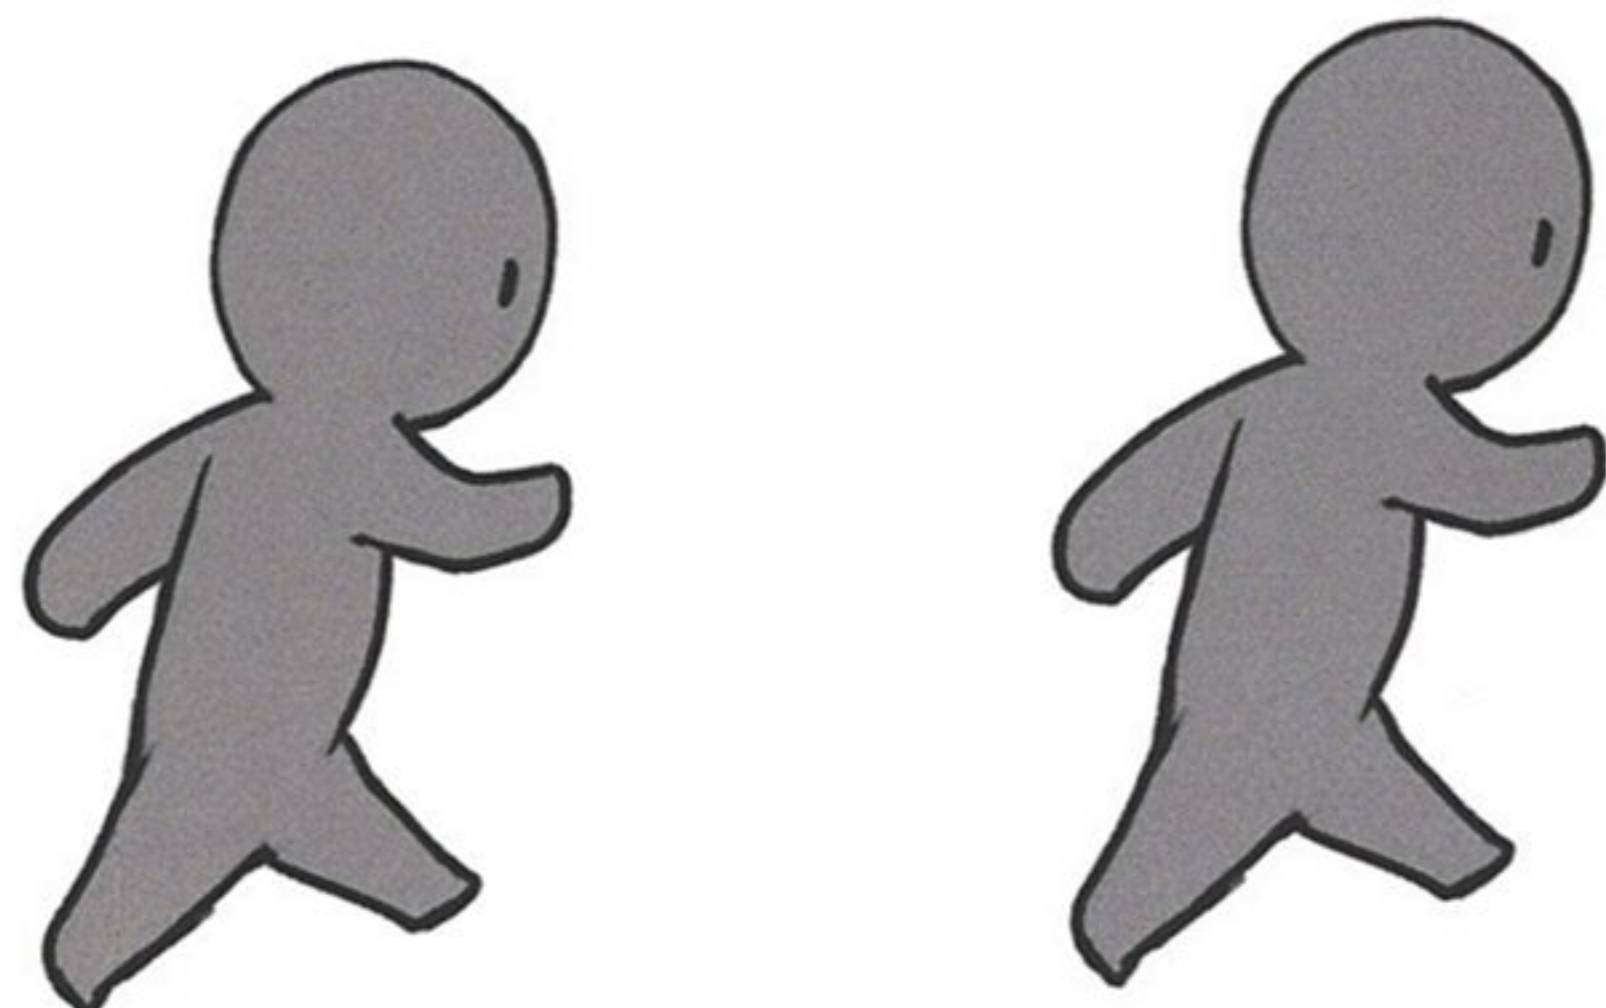

That's why Westview supports the Day of Pink.

ARTS & CULTURE

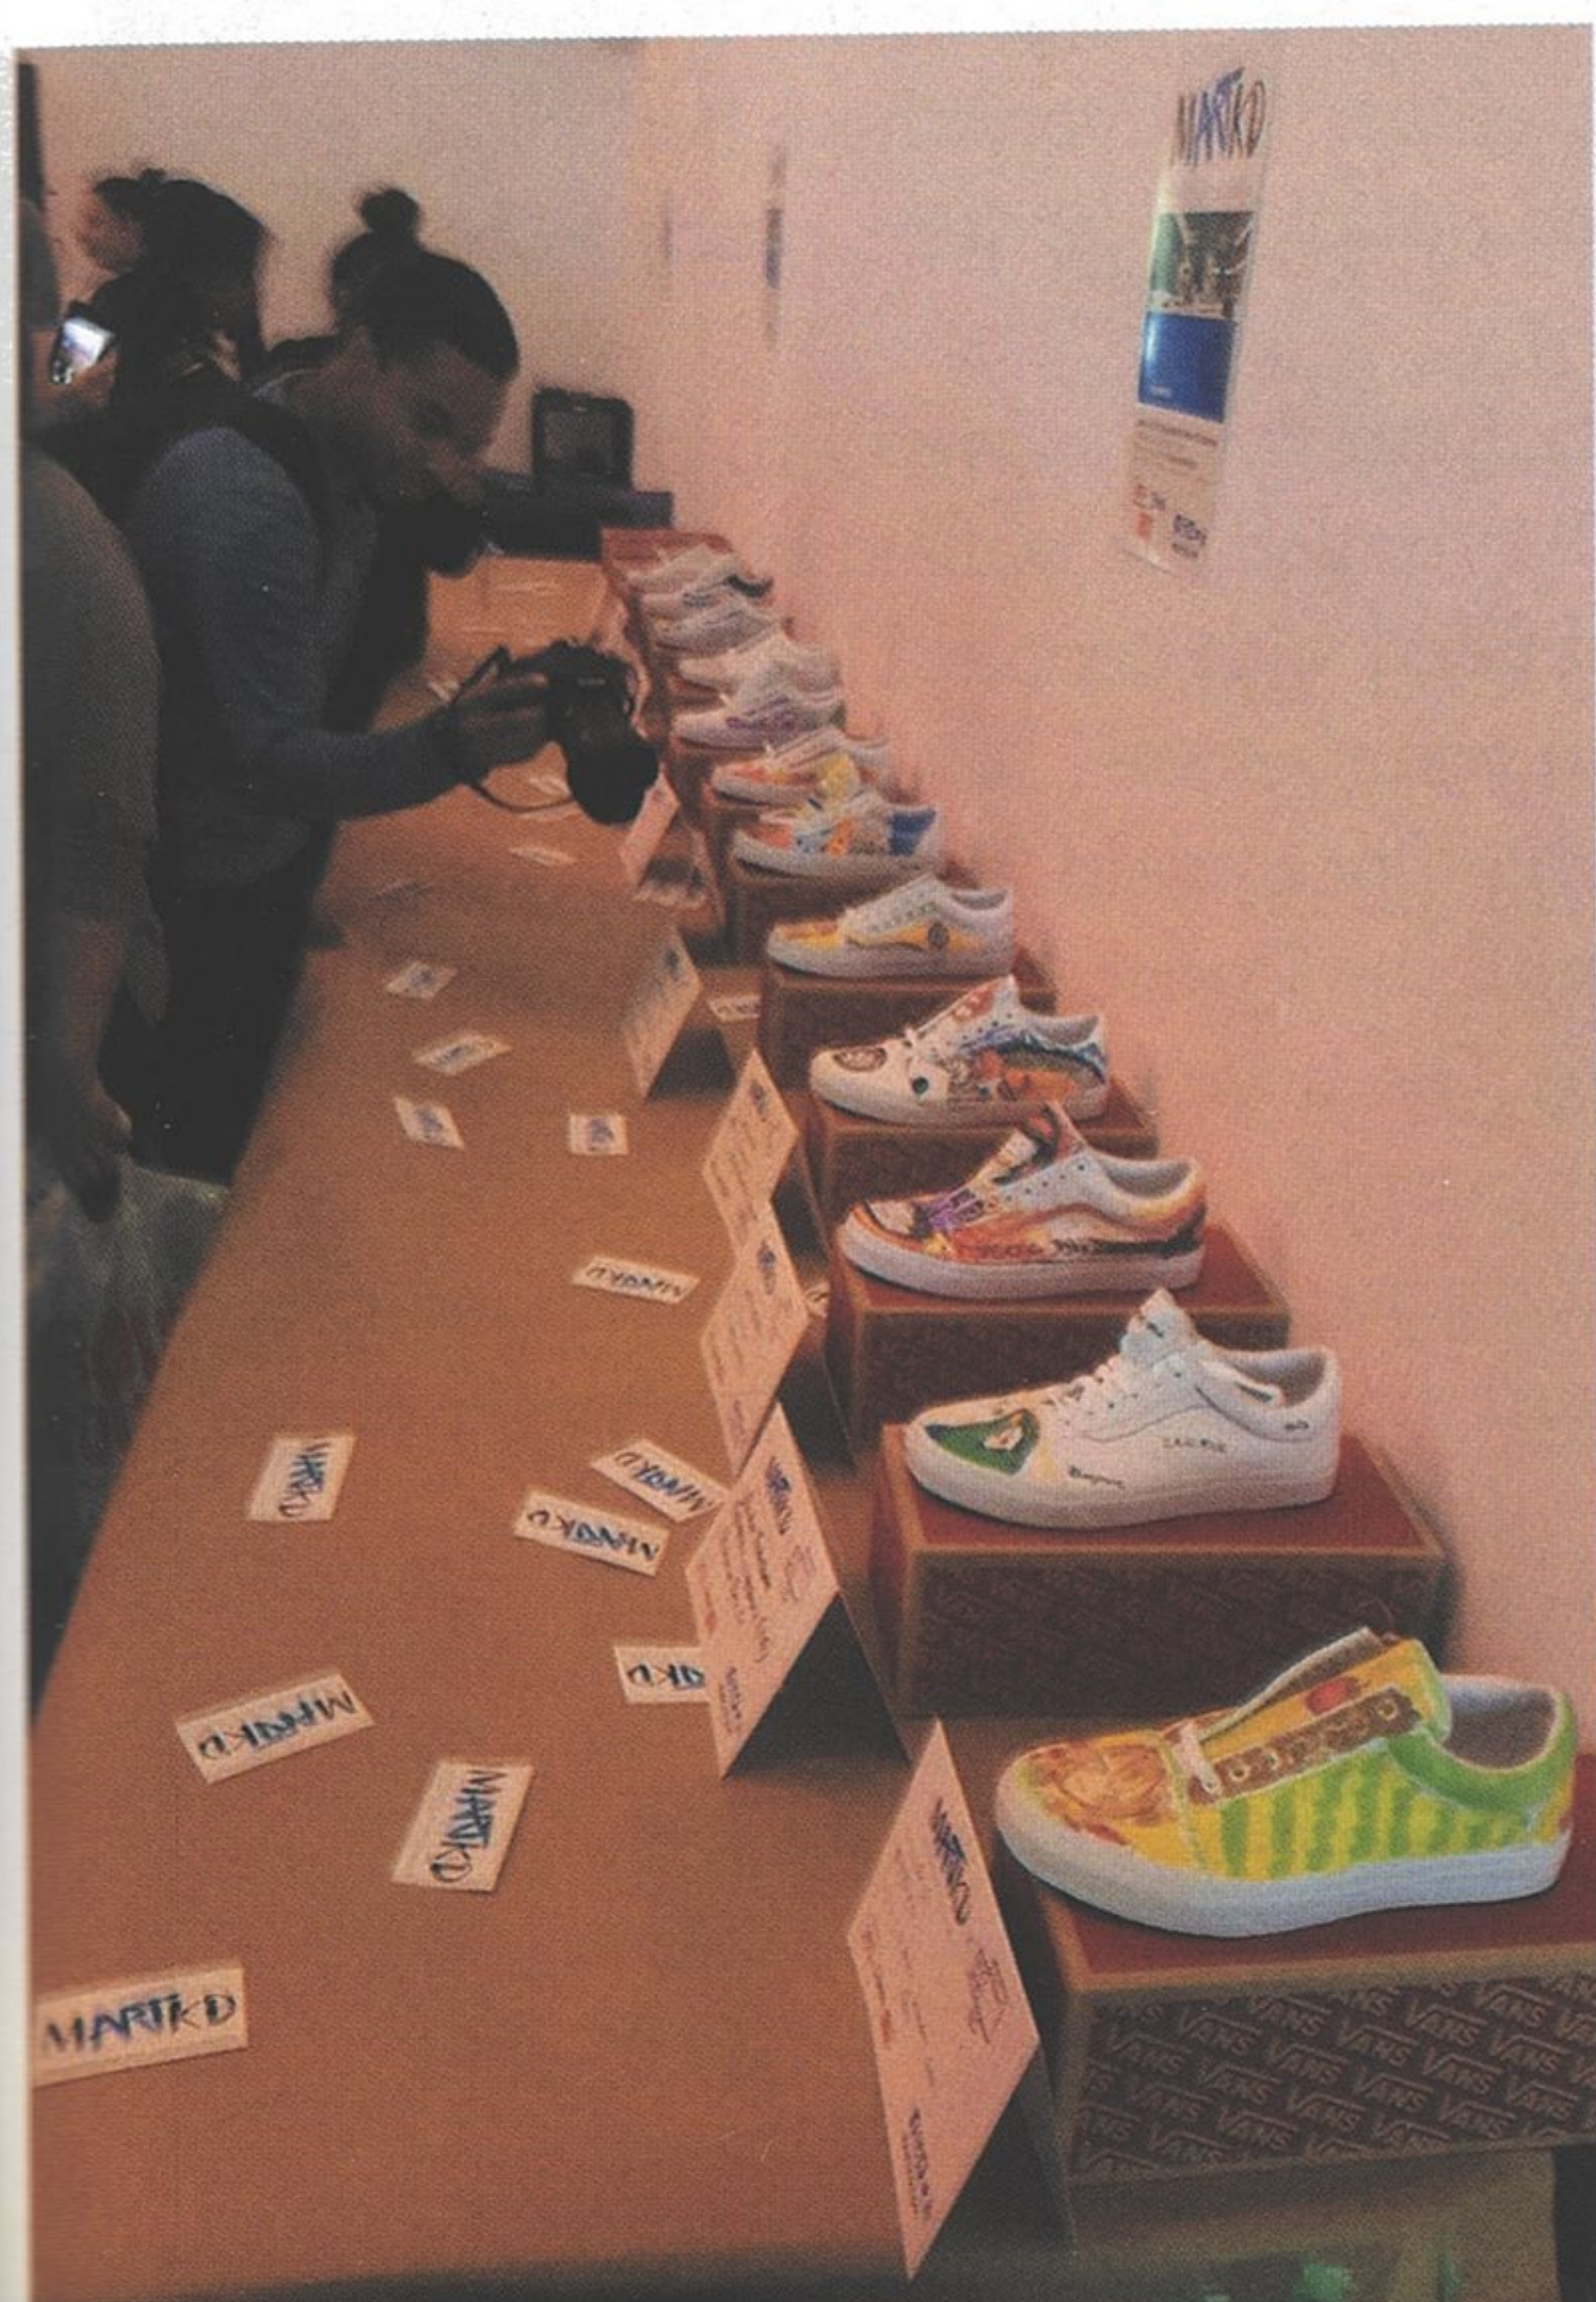

ARTS & CULTURE SHSM

JOIN  THE ADVENTURE SHSM

What an exciting year in the Arts and Culture SHSM! Two murals were created with Toronto graffiti artist Moisés Frank (@LuvsumoneTO). One, in the Arts hallway where the theme that students tackled was openness, love, and creativity and the second was dedicated to Peace Day. Inspirational work created by our SHSM students and positivity-filled walls. Aaaaahmazing! These same students were also involved in Mark'd, OCAD's first shoe design competition sponsored by Vans and Sharpie. Shoes and more shoes! It was also an honour to have a Westview alumni, Shellene Rodney (Shellene's Creations), Manga artist extraordinaire, grace us with a Manga certification where students learned the art of Chibi, a Japanese style of cartoon. This will culminate in another mural creation in this style in memory of Christopher Hayes. With a few more local artists coming to share their skills in photography, dance, and graphic arts, the exploration of careers is well it's on it's way!

WESTVIEW'S OWN AUTHORS IN THE HOUSE

THE PRINCE OF OWIRA, A FABLE BY RABA MUSTAPHA

One day, in the kingdom of Owira, the Queen lioness announced that she would soon have an heir to the throne. Every day, she would lie in the sun and rub her belly and proclaim sweet promises to her future child. "You will be loved by all," she would say. "There is nothing you will not have and nothing you will need," she would promise. The king was very proud that he would be having an heir to rule after him. "My child will be an excellent ruler," he would proclaim to all servants.

Several months later, the queen gave birth to a handsome young cub and the prince of Owira was born. As his mother had promised, the Prince was loved by all. Everywhere he went in the castle, his presence brought light and happiness to all those who saw him. There was nothing he did not have and needed for not. However, the prince had never left the castle and did not know what was beyond the walls of the castle. As he grew older, the young Prince's ignorance became arrogance. "I will be a magnificent ruler," he would boast to his servants. "There is none more love than I," he would tell his parents. He figured himself to be the greatest there ever was and never will be.

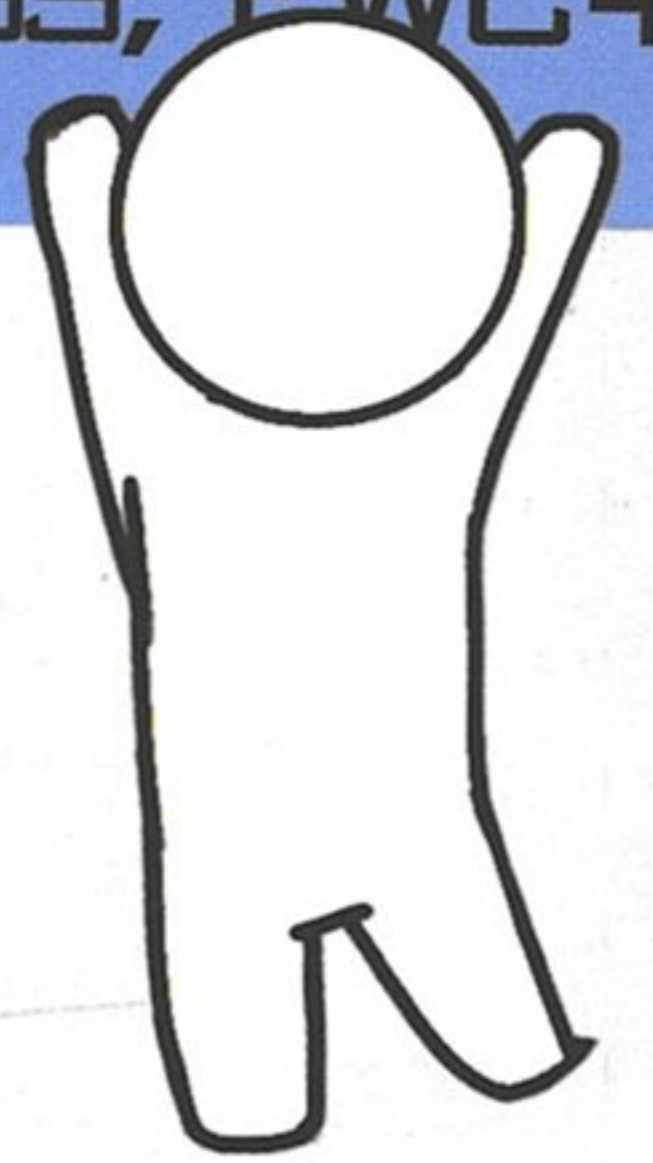

After many years of living in the castle, the young prince began to wonder about the outside world. One day, he went to his parents and said to them, "Dearest Mother, dearest Father, I wish to go beyond the castle wall to spread my beauty across all the lands of our kingdom. I wish for my presence to bring happiness to all of our subjects." The King and Queen were very proud of the kindness the prince was showing. "Surely, my son, there is no one out there more handsome and kind than yourself. Go out and let your subjects see how kind of a ruler they will get in the future," the king said.

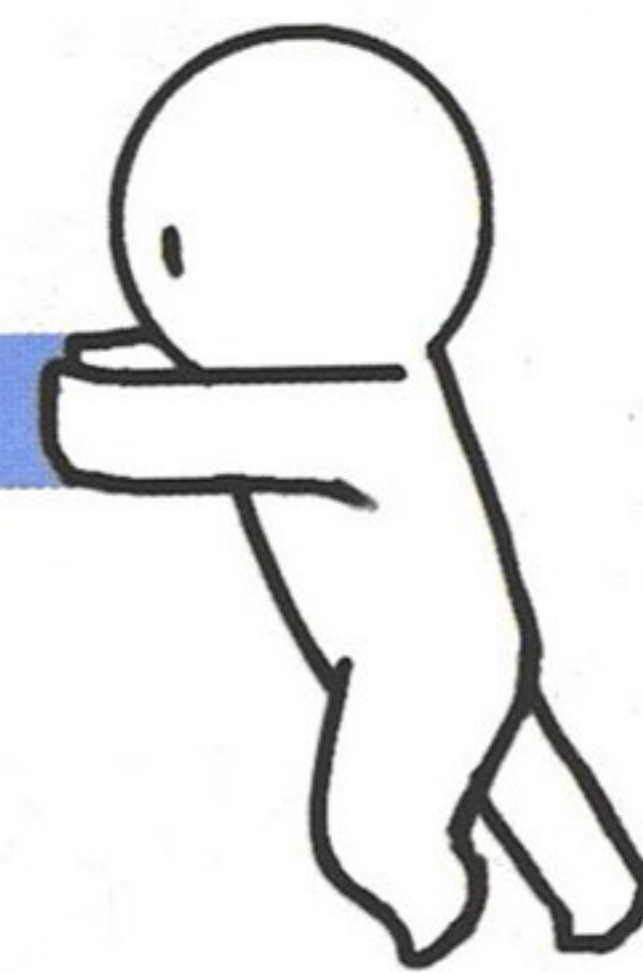

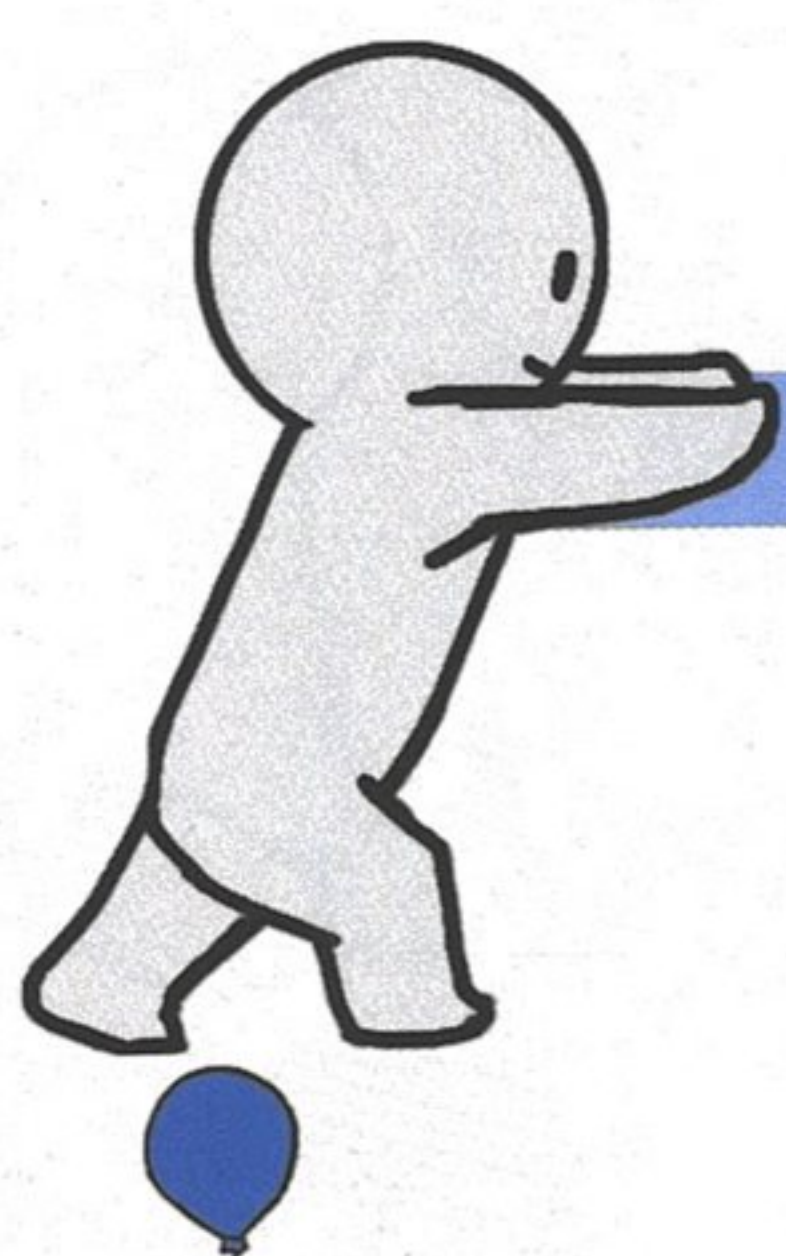

The Prince, wearing his royal garb, prepared to leave home for the first time. All his servants gave him a heartfelt au-revoir as he left in his royal carriage. The magnificent castle gates open to let the carriage travel to the first village in the kingdom of Owira. There were many people in this village, more people than the prince had seen in his entire life! Everywhere he looked, everyone was doing different things, wearing different clothes, eating different foods. He jumped out of his carriage, ready to be received by all his subjects. However, not even one person spared him a single glance.

Baffled, the young prince started to bellow his importance. "Hear me, my subjects; I am your beloved Prince! My presence will make all your adversities disappear." Yet, No one would stop and bow to him. Disgruntled, he walked back to his carriage and moved on to next village. This village was just like the last village, very busy and filled with people. He once again hopped out of the carriage and started to bellow his importance. "Hear me, my subjects; I am your beloved Prince! My presence will make all of your adversities disappear." Yet, here also, no one spared him any thought. Once again, the prince hopped into his carriage and moved on to the next village. This was the pattern for several villages until the Prince arrived at the last village, on the outskirts of the kingdom. This village was a small, humble village with few people. The prince, once again, stopped his carriage in the middle of the road and hopped out to proclaim his importance to his people. "Hear me, my subjects; I am your beloved Prince! My presence will make all of your adversities disappear." many people froze to look at him yet no one moved to greet him with exclamations of love. From behind his carriage, the young Prince heard an amused laugh. The owner of the laugh was a modest merchant.

"Who are you?" asked the young Prince. "I am but a man stuck behind your magnificent carriage left to watch your journey through the kingdom," the merchant said modestly to the Prince. "Then you must be here to proclaim your love to me," The Prince said but the merchant just laughed some more. "Humble yourself, young Prince. Your ignorance has made you arrogant."

A SHORT STORY BY MUHEEM ABDI

She looks tired, but I still need to ask her. I'm praying that she will say yes. I brought her a cup of sha'a and some malawah. I look at the time. It's around 9 o'clock in the evening.

"Hooyo, assalamu alaikum, sidee tahay?" I say, usually when I say this she smiles and responds. Her eye slowly lifts from her cup. She sets her gaze on me.

"Aha, Halima alaikum Salam, waan fiicanahay habibi." My hooyo says.

I slowly kneel, laying my head on her lap, she cradling my head. My Hooyo stares down at me. I know now is the time. I don't know what else I could do. I look up; to the person I love very deeply and heartfully and ask her a question.

"Hooyo, can I live with Aabo?" I ask.

She gets up abruptly; her normally calm and pleasant demeanor slowly changes. Her face contorts in an all-consuming anger. Her nostrils flaring. Her eyes flashing and closing into slits. Her mouth quivering. In that moment I know. She is beyond understanding.

"Hooyo, please understand where I am coming from. I'm almost 18 and he is my father, I never knew him. Everyone always says I remind them of him, I can't know myself without knowing all of me, please." I say and look down.

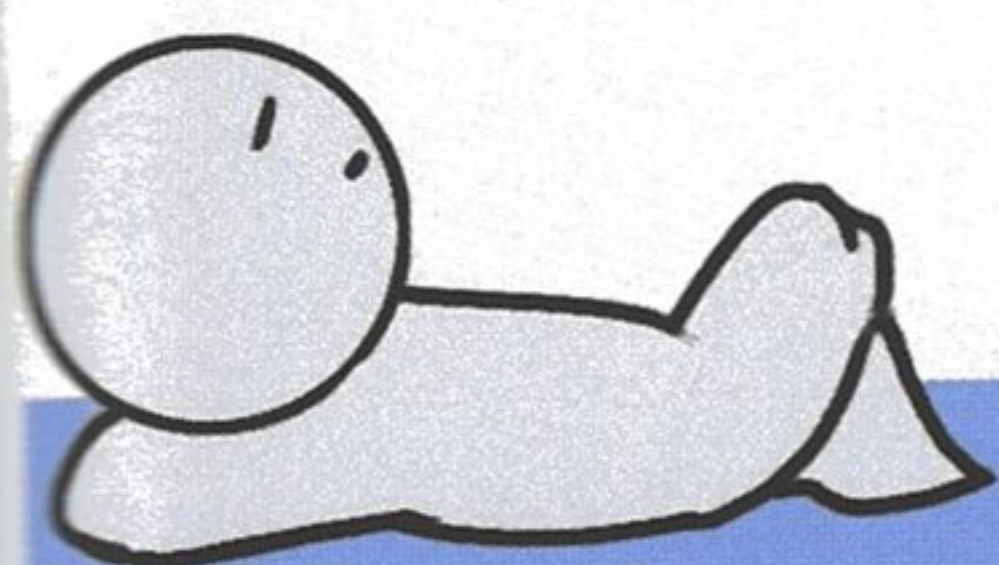

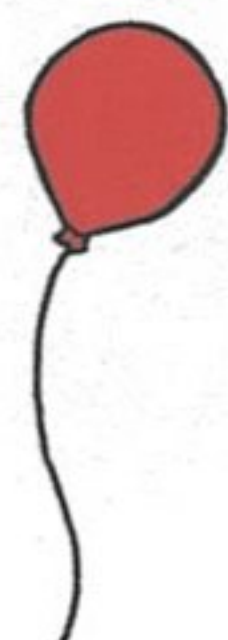

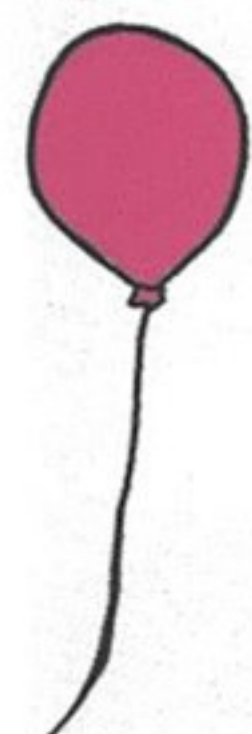

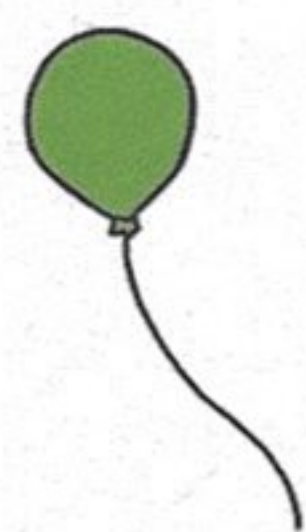

I feel her heated gaze on me. I'm not being able to look her in the eye. I slowly lift my head up. I stare down on her. My ambition shines through my eyes. I won't break down.

A sound erupts the silence. I feel a stinging sensation on my right cheek. I fall onto the floor. I feel the wet hot tears fill up my eyes. My throat closes tight and each word is pitched higher than the last. I'm trying squeak out the words that were bottled up inside me. Finally the tears spill over. They flow down my face like a river escaping a dam. Without even speaking, I run towards my room, shutting the door, I couldn't care less if the door broke. But I can't believe she hit me. She said she would never hit me. Yea right she can't even keep her own promises. If she won't let me leave, I will do it on my own. I don't need her; I will go to him myself. I put my bag on my bed, starting to pack quickly. I'm listening to the voice in my head. All the thoughts and comments I want to say. I'm done watching out for what others want, feel and think. I climb out of my window slowly. The wind blows onto my face. My feet touch the snowy floor. I start to run across the streets. I'm walking towards the bus stop as a red car slowly. The wind blows onto my face. My feet touch the snowy floor. I start to run across the streets. I'm walking towards the bus stop as a red car slowly drives next to me. I turn my eyes, seeing males I don't know. I continue walking ignoring their calls, and racist jokes.

"Hey! You terrorist, you shouldn't be here, go blow up your own country." They say follow me. My emotions get the better of me.

"Oh yeah, blame the Muslims because you guys are just weak little rich boys. Why don't you learn some manners and get s life." I explode.

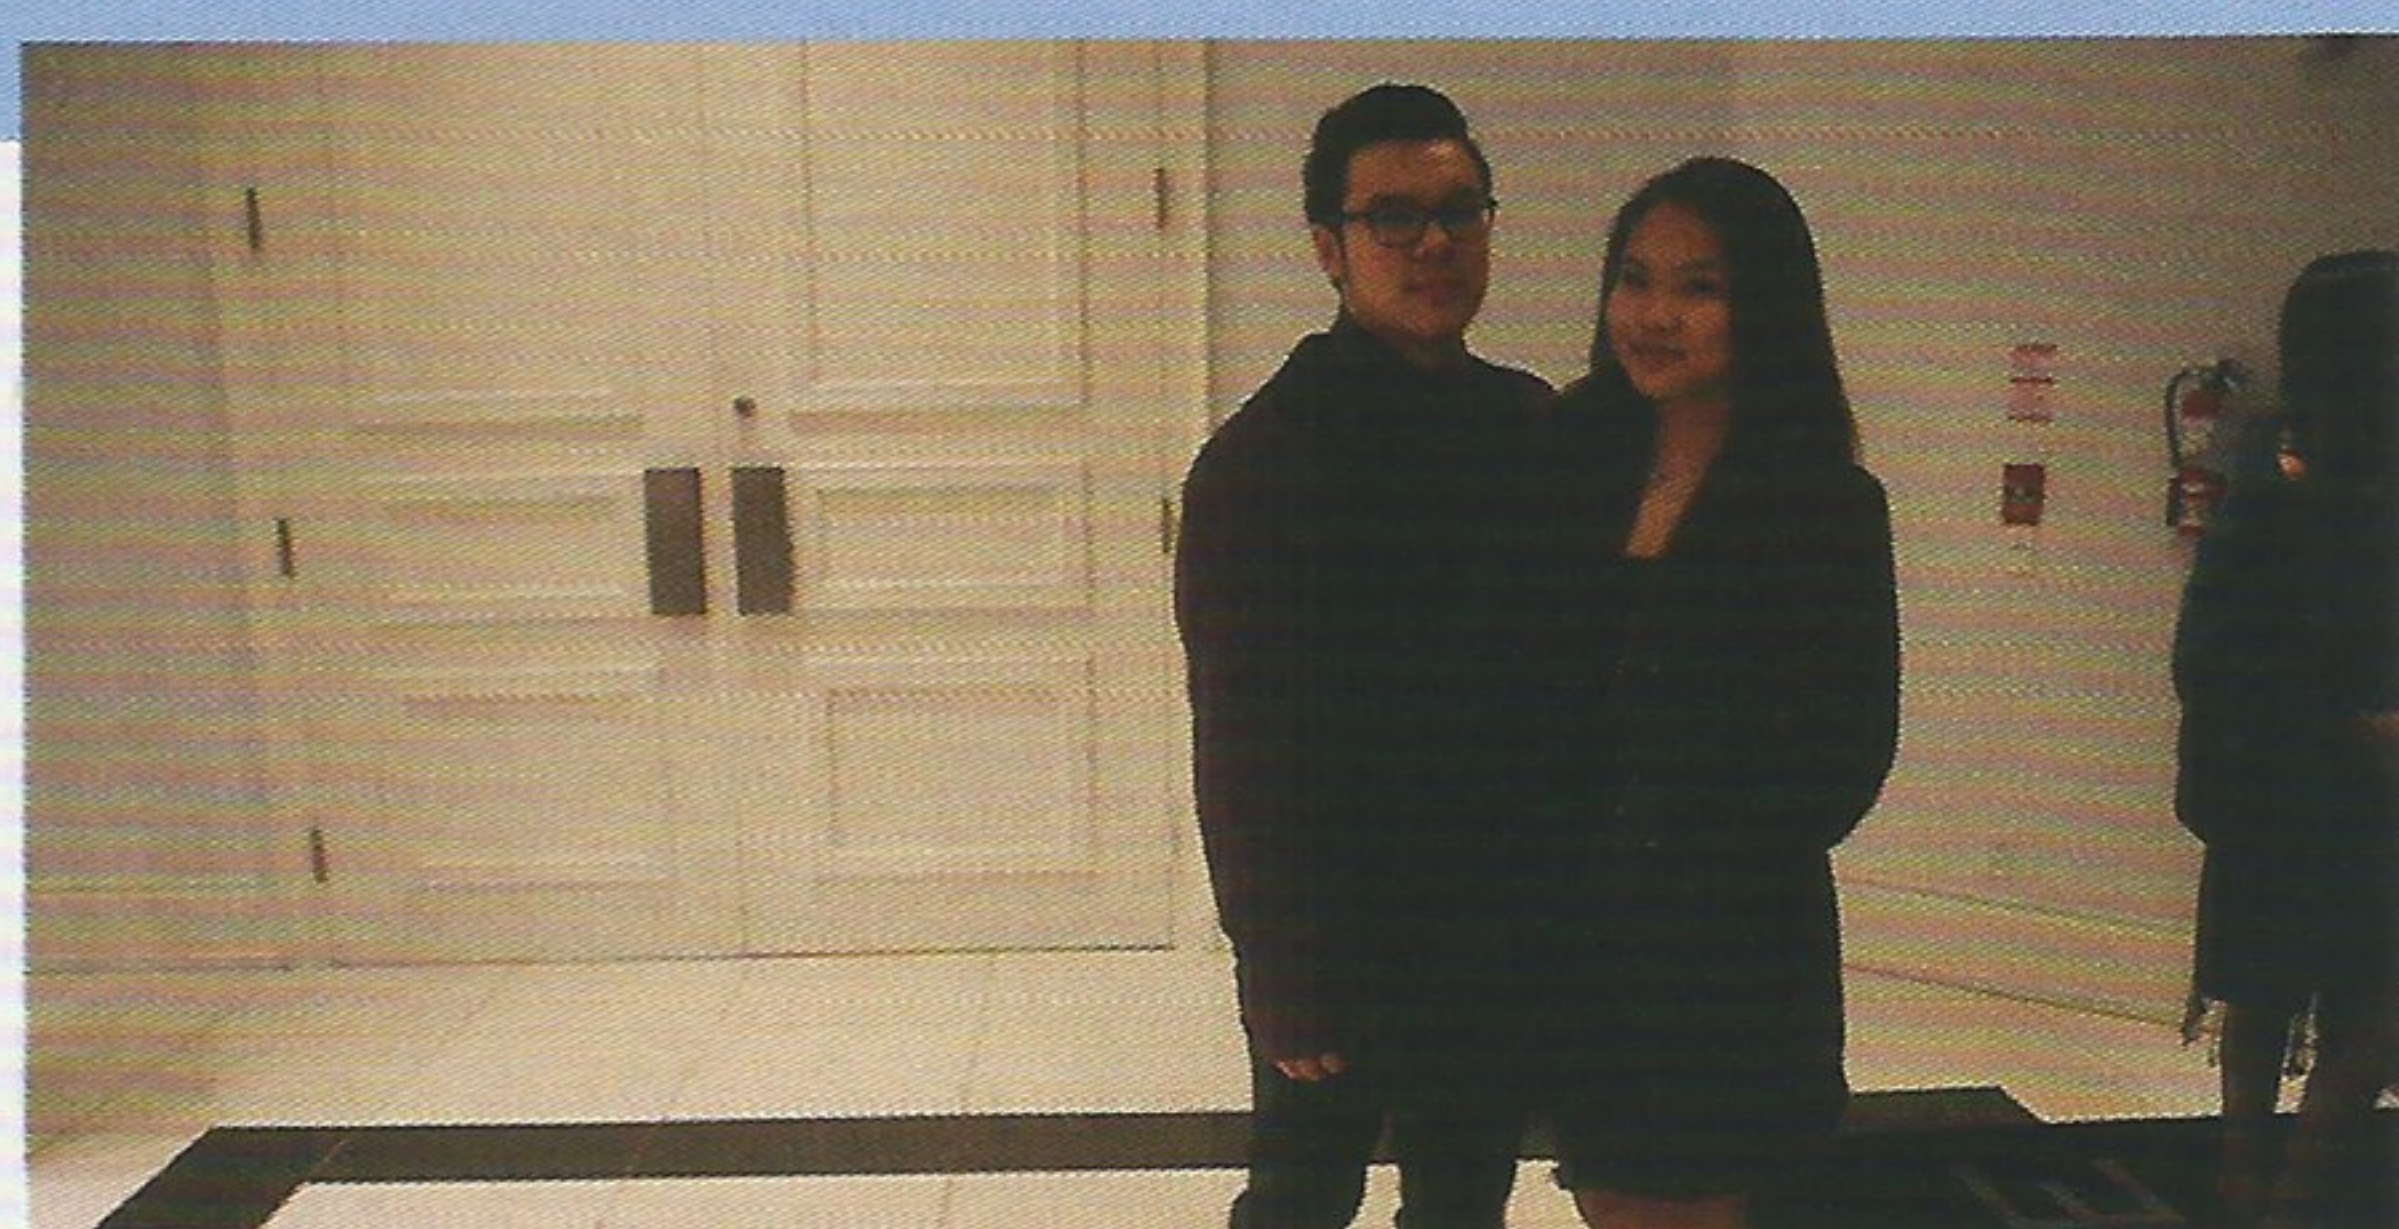

I see red, I don't care who these people are they have no right. I can tell they're as mad as I am. Their car stops brusquely. Fear trickles down my spine. I see five men come out of the car. Slowly I am walking backwards. Keeping my eyes on them. Something hits my leg from behind. I take a dive into the snow, scrambling backwards. I am afraid of what will happen to me, what if I die?! Everything just hit me, what about Hooyo. My poor Hooyo. I'm so sorry; I hope she will forgive me. I close my eyes. Not wanting to see what happens next, I wait, nothing happens; I slowly open my eyes. I see two cops and my Hooyo. She looks at me with tears shimmering in eyes. I get up, look around. I see those guys being handcuff and pushed into the police car. I run to my Hooyo; feeling her warmth and love. Her arms wrap around me tightly. I nuzzle into her chest. Holding her once more. Tears start to trickle my eyes. Everything comes out; the entire fear, sadness, and anger come out. I sob into my mother. I know she will always be there for me. I don't need anyone else. I love my Hooyo very much. The exhaustion hits me and last thing I hear is my Hooyo calling my name.

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT

Success Beyond Limits is a collaborative, youth-led community based movement that provides students and youth, with comprehensive support to complete their education as well as experience success in their lives. They operate an enriching 6-week summer program that offers school credits, mentorship, youth employment and the support students need for a successful life. The biggest goal of the Success Beyond Limits program is to improve educational outcomes, expand possibilities, and assist youth in Jane and Finch along their individual paths to success.

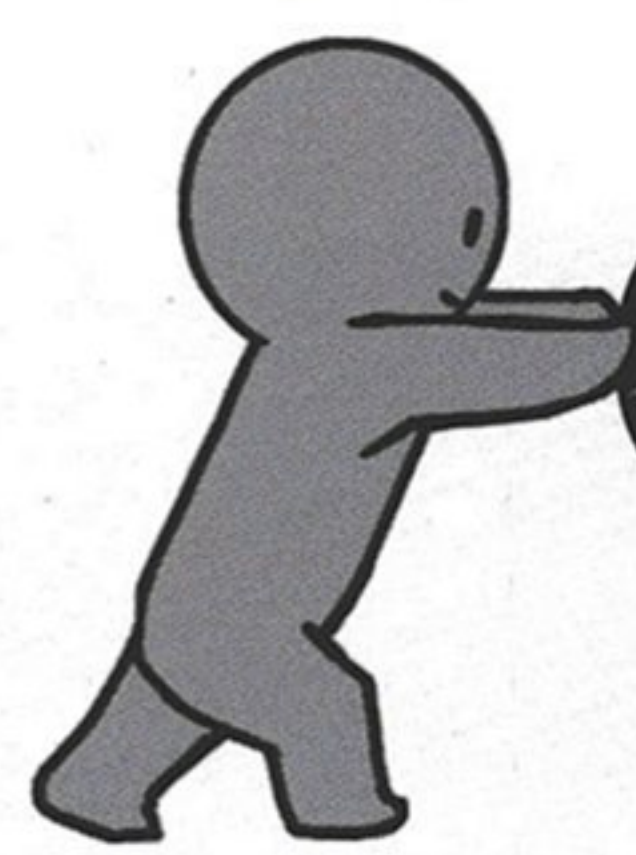

Through this space, the SBL staff support youth during the school day, run an after-school program, and connect youth to an array of diverse opportunities.

SERVE IT UP

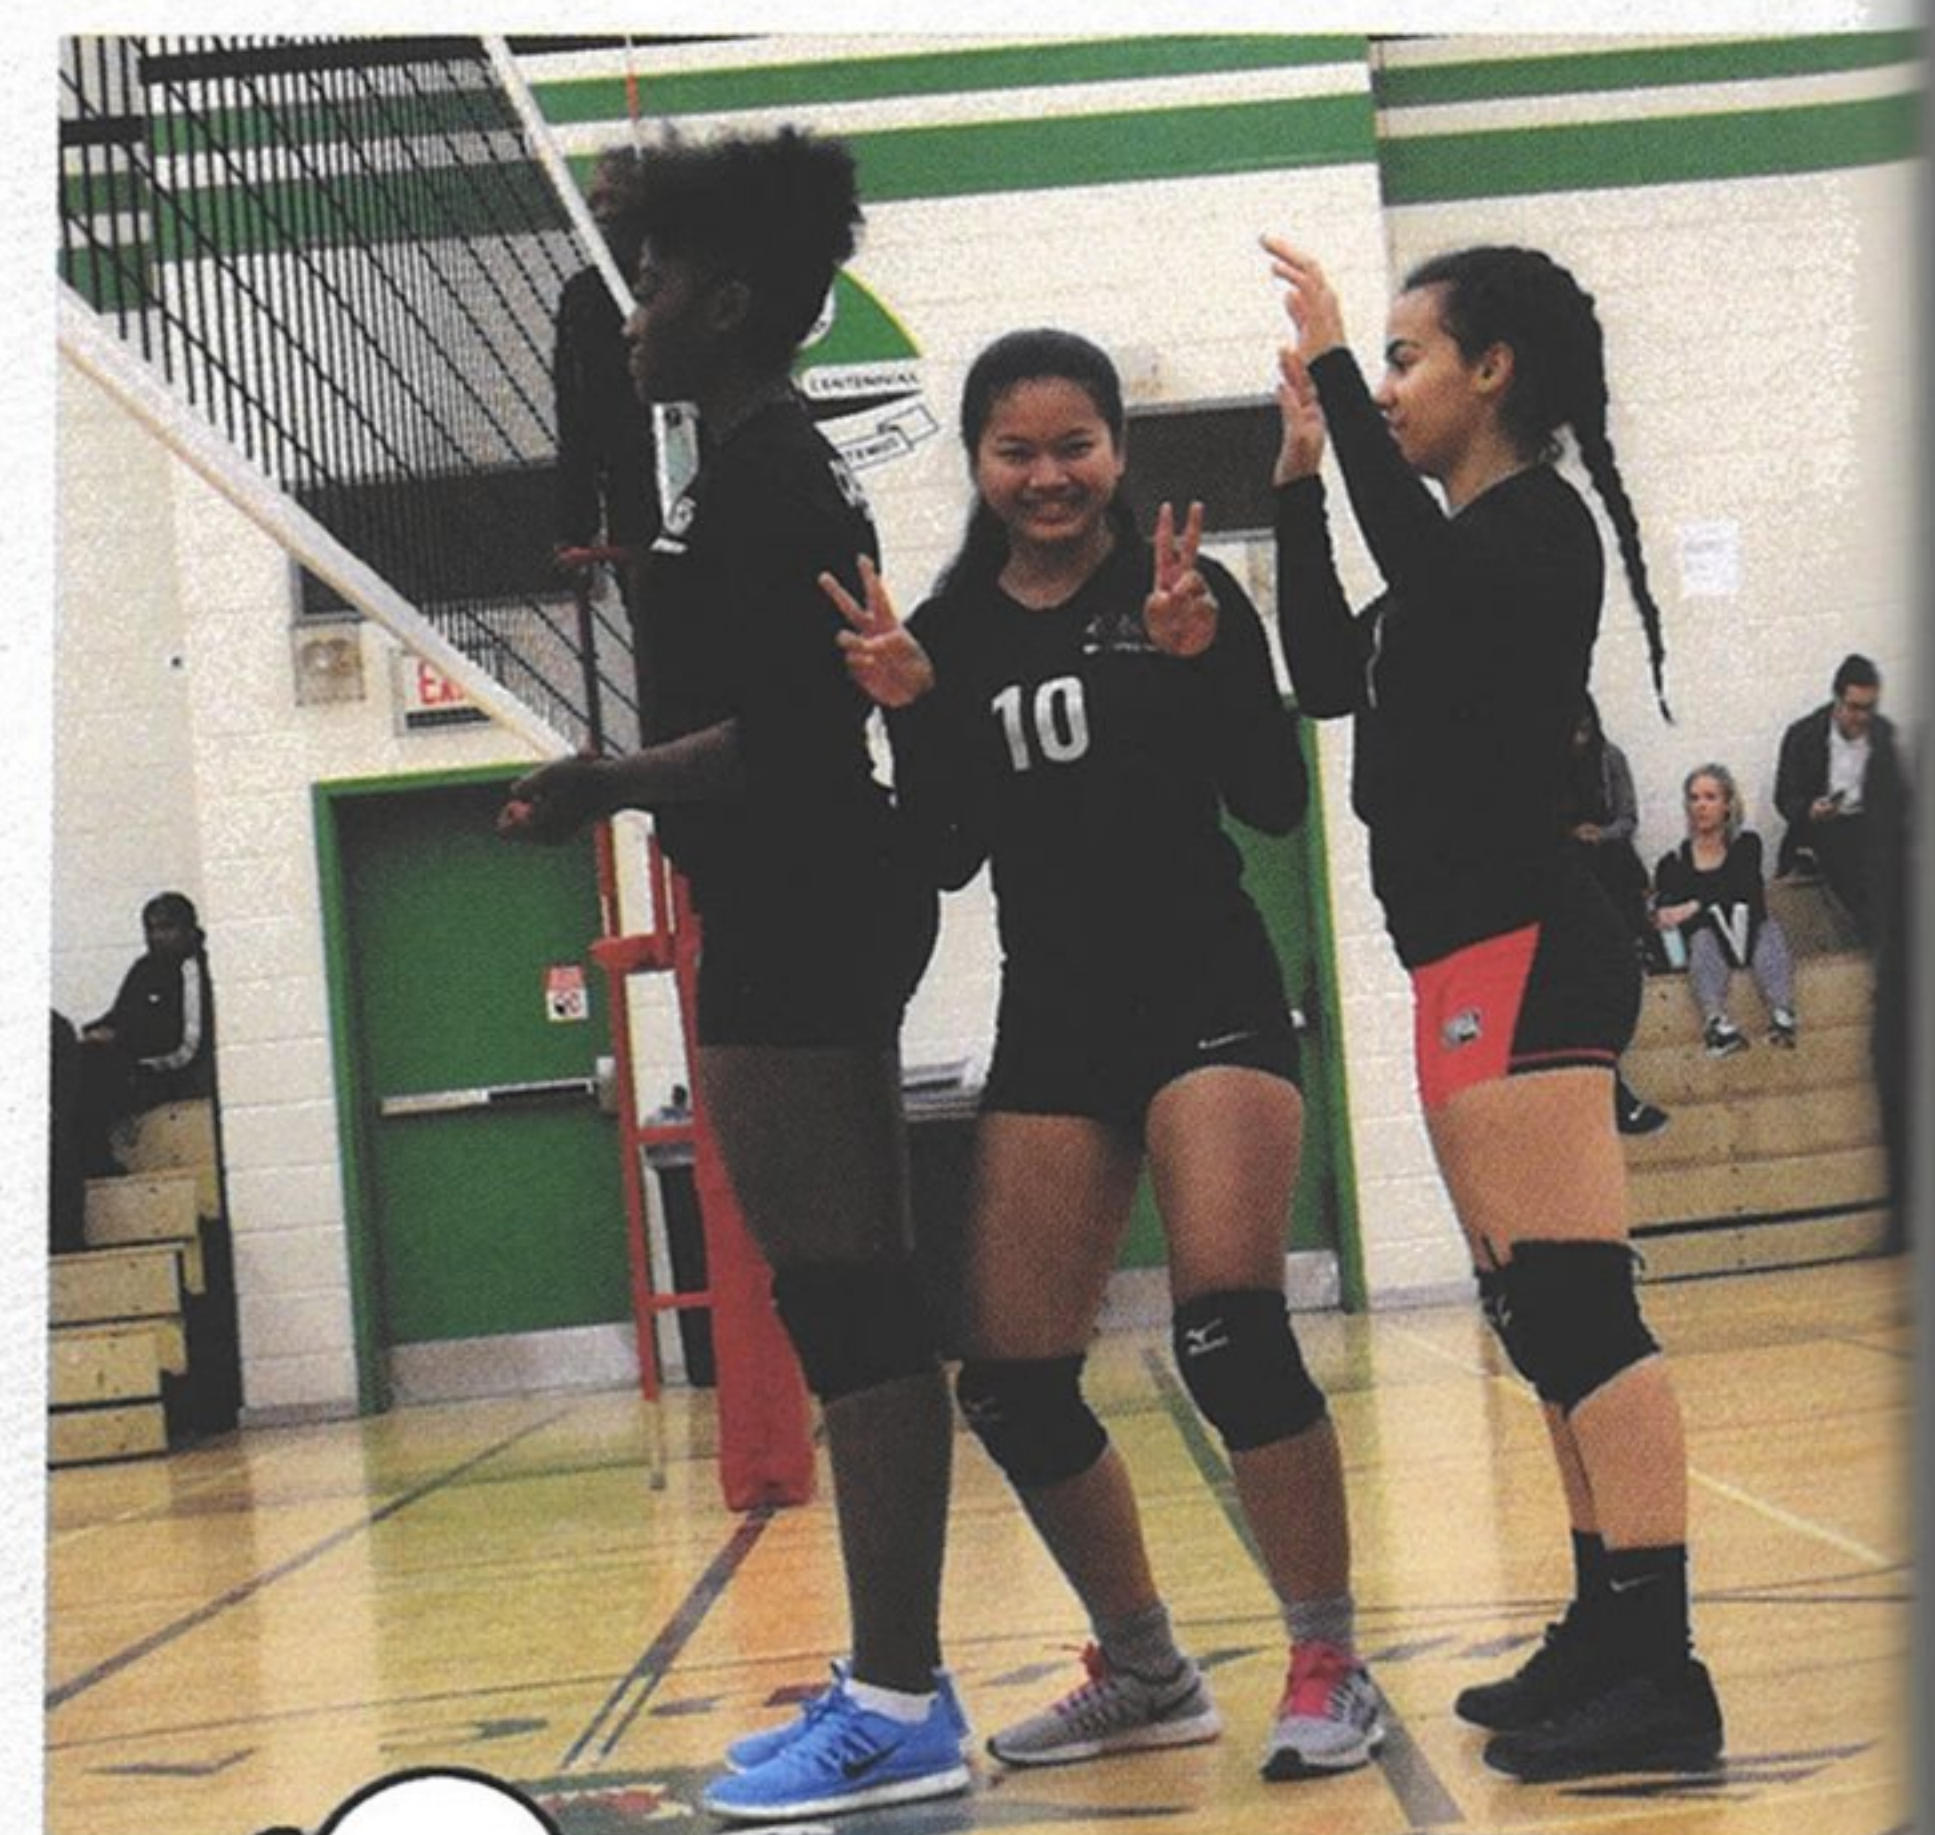

GET IT, SERVE IT, SPIKE IT

When the grueling two weeks of tryouts came to an end, 13 Westview students left the gymnasium with the coveted title of "Senior Volleyball Player" and with the same goal and mindset for the season to come. "Since it would be the last year for most of us, we pushed ourselves and improved as a team at every game and every practice," stated Gabriella Gonzalez senior on the team. The team practiced every single day of the week. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays after school. Tuesdays and Thursdays in the morning. The long practice hours consisting of sweat, blood and tears did indeed pay off. The girls placed second in the North Region, winning 5 out of the total 6 matches, moving them to the playoffs.

The team serve up more success on December 8th placing FIRST at the annual senior one day tournament held at Westview. A total of 8 matches were played, with a win for every one of them, well isn't that a great way to make a first impression!

FOLLOW THE LEADER

The Juniors have an undefeated season, for the first time in 7 years! Moving them to playoffs as the number one seed. "I want the Juniors to continue loving the sport of volleyball, the game of volleyball is very different from the junior to senior level. I believe in them and know success will continue coming their way." Stated Coach Kelli Leizer.

Phys-ed teacher Kelli Leizer, coaches both the senior and junior teams. With her determination and 17 years of coaching experience the team was already one step ahead of their opponents. "She always encourages us to stick together as a team from start to finish because in the end, our victories and mistakes are a reflection of how we work as a team." Stated senior Victoria Lor.

In water: Figo Rodney, Daniel Contreras, Shawn Luu.

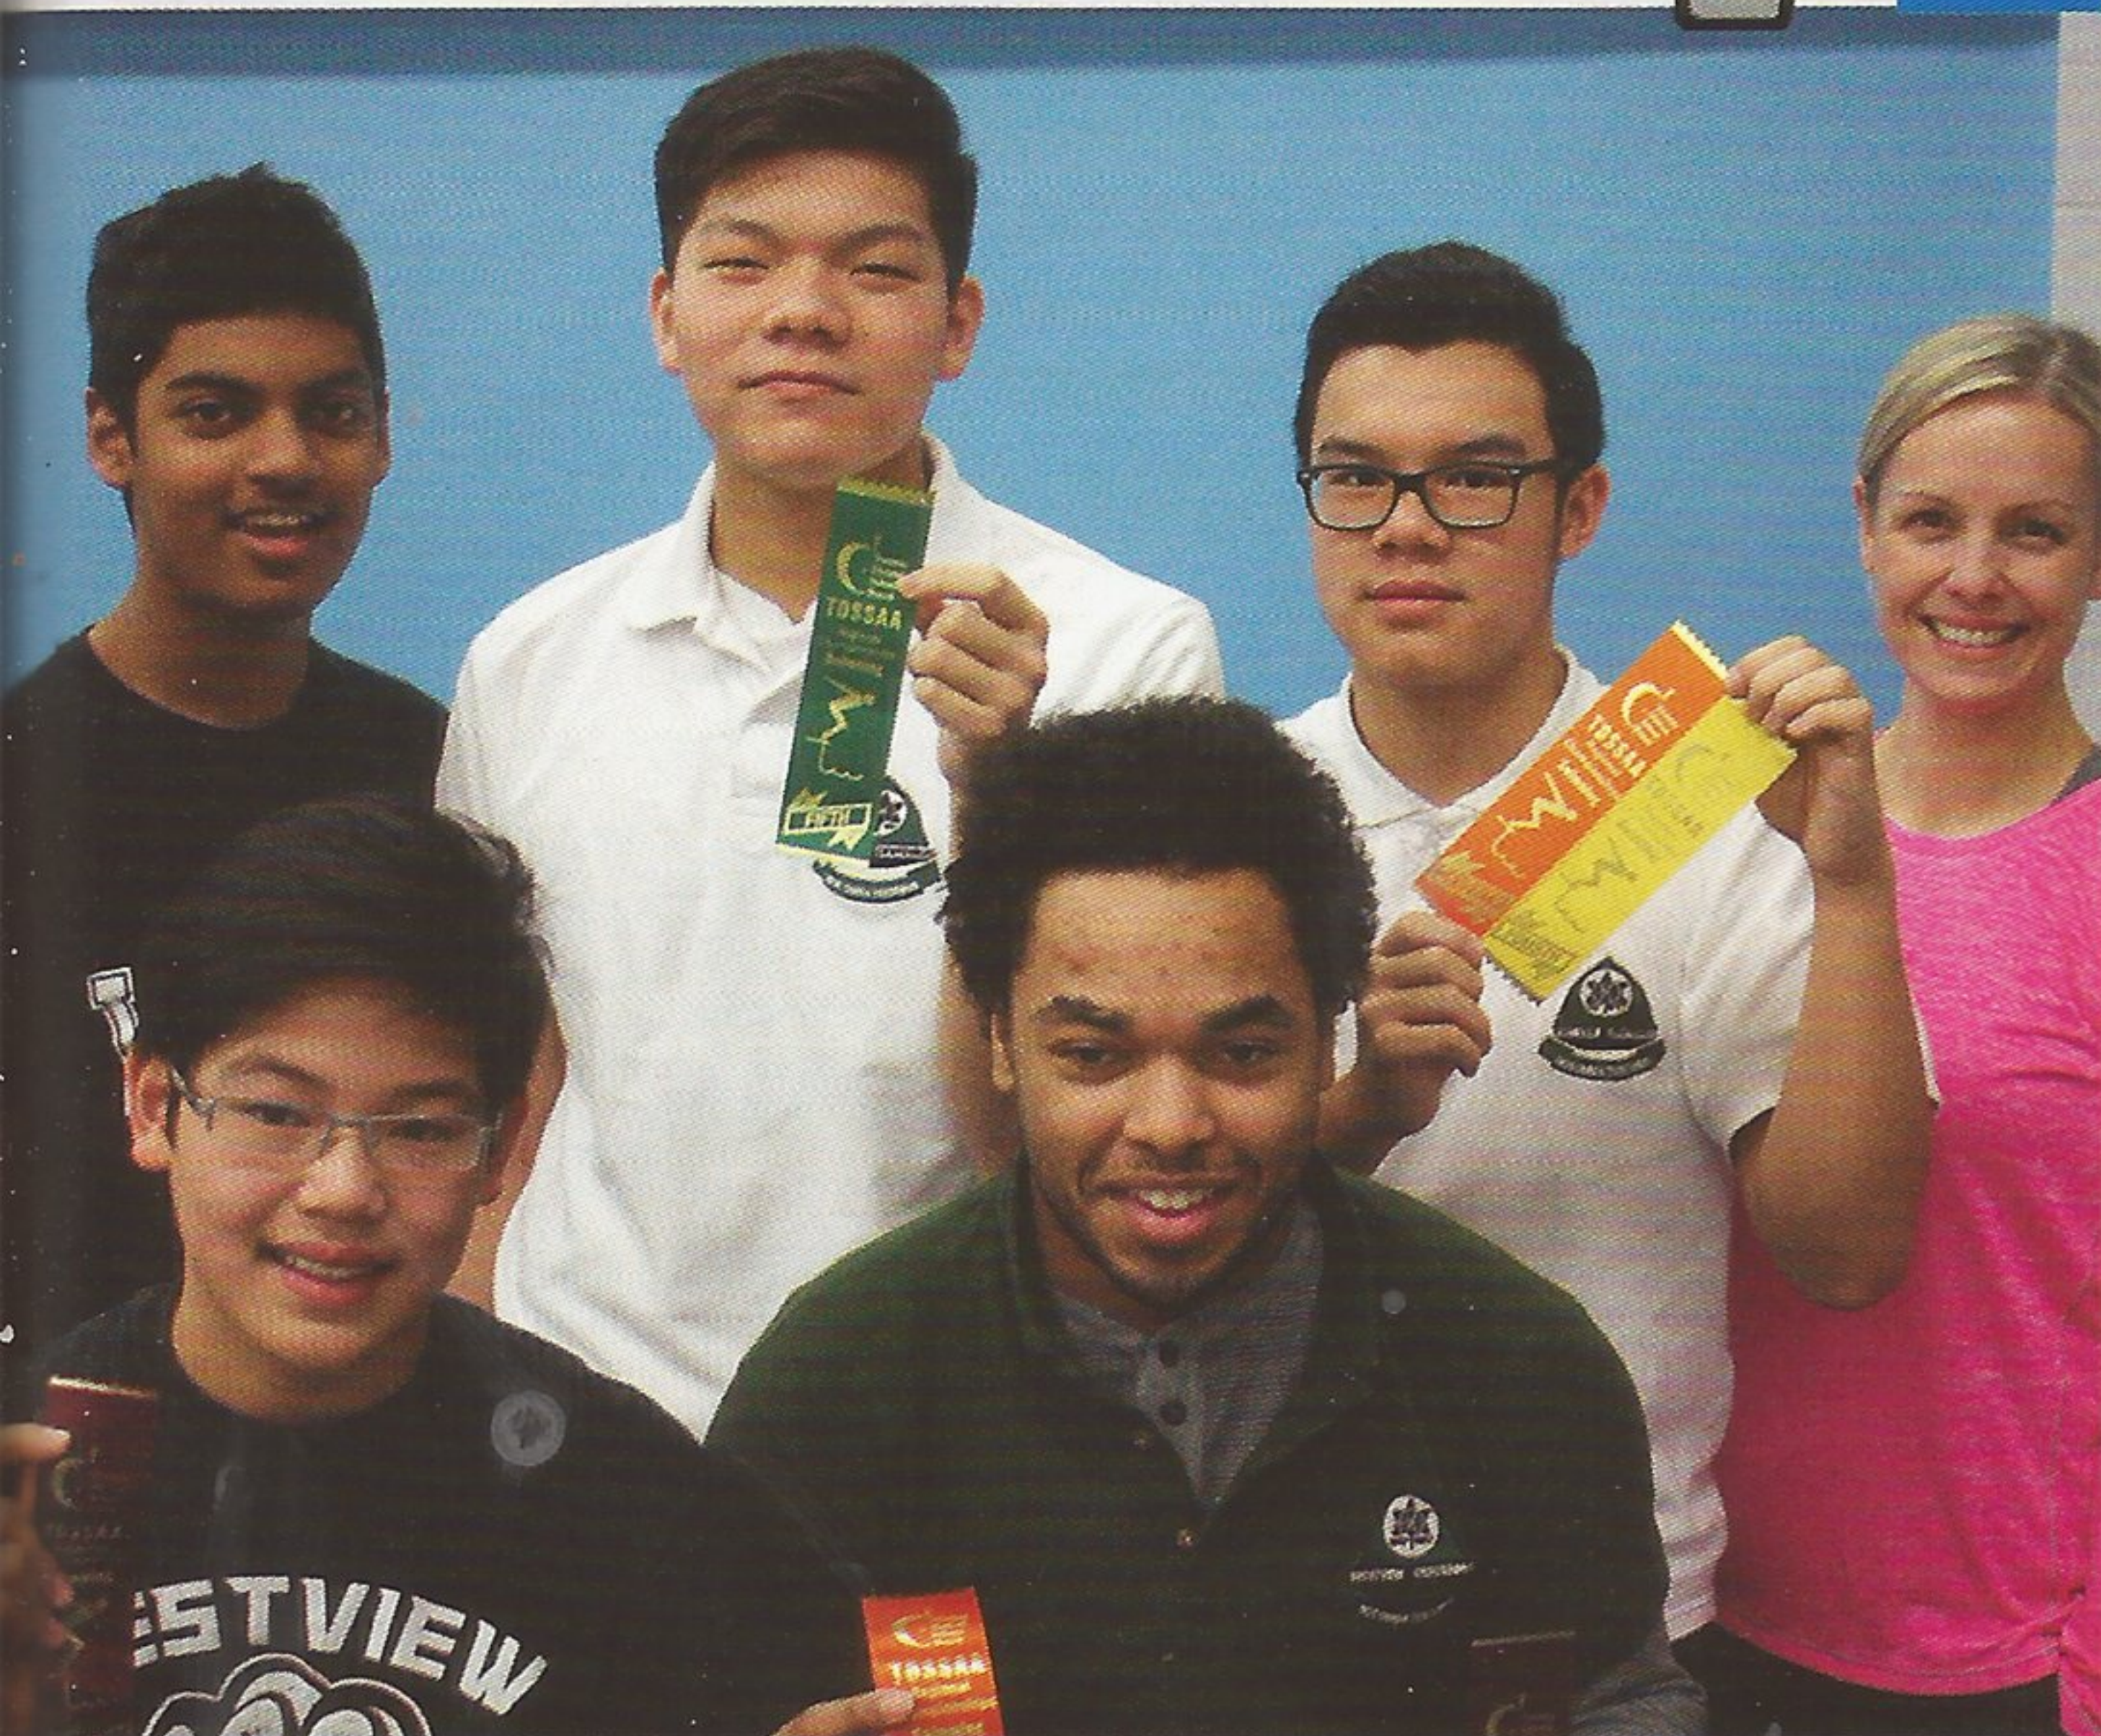

The sport of swimming is not one of the most popular sports at Westview, however it has been one sport that has steadily grown over the year. This year, our swim team had its most successful year ever. We began this season in October with 20 eager swimmers. Practices were held every day at lunch. Our swimmers participated in 5 meets in preparation for the Regional Finals which were held in February at the Etobicoke Olympian. We had 9 swimmers compete at the Regional Finals, where everyone was able to post a personal best time for their events.

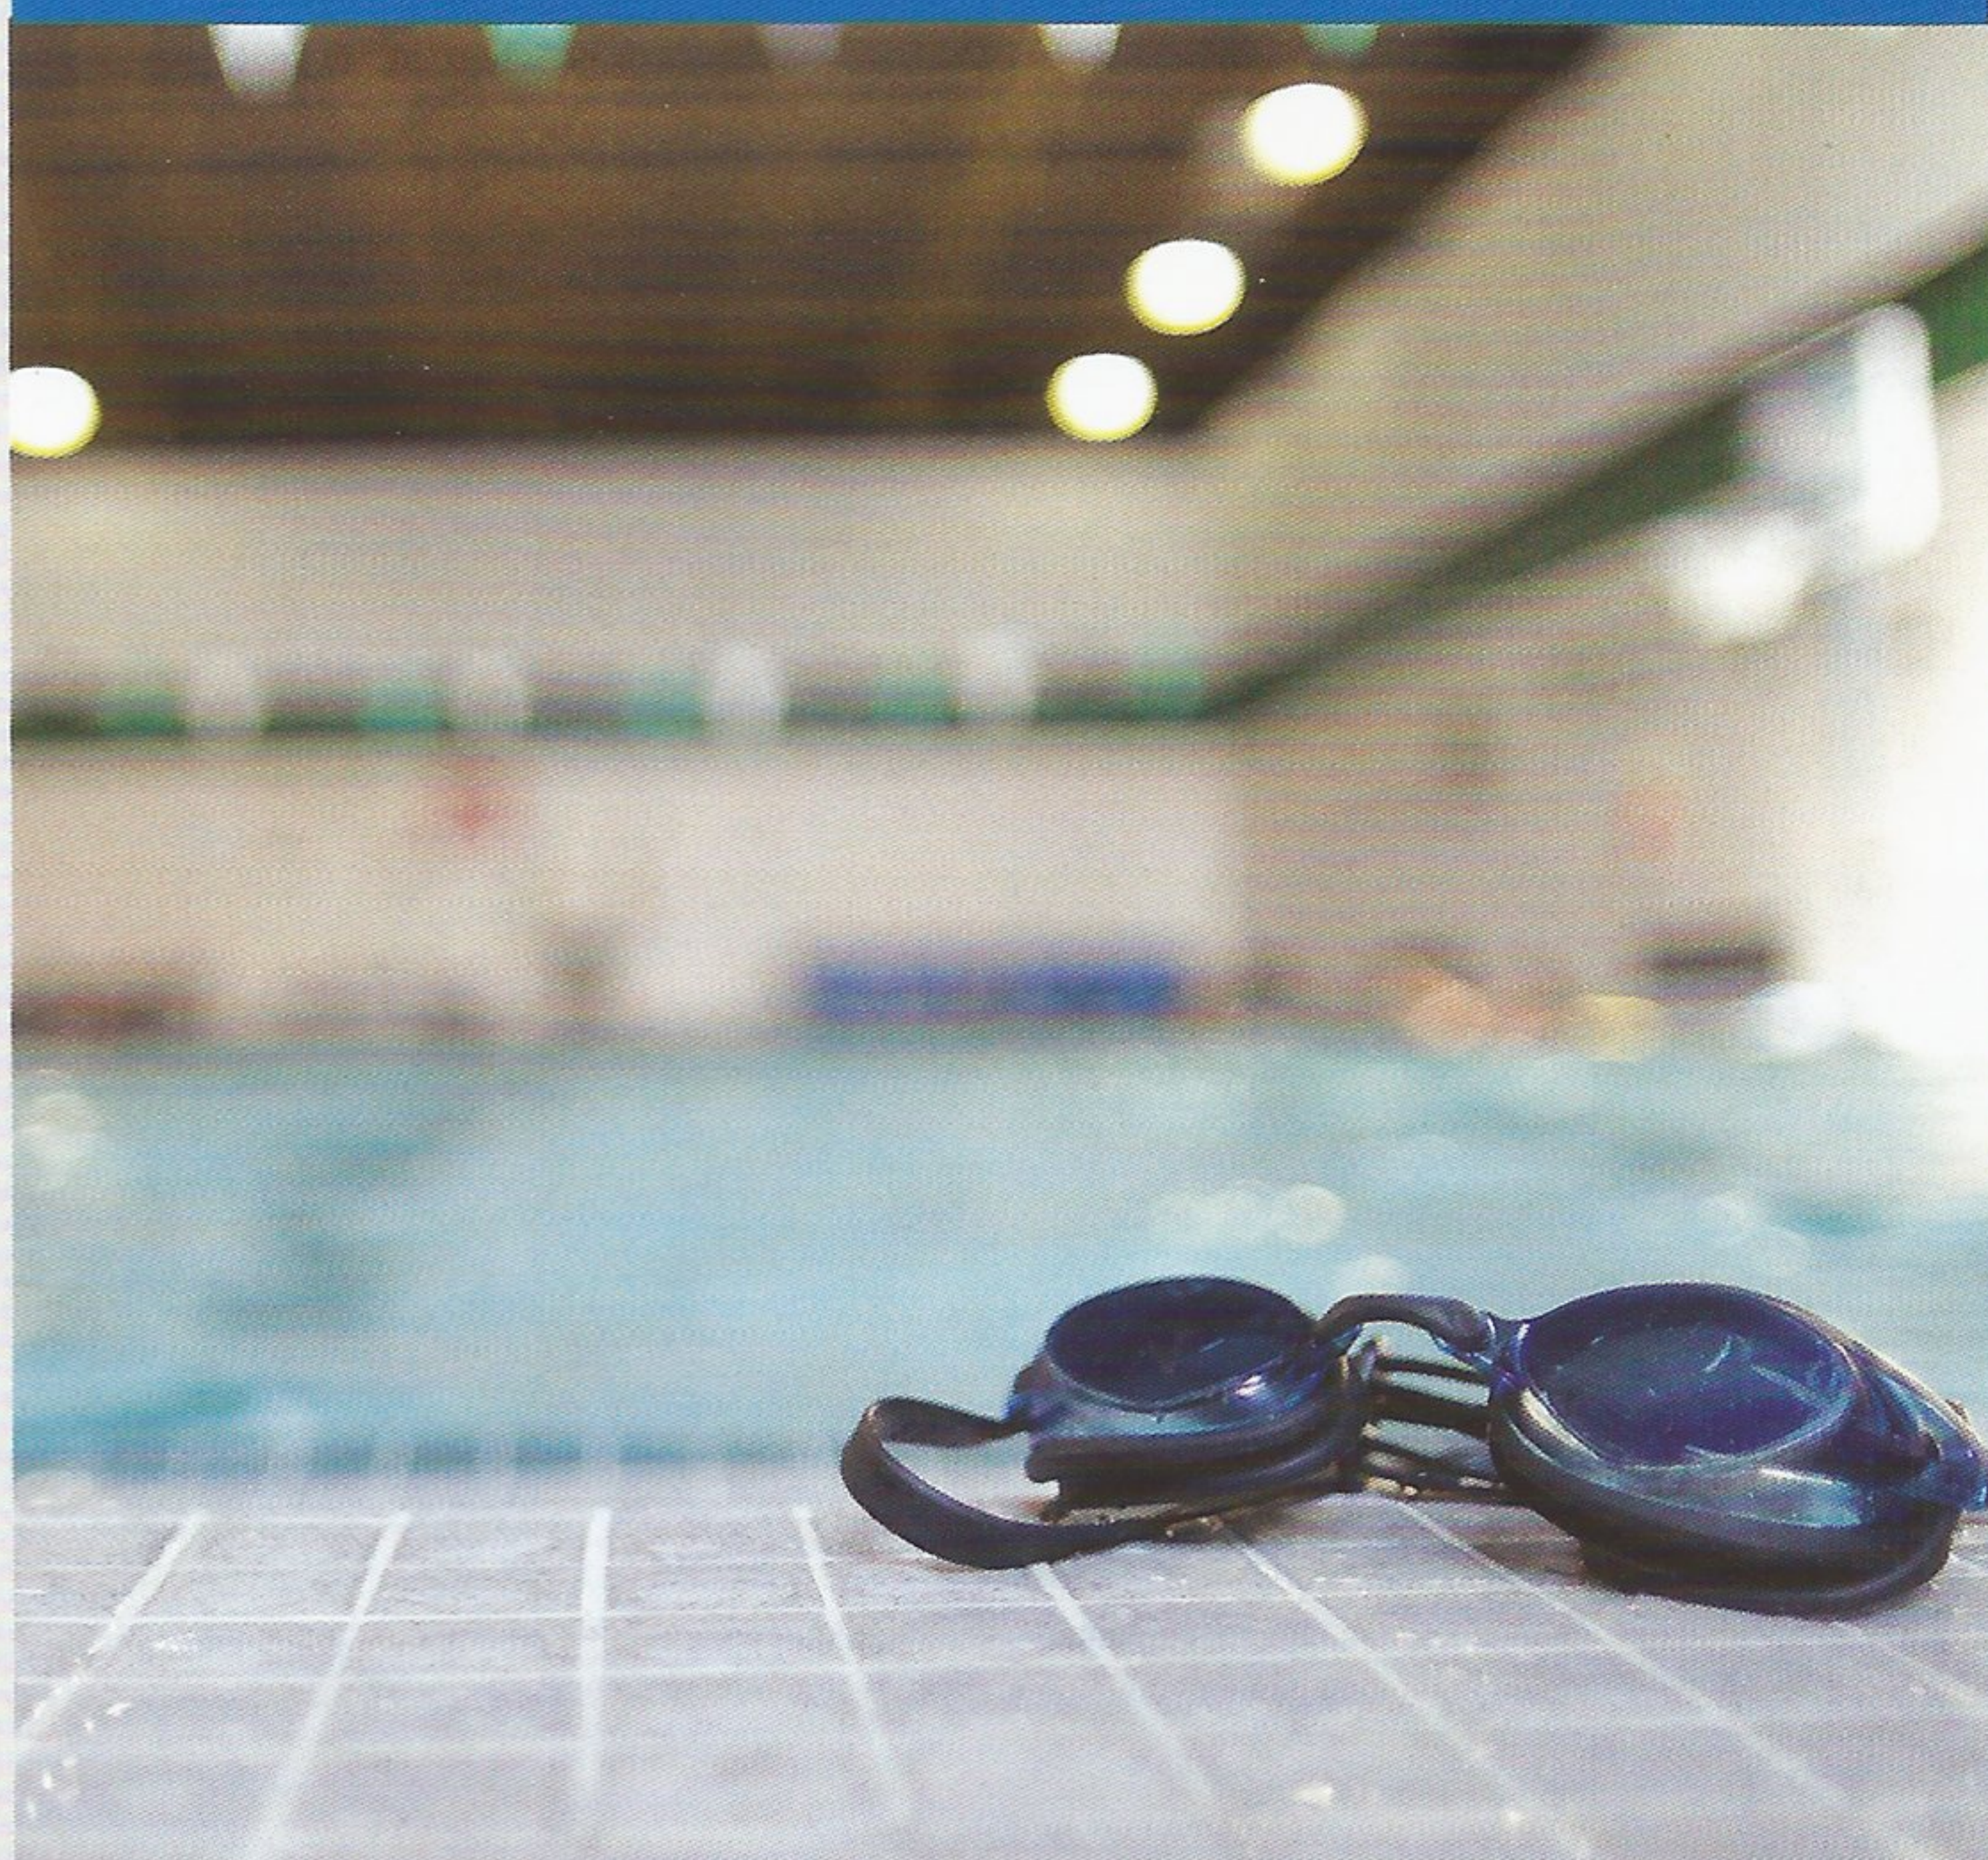

This meet saw many of our swimmers earn ribbons for their results in their events. Regional Ribbon winners were : Duy Le, Nicholas Serrano, David Tran, and the Junior boys Relay team (Shawn Luu, Duy Le, Rahman Bayne and David Tran).

SWIMMER ACHIEVEMENTS

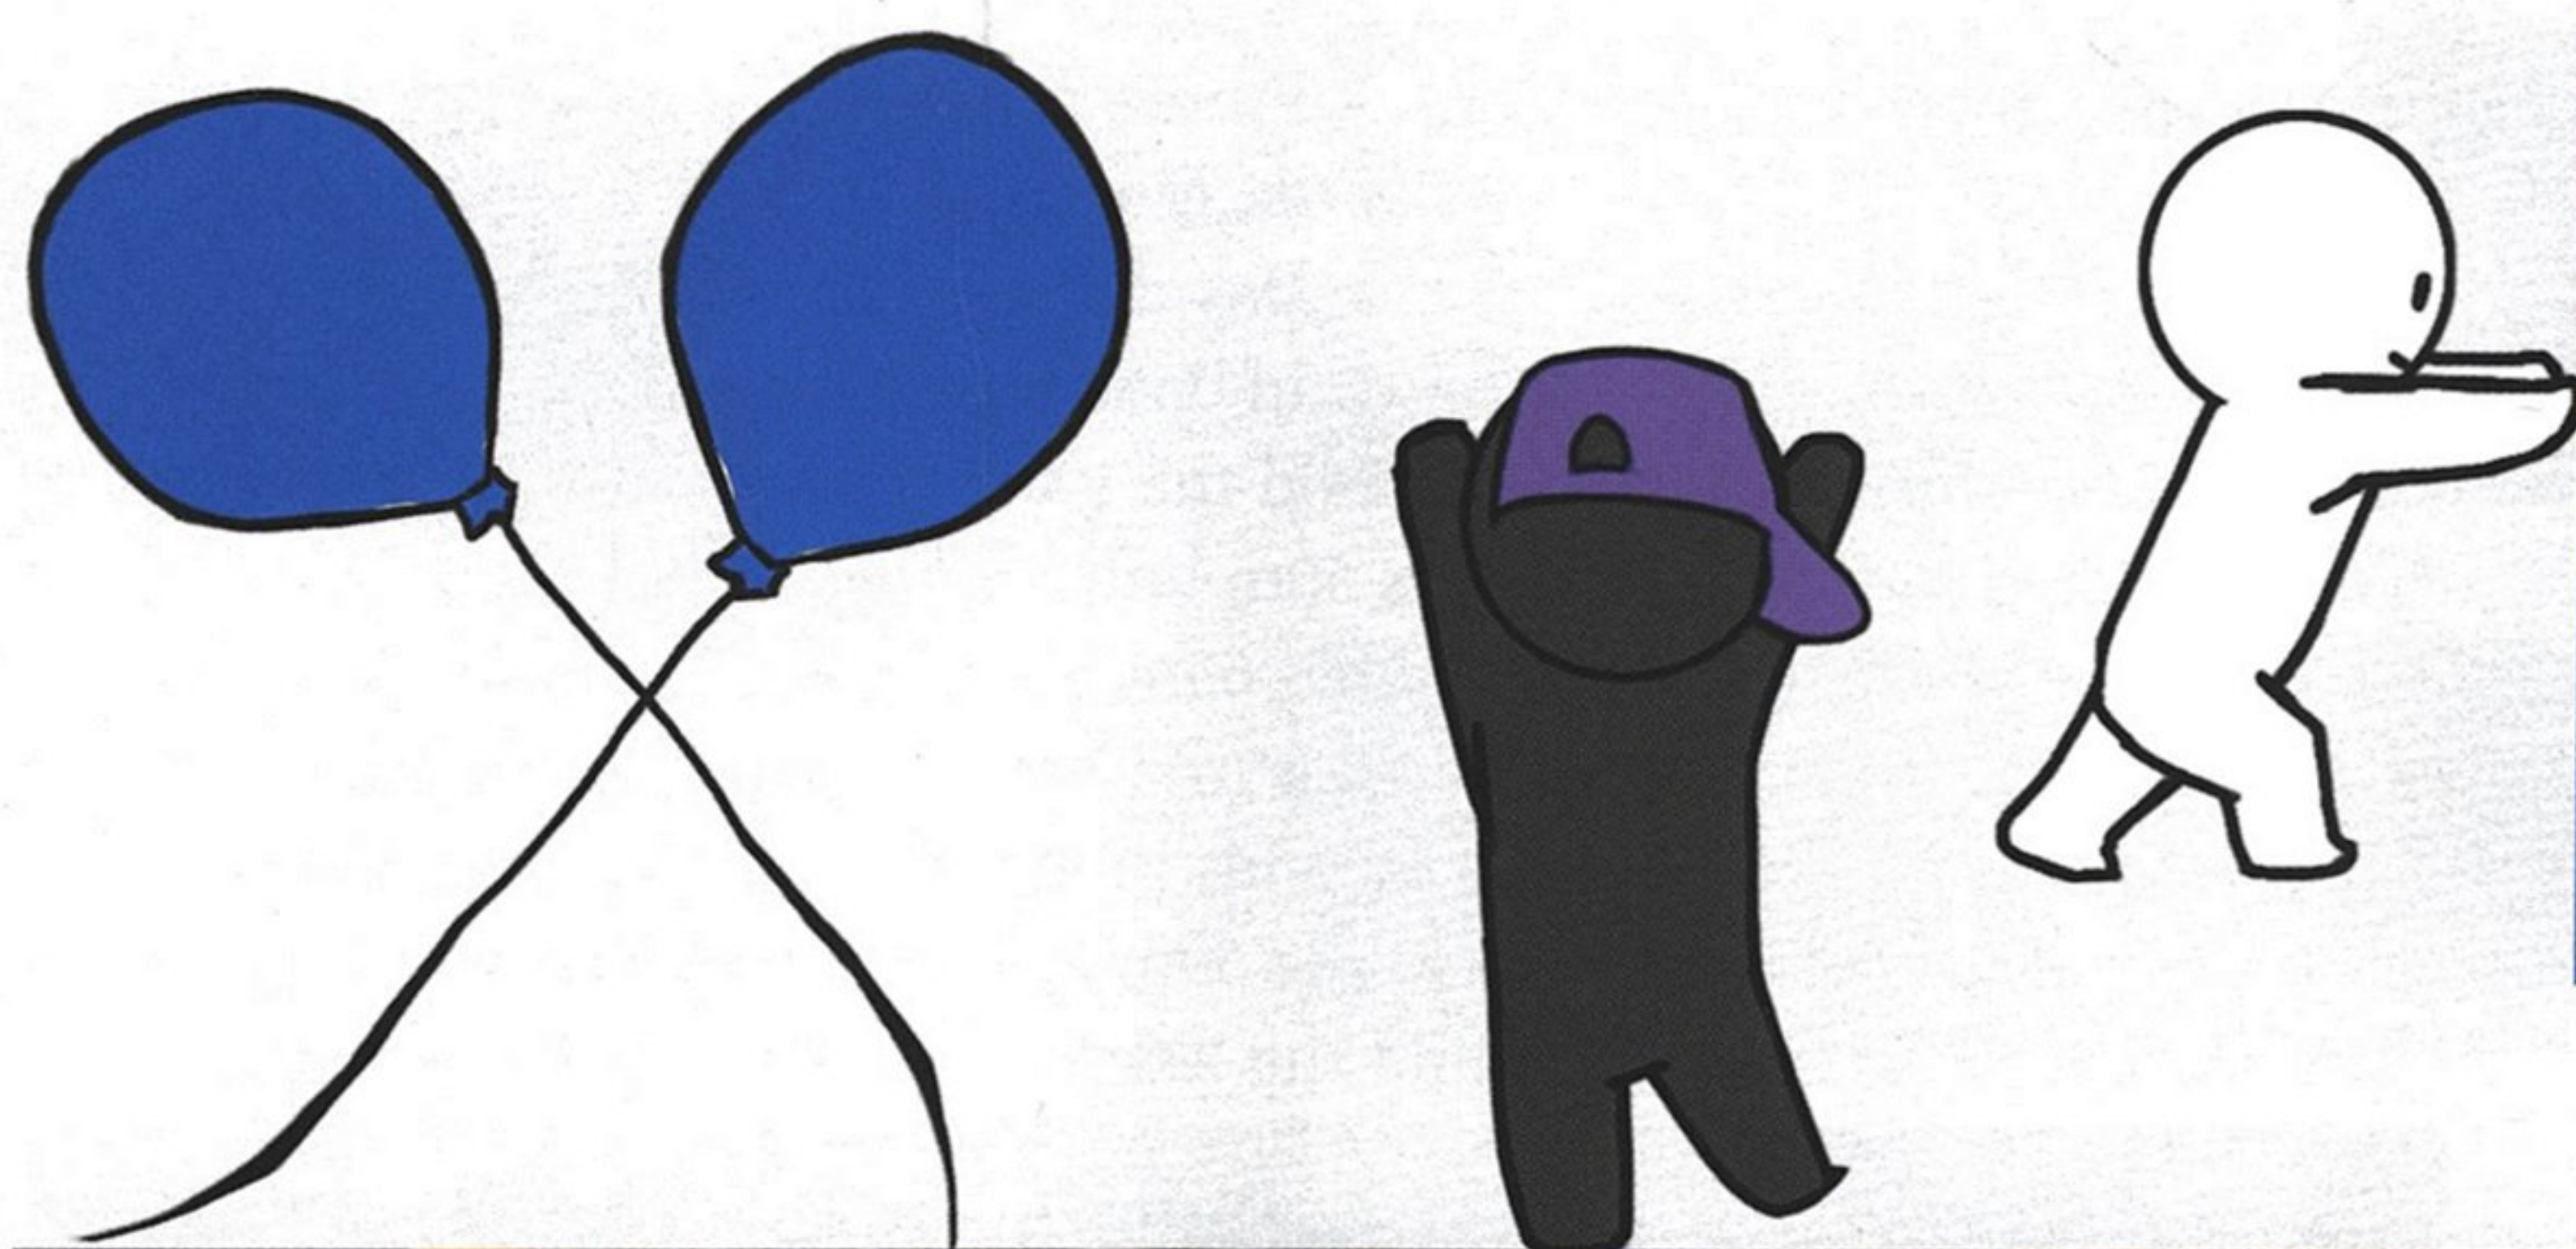

Front Row: Shawn Luu, Nicholas Serrano.
Second Row: Rahman Bayne, David Tron, Duy Le, Ms. A Clarke (coach)

For the first time ever, Westview had three swimmers qualify for the City Championships. This was held at the Markham Pan Am Center at the end of February. Nicholas Serrano, David Tran and Duy Le each qualified to participate in this very exciting and challenging meet. Duy Le qualified for the Junior boys 50m freestyle, and the 100m freestyle events. David Tran qualified for the Junior boys 50m butterfly event, and Nicholas Serrano qualified for the Senior boys 50m backstroke. The boys did extremely well, and competed against the best swimmers in the city, Nicholas posted a time of 41.28 seconds in the 50m backstroke, David posted a time of 40.93 seconds in the 50m butterfly, and Duy swam the 50m freestyle in 31.01 seconds and the 100m freestyle in 1:10:95 seconds.

Mr.Taborek and Ms.Clarke are both very proud of the amazing commitment and effort that our team demonstrated during the season! We look forward to building on this years' success next year

MIDDLE SCHOOL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT AT WESTVIEW

In March, Westview hosted a middle school basketball tournament with eight schools from the surrounding area. Hilltop and Oakdale middle school competed in the finals resulting in Oakdale winning the championship.

WHEEL CHAIR BASKETBALL

Wheelchair Basketball Canada visited Westview in March. Our phys-ed classes participated in the wheelchair basketball workshop, and were able to experience what it would be like to play basketball in wheels.

"You need to have a good upper body strength in order to be great in the sport of the wheelchair basketball. In wheelchair basketball your legs are bounded and useless. It's up to your upper body to help you shoot the ball, dribble and move around the court. Players must be quick to move around and you move around by force of the push you give the wheelchair wheel."

In Loving Memory of Christopher John Hayes

1961-2017

In January, Westview sadly said goodbye to Chris Hayes. Chris was more than a safety monitor. He was family. His art and the impact he had on students and staff will always be remembered. Chris's good friend and colleague Ms. Medeiros said of the murals he worked on with students; "He wanted to represent the student body and for us to be surrounded by representations of those important faces that make up our everyday at school."

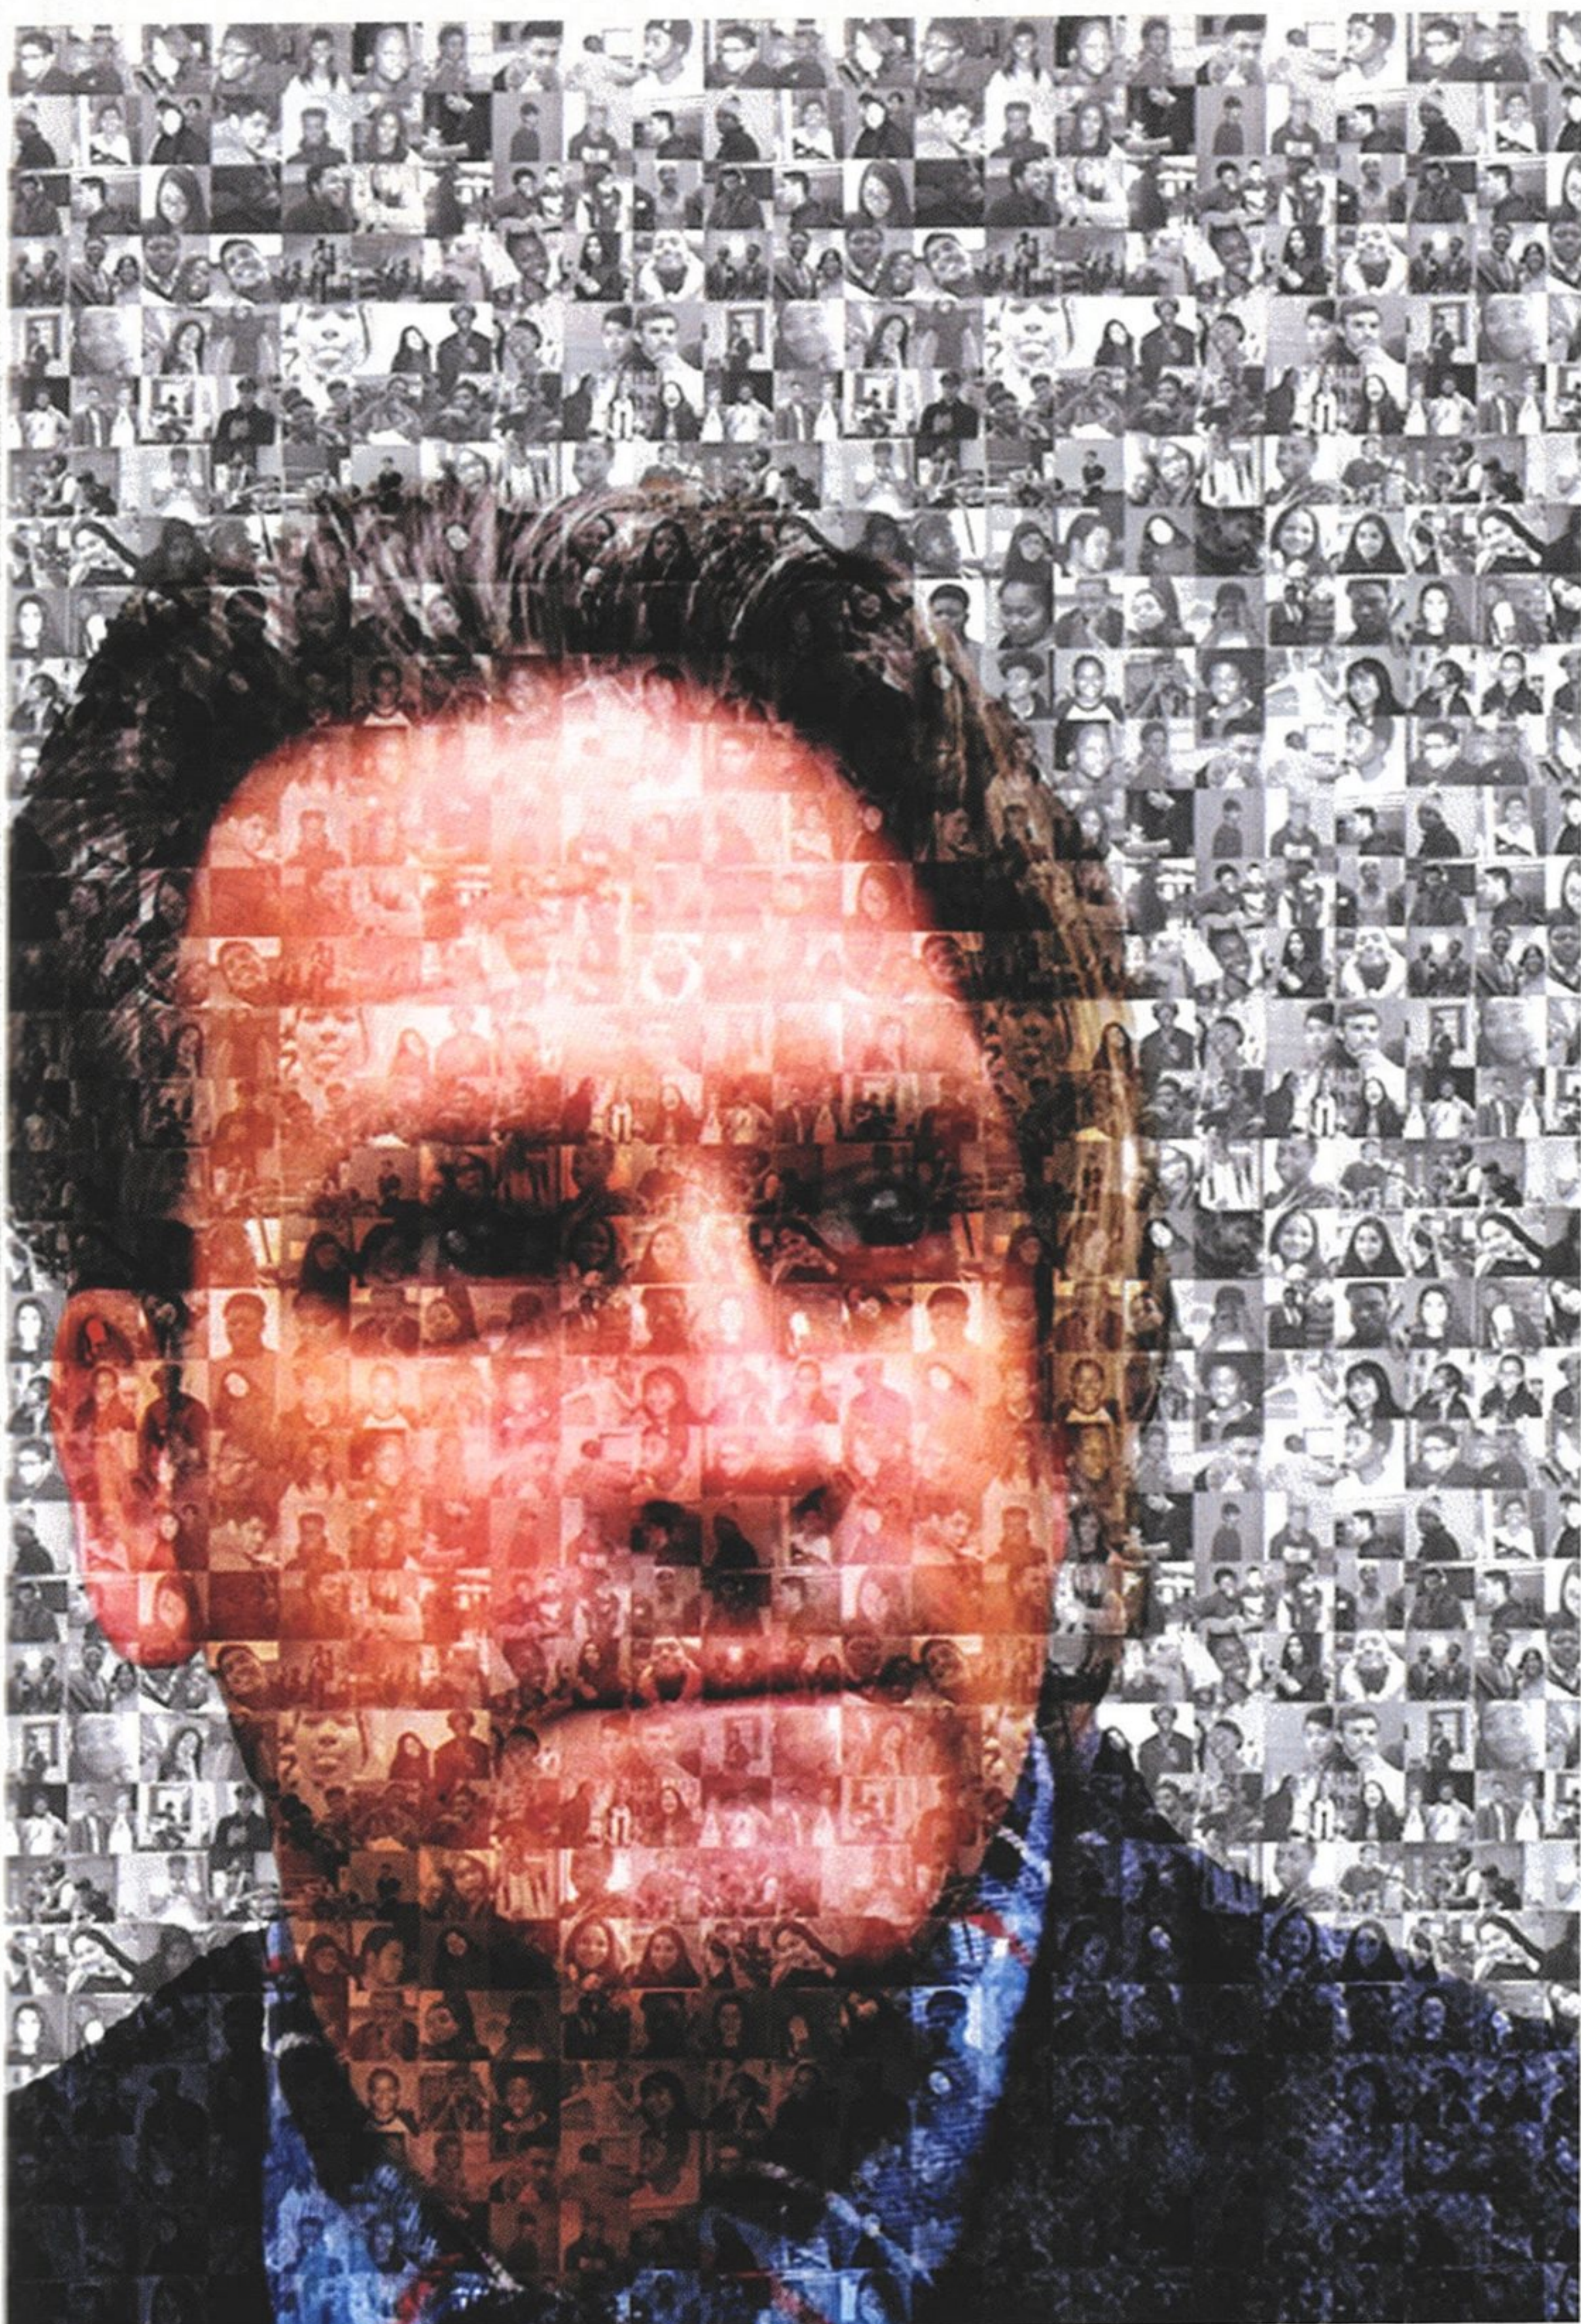

Steel Pan players Kenno Miller, Christopher Somai, Parveena Persaud, with Mr. Soares and Isaiah Ankrah perform.

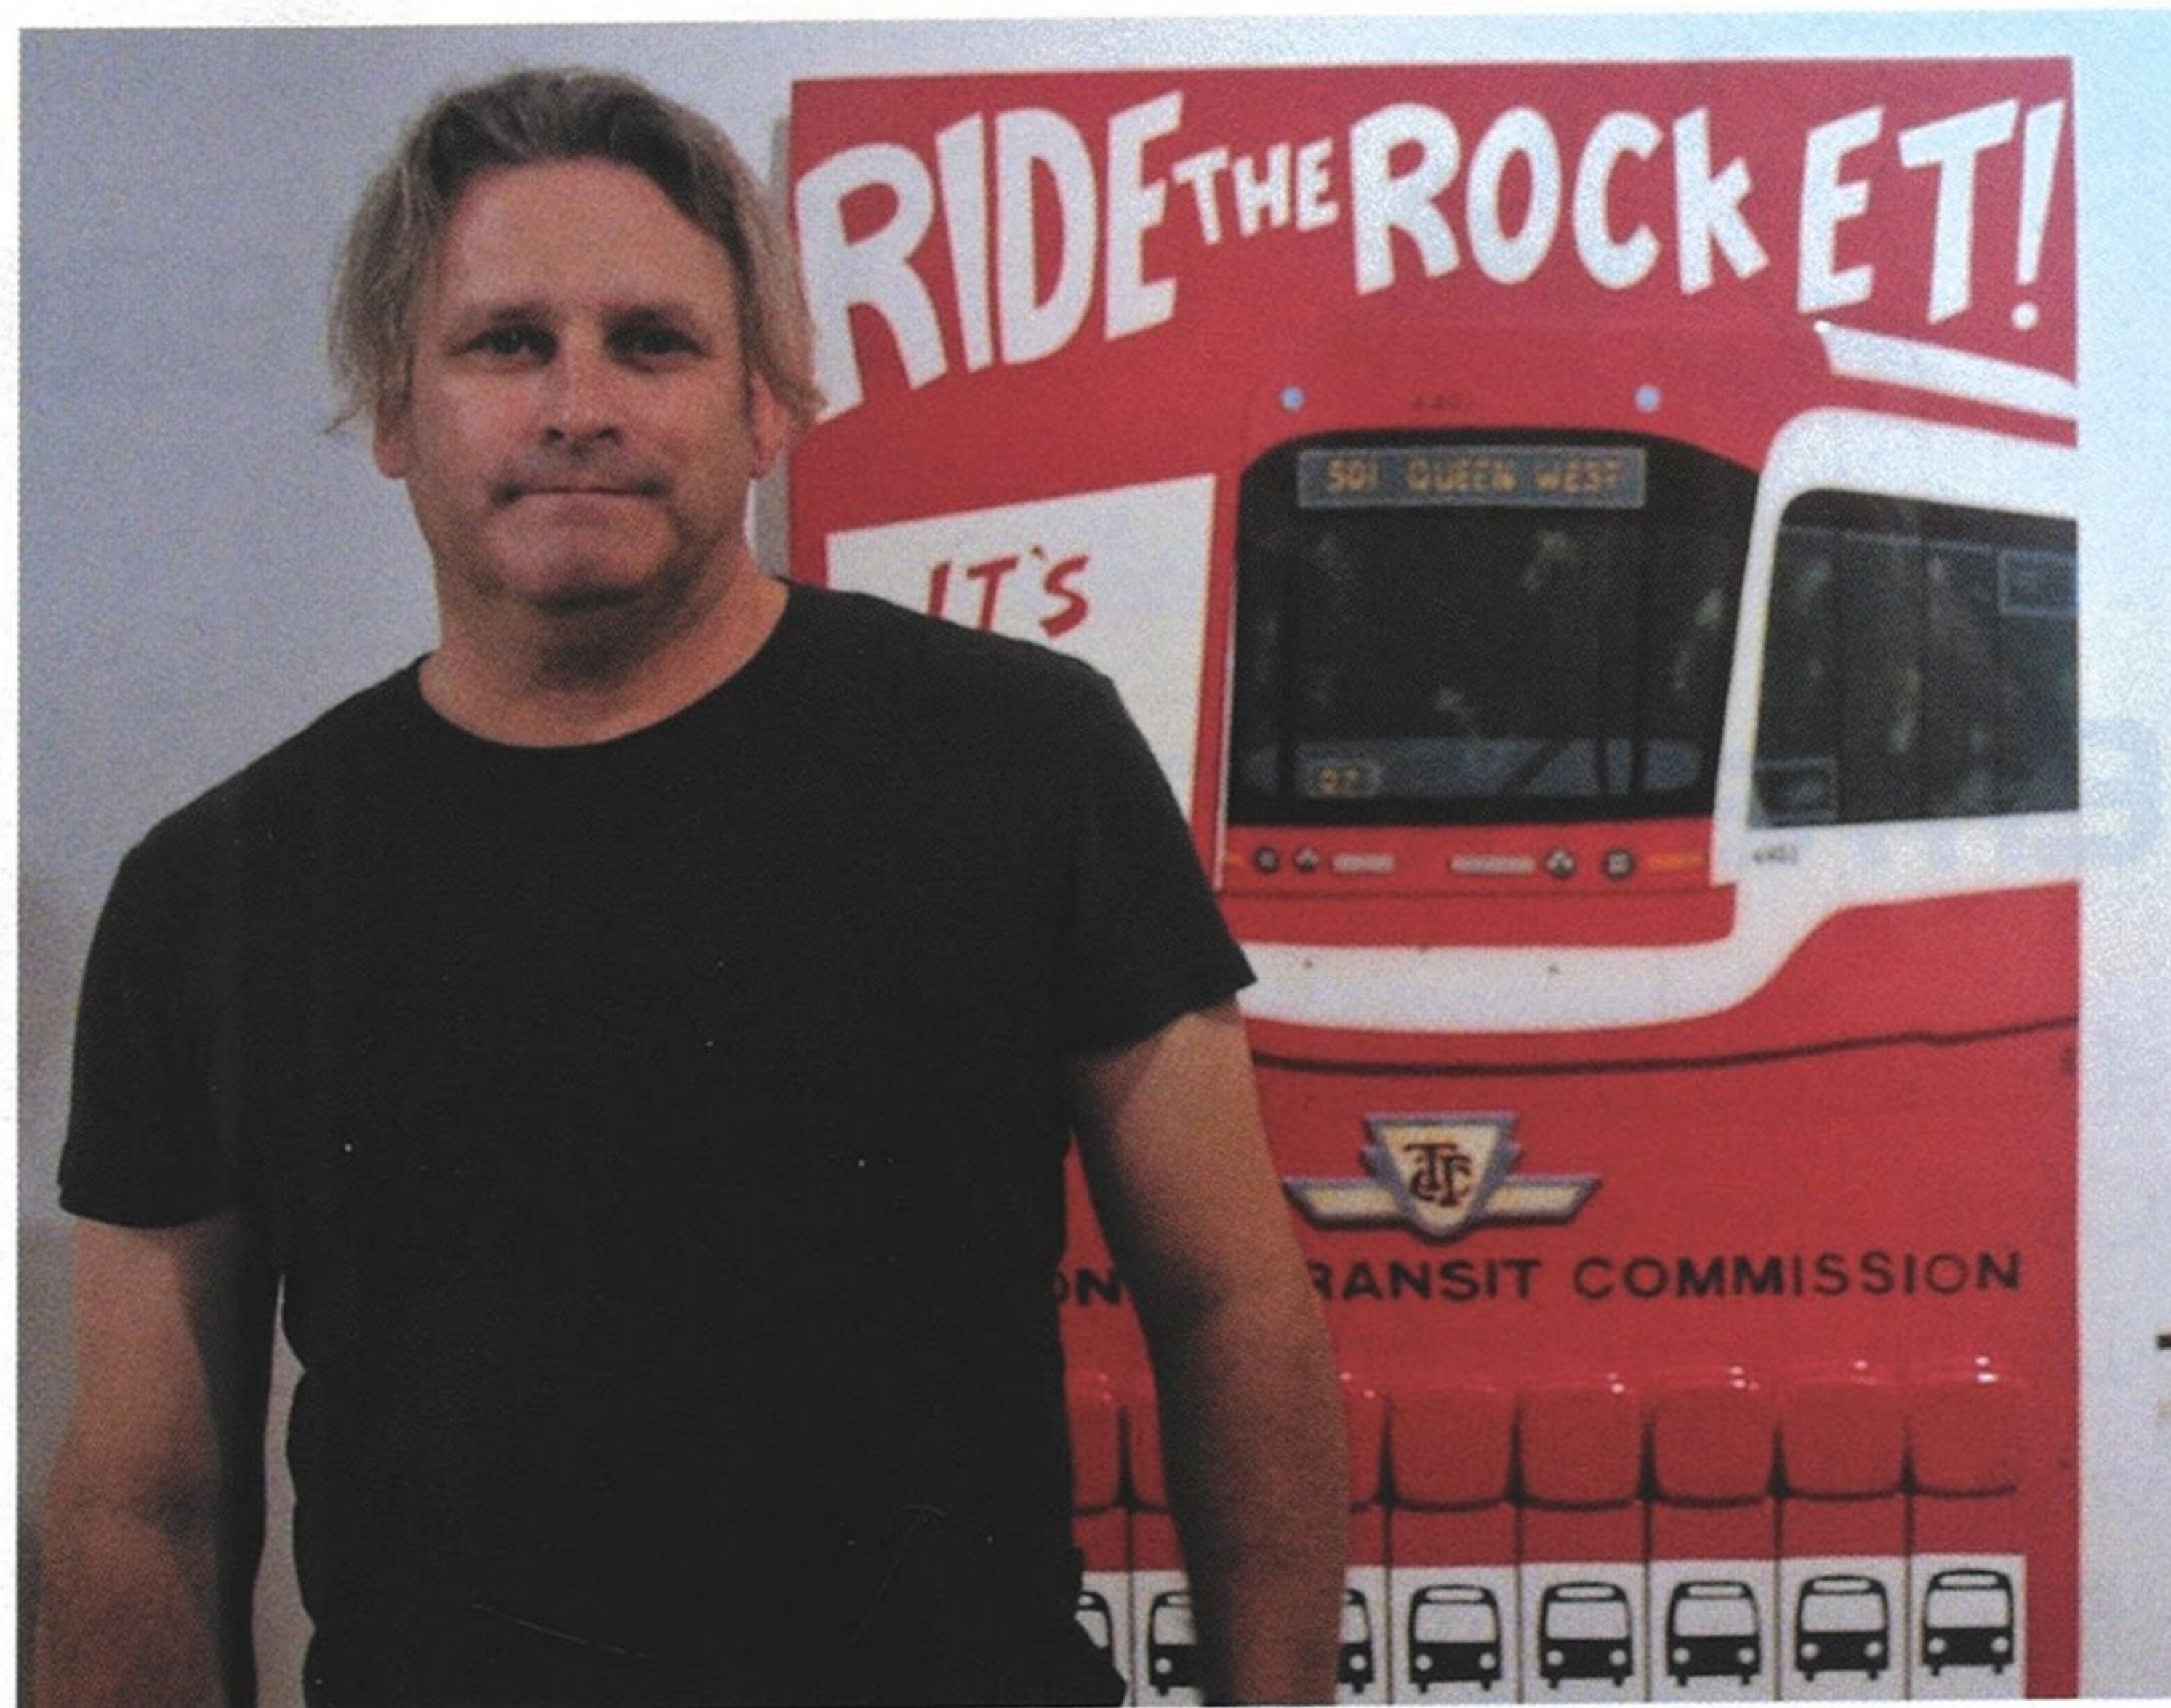

Fellow safety monitors Fitzroy Reid, Ken Glasgow, Victor Galan, Chris Blackwood pay tribute to Chris during the assembly.

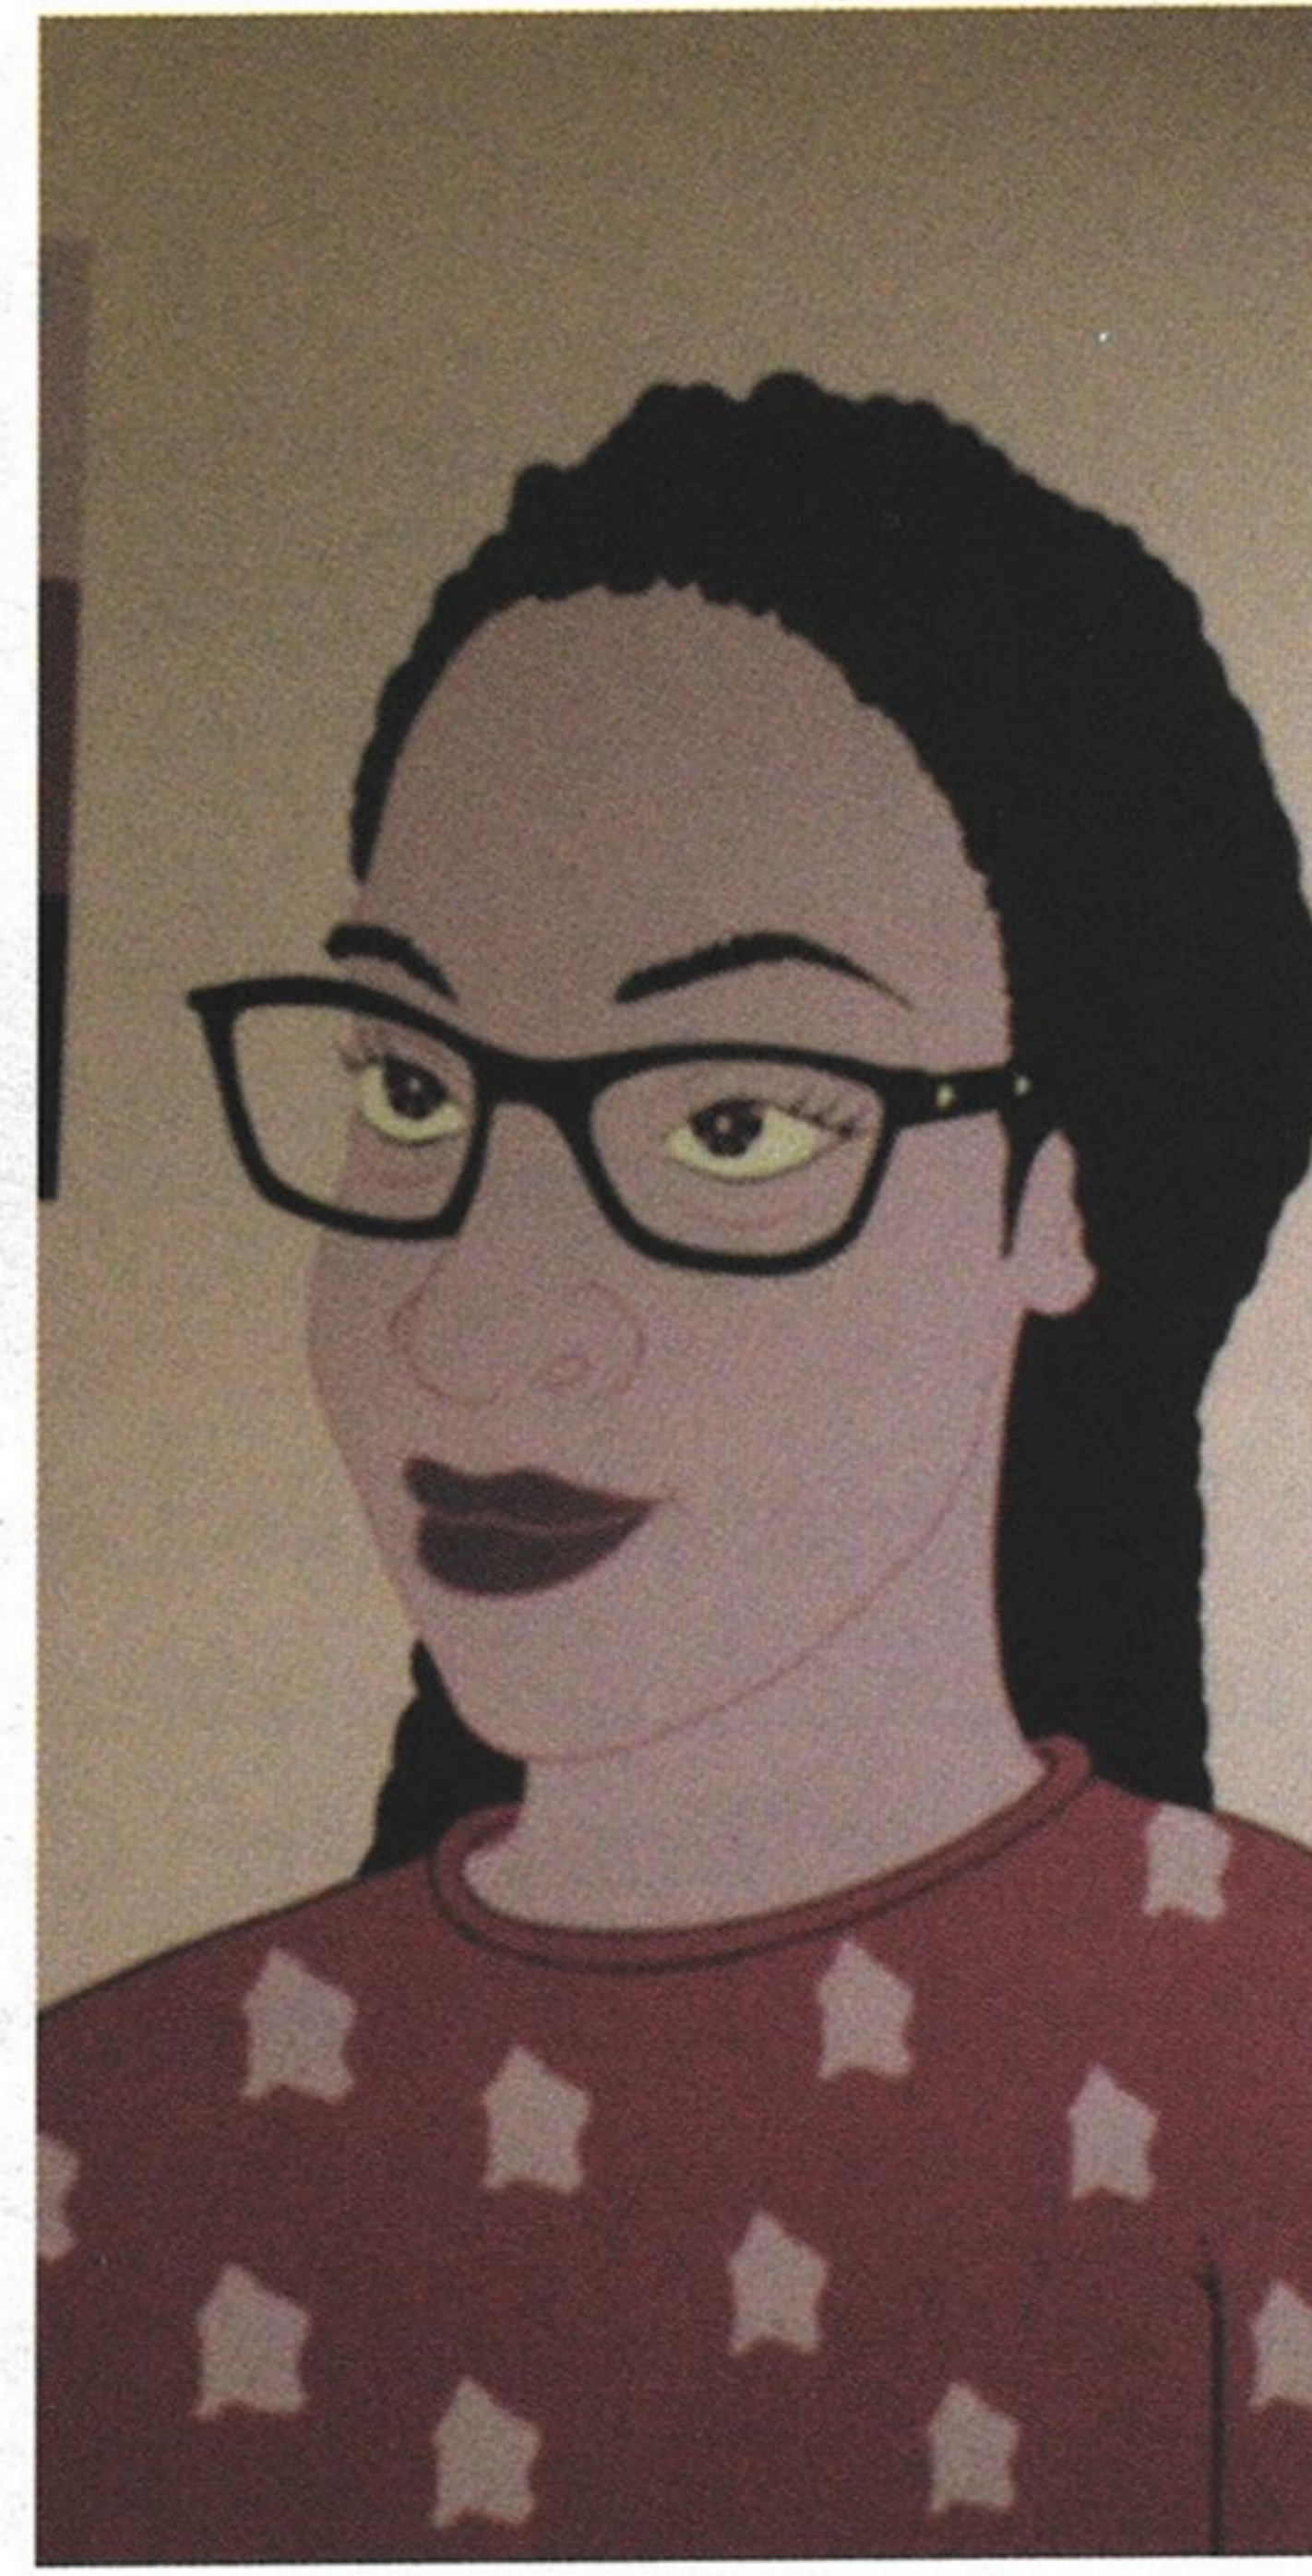

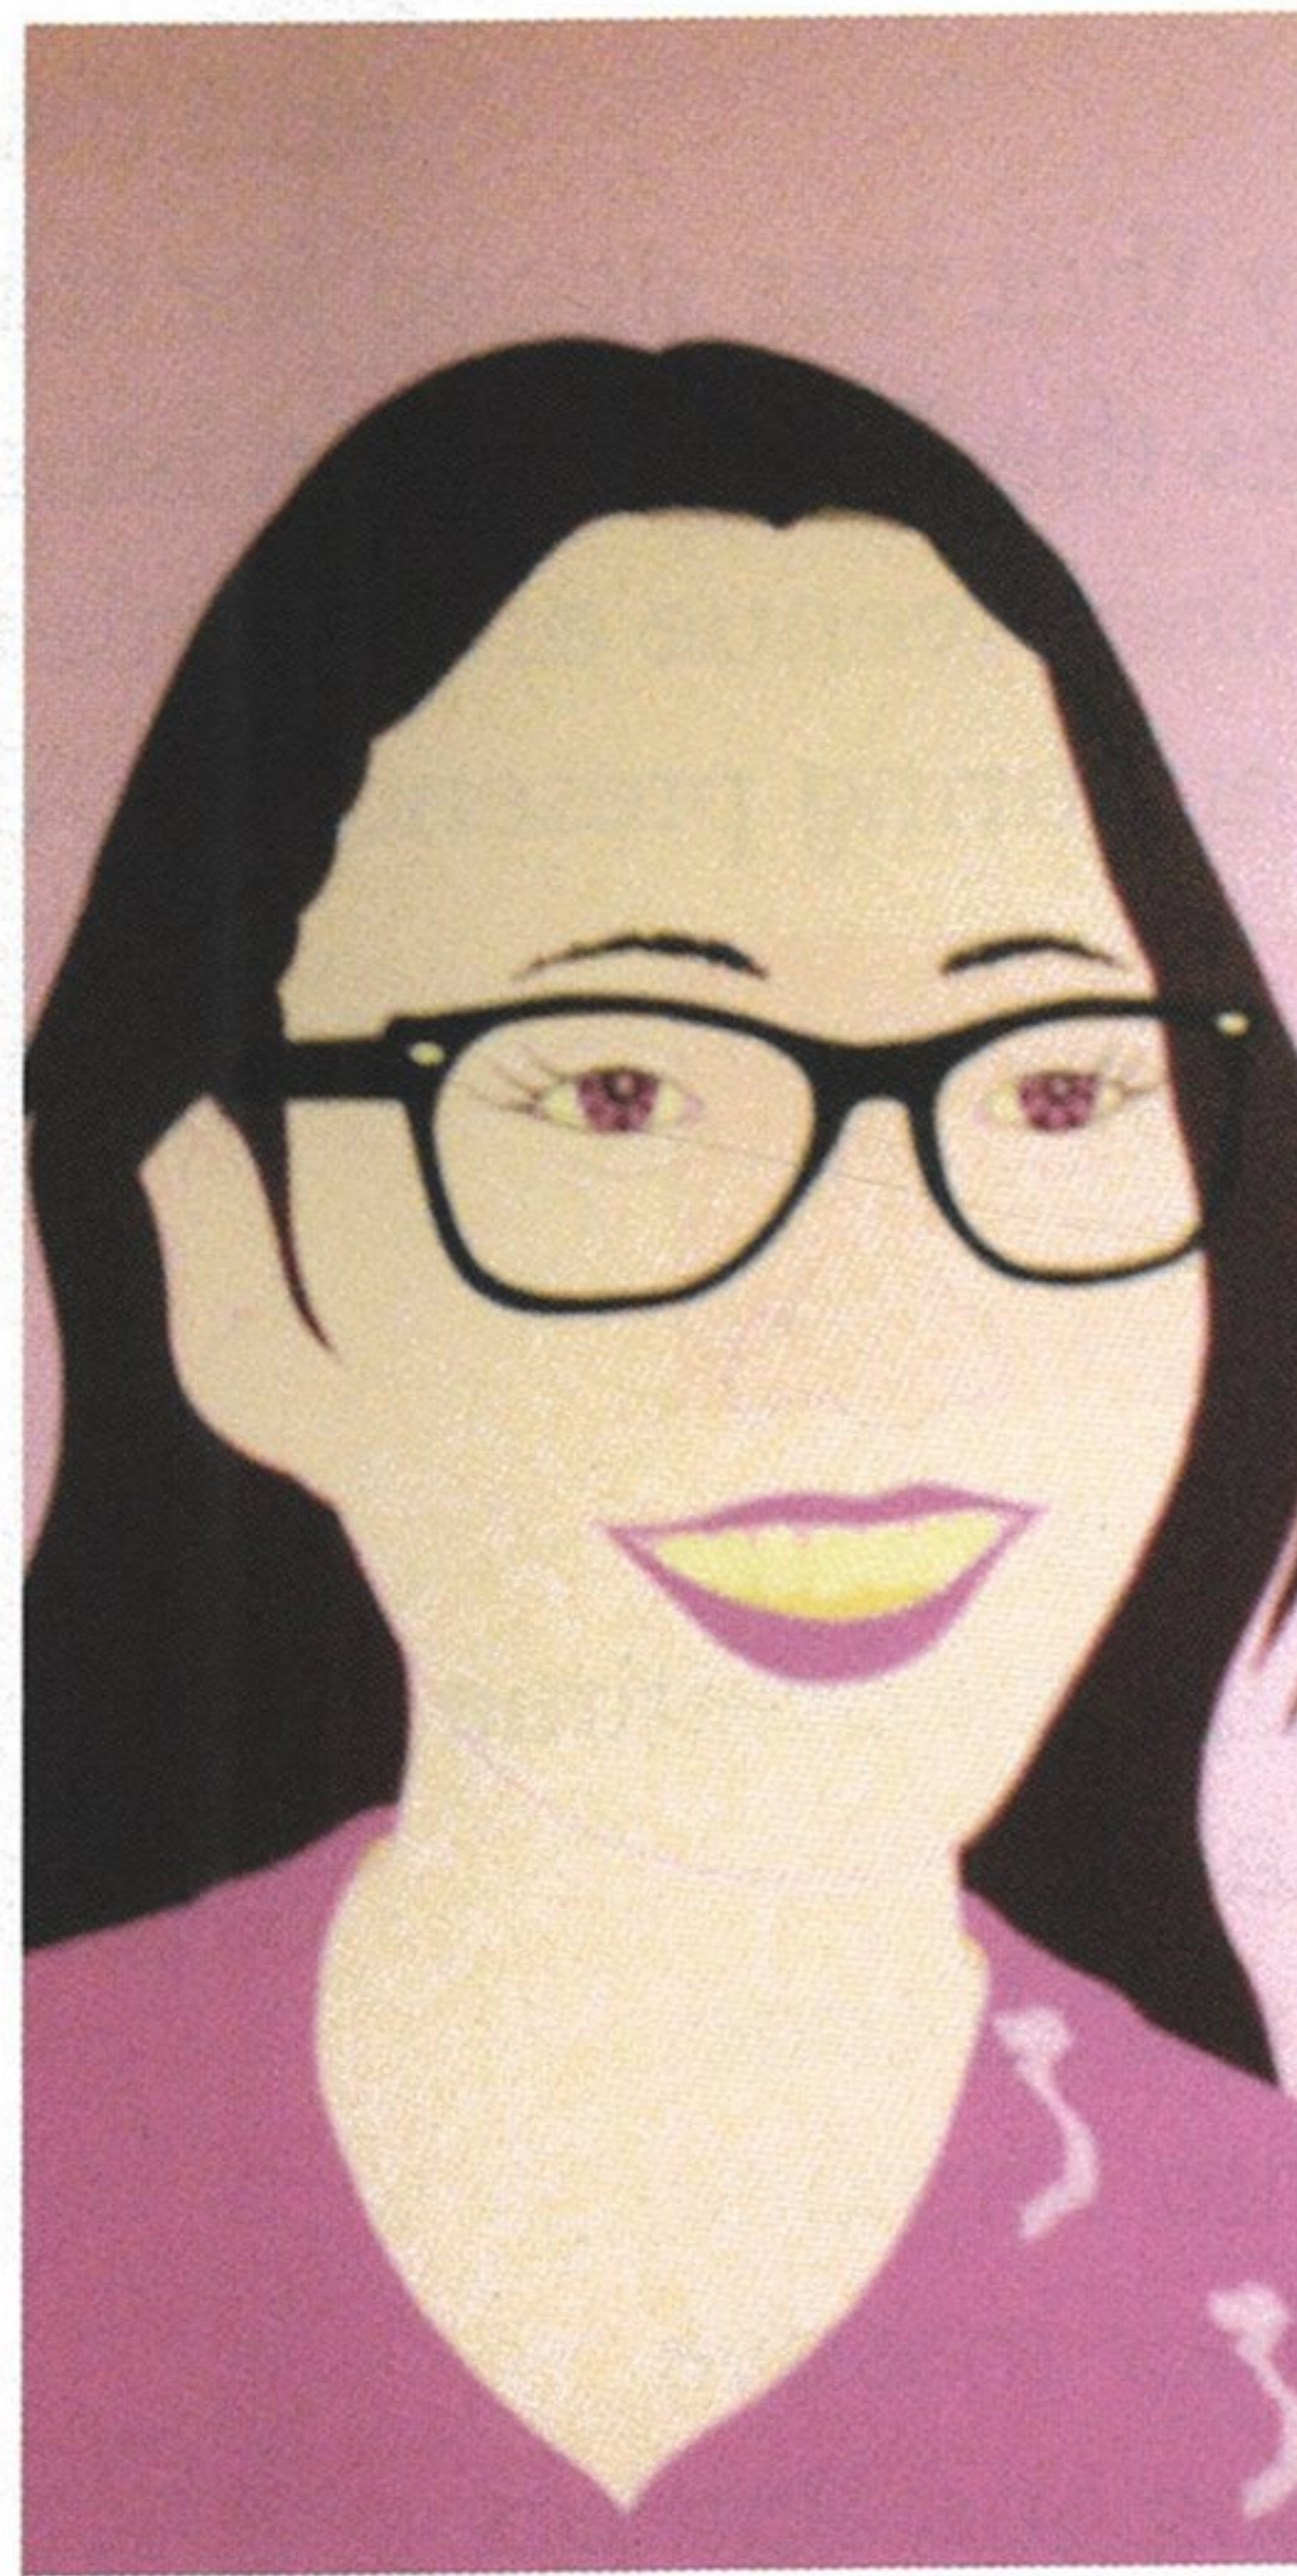

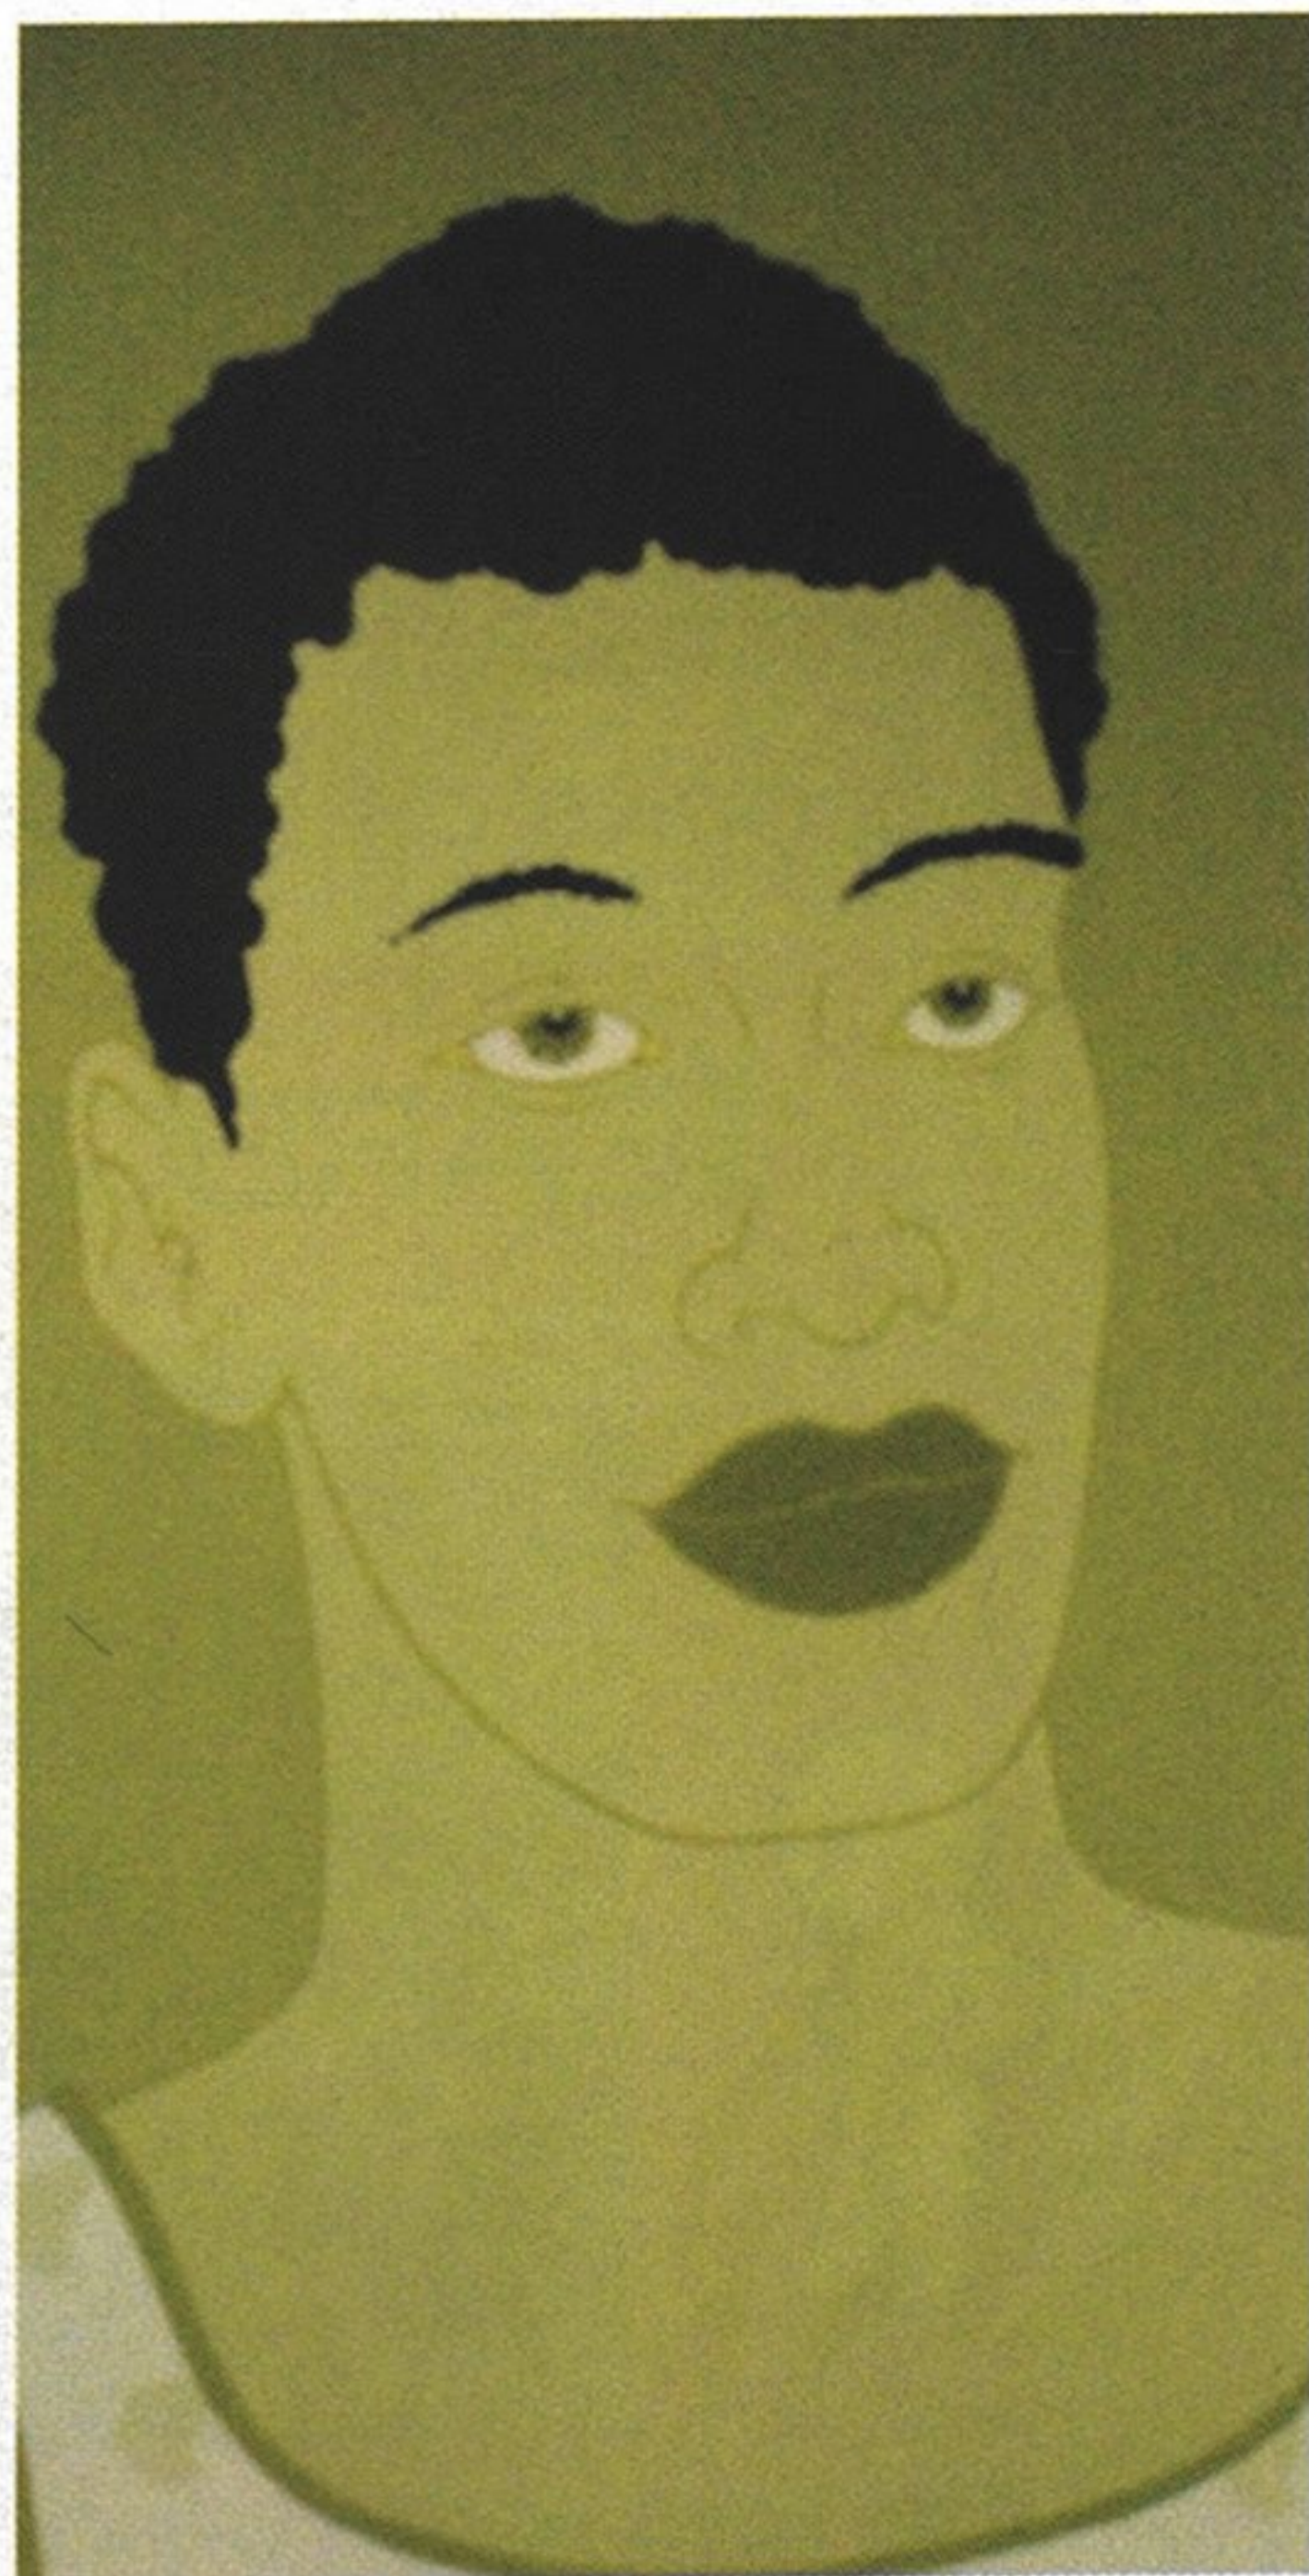

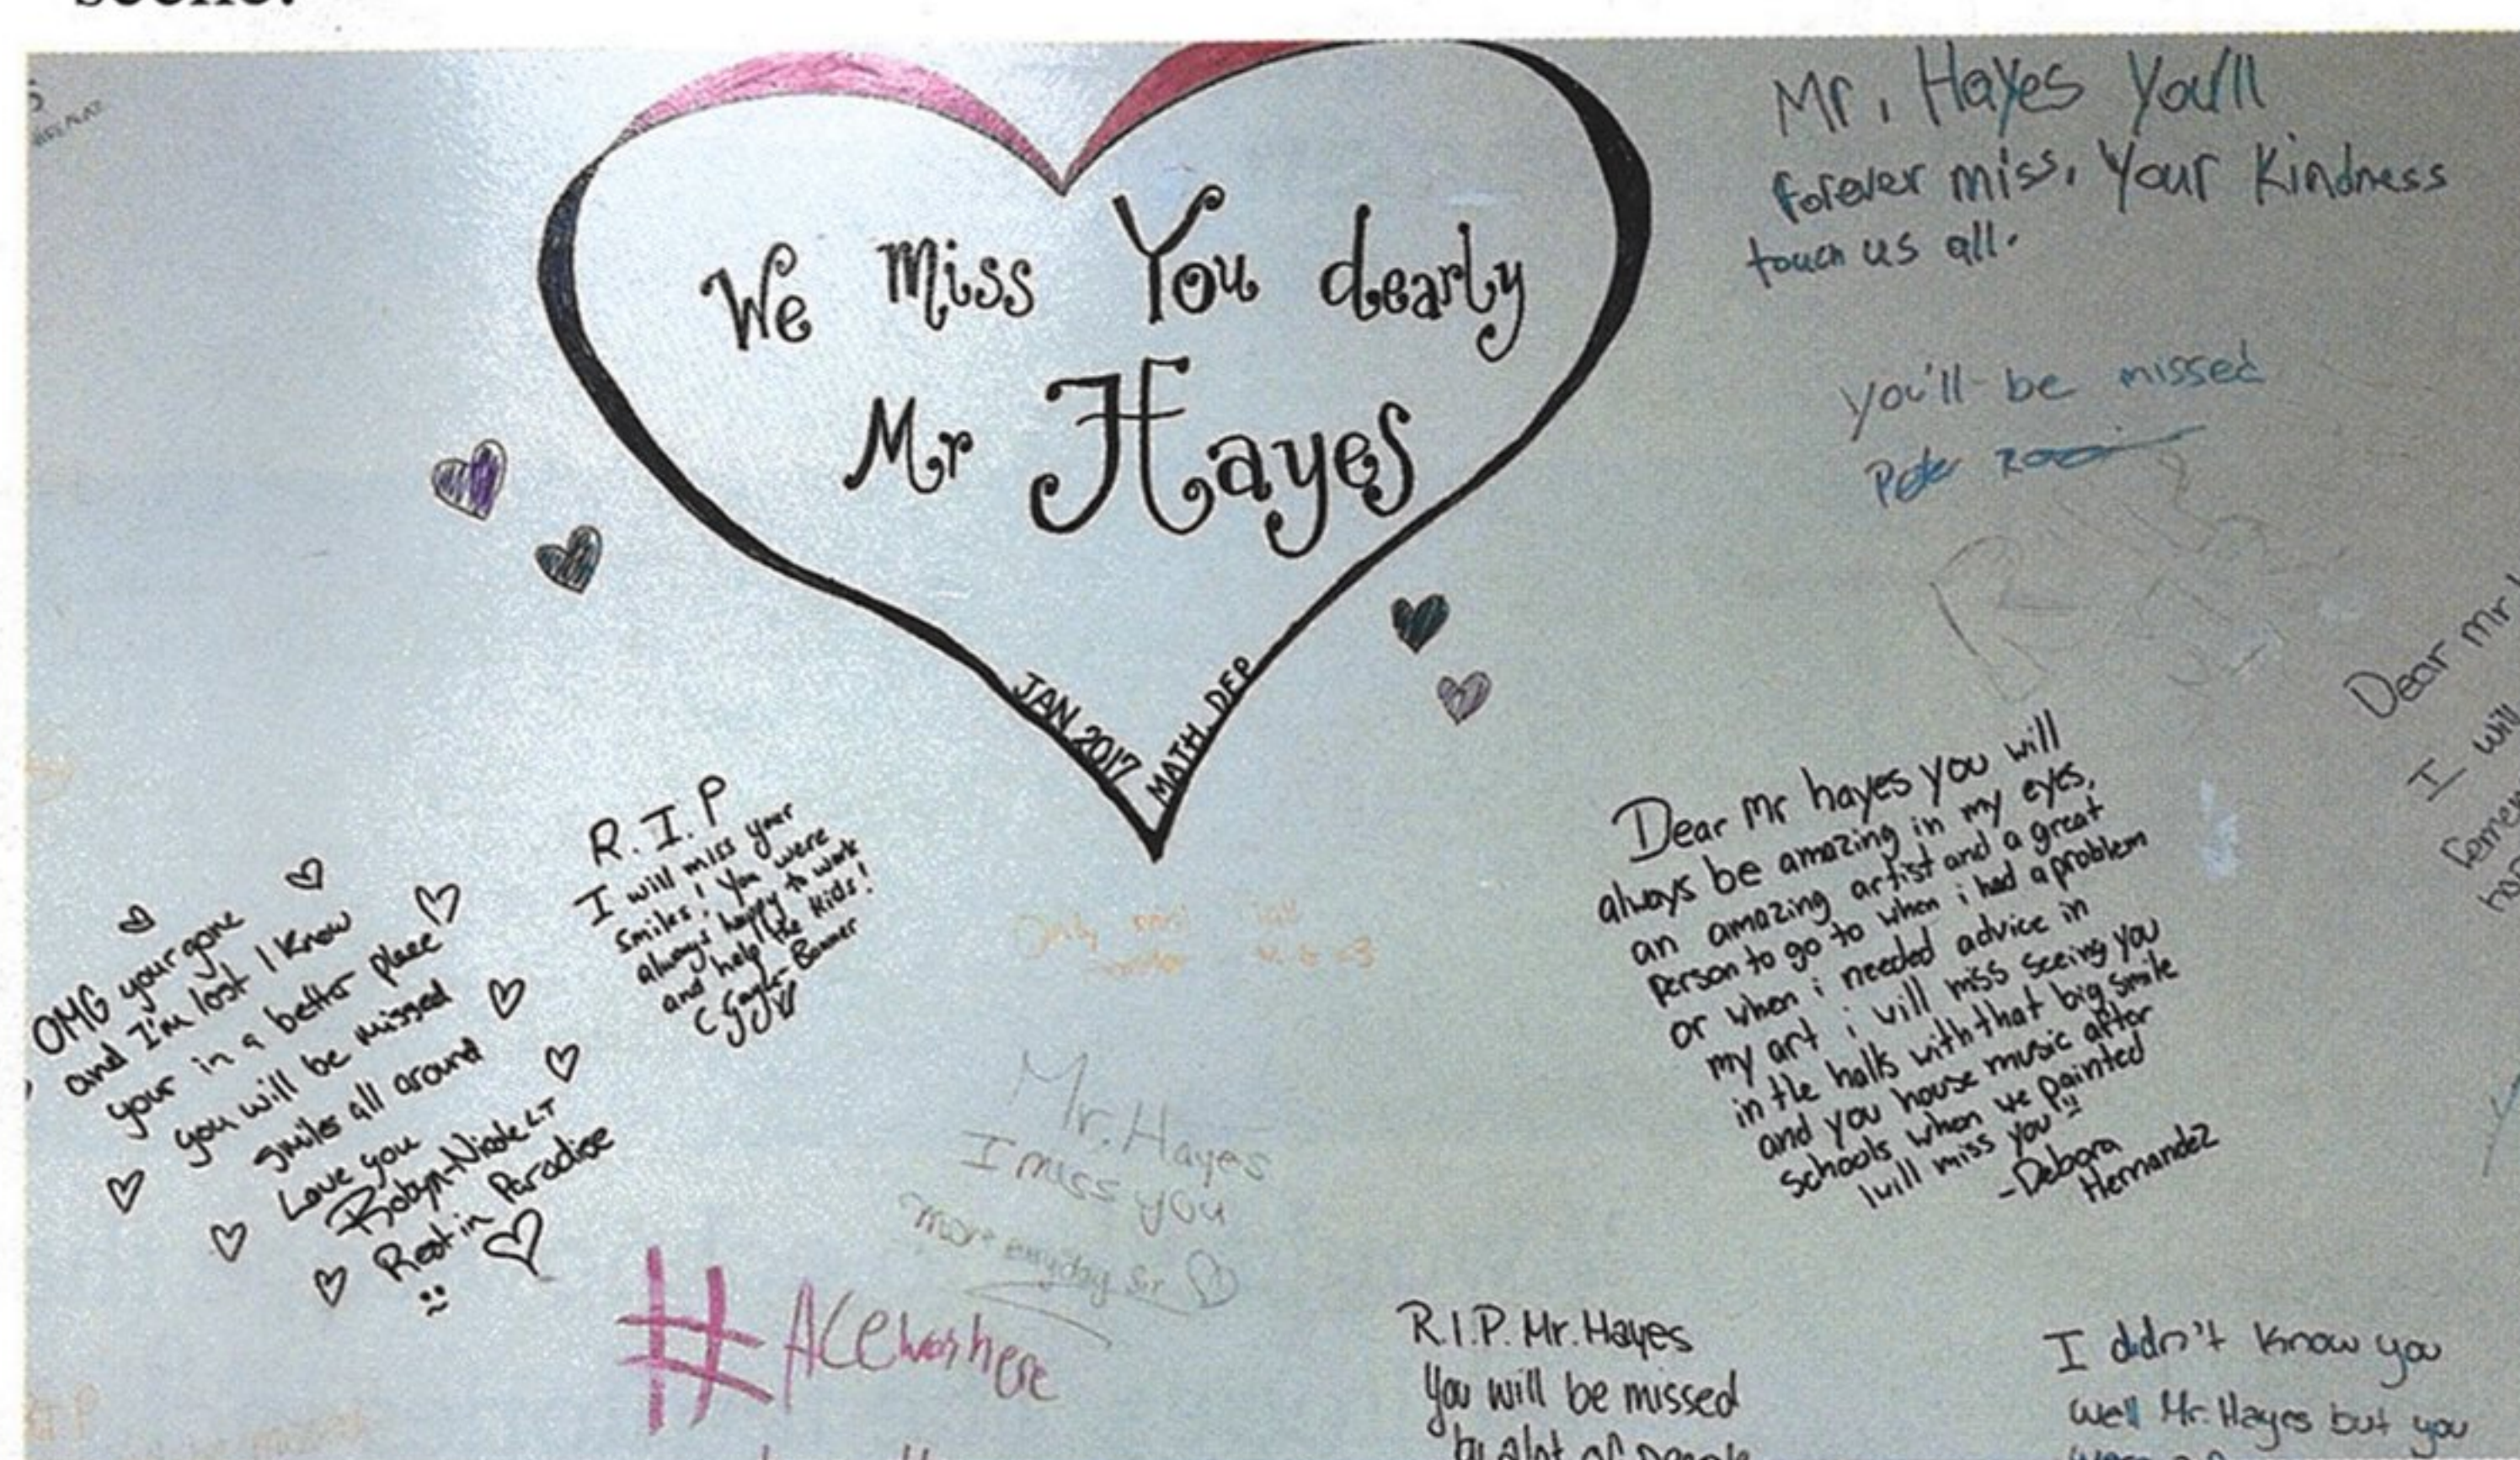

Sheneise Green performs with Mr. Gaskin and Ms. Gayle-Bonner on Chris Hayes Memorial Day.

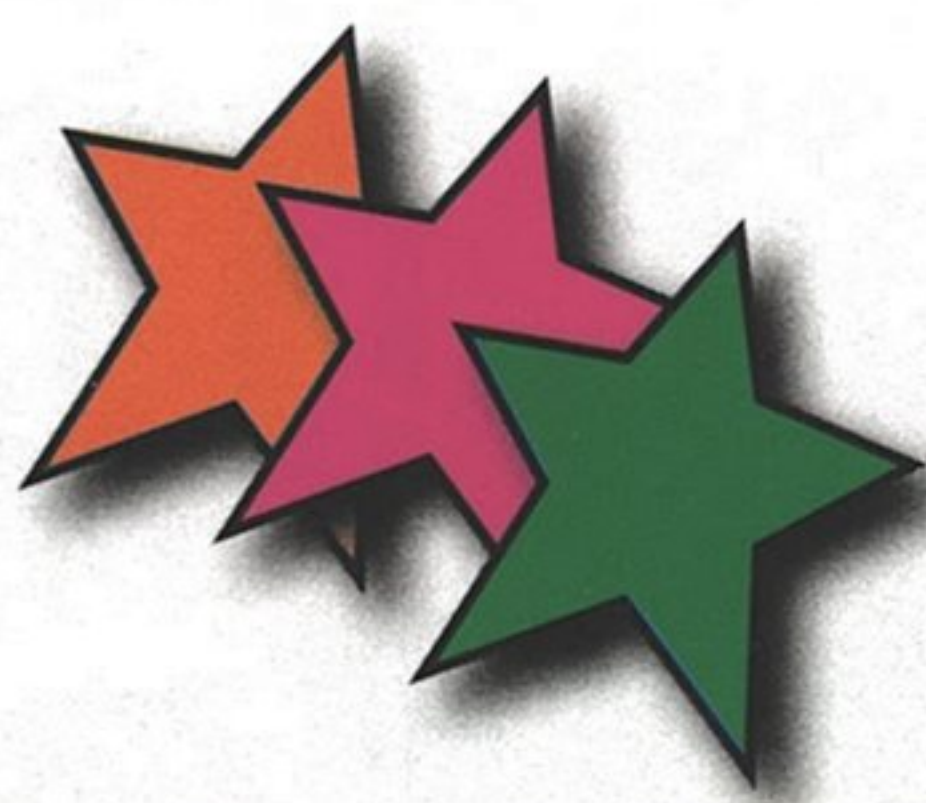

Collage by Nana Boateng

Chris was a prolific artist who represented Toronto's vibrant art scene.

On the wall of Westview's second and third floor hallway, the above murals created by Chris and Westview students gaze upon all who walk by.

The Year in Review

ENTERTAINMENT

- Leonardo DiCaprio finally wins an Oscar after years of great films.
- Drake drops another fire album with "More Life".
- Beyoncé announces pregnancy, expecting twins.
- Bruce Jenner becomes "Caitlyn" Jenner and wins woman of the year award.

NEWS

- Trump becomes the 45th president of the United States.
- United Airlines use excessive force when dragging a passenger off the flight.
- Killer Clown pranks get out of control with massive clown sightings in Canada and the U.S.
- Oldest human passes away in Indonesia at age 146.

THIS YEAR, THE TORONTO DISTRICT SCHOOL BOARD, IN ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF OUR INDIGENOUS HERITAGE, INSTITUTED THE FOLLOWING DAILY ANNOUNCEMENT

"I would like to acknowledge that this school is situated upon traditional territories. The territories include the Wendat, Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Mississaugas of the New Credit First Nations, and the Metis Nation.

The treaty that was signed for this particular parcel of land is collectively referred to as the Toronto Purchase and applies to lands east of Brown's Line to Woodbine Avenue and north towards Newmarket. I also recognize the enduring presence of Aboriginal peoples on this land."

SPORTS

- The Toronto Maple Leafs got a heartbreaking loss after going into overtime with The Washington Capitals.
- Demar DeRozan becomes the all-time leading scorer for the Toronto Raptors.
- The Atlanta Falcons lose their massive lead, and lose to the New England Patriots 34 to 28 in the 2017 Super Bowl, but lets not forget Warriors blew a 3-1 series lead
